Move in Sonora for Secession Called First Step.

AGUA PRIETA, Mex., April 1.—Preparations for armed hostilities against the Carranza government are rapidly being made throughout the state of Sonora, which threatens secession from the Mexican republic, and observers here regard these as the beginning of a general revolution against Carranza, according to information obtained here today.

Under orders from Gen. P. Elias Calles, an armed force is being mobilized along the Sonora-Shalao state line to repel a threatened invasion of Carranza troops, said to number 5,000.

At the same time, 2,500 men have been dispatched as reinforcements for the Sonora troops by "Pancho" Villa, who, in a message sent to Gen. Calles today, saluted the latter as a "comrade in arms" and announced hostilities against that traitor Carranza."

LAST NIGHT'S DREAMS —WHAT THEY MEAN—

Did you dream of forsaking? To dream that you are forsaking your wife—or husband—is an omen of great pleasure and store for you and much domestic happiness.

This is one "according to contraries" theory of some dreams.

If a lover dreams he is forsaken by his sweetheart for another, it is a sign that she is faithful to you and that all the little love quarrels will be made up.

To dream you are forsaking work, or business, is a warning to let out that you do not suffer through the treachery of a business partner or through an employee.

To dream you are abandoning your home means your business will grow more and more profitable.

Should you dream you are being abandoned by your friends, signifies you will increase their number.

It is not a fortunate omen to dream you are abandoning a friend in distress.

To dream you are abandoned on an island, or in some desolate place, signifies much hard work before you with riches and success at the end if you put your energies into the occupation in which you are now engaged.

In case of such a dream some oracles say the dreamer should change his occupation and pursue his new calling with redoubled vigor in order to attain success.—Copyright, 1920.

Rescuing the Waste

THE Standard Oil Company (Indiana) renders a vital service by giving multiplications of value to that portion of the crude oil left, after gasoline, kerosene and lubricating oils have been extracted, through the production of innumerable by-products, each supplying a definite need.

Thus have been developed products such as parowax, which serve such useful purposes as a protective coating for cheese, meats and sausages; for match ends; for water proofing milk bottle caps, ice cream pails and paper drinking cups; and for sealing preserved vegetables, fruits and jellies against bacteria, ferments and mold.

These are but a few of the uses of one of the more than 2000 products manufactured by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), covering useful commodities from asphalt to candles.

So vast a program could not be carried out except by a highly specialized organization, developed to maintain numerous contracts with the world of production on one hand, and with the consuming public on the other.

It was the need for such a specialized organization which led to the great development of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). No single function of this great organization has come into being without a definite call to service.

Today the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is big only because the need of its service is great; because the ways in which it is able to serve are continually multiplying as the complexities of modern industrial life increase.
