

Pro Golfers of U. S. Have Hard Road to Travel This Season

Tourneys Here and Abroad
Will Test Mettle of Youths.

NEW YORK, March 19.—This is going to be a mighty busy year for professional golfers on this side of the Atlantic.

The announcement of dates for the big events in which American "pros" are planning to compete in the near future is certain to have a but a scant breathing spell between many of the more important tournaments, and it is a foregone conclusion that the stamina of the players will be tried severely. Some of America's foremost "pros" will cross the Atlantic to compete in the British open championship which is scheduled to commence over the Royal Claque Ports course, at Deal, June 25. Whether or not the Americans will take part in the French open tourney at La Bouille, Versailles, July 5 and 6, is a question.

Following these tourneys will come the Metropolitan open, at Greenwich, Conn., July 28 and 29, the Western Golf association's open tourney at Olympia fields, Chicago, Aug. 4 to 6, and then the national open over the Iverness club, Toledo, O., Aug. 10 to 13. Later in August the P. G. A. touring will be held at Chicago.

TUNING UP IN FLORIDA.

At the present time the American "pros" are working hard at their stride in the sunny southland, many being in Florida, Louisiana and other southern states. Pinehurst, N. C., will be the mecca of the "pros" March 29, when the north and south open championship will begin over the links of the Pinehurst club, and between this tourney and the opening of the British tourney in June the "pros" will have little enough time to rest up, let alone do some very essential work "around home greens."

It is probable that the American players who will cross the pond will arrive in England some time in May, and from there they would prefer, and after they will arrive once again in America they will have but little time to prepare for the big classics of the season here, which will follow one another in close rotation.

The return voyage from Europe will constitute a rest period for the golfers, but perhaps not the kind of a rest period they would prefer, and after they will arrive once again in America they will have but little time to prepare for the big classics of the season here, which will follow one another in close rotation.

LOOKS BAD FOR SOME.

Players like Hagen, Barnes, Ray and Mitchell, it is believed, will be able to stand the strain of the strenuous season ahead, even though the weather should turn unpropitious during the period in which the big events will fall. But so much can not be said of many others who have aspirations to carry off honors in professional ranks this season.

The tourneys in which the "pros" will be primarily interested this year have been arranged as follows:

North and south open, Pinehurst, N. C., March 29-30.
British open, Royal Cinque Ports course, Deal, England, June 25-30.
French open, La Bouille, Versailles, France, July 5-6.
Metropolitan open, Greenwich, Conn., July 28-29.
Western open, Olympia Fields C. C., Chicago, Aug. 4-6.
National open, Iverness club, Toledo, O., Aug. 10-13.

P. G. A. tourney, Chicago (club to be selected), probably Aug. 16-21.
The Professional Golfers' association tourney late in August will attract much added interest through the action of the British professionals' association in offering to hang up a gold challenge medal for the event this year.

Many British and Scotch home bred professionals are planning to invade the United States for this and earlier tournaments, particularly the national open at the Iverness club, which promises to be one of the most interesting held on this side of the ocean in many years.

The proposed international match to be held at the Iverness club immediately preceding the national open championship is attracting much attention. According to the plans expressed by British golfers for visiting this side of the Atlantic it may be possible that teams for an international match can be lined up as follows:

English—Harry Vardon, Abe Mitchell, Jim Barnes, Edward Ray, Douglas Edgar, Wilfrid Reid.
Scotland—George Duncan, Bob Hutchison, Robert Macdonald, Laurence Aytos, George Fotheringham, Fred McLeod.
Hombred—Valter Hagen, Mike H. Jr., Emmet French, Charles Hoffman, George McLean, Eddie Loos.
Amateur—Francis Ouimet, Charles Evans, S. Davidson Herron, Robert Jones, Robert Gardner, Jerome Travers.

Den Zares and Debonairs Booked in Fast Contest at Marion Club Tonight

The Debonair and Den Zare basket quintets are on their mettle for their clash at the Marion club gymnasium tonight. Both teams have been training steadily for the contest and are looking forward to the game with as much interest as they would to a championship scrap.

Coach Squires ran his "Debs" champions of the City Amateur Basketball association, through a stiff practice drill last night and they are apparently ready to put up seasons biggest fight. With O'Leary out of the lineup the Green and White coach is having a hard time finding a player to team with Starbuck at the forward station, but it is believed that he will start Sweeney in tonight's battle.

Wood Will Lead Butler Basket Men Next Year

Ashton "Ike" Wood was elected captain of Butler's 1920-21 basket quintet at a called meeting of the letter men yesterday. Wood was the unanimous choice of the seven "B"s. The stocky little guard has played three years on the Butler varsity basketball team and each season has played a stellar defensive game. None of this year's letter men will be lost by graduation. James Shockey, Roland Jones, Truman Short, Harry Daniels, Bob Bastian and J. Stoen were the winners of basketball letters.

South Bend Wants Gipp Reinstated at Notre Dame

SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 19.—South Bend business and professional men have filed a petition with the Rev. James A. Burns, president of the University of Notre Dame, asking that George Gipp, well known football star and all-round athlete, be reinstated at the college.

Gipp was recently expelled from the university for lack of attention to his studies and the violation of certain rules of discipline. The petition, which is identical to one bearing the signature of nearly every student at the university, has been signed by almost the entire membership of many of the city's most prominent clubs. Gipp had been elected captain of the 1920-21 Notre Dame football team, and holds a position in the all-western lineup for 1919.

Title Play in Women's Tennis Tourney Tomorrow

NEW YORK, March 19.—The women's national indoor tennis title will be decided here tomorrow afternoon when Miss Helene Pollak of New York, and Miss Edith Sigourney of Boston meet in the final round. These players survived the semi-finals on Thursday. The doubles will be carried to the final round after today's play. The surviving teams are: Miss Carolyn Winn and Miss Gertrude De La Torre, Miss Margaret Grove and Mrs. R. Victor, Miss Helene Pollak and Mrs. L. G. Morris, and Miss Leslie Bancroft and Miss Edith Sigourney.

NOTICE!

The following men are requested to call Stanley Feeble at the G. H. Westing Sporting Goods Company as soon as possible: Geo. Rafferty, Kelly, Rice, Sherman, Noonan, Grund, Mattern, Enkeling, Hobart, Day and Foster.

OLIVER BACK IN GAME.

"Young" Oliver of this city, former Indiana bantamweight champion, has re-entered the boxing game and will leave soon for an invasion of the east, where he expects to meet some of the best boxers of his weight. Oliver is now fighting as a welterweight and his friends who have seen him perform with the gloves predict a bright future for him in that class. Oliver, several years ago, was one of the cleverest bantamweights in the country and met some of the best boys at his weight in the business.

ADVANCE TO SECOND PLACE.

PEORIA, Ill., March 19.—With a wonderful spurt in the last game in which they almost broke the world's record for a high individual team total, set by the Orange Crus team of St. Louis last Monday evening with 1,113, the Fleming Furniture Company team of Cleveland rolled into second place in the American bowling congress tournament here last night with a 2,947 total.

STEEPLECHASE MEETING OPENS.

SANDOWN PARK, England, March 19.—After an interval of five years, during which horsemen and their mounts were engaged in sterner business, the grand military steeplechase meeting reopened here today. Seven races, riders and mounts readied to those with army or navy service, were scheduled.

Kahn Clothes are of Nation-Wide Repute

The whole United States function as judge and jury in appraising the merits of our product. Thousands and thousands of Kahn agencies are established and prospering in every state and territory in the Union. We would be discredited and put out of business if our clothes were NOT right. On the contrary, our business is increasing by leaps and bounds, because Kahn clothes ARE right—in quality, workmanship and all else that counts.

Moderate increases over former prices are imperative this season—increases that are but trivial in comparison to the tremendous advances in woolen costs and general operating expenses. Kahn clothes are intrinsically good—the kind that insure long service and general all-around satisfaction. You'd best seek THAT kind these days. If you want new clothes for Easter don't delay in leaving your order.

$9.99 all wool suits?

Remember those days? Sounds like a dream. Like "What's you goin' t' have?" and other dead languages. But, friend, don't wish for those days again. We know you wouldn't if you knew the working conditions of the men, women and children that produced garments to sell at that price. Perhaps now they have gone too far the other way, but conditions will adjust themselves, and you can help a heap by not insisting only on the highest price goods. There is plenty of dependable medium price goods. We can today sell you an all-wool suit for $20; we can sell you a new spring suit, all wool, dependable quality, for $35.00; good enuf for anyone. Don't get fed up on the idea that it is economy to pay only a high price. It's not economy, it's propaganda. Are you going to fall for it? You won't if you buy a Hauger suit.
