

Confessions of a Bride

"We should worry about what Lucy does to Grant," said my husband as he handed back the letter in which Mrs. Searle had informed four devoted French and English girls that her husband was at the moment, an eligible candidate for matrimony.

Lucy's letter to those girls should not have been important to me—but it prompted this idiotic question:

In what degree of flirtation had my Bob indulged his fancy while he was overseas?

I couldn't keep the horrid query out of my mind.

I had never kept tab on Bob's mail. I had never been curious about my Bob's correspondence until Lucy planted the seed of distrust in my soul.

When we were installed in our own home, there arrived, once a week at curious square envelopes of thin, foreign paper.

I grew cold with suspicion as I held the first of these at arm's length, and regarded the sharp, slender writing, taught in France and then the bold, masculine style which is a fad with English women.

What did those horrid envelopes contain?

I was too stunned to decide.

I merely put them aside with Bob's mail and waited for him to open them; but when he saw them he only scowled impatiently and thrust them into his coat pocket without a word of explanation to me!

Sometimes I thought I would discuss with Bob those impertinent letters which followed him so shamelessly over the threshold of his home.

Then I realized that he would wear them not sentimental and that I would not believe what he swore!

I realized that I was set on believing that Bob was almost as guilty as Grant Searle.

Even so, I couldn't quite reconcile treachery and disloyalty with Bob's character—he was so very respectable!

Nevertheless, there was the evidence—the letters which arrived with every foreign mail.

I kept my house in perfect order, baked the tea biscuit which Bob liked so much—and went whenever I was alone.—Copyright, 1920.

BUT THEY GOT NOTHING.

Harry Byers, 41 North Colorado avenue, told the police today that a burglar ransacked his home but that nothing had been taken.

Hit in Drama

MISS VIVIAN ALLISON.

Miss Vivian Allison was the leading woman in the play staged last night by the Delta Delta Delta pledges at their party in honor of the alumni and active chapter at the home of Miss Dorothy White in the Whitehall apartments.

"A Proposal Under Difficulties," by John Kendrick Banks, was the drama.

Miss Allison took the part of Dorothy Andrews, heroine; Miss Agnes Purdie was the successful lover, Bob Yardley; Miss Miriam Webb was Jack Barlow, the rejected suitor; and Miss Dorothy Sterens as the maid, "Jennie," the cause of all the complications.

After the play the hall was cleared, the orchestra assembled and a dance closed the festivities of the evening.

Freshman colors of green and white prevailed in the decorations and dining room appointments.

'Married' Again

MR. AND MRS. SAMUEL ROBBINS.

Fifty years ago Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Robbins, 21 Garfield avenue, were married.

Last night they were the principals in a mock wedding witnessed by 250 friends and relatives at the home of their son, John W. Robbins, 4736 Washington boulevard.

One of the questions asked by Rev. S. A. Morrow of the "groom" in the mock wedding was: "Will you promise to take your wife riding in an airplane every day." He answered: "I will."

Mr. Robbins, who is 74, and his wife, who is 72, were reared in Morgan county and married in Brooklyn, Ind.

They have lived in Indianapolis since 1887.

Mr. Robbins engaged in bridge contracting for thirty years, and also built the sub-structure of the permanent barracks at Ft. Benjamin Harrison.

Many guests came from Brooklyn, Mooreville, Cincinnati and Covington, Ky., to attend the celebration.

Four of the five children of Mr. and Mrs. Robbins are living. They are Mrs. C. A. Barrett, Mrs. John F. Kerr, John W. Robbins and Harry L. Robbins. They have thirteen grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

100 War Mothers at Birthday Party

More than 100 War Mothers were present at the birthday party held at the home of Mrs. Alice French, 901 Middle drive, Woodruff place, yesterday afternoon.

Hostesses were Mrs. Oscar Lewis, Mrs. Harvey Reese, Mrs. Morgan, Mrs. Lavolette Dickey and Mrs. French, all having birthdays in March.

The meeting was informal.

Several of the women who had been to the national convention of War Mothers in New York, talked of their experiences.

Mrs. David Pair gave a reading, "Robert of Sicily." Miss Elizabeth Callin sang a group of songs, and Mrs. Ashjian brought a native Armenian guest, who talked in behalf of the Armenian relief work.

The meeting closed with the calendar party, which is a unique method of the War Mothers for raising money among themselves for relief work.

Each day is represented by 25 cents and the ladies make out the full year in silver, month by month. Mrs. Alice French and Mrs. Richard M. Coleman left last night for Chicago, where the Illinois War Mothers are holding their state convention this week.

DRAMATIC CLUB PLAY SUCCESS

Large Crowd Sees 'The Misleading Lady' at the Murat.

"The Misleading Lady" was presented at the Murat theater last night by the Indianapolis Dramatic club, and judging from the large audience, the organization is decidedly popular with local folk.

The production was one of the most finished and successful of this season's amateur theatricals.

Miss Lucyanna Joss gave a most delightful portrayal of Helen Steele, the temperamental heroine; Mrs. Robert Tyndall as Mrs. Cannell, and Miss Elizabeth Nicholson, Mrs. Douglas Pierce, Mrs. Robert Milliken in the minor feminine roles, wore several clever frocks and made a most attractive house party.

Montgomery Lewis as the "cave man lover" a decided hit, and his rival, Henry Tracy, proved himself a forceful actor.

Walter Percy Pfaff did a splendid bit of acting as the mad man who imagines himself Napoleon Bonaparte.

Robert Milliken was the comedian of the evening in the part of Stephen Weatherbee, aided by W. J. Holliday and Charles Schaf. "Dabe" and "Spider" who provoked laughs with no visible effort.

Douglas Pierce, Walter Hubbard, Stuart Dean and Benjamin Claypool handled their roles with pleasing ease.

The cast as a whole was excellent, the drama is full of action, humor and snap, which made the production another "huge Hoosier hit."

Harry Porter, as usual, directed the play.

Following the performance the actors and guests danced at the Propylaeum.

Once You Try Mazola You Will Never Go Back to Lard or Butter for Cooking—or Olive Oil for Dressings

OF interest to every wide-awake housewife are these important facts about the general use, the quality and the unusual economy of Mazola.

Deep Frying

No fat excels Mazola for deep frying. It is far better and a great deal more economical than lard or compounds. Mazola is 100% pure vegetable fat. It contains no moisture. Butter and Lard contain moisture. The same lot of Mazola can be used over and over again—even after frying fish and onions. Merely straining makes it perfectly fresh for use as a shortening. It carries no odors or flavors from the foods cooked in it and does not smoke up your kitchen.

Shortening

The purity and richness of Mazola best demonstrates itself in the fact that 1/4 to 1/3 less Mazola is required than that of butter or lard. This means that your cakes and pie crust will not only be light, rich and easily digested but will cost you less to prepare. Being an oil, the tiresome "creaming-in process" is eliminated. Mazola is always ready for instant use.

Salad Dressings

Thousands of Italians, who certainly know olive oil, use Mazola. Not only because it costs about half that of the best olive oil, but because of its richness, quality and purity.

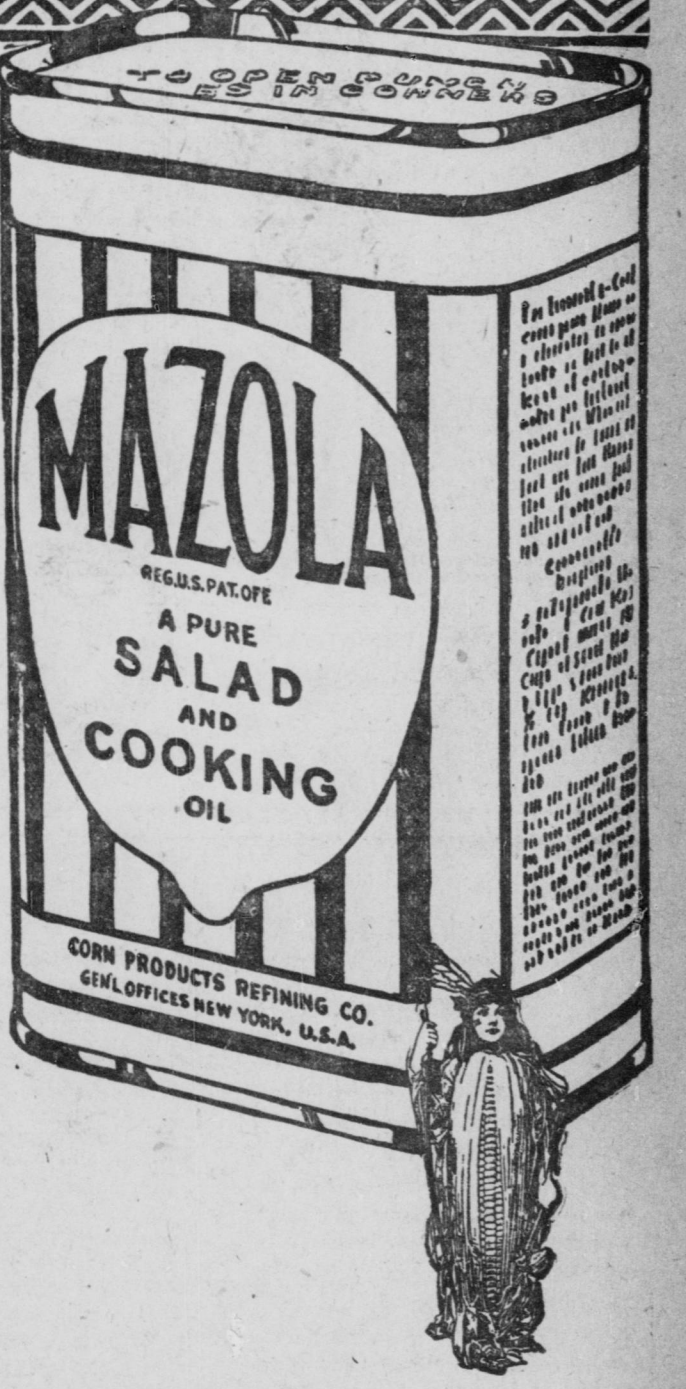

For French Dressing, Mazola blends readily—and mayonnaise made with Mazola will keep for weeks without separating.

Important to Housewives

One of the most severe comparative tests ever used on a cooking fat gives unqualified FIRST HONORS to Mazola.

Understand the remarkable economy and high quality of Mazola by these figures.

FRENCH FRIED POTATOES

2 lbs. of Mazola fried	26 lbs. Potatoes
2 lbs. of Lard	8 " "
2 lbs. of Compound	11 1/2 " "

Note: Mazola goes over three times as far as lard; is twice as economical as compound.

FISH

2 lbs. of Mazola fried	25 lbs. Fish
2 lbs. of Lard	15 " "
2 lbs. of Compound	20 " "

Note: Compare the figures yourself. Even with frying fish Mazola does not smoke up your kitchen.

DOUGHNUTS

2 lbs. of Mazola fried	216 Doughnuts
2 lbs. of Lard	144 " "
2 lbs. of Compound	168 " "

Note: All doughnuts were the same size. Mazola - made doughnuts are more easily digested.

P. S. Reasons for these remarkable figures are explained in column to the left. Read it.
