PARK OFFICIAL ANSWERS CRAIG

Opposition to Service Station Not Selfish, Says Hoffman.

Charges that members of the park board were influenced by selfish motives in opposing the Craig-Hunt Motors Company building a service station and assembling plant at Meridian street and Maple road, made by J. R. Craig, president of the company in a letter published Saturday, were denied by J. Clyde Hoffman, attorney for the board, in a letter to Mr. Craig today.

Mr. Craig had maintained that the fight was not started as a matter of civic pride only but that Henry Stuckmeyer, member of the board, owned property adjoining the site.

Mr. Hoffman said the commissioners were greatly handicapped in carrying out their policy of making the city beautiful and had been unable to eliminate signboards and other structures detrimental to residential sections.

He said that the fight against industrial invasion of residential sections was to be made an issue in a campaign for legislation.

Fred C. Gardner, member of the park board, also denied there were unseen motives in the park board's actions.

COAL MEN CITE WILSON'S STAND

based on an amendment to the Lever act of Oct. 22, 1919, and including the period of time to the date of the indictment.

A conspiracy to exact excessive prices for bituminous coal in violation of Sec. 9 of the Lever act is charged in the tenth count.

A conspiracy to commit an offense against the United States by exacting excessive prices for coal is included in count ten.

The ten overt acts charged in the eleventh count include specific incidents of the general conspiracy as charged and are aimed mostly at operators.

The method of carrying out contracts for coal, refusal and delay in producing coal, the calling of a general strike by officials of the United Mine Workers and an alleged conspiracy to limit production are charged in the overt acts.

ALLEGATIONS ON COAL STRIKE.

The first two overt acts charged result from the coal strike of last year and include officials of the United Mine Workers of America as follows:

1. That on Oct. 15 or 16 John L. Lewis, acting president, and William Green, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America, issued an order calling for a strike of members of the organization in the central competitive field.

2. That during the month of October Mr. Lewis and Mr. Green held various conferences in Indianapolis concerning the strike.

It is said that practically all mine workers indicted will be included in a conspiracy based on the above two acts on account of their connection in carrying out the strike order.

Practically all officials of the various district boards were included in the indictment.

In the third overt act Indiana operators are charged with having refused to sell coal mined and controlled by them [illegible] to have asked and demanded prices higher than the current market during the months of January, February, March, April, May, June, July and August, 1919.

CHARGE MADE AGAINST KOLSEM.

W. Kolsem, former state senator, is named in the fourth overt act charge, which alleged that on March 29, 1919, [illegible]art owner and general manager of No. 2 at Hymera, Ind., he caused [illegible] to be closed and abandoned for [illegible] months, thus restricting the production of coal approximately 400 tons [illegible].

The Indiana coal trade bureau at Terre Haute is included in the fifth overt act charged, which is based on a report of a coal contract sent to the bureau by H. M. Ferguson, president and general manager of the Clinton Coal Company, and in turn distributed to other members of the bureau.

Mr. Ferguson is also charged with having closed down two mines in Clinton county Feb. 1, 1919, and keeping them closed for about three months, limiting production some 1,800 tons per day.

ELASTIC CONTRACTS ARE INVOLVED.

Elastic contracts, covering and protecting operators on increased cost of production, are dealt with in the seventh overt act charge, which alleges that Walter D. Talley, vice president of the Coal Bluff Mining Company of Terre Haute, entered into a contract on July 31, 1919, with the Citizen's Mutual Heating Company, whereby he agreed to sell the latter approximately 10,000 tons of coal at $2.05 per ton, and caused the following insertion to be made in the contract:

"This condition means that if there is a reduction of any of the items mentioned during the term of this contract, the buyer is to have the benefit of them, and if there is an increase in any of them, the buyer is to pay such increase, but it should be fully understood that during such times as prices are fixed by the United States government, nothing contained in this condition shall be construed on the one hand to authorize the exaction of any price in excess of the government maximum price nor on the other hand to require delivery by the seller at a price below the cost of production of coal as shown in the required reports to the federal trade commission, plus a reasonable profit."

It is further charged that on Dec. 15, 1919, Talley delivered a carload of coal for which he charged $2.30 per ton, and that on Sept. 1, 1919, he refused to ship coal to the company for storage purposes.

AGREEMENT ON UNION DUES CITED.

Warren F. Smith, manager of the Power Coal Company of Chicago and Indianapolis, is charged with having entered into a contract with the Sneath Glass Company of Hartford City, Ind., for the sale of about 650 tons of coal for $2.40 per ton, to which price he added 25 cents per ton on Nov. 15, 1919.

In the tenth overt act, Indiana operators are charged with having entered into an agreement by which miners' union dues were withheld from their pay under what is known as the "checkoff" system.

A conspiracy to commit an offense against the United States is charged in the twelfth count, as follows: "By engaging in discriminatory, unfair and deceptive practices and devices in handling, dealing in, distributing, supplying and in the production of a certain necessary, to-wit: bituminous coal, by falsely reporting to mine workers that coal could not be sold; by falsely claiming there was a shortage of coal cars; by reporting to each other prices charged for coal, amount of coal mined each day and place of delivery; by increasing and maintaining a price for coal higher than the market price."

ALLEGED CONSPIRACY IN FINAL COUNTS.

The other six counts of the indictment are all based on a conspiracy to limit production and supply and fix prices.

No direct allusion is made in the indictment to the wage scale conference held in Buffalo, Sept. 25, 1919, but practically all members of both the operators' and miners' committees attending the conference are named as defendants.

Printed copies of the indictment are now being distributed to attorneys representing the defendants.

The coal grand jury which returned the indictment went into session in Indianapolis Dec. 17, 1919, and carried on an investigation of the coal industry until March 11.

The investigation was directed by Ert L. Slack and Dan Simms, special assistant United States district attorneys.

All defendants will be arraigned before Judge A. B. Anderson May 4, and the trial will probably be set during the November term of court this year.

By MARY MARSHALL S. DUFFEE.

Good Form and Your Wife

Few men realize how their wives appreciate the outward signs of chivalry in the manners of their husbands toward them.

The fact that the husband's heart is in the right place doesn't altogether make up for a lack of good manners.

Not only does the wife want to have the husband show outward courtesy to her at home, she especially appreciates having him do so under the observance of others.

It is much the same thing as a man's liking to have his wife dress attractively when he and she are away together.

It gratifies his pride.

To have her husband show outward courtesy to her is a tribute to a wife, and moreover it shows he is well-bred.

She does not want to have other persons think he is ignorant of the rules of social decorum.

Many a man forgets that when he meets his wife he should at once relieve her of any bundles she may be carrying.

He does, in truth, look a little odd carrying them, but he looks much odder when walking with his wife and permitting her to carrry them.

Many a man forgets to give his wife that little assistance that courtesy demands when she gets into an automobile or street car.

He thought of it readily enough when he was courting her and probably if the woman in question was Lady-So-and-So or the governor's wife he would not forget it.

It is not customary for a man either married or bachelor, to invite another married man to a formal social affair to which the wife is not also asked if there are other women present.

A married man should not forget that courtesy and good form demand that he should always assist his wife into her wraps.

As a matter of fact, at home he may not do this, but if they have been dining at a restaurant and the waiter is not at hand to assist the wife into her coat the married man who is used to the customs of good society steps quickly to his wife's side and assists her.

WHAT READERS ASK.

"Is it considered permissible to give money for a wedding present?"

Members of the immediate family may make a money present, but if it were to come from any relative of the husband it would not be courteous to send it to the bride before the wedding.

In such a case it would be better to wait until after the marriage, when the money should be given to the newlyweds jointly.—Copyright, 1920.

METHODISTS AID WAR VETERANS

College and Preparatory Scholarships Set Aside.

War scholarships for the purpose of assisting world war veterans in colleges and preparatory schools will be awarded by the board of home missions and extension of the Methodist Episcopal church, according to announcement made by Dr. C. E. Bacon, superintendent of the Indianapolis district of the church.

The only requirement necessary to obtain such scholarships, which will range from $180 per annum for young men in preparatory schools to $250 for those in college, will be an honorable discharge fro many of the allied military forces.

A sum of approximately $250,000 is to be used for providing scholarships during the next five years, it was announced.

Thirty-seven students are now attending DePauw university on scholarships, thirty-one of them being Indiana men.

Fraternity Dance Largely Attended

A large delegation of college folk danced in the Riley room Saturday night at the Delta Upsilon state party. Fraternity banners were the main features of the decorations.

Preceding the dance the fraternity men dined in the Florentine room.

J. M. Bartlett presented DePauw chapter with a silver cup in recognition of its scholarship standard. Paul Isenbarger of DePauw acknowledged the gift for the chapter.

Everett Lett, vice president of the Indianapolis club, and Harold Middleton, alumnus of Indiana university, were speakers at the dinner.

Elected by Better Business Bureau

Arthur Taylor of the Continental National bank and Joseph A. Kebler of the R. G. Dunn Company have been elected directors of the Better Business Bureau to fill the unexpired terms of Elmer W. Stout and Arthur Baxter.

How Is Your Weight?

While it is true that too much weight is not to be desired yet the fact remains that many men and women are thin to the point of danger. This danger lies in their having no reserve force or nerve power to combat deadly diseases. A little extra flesh is needed by all to feel well and to look well, and this calls up the question of how best to increase the weight. Physicians and chemists by experiments have solved the problem of increasing the white and red corpuscles of the blood by the administration of 3 grain hypo-nuclane tablets, and this is usually followed by an increase of weight. Obtain in sealed packages, and take for a period of several months, according to directions with package.—Advertisement.

Smith College Club Dance Big Success

The Smith College club dance given at the Woodstock club Saturday night was a brilliant success, the dance hall and center hall both being crowded.

One of the unique features of the evening was the palm reading by Dora Bosart Evans. A special gypsy booth was erected in the parlors, and all guests were invited to visit her.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Gardner was in charge of the dance. Walter Hubbard directed the floor committee.

Mrs. Stacey Lindley is president of the club.

Visiting Shriner Aids Armenian Orphans

Among contributions received by Near East Relief for starving Armenian orphans was $50 from W. Freeland Kendrick, imperial potentate of the North American Shrine, before he left Indianapolis last week.

Mr. Kendrick, at the national meeting of the shrine here last summer, started a movement for the establishment of a home for crippled children.

Co-operating with the state committee of Near East Relief, the Indiana Sunday School association has sent a letter asking all Sunday schools in the state to remember the Armenian orphans at Easter time and make the best offering they can.

"Three thousand homeless orphans yet remain to be provided for out of Indiana's quota of 10,000," the letter says.

"STRANGE HOW WOMEN SUFFER"

Says Tennessee Lady, and Will Just Go Suffering, She Says, When Cardui Is Right at Hand.

Caryville, Tenn.—Hoping her experience may benefit others who suffer from disorders common among women, Mrs. Charles Rains, of this (Campbell) county, says: "I had womanly troubles till I couldn't rest, couldn't sleep, and was nervous and suffered a great deal of pain in my head, limbs and back. I would get to the place where I couldn't move without a great effort.

"For years I had known of Cardui, and it is strange how a woman will just go on suffering when the best remedy in the world is right at hand—but we do!

"But finally the pain was worse, my suffering so great I knew I must do something. A friend mentioned Cardui and we sent for it. One bottle helped me.

"I took a course of Cardui, regained my strength, built myself up and felt like a new woman.

"Can I recommend Cardui? Yes, and gladly, for it is a God-send to suffering women. I hope when they suffer with troubles common to women they don't wait, but get this sure remedy at once."

The Quick Way to Stop a Cough

This home-made syrup does the work in a hurry. Easily prepared, and saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Pour 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for its healing effect on the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Rupture Kills 7,000 Annually

Seven thousand persons each year are laid away—the burial certificate being marked "Rupture." Why? Because the unfortunate ones had neglected themselves or had been merely taking care of the sign (swelling) of the affliction and paying no attention to the cause. What are you doing? Are you neglecting yourself by wearing a truss, appliance, or whatever name you choose to call it? At best, the truss is only a makeshift—a false prop against a collapsing wall—and cannot be expected to act as more than a mere mechanical support. The binding pressure retards blood circulation, thus robbing the weakened muscles of that which they need most—nourishment.

But science has found a way, and every truss sufferer in the land is invited to make a FREE test right in the privacy of their own home. The PLAPAO method is unquestionably the most scientific, logical and successful self-treatment for rupture the world has ever known.

The PLAPAO PAD when adhering closely to the body can not possibly slip or shift out of place, therefore, cannot chafe or pinch. Soft as velvet—easy to apply—inexpensive. To be used whilst you work and whilst you sleep. No straps, buckles or springs attached.
