

WE'RE AT WAR, HARDING CRIES; WHY? 'WILSON'

Ohio G. O. P. Presidential Candidate Says U. S.
Ought to Have Army.

RAPS SPECIAL PRIVILEGE

Blaming President Wilson for what he termed his policy of "my will or none," which he declared is responsible for the fact that the United States and Germany are still technically at war, Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio, candidate for the republican nomination for the presidency, addressed the Columbia club at noon today.

"Everybody wanted formal peace and no understanding," Senator Harding said. "Europe was ready and America was eager."

"But a president, unmindful of the senate and the sentiment of our country, insisted on a battle of rhetorical wars, for the glory of a personal victory, and defiantly barred our nationality, which the senate was sworn to preserve, and has preserved."

"I am a president," he kept saying, "a president who kept us out of war—formal peace duly covenanted—and the American people and the world may charge it to presidential usurpation of power and attempted dictation, while the senate and co-ordinated government would have led to instant understanding."

Senator Harding said he welcomed an "understanding" of the situation, but that he would not accept a compromise that would leave the United States in a position of weakness.

"The country must never again be unprepared for the national defense," Senator Harding said.

"We ought to have an ample navy as our first line of defense," he said.

"We ought to lead the world in the development of aviation and be stronger in the air than we are on the sea."

"We ought to have an army and we ought to have all the young manhood of the nation, not only in the line of discipline and physical betterment that is of military training, but it ought to be voluntary, not compulsory; supported by the government in camp, in national guard, in schools and colleges."

"He said that military training should be made so popular that it would be sought rather than accepted as a compulsory requirement."

Hohenzollern Sued for $11 Laundry Bill

PARIS, March 26.—Prince Joachim of the Hohenzollern family of former war lords can not pay a $11 laundry bill, it is revealed by the French authorities at Strassburg.

A Strassburg laundry secured a judgment in the local courts against Prince Joachim, who is supposed to be the same German noble who recently created a scene in the Adlon hotel at Berlin when he and his companions attacked French officers.

Prince Joachim lived at Strassburg for a time before the French occupied Alsace and Lorraine.

MYSTERY VEILS CHANGING OF VOTING PLACES

Records Disclose No System
Followed by County Commissioners.

LAW LIMITS IGNORED

On what basis was the new division of precincts made by the Marion county commissioners?

An examination of the total vote for secretary of state in each precinct in the county in 1918, reveals no particular system followed by the commissioners, nor reason changes were made in some cases and not in others.

In some cases precincts casting a large number of votes in 1918 were changed while other precincts containing an equally large number were not.

The changes could not have been made in anticipation of woman suffrage, because the law provides specifically that changes shall be based on the vote cast at the election last preceding the date of the changes.

Here is the law on the subject as quoted in section 104 of the official compilation of the laws of the state:

"The county commissioners of each county in this state shall, at their first session after the taking effect of this act, divide each precinct, as nearly as possible, into equal parts, and establish the boundaries of the same."

"Such board of commissioners shall designate at least one place of holding elections in each precinct, and every township in which only one place of holding elections is designated shall constitute a precinct."

"Each precinct shall contain, as nearly as practicable, 250 electors, based on the number of votes cast at the last election for presidential electors, but no precinct shall contain more than 250 electors."

"If at any election thereafter 250 or more votes should be cast at any voting place it shall be the duty of the inspectors in such precinct to report the same to the board of county commissioners, who shall at their next regular meeting, divided each precinct, as nearly as possible, into equal parts, and establish the boundaries of the same."

"Such board of commissioners shall designate at least one place of holding elections in each precinct, and every township in which only one place of holding elections is designated shall constitute a precinct."

"Each precinct shall contain, as nearly as practicable, 250 electors, based on the number of votes cast at the last election for presidential electors, but no precinct shall contain more than 250 electors."

"If at any election thereafter 250 or more votes should be cast at any voting place it shall be the duty of the inspectors in such precinct to report the same to the board of county commissioners, who shall at their next regular meeting, divided each precinct, as nearly as possible, into equal parts, and establish the boundaries of the same."

Why Not Get Married?

JUSTICES OF PEACE SAY IT'S CHEAPER NOW

BIRTHS and deaths and other vital happenings involving family financial obligations cost much more today than ever before, but marriage is as cheap as ever—cheaper if we accept the views of Indianapolis justices of the peace.

A poll of local justices, who are wont to assist at the fulfillment of love's young dream, today disclosed a cheerful condition in the marriage mart.

MARRIAGES SLIGHTLY ABOVE NORMAL.

Half a dozen ministers gave opinion that the number of marriages this season is a little above normal and that bridegrooms are about as liberal as former years.

From which it may be deduced that the prevalence of prosperity is causing a more conventional attitude toward weddings since the young folk are going in for church affairs instead of the quiet little transactions in magistrate's offices.

Still another said he usually gave the bridegroom's check to the bride as a wedding present—a return in kind, as it were.

Courthouse runners for "marrying squires" are said to be getting a few dollars more for their services.
