

DEBATE NAVY IN RADIO BUSINESS

Subject of Wireless Competition Up in Committee.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Facilities for wireless commercial and press message business between this and foreign countries were considered today by the house merchant marine committee. Representatives of business organizations, publishers, the navy radio system and private radio corporations were given a hearing on the resolution which has passed the senate authorizing the navy to continue its wartime ship-to-ship radio message business and to accept for transmission commercial and news messages at tolls not less than cost. The navy in performing this service, however, is not to invade territory adequately served by private radio corporations.

Aged Missionary Martyr to Cause

Friends of Miss Margaret Yandies Holliday, who died yesterday in the Splunk sanatorium, 1140 East Market street, of cerebral hemorrhage, at the age of 76 years, are invited to attend a funeral, which will be held in the First Presbyterian church at 3 p. m. Friday. Miss Holliday spent thirty-five years of her life as a missionary in Persia. Her death, physicians say, was caused indirectly by the hardships and privations which she suffered in Persia during the war. She returned to America Dec. 27, 1919. She is survived by three brothers, William A. Holliday, John H. Holliday and Francis T. Holliday.

John J. Quigley, 72, Here 30 Years, Dies

Funeral services for John J. Quigley, who died yesterday at his home, 133 West Twenty-third street, at the age of 72 years, will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Peter and Paul cathedral. Burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery. Mr. Quigley had been a resident of Indianapolis thirty years and was active in democratic politics. He made the race for mayor on the democratic ticket one time. He came to Indianapolis from Davison county, and is survived by widow, Mrs. Anna Quigley; five children, Harry J. Quigley, Mary Quigley, Gertrude Quigley, Frank Quigley and Mrs. Stella Hodges; and four grandchildren.

Body of Former Resident on Way

The body of Adolph Young, former resident of Indianapolis, who died in Ogden, Utah, March 14, will reach Indianapolis tomorrow night. Burial will be in Crown Hill. Mr. Young lived in Indianapolis for many years and later lived on a farm north of the city. A widow, a daughter, Mrs. Edna Sarver, and four sons, Mrs. J. Steinbauer, Mrs. A. Unversaw, Mrs. S. C. Cornwell and Mrs. F. W. Cornwell, all of Indianapolis, survive.

Jerry Rogers, 68, Buried in South

Jerry Rogers, 68, who had lived at the home of his son, Frank Rogers, 2325 Paris avenue, until recently was buried in Chattanooga, Tenn., yesterday. He was visiting his daughter when he died. The end came Monday. He leaves a widow, two sons and a daughter. The other son is Jerry Rogers, Jr., Newcastle, Ind., and Mrs. Her Caldwell, Chattanooga, is the daughter.

Many cities rejecting daylight saving proposal.

Shelbyville blue-sky ordinance passes first reading of city council.

Ice prices won't go up in Lafayette for the present. Reason, price to private consumers already 50 cents.

Greensburg Rotary club now has its charter. Big doing last night. Dick Miller, Bill Herschell, Kin Hubbard and others from Indianapolis there.

Sunday shows are alright in South Bend, but there must be no crowding on of additional prices. Mayor F. B. Carson to the rescue. He further said regular shows must be given patrons who pay their good silver.

Mr. and Mrs. Steven Baker of South Bend used alcohol they made in still to massage bruises. A doctor said so. City judge frees them on liquor charge. Rainsin and bootleg equipment taken from their home, police claim. Federal authorities may get case anyway.

Bloodhounds proved undoing of alleged robbers of Ray Burns' grocery, Maple Heights, near Bloomington. Picked up trail to home of William Neal, where, it is claimed, $1,000 worth of merchandise was found. Neal arrested.

It depends on how near Caleb lived to Greenfield how much the taxicab bill was when he forgot his wife. But here's the story: Caleb Moncrief, a farmer living near Greenfield, "diverged" into town on business accompanied by Mrs. Moncrief. When he had finished his transaction he lost into a car and drove home, completely forgetting his wife. Mrs. Moncrief hired a taxicab and charged the bill to her husband.

Henry Carr, alias Frank Reynolds, charged with shooting and seriously wounding Chief of Police Martin O'Brien in St. Louis last October, is on his way back to face the charge. He was arrested in Terre Haute yesterday by local and St. Louis detectives. Search for Carr extended into many states.

Construction of two merchant mills and one mill under way at the Gary Steel Works at a cost of $2,500,000. The new mills will afford employment to 500 additional workmen.

Terre Haute police have found no clue to the mysterious assault on Miss Ruth Abeling, newspaper reporter. Besides being beaten she was robbed of $30. The purse taken from the young woman was found near where the attack was committed.

Real estate has been exceedingly active in Noblesville and Hamilton county. For six days ending Wednesday thirty-six trades in farm land and city property were recorded. The deals involved $271,900.

Cupid hands the palm to Evansville. In contrast to his despondency over theater tickets, steaks, trousseaus and diamonds mounting in price he has become optimistic. Evansville preachers say they will not increase marriage fees.

John W. Morgan, Columbus attorney, had a dream. He dreamed a case which had been carried to the supreme court had been affirmed. Then came the news that it actually had been.

Twelve hundred dollars a year is fair minimum salary for school teachers, Ft. Wayne board of education says. Present scale in grade schools $700 to $1,200. Increases are based on length of service.

Dog Hill Paragrafs

Tobe Moseley will lay the cornerstone this week for a new stable. He had a good, substantial one until his mule accidentally got its head hung in a crack and began kicking.

The editor of the Tickville Tidings thought he had discovered a person that didn't like to see something nice in the paper about himself, and started to write an editorial on it, but later found out he was badly mistaken.

A protracted meeting is about to start at the Hog River church. 'Sile Kildee, who belongs to the other congregation, says it looks to him like some persons have to have their religious batteries recharged mightily often.

ALIBI FALLS THROUGH. SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—Salvador Garvart thought the federal booze men were bandits. "Sure I pulled a gun when they came into my room. I had $300 and they looked like burglars to me," said Salvador. Salvador and a quart of wine were locked up, but not together.

POLITICAL SIDELIGHTS

Gov. Goodrich may be requested by republican state candidates to call a special session of the legislature before the primary election May 4 in order that women may vote at that election. Provisions for women voters were discussed at a meeting of representatives of candidates held at the Severin hotel yesterday afternoon. It was the general opinion that the national amendment will be ratified before primary day. There was some talk of an agreement between the parties to permit women to vote without special action by the legislature. No statement concerning the course to be pursued was obtainable after the meeting.

Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio, candidate for the republican nomination for the presidency, who was to have spoken at the Columbia club today, will speak there March 20. Senator Harding canceled his engagement for today because of the impending vote on the league of nations covenant, preferring to defer his speech until he could discuss the peace treaty in a definite manner. It was announced he will start a speaking tour of the state April 7.

The Indiana Live Stock Breeders' association has adopted a resolution approving the candidacy of Warren T. McCray for the republican nomination for governor.

School Bond Issue Plea Turned Down

Proposed bond issues totaling $175,000 for a new joint high school at Kentland, Ind., were denied by the state board of tax commissioners. It was announced today. Kentland asked authorization to issue $35,000 in bonds for the school, and Jefferson township in Newton county, sought permission for a $140,000 bond issue.
