

TREATY FAILURE READ IN SENATE VOTE ON ART. 10

Lodge Reservation, Adopted
56 to 26, Sets Stage for Final Action.

UP THURSDAY OR FRIDAY

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Following adoption of the Lodge reservation to Article 10, administration senators today expressed belief that even if the senate should ratify, President Wilson would refuse to deposit notice of ratification and the treaty would fall.

The president has definitely rejected the reservation which fifty-six senators voted into the resolution of ratification. Twenty-six democrats voted against the Lodge reservation on Article 10. Of these, it is estimated, from four to seven will vote for ratification.

Various estimates were made of the number of republican votes for ratification. Curtis, republican whip, said careful canvasses indicated to him that the treaty would lack three to eight votes of enough to ratify.

Borah, leader of the "irreconcilables," estimated that there would be thirty-eight votes against ratification, two more than necessary to beat the treaty.

IT'S THE QUIET ONES WHO'LL TURN TABLES.

Lodge feels certain, he has told his friends, that the treaty will fall. Hitchcock is equally certain, he said today. King, who with Simmons, is working to get the treaty ratified, said there would be thirty-two democratic votes for ratification; this, with thirty-four republican votes, would give two more than necessary for ratification.

Some senators are not telling how they vote. This silent vote, which is being counted by various canvassers, may upset some calculations at the last minute.

Lodge and other leaders hope to reach the final vote on Thursday or Friday. No attempt has been made to set the time, but this may be done today.

Hiram Johnson, one of the "irreconcilables," is hurrying back for the vote. Penrose has wired a request that he be paired against ratification. La Follette and Poindexter are back and Senator Fall, New Mexico, has been paired.

HOW SENATE VOTED ON RESERVATION.

The roll call on the reservation follows:

FOR THE RESERVATION. REPUBLICANS.

Borah, La Follette, Brandegee, Calder, Capper, Colt, Cummins, Curtis, Dillingham, Edge, Ekins, Fernald, France, Frelinghausen, Gronna, Hale, Harding, Jones (Wash.), Kellogg, Keown, Keyes, Knox, Ashurst, Gerry, Gore, Henderson, Kendrick, Myers, Nugent, Phelan.

AGAINST THE RESERVATION. DEMOCRATS.

Beckham, Chamberlain, Comer, Culbertson, Dial, Glass, Harbo, Harrison, Hitchcock, Jones (N. M.), Johnson (S. D.), Kink, Kirby, McCallar.

TEXT OF THE RESERVATION.

Here is the text of the new reservation: "The United States assumes no obligation to preserve the territorial integrity or political independence of any other country, by the employment of its military or naval forces, its resources, or any form of economic discrimination, or to interfere in any way in controversies, including controversies relating to territorial integrity and political independence, between nations, whether members of the league or not, under the provisions of Article 10, or to employ the military or naval forces of the United States under any article of the treaty for any purpose, unless in any particular case the congress, which, under the constitution, has the sole power to declare war or authorize the employment of the military or naval forces of the United States, shall, in the exercise of full liberty of action, by act or joint resolution, so provide."

SENATE ROLLER PUT INTO ACTION.

A steam roller, well oiled and running smoothly, flattened out every effort to weaken or modify the new Lodge reservation. Among the various substitutes of scrapped compromises were those framed by ex-President Taft and the bi-partisan conciliation conference. The Taft resolution, offered by Senator Kirby, Arkansas, democrat, went down to defeat, 30 to 46, the republicans voting solidly against it. The bipartisan compromise, also offered by Senator Kirby, was rejected, 31 to 45.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton.

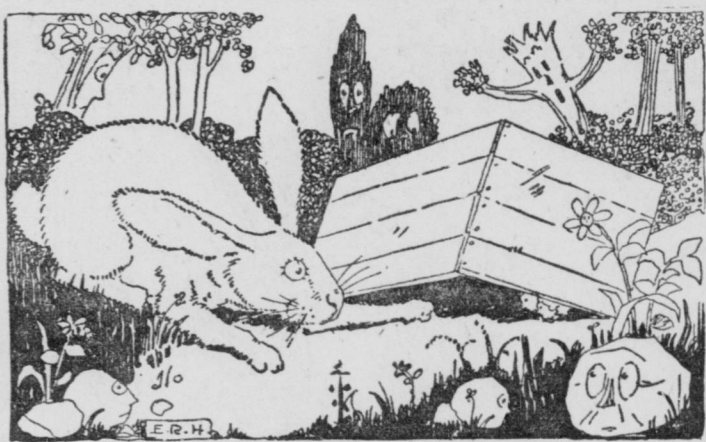

THE ESCAPE.

NANCY and Nick were quiet as mice under the box trap where Mr. Rabbit had caught them. They were pretty much frightened, but they were brave little people, so they didn't fuss. Besides, they knew the Magical Mushroom and Green Shoes would find a way out for them, so they waited patiently.

Presently Mr. Rabbit reached in a paw. "I like twin pie awfully well," he muttered. "With a nice brown crust, and gravy." All the time he talked he kept reaching and reaching, and Nancy and Nick had to squeeze into the farthest corner. But his paw didn't go far enough!

Mr. Rabbit changed paws and tried another. "Still," he went on, "they might be just as good baked and served with currant jelly and a little mustard."

That paw didn't quite reach either, so he tried another, a hind one, stretching it as far as it would go. "I can't seem to make up my mind,"

"I like twin pie awfully well," Mr. Rabbit muttered.

he went on. "Stews are delicious, too, if you drop a bit of onion in, and don't make them too salty. M-m-m! My mouth keeps watering so, I can't wait."

That paw didn't reach either, but there was one left, so he tried it, stretching it till he trembled with trying. "Of course," he said, "fried twin must be grand, soaked over night, then dusted with flour and done in hot butter."

But that paw didn't reach either.

"My! My!" said the rabbit. "When I told the Fairy Queen I was tired of being hunted and wanted to have my turn, and she sent me to Topsy-Turvy Land, she never told me humans were so hard to catch. I'll have to ask her about it."

And while he was still scratching his head and thinking, the Green Shoes slipped the children from under the box and were far away down the road.—Copyright, 1920, N. E. A.

snappy business coats. Single and double-breasted models will be shown impartially. Cloth will be mostly soft finish with many startling shades and figures.

The hats of the season will be congruous with the English suit, being for the most part very narrow of brim without rakish tilts. Brims will roll up all around with a barely perceptible dip in front. Zephyr weights in soft hats and a wide variety of tweeds and checks in cloth hats will be popular.

Many of the tweed hats will come from England as will the caps.

White shirts will be popular and will come in madras, jacquard silks, plain silks and linen. All will be good. In the striped shirts the stripes will be white against dark backgrounds. There will be lots of green jade jewelry worn in novelty designs in scarf pins and cuff buttons. Scarfs will be very narrow in four-in-hand, accommodated to the low-cut collars worn in many years. Types of collars heretofore kept for older men, who hadn't caught up with fashions, will be worn almost exclusively by well dressed men.

LIGHT TANS TO RETURN IN SHOES.

In shoes the light tan is returning after a long period of exile. Reds and blacks are to be forgotten for a while. The shoe shapes are swinging away from the long, narrow English last and the newest models have a wider swing, with pointed toe. Dealers say the change will be appreciated by many customers who were never able to wear the narrow, flat-footed kind with comfort.

One optimistic haberdasher declares that the walking stick is coming into its own in the west after long popularity in the east. He has laid in a large stock of yellow sticks by way of proving his confidence in the future market. Gloves this spring are mostly gray, brown and green. The yellow chambray is not expected to be as popular as formerly.

The same shades, with pearl gray added, will predominate in hats. Stiff hats of small crowns in grays, browns and blacks will be worn more this spring than in many seasons past.

Seized Ship Case Puzzles Capital

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Officials here are said to be in a quandary over the alleged offer of the soviet government to return the American steamer Omsk.

The ship and her cargo are worth $3,000,000. The Omsk was on her way to supply Denikin forces when seized by the soviet authorities in the Black sea. Officials are said to be puzzled as to how to negotiate for the ship's return without recognizing in a measure the Moscow government.

Bill Asks Billion Loan for Germany

WASHINGTON, March 16.—A loan by the United States to Germany of one billion dollars is provided in a bill introduced in the house today by Representative Smith, democrat, New York. The bill proposes that the loan be used as a basis for reopening trade between the United States and Germany and further provides that the administration of the loan shall be placed with the war finance corporation, Germany to pay interest at the rate of 6 per cent per year.

Floods Invading Michigan Towns

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., March 16.—Grand river floods continue menacingly, with $20,000 damage reported at Portland, where part of the town is inundated.

A heavy rain last night broke up the ice jams, and while the volume of water was increased, the ice is being more rapidly cleared from the river channels. The flood stage has been exceeded at towns between Grand Dudge and this city.

Rescue 26 From Sinking Fruit Ship

BOSTON, March 16.—Rescued under thrilling conditions, sixty-six miles southeast of Cape Fear, Capt. and Mrs. William A. Mann and twenty-six officers and crew of the Chilean steamer Youngal, New York for Havana, were brought here today by the fruit steamer Port Limon.

The rescue was effected in a howling gale, when the Youngal, sinking rapidly, was listed at an angle of 30 degrees with her decks awash.

Burglar Loses Nerve as Woman Appears

A burglar was more frightened than Mrs. James Grayson, 809 Church street, when she heard one in her home in the early hours of morning. When she went to the front room of her home to investigate the burglar leaped out of the window.

C. C. Martindale, 534 Centennial street, reported that he missed a $50 Liberty bond after a thief entered and ransacked his home. Theodore Reese, 59, living in the Eagle block, told the police he was beaten and robbed by two men last night, who took $55 from him.
