

FORMER LOCAL CITIZEN SLAIN

W. H. Langsdale Shot by Insane Neighbor in South.

William H. Langsdale, 47, formerly living at 4659 Central avenue, was shot and slain at his home in Mobile, Ala., by John J. Devan, an insane neighbor, according to word received here today. Mr. Langsdale left Indianapolis two years ago and became head of the employment department of the Alabama Dry Dock and Ship Building Company. He was for a number of years editor of the Greenville Banner and is credited with having originated the idea for the Soldiers' and Sailors' monument here. The dead man is survived by the widow, who was formerly Miss Mary May of New Albany, Ind., two small children and a brother, George Langsdale, now living in the west. Sister, Mary Langsdale, who was a teacher in the Manual Training High School, died several years ago, as did another sister, who was the wife of Albert J. Beveridge.

GRANT FURLOUGH FOR JEWISH FETE

All men of Jewish faith in the army and navy will be granted furloughs during the first two days of the Passover to be celebrated from April 3 to April 10, according to announcement today by Col. Harry Cutler, chairman of the Jewish welfare board. The feast of the Passover begins on the night of April 2 among orthodox Jews and lasts eight days, whereas, among reform Jews it lasts only seven. The first two days are celebrated as high holy days.

British Veterans to Combine Celebrations

The recently organized British War Veterans' association of Indianapolis will observe the natal day of Queen Victoria and the American holiday, Memorial day, simultaneously, May 31, it was announced today. The association will not be affiliated with the British and Canadian Veterans' organizations. Bernard H. Haddath was elected president of the association at a dinner and smoker held at the Hotel Severin Saturday night.

Goodrich Home; Mum on Special Session

Gov. Goodrich just returned from a two weeks' visit in Florida, resuming his duties at the statehouse today, but said he had no announcement to make concerning the probable date of the special legislative session. The governor has made no public statement on the subject of a special session since the announcement of O. L. Klaus, auditor of state, that he would demand a session to appropriate money for the operation of state institutions. Gov. Goodrich long since declared his intention to call the session and has never withdrawn that declaration.

LAST NIGHT'S DREAMS—WHAT THEY MEAN—

Did you dream of a purse? To dream of a purse or pocketbook is an omen of success; and if it appears empty it is a sign that your prosperity will be permanent. If the purse seems very full it is a sign that you are stingy and lazy—though that apparently will not detract from your prosperity. To dream of finding a purse containing money or other valuables is an omen that you will soon receive some money you have been expecting. If the purse is filled full of money the omen is one for your immediate prosperity. Old and empty purses found in dreams are not regarded as favorable omens, though finding is considered an excellent augury. If the purse you find in dreamland is black there are hopes for you, and if it is blue happiness is coming to you. The scientists, however, would also attach a symbolic meaning to the purse and an analysis of the dream's latent content would dwell upon that symbolism, probably probing your secret thoughts and desire in a most uncomfortable manner.—Copyright, 1920.

SHERIFF SAYS M'NULTY'S IN

Former Owner of Bull and Bear Serving Sentence.

Charles C. McNulty, former owner of the Bull and Bear saloon, in the Board of Trade building, is today serving a sentence of ninety days on the Indiana state farm on a charge of operating a "blind tiger." "I took McNulty to the farm myself Saturday and he is there serving his time," said Sheriff Robert Miller today. McNulty was formally sentenced last Monday by Judge James Collins in the criminal court after the supreme court had sustained the trial court. Prior to the formal sentencing of McNulty an effort was made by politicians to influence the board of pardons to parole or pardon McNulty before he had served a day's time on the penal farm. McNulty was fined $500 and sentenced to ninety days on the farm following a jury trial.

Urged to Record Discharge Papers

All former service men are urged to record their discharge papers with the recorders in their respective counties by Franklin D'Oiler, national commander of the American legion. Many states grant certain benefits permanently to former soldiers, and the recorded discharge documents will prove valuable in the future, Mr. D'Oiler says.

Gatling Gun Club Now in New Home

The new home of the Gatling Gun club, on Illinois street near Walnut street, was opened yesterday with a house warming for members. The home was recently purchased from the Knights of Columbus and has been in the hands of decorators for some time. The club was formed from the Gatling gun squad of the Murat temple of the Mystic Shrine and has a membership of 150.

CAR SHORTAGE HITS SHRINERS

The Imperial Council of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, scheduled to be held in Portland, Ore., in June, probably will be postponed, according to announcement made here by Imperial Potentate W. Froeland Kendrick. Mr. Kendrick left the city today for New York after conferring with officials of the Murat temple on the apparent necessity of either postponing the session or eliminating all social activities included in the program. A shortage of Pullman cars is given as the reason for the necessity of changing plans, as it will be impossible to obtain enough Pullman coaches to carry the delegates to the convention. Practically all available Pullman cars in the country have been requisitioned for the democratic and republican national conventions, it was said in Chicago.

No Waiting Now At a Second Window

YOU had only a few minutes to catch your train. The long line at the ticket seller's window moved slowly, because the clerk had to walk forty or fifty feet every time he got a new ticket. You fretted and fumed for fear you'd miss your train, while visions of another long wait at the Pullman window increased your anxiety. For the first time you realized how important to you was the way in which a railroad company filed its tickets.

That was the old method of selling tickets. We have devised a portable ticket-case which contains all kinds of tickets—local, long-distance, foreign, Pullman—more than 3000 forms in all. It is kept at the clerk's elbow. He never has to leave his window. The line moves fast. You buy your railroad transportation and your Pullman ticket without visiting a second window. Your time is saved and your nerves are spared a strain.

Our traffic manager conceived the idea. Our architect worked it out. The case was first tried at the Grand Central Terminal. Now it is in use at many congested points, and its usefulness is being rapidly extended. This invention has revolutionized the handling of railway tickets. This is one detail of many where constant care and attention to the public's needs enable us to meet them.
