MINING HIGHER, ASSERTS EDITOR

Coal Wage Settlement Leaves Problem, He Declares.

Costs in the production of coal in Indiana are increased from 60 to 80 cents a ton by the action of the government commission appointed by President Wilson to settle the wage controversy, according to K. C. Adams, of the American Coal Miner.

The commission has allowed an increase of 28 1/2 per cent in the pick mining rate, which was 84 cents under the old agreement, according to Adams.

"As about 48 per cent of Indiana coal is produced under the pick mining scale, this increase is very important," said Adams.

The commission added 24 cents a ton to machine mining and 20 per cent or $1 a day to the day men.

"These advances, coupled to a yardage increase of 20 per cent means that the minimum cost of production for the low cost mines has increased 60 cents a ton and for other mines an increase of from 75 to 80 cents a ton," said Mr. Adams.

Mr. Adams has gone to New York City to attend a coal conference.

Plans for the immediate publication of a gold star book containing the names, pictures and biographical sketch of all Indiana soldiers, sailors, marines and war workers during the world war, were put under way today by the Indiana historical commission.

It has been recommended that the state provide a copy of the book for every family bereaved by the war.

Official records show that 3,246 men from Indiana were killed and fourteen nurses sacrificed their lives, and the plan is to place this data in the gold star book.

7 Under Arrest on Liquor Law Charges

Julius Kinder, 411 West Twenty-sixth street; Albert Burns, 1112 Union street; Andrew Johnson, 3427 North Capitol avenue; Homer Lewis, 1810 Boulevard place, are held by the police on a charge of violating the prohibition law.

A federal prohibition agent and Bicycle Policemen Drinkut and Stevens say they found the men at Holmes avenue and Michigan street, trying to sell half pints of whiskey to everyone who passed at $3.50 each.

Thomas Stephanoff, 202 Bright street, is held on a charge of making rain whiskey.

Albert Paris, 736 West New York street, and Thomas Ford, 111 Blake street, who were found at Stephanoff's home by the police, were arrested with him.

GAMBLING RAIDS NET FORTY-FIVE

Twenty-Three 'Chinks' Give Police and Turnkey Work.

Forty-five alleged gamblers were to answer charges in city court today as the result of a series of week-end raids made by the police.

Among them are twenty-three Chinamen.

They were taken in a raid at 142 North Delaware street.

Policemen were "planted" about the suspected gambling house, which Joe Bing is charged with keeping and while Bing, Thomas was scouting a "lookout" opened a door to admit a Chinaman and the officer dashed inside.

Three Chinamen attacked the officer while two locked the door.

The police raiders smashed down the door.

Lieut. Thomas rushed on into the basement with two Chinamen clinging to him and a wild scramble followed.

The Chinamen were driven out of their hiding places and rounded up.

Police declare they were playing reno, a game in which dominoes and dice are used.

Some of the players were from other cities.

The turnkey at headquarters had the hardest job of all—"slating" the Chinamen without misspelling or duplicating names.

Morals squad policeman say they walked right up behind a bunch of negroes shooting "craps" in a room over Curis Campbell's dry beer saloon, 901 Virginia avenue.

One man had just rolled the dice when he lifted his eyes to the face of a policeman.

"Well, what do you think of that, we're pinched," he said.

Campbell was charged with keeping the game.

Nine negroes were arrested in a raid at 1502 West Tenth street and Bud Macome was charged with being keeper of the game.

Seven negroes were captured in a raid at 217 Indiana avenue, and Sol Caldwell was charged with keeping the game.

The Marion county chapter of War Mothers held the March birthday party this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Alice French, 901 Middle drive, Woodruff place. Hostesses were those whose birthdays come in March.

The party was in the nature of an Easter entertainment.

Yellow crocuses, daffodils and jonquils were used in the decorations, table appointments and ices also carrying out the idea of the Easter colors.

FAITH, $3,000 AND STRANGER ALL DISAPPEAR

Heir to Riches in Old Country Waits Return of Fugitive From Chicago.

Faith in a well-dressed stranger cost Avram Lascu, 400 West Washington street, exactly $3,000.

Lascu today is patiently waiting for Claude Worley, special investigator of the criminal court, to return Mike Borich, now in Chicago, to Indianapolis to stand trial.

Borich is out on bond in a Chicago court pending trial in that city.

Lascu and his brother inherited a large sum of money following the death of their father in the old country.

Last spring, Lascu claims that he met Borich, who represented himself as being deeply devoted to doing "good" by aiding church charities.

HAD "BIG SUM" FOR CHARITY.

Borich explained to Lascu that he had a large sum of money which he was to distribute to charity, and he was in search of the proper person in Indianapolis with whom to leave the money in trust.

"Borich is alleged to have represented to Lascu that he favored placing the money in the hands of a priest," said Worley, "but Lascu and Borich failed to find any member of the clergy at home when they called."

"This, of course, fitted into the plans of Borich, who finally suggested to Lascu that he take charge of approximately $3,000 for charity," said Worley.

Lascu was willing and as the acquaintance of Borich and his alleged victim increased, Borich is said to have allowed Lascu to actually see and touch the money for charity.

According to Worley, Borich, after informing Lascu that it was necessary to leave for the east, decided to turn over the money for charity to Lascu on the evening of April 21, 1919.

THEN UP COMES AN OLD FRIEND.

While they were discussing the transfer, a man posing as an old friend of Borich appeared and protested against Borich turning over $3,000 to Lascu, who was a new acquaintance of the charitable Borich.

The stranger, it is alleged, suggested that Lascu, who had recently received his part from his father's estate, put up $3,000 to guarantee his good faith.

Lascu says he consented and took his $3,000 to Military park, where Borich and a stranger placed Lascu's money in a box with the charity money of Borich's.

"The box was then locked," said Worley, "and Borich took the key and gave it to the stranger."

Some time later, when the box was opened, it was found to contain nothing but air, Worley claims.

Borich has been missing and was only located in Chicago recently, Mr. Worley said.

JOLLY SCOUTS HIKE TO FORT

Spring Vacation Launched With Whoop Today.

Boy Scout week began today with a hike to the scout reservation near Ft. Benjamin Harrison.

The spring vacation will be filled with scout activities, closing with a big parade next Saturday.

Troops from all points in the city assembled at their division headquarters today and marched by separate route to the reservation, where inspection was held by scout masters.

Tuesday evening the scouts will give a banquet to scout masters at the Y. M. C. A.

Dillon Wallace of the Culver Summer Woodcraft school, Labrador explorer and writer, will be the chief speaker at the banquet.

Major Jewett, Merle Sidener and Wallace also will speak.

Downtown stores will offer bargains for Boy Scouts Thursday and the troops will spend the day in camp, probably on the courthouse lawn, cooking in the open and using pup tents.

Tests and weekly reviews will share interest in swimming contests Thursday.

Individual troop meetings will be held Friday to prepare for the Saturday parade.

REMEMBER this about phonographs. They are like twins. You can best tell them apart when you hear them together.

The Edison Turn-Table brings together the various phonographs in a scientific comparison. It plays the four leading makes, one right after the other, in the same room under exactly the same conditions. You are the sole judge. The differences between the various instruments are brought out so strikingly that you can decide instantly which is the best.

Clear up this phonograph question for yourself. We want you to use our new Edison Turn-Table Comparison as your guide to the truth about phonographs. Stop in when you have ten minutes to spare.
