

10 Gymnasiums to Be Built by Canoe Club

Erection of New Building With Coming of Favorable Weather.

TO BOOST SWIMMING

Three Other New Gymnasiums Planned—Big Boost for Athletics.

By CHARLIE LOGAN.

One of the largest gymnasiums in this section of the country will be erected by the Indianapolis Athletic and Canoe Club in the rear of the present home as soon as weather conditions will permit.

Secretary George C. Spiegel made this announcement today.

The architect's drawings for the building will be accepted at the next board meeting, to be held during the latter part of this month, and it is estimated that the cost of the structure will run in the neighborhood of $25,000.

Mr. Spiegel stated that it is planned to build a gymnasium large enough to accommodate any sort of indoor athletic contest.

Seating arrangements will be made to take care of more than 5,000 people.

Besides a gymnasium, the new building will include a swimming pool of regulation size, one will rank among the best pools in the country.

Several of the club members have already contributed a large amount of money to be used in erecting and equipping the gym.

BOATYARD GROUND AND MONEY.

Carl G. Fisher led the contributors when he handed Mr. Spiegel a check for $1,000.

Mr. Fisher also donated the ground on which the building is to be erected.

Other large contributions have been made by C. C. Parry, L. M. Walnwright, Walter Marmon, W. Tobin, A. R. Baxter and Taylor Wilson.

Contributions are still pouring in from the members and it is believed that the club will be put to very little expense.

Although no plans for the building have been submitted as yet, it is believed that the "sliding wall" plan will be used, making it possible to stage various outdoor events, such as track and field meets, during the summer months.

SLIDING WALLS IN BUILDING.

The sliding walls may be pushed out in the summer, making the building as cool, if not cooler, than the outdoors.

One of the main objects of the large gymnasium is to be erected in this city during the coming summer.

The Knights of Columbus, Elks lodge and city park board have already accepted plans for their buildings and work on all four will be started at about the same time.

These gyms will give Indianapolis youngsters a chance to get the proper training and develop into some of the best men in the country.

WORK ON OTHER GYMS.

The Knights of Columbus and Elks have not worked very heavily in athletics during the past, but they are planning to go deep in all branches of sport during the future.

The park board gym will be included in a community house to be erected on the east side, and will be a municipal affair, open to all athletes in the city at all times.

When Indiana was granted a separate A. A. U. charter a little more than a year ago, it was believed that athletics would be the present home, but owing to the shortage of pep and gymnasiums the organization had a hard time making headway.

Next year the city will be fairly crowded with gyms and there is no reason to believe that sports will not be given more consideration by the various organizations in Indianapolis, and the necessary boom is bound to follow.

ATTRACTIONS FOR GIRL SWIMMERS.

A few days ago Thelma Darby and Regina Reis, two girl swimmers that Indianapolis has a right to be proud of, announced that they would quit the city and move to Chicago to become affiliated with the Central A. A. U. if swimming conditions were not bettered here.

If these young ladies will now step up and take notice they will see that there is no need of their going to Chicago to meet with the proper kind of competition.

More swimmers will perform here next year than at any other time in the history of the city and some of them will probably make Misses Darby and Reis jealous to hold their place of prominence in the game.

NATIONAL MEET CARDING MEETS.

The national women's indoor 500-yard breast stroke swimming championship meet is to be held here during the latter part of this month.

It has not been definitely decided where this meet will be held, but the Marion club is holding strong for it, and it is probable that they will be awarded the charter.

It is possible that the greatest women swimmers in the country will come here for competition in the national swim, and a class show is promised.

The Indianapolis entrants in the event will include Thelma Darby, Regina Reis, Francis Billabrook, and Ephraim Donnelly.

Two other A. A. U. swim championships are held for this city during the summer months.

The "baby" organization has also been awarded a national championship meet, and the Normal college of the North American gymnastic union is coming out strong for this event.

INDIANS TAKE IRON PATH TO CHATTANOOGA

Scheduled for Tough Job of Watching Giants and Red Sox Battle.

EXHIBITIONS CARDED

By EDDIE ASH.

Times Sports Editor.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 3.—Sniffing the refreshing air of Jacksonville for the second time during their jaunt into the Florida territory, the band of perpetual sunshine and flowers, the Indians today enjoyed a brief layover here on their way to Chattanooga.

The tribe is due in the Tennessee city late tonight. Tomorrow they will attend the Giant-Red Sox game, the Easter Sunday sport feature of Chattanooga.

Indians O'Mara and Louie Wolf were picked up here, the two players having left St. Petersburg a day in advance of the Indians to hunt a meat or two off of friends in and near Jacksonville.

As Louie Wolf said, "There's nothing so refreshing as getting even with relatives."

BUMS MEAL FROM "COUSIN."

And O'Mara—well, he, too, rather fancied that his southern cousins (cousins, did you say, Ollie, tee-hee), would enjoy taking a squint at his sun-tanned hide.

Ollie had no hesitancy in showing his friends the hash boards of his Jacksonville cousins.

Tomorrow Manager Hendricks will make his first effort to get the Indians loose some pitching talent from the New York and Boston clubs. He has been hoping for a long time to get a pitcher to find himself hampered with an almost star in the heating line, and Jack has a hunch that he will be able to grab off a hurler, too.

GAMES TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY.

Plans are completed for practice at the Chattanooga park Monday, with games scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday.

Here the Indians will make a bee-line for home.

Yip, Yip, Yip. Wa-hoo. Bally-hoo. Hoo-hoo. Hoo-hoo. Hoo-hoo.

That's the unofficial war hoop of the tribe and the yell that will enliven the Indians when the Redskins trail into Indianapolis.

BATTLE WITH TIGERS HERE.

Here, the Indians hope, fans: Get your tickets to see this trained band of sun-tanned warriors at Washington park next Saturday.

Every mother's son of the Indians inhaled a sigh of regret when they pulled out of St. Petersburg, Fla., on Monday, for Tampa, where they would be in the line with the Tampa team, and the day of the "glory city."

They have had a wonderful season in training this year, and received a glad hand from most of the fans, feminine and otherwise.

High School Stars on Edge for Scrap at Y. M. C. A. Tonight

Crack Talent From Four Schools With Turners and Joy-Glooms.

The Lineups

Turners..... Forward.....Bridgeford
Hennessey..... Forward.....Garrett
Rice..... Center.....Miller
Secret..... Guard.....Mulligan
Seidensticker..... Guard.....Dawson

The stage is set for a great post-season basketball battle between the South Side Turners and Joy-Glooms, champions of the Indianapolis section of the state amateur basketball championship tournament, on the Y. M. C. A. court tonight.

The contest will start at 8:15, following a curtain-raiser between Y. P. C's and the Mysterious Five.

No amateur battle ever staged in this city has been as well attended as this one will be.

In the Joy-Glooms lineup, former Broad High School and High School stars are included, while the Turner machine is built of the best leads that have been turned out at Manual, Shortridge and Technical in the past two years.

Bridgeford and Capt. Garrett will hold down the forward positions for the Joy-Glooms.

The Turner team, led by the Ripple team of two years ago, and the latter was the center and star of the Ripple team.

Drayer, placed at center for the north side, is a power on the team, and showed up better than any man on the team during the previous season.

Mulligan and Dawson will work the guard jobs for the Ripple.

Bridgeford and Capt. Garrett will hold down the forward positions for the Joy-Glooms all season, but he is an exceptionally good long shot and will be able to hold his own in running the floor.

Dawson is rated as one of the best guards in the amateur game.

Turners have a well acquainted with the style of basketball they put out.

They, like the Joy-Glooms, have traveled some, and have been in the finals of the sectional in the finals of the sectional in the finals of the sectional.

Johnny Hennessey returned from Florida a few weeks ago in better shape than he has been all season, ready to take up his old stand at the forward station.

Secret, former captain of the Tech quintet, will guard for the Turners, and they will have a well acquainted with the style of basketball they put out.

Black, Tech, Morris, Ripple, and Hillerbrand will be held in reserve by the Joy-Glooms. The Turners will have Mulligan and Dawson to go to fall back on in a emergency.

I. C. A. L. Bound to Grow When Proposed Changes and Plans Are Completed

Following the announcement yesterday that the I. C. A. L. members would start a new basketball league, a committee was appointed, with Prof. H. M. Gelson of Butler college as chairman, to consider the league, and membership of the new league.

President Gelson stated that action will be taken to apply for a franchise and to start the league.

Plans for the annual I. C. A. L. basketball tournament will be completed at the time of the annual meeting.

With Butler out of the running, only four teams are left to fight for the championship.

The committee of which Prof. Gelson is chairman has also been instructed to go over the constitution and by-laws and make any changes that may be necessary.

WANT RACE SANCTIONED.

ELGIN, Ill., April 3.—Application for sanction for the 1920 Elgin race has been made to the contest board of the Chicago Automobile Club.

Charles P. Root, chairman of the contest committee of the Chicago Automobile Club, will conduct the classic.

If the A. A. A. chairman grants permission, the race will be a feature in terminating the champion for the year.

PORTER ON THE TRAIN TODAY.

The porter on the train today was right on the job when he became acquainted with the Tribesmen. He found the Indians jolly passengers, with nary a grouse among 'em.

Much of the discussion today, as the train has slipped along through this wonderful scenic territory, has centered on Easter celebrations of past years.

Perhaps the most far-fetched joke ever cracked on the train today was one that Louie Wolf introduced.

Sure, Louie said it came from Afghanistan. Get him to translate it when he gets back. We don't know how to write it in Afghanistan language.

The squad is figuring and wondering what stunts will be introduced when they receive an official welcome in Indianapolis.

It is planned to give Manager Jack Hendricks as a ritualistic greeting, and a few of the silk-shirters are hoping they can get in on the party, too.

Butch Heinline is counting on doing the receiving for the tribe when the Indians clash with the Mud Hens.

Garrett has a sore finger, 'y' know.

GHID COACH SIGNS.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 2.—F. W. Moore, graduate manager of the Harvard Athletic association, announced yesterday that Robert T. Flier had renewed his contract as the Crimson's head football coach.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE IN THE

INDIANA TRAVELERS'

HUNS TRYING TO FORCE CAR IN AUTO RACE

Belgian Said to Be Preparing German Machine for Indianapolis Event.

WILL REFUSE ENTRY

Are the Germans trying to force a car into the 500-mile sweepstakes race to be held at the Indianapolis speedway, May 31?

A persistent rumor has been filtering through the auto racing world that a German made Mercedes car, to be driven by Theodore Pilette, a Belgian, of Brussels, was about to be entered in the great speed classic.

Speedway officials spoke any attempt to enter a German or Austrian team by stating they would not accept an entry from any representative of a former enemy nation.

Then the Mercedes officials denied that they were even considering the entering of a car in the 500-mile race.

But Dame Rumor is still at work. Now she has it that Pilette, the Belgian, will attempt to force the car into the race as his personal entry.

The fact that a native of Belgium—the little country's warriors that successfully held the huns at bay until France was in a position to strike—may attempt to enter a German made car gives the case a new angle, and the racing bugs are on edge.

Speedway officials are saying nothing. Because their previous statement regarding former enemy nations' entries, it is expected that they will refuse to accept Pilette's very blank if he elects to drive a Mercedes.

HAS RACED HERE BEFORE.

Theodore Pilette finished fifth in the 1913 race when he piloted a Mercedes-Knight, the entry of E. C. Patterson, well-known Chicago sportsman.

Sometimes the speedway officials requested advice on the advisability of permitting former enemy nations to enter cars in the sweepstakes.

"The replies were varied. Some wrote, 'Let 'em come, we can beat 'em at racing any time we did at Chateau Thierry and Belleau Wood,'" while others wrote, "They are not sports, don't let them enter the race, they are not sports."

The speedway officials decided at that time not to accept any of the entries.

VONNEGUT HARDWARE CO. 120-124 E. WASH. ST. "The Best Place for Good Garden Tools"

Saturday Feature of The Times HELPFUL HINTS ON POULTRY Article 5—CHICKS

By FREDERICK J. CRICK.

Former Extension Poultry Husbandman U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The raising of chicks and proper care of same is one of the essential parts of poultry raising. Improper care, allowing the chicks to become chilled, poor feeding and allowing the stock to be affected with body lice and head lice will soon cause disease and stunt. If any of the above-mentioned occur it can never be overcome and causes considerable discouragement.

The hatching of chicks is an easy matter, but raising is the greatest problem. Be sure if hatching by incubators last two days, after which the chicks are used.

When chicks are raised in great numbers outdoor brooders can be used for small houses, known as colony houses, can be used, having for heat a coal or hot water brooder. Then these can be used for brooding places for the young stock after removing the brooder houses.

If raising chicks on small scale, outdoor brooders, hovers or fireless brooders can be used.

A good many times the mistake is made by feeding too soon. This should never be done until after forty-eight hours old.

ABSORBING YOLK TO AVOID DISEASE.

The absorption of the remaining portion of the yolk of the egg is necessary because bowel trouble will soon occur if this rule is not strictly adhered to.

There are numerous kinds of feeds that can be used for the first feeding, such as dry oatmeal, rolled oats, bread crumbs, hard boiled eggs or mixed grain, which can be purchased at the leading feed stores. Several manufacturers of feeds have perfected a combination of grains with dried buttermilk added, which is very good. An important fact in feeding is not too much at one time, but often, which they will clean up in about fifteen minutes. I would suggest about six times each day for about two or three weeks would be sufficient. Feed feeding will always give best results, never allowing the grain to lie around and become mouldy.

About the third day small grains, such as "baby chick scratch" can be scattered in a litter of cut clover or alfalfa; this will afford plenty of exercise.

PLENTY OF GREEN FEED IS NECESSARY.

Plenty of green food is necessary at this particular stage. Cut clover, tender grass, lettuce and sprouted oats can be used. Chilled or buttermilk are good for the chicks, and they will clean up in about fifteen minutes. I would suggest about six times each day for about two or three weeks would be sufficient. Feed feeding will always give best results, never allowing the grain to lie around and become mouldy.

Have regular times for feeding and see that small grains are fed, because litter neck is caused by feeding poor quality grains.

Wheat bran can be kept before chicks at all times or some good growing mash. Plentiful shade is needed, keeping the young chicks away from the hot stock. See that the water is kept clean.

A great many losses occur in raising of young chicks due to lice, causing them
