

CHEER WILSON DURING HOT PEACE DEBATE

Representative Pou Calls Resolution Damnable Plot Against President.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Cheers greeted a vigorous defense of President Wilson by Representative Pou of North Carolina during debate on the resolution declaring peace with Germany.

Representative Pou declared the league of nations covenant alone will make President Wilson immortal.

Mention by Pou of former President Taft and Charles E. Hughes as supporters of the league, brought applause. "This house has no more power to propose peace to Germany than any other body of 435 Americans," Pou said. Chairman Campbell of the rules committee, made a bitter partisan attack on the president, declaring that Wilson, who was to keep us out of war in 1916 would keep us in war in 1920.

Representative Pou declared that the peace resolution is a "damnable plot to discredit President Wilson."

The debate was marked by frequent demonstrations. Both republicans and democrats said they would welcome making the peace treaty an issue in the next campaign.

Several senators, including Democratic Leader Hitchcock, were on the floor.

Representative Cantrell, Kentucky, declared the only aim of the resolution was to lay the basis for a plank in the platform next November "to fool the American people."

WOMEN UNITE FOR FULL VOTE

Mason J. Niblack and John Isenbarger, republicans, Edward C. Toner, James W. Feiler and Warren T. McCray.

Mr. Feiler made a personal attack upon President Wilson; Mr. Risk attacked several Indiana men, both republicans and democrats; Dr. Carleton F. McCulloch refrained from personalities and talked of the duty the women owe the country now that the ballot is nearing their grasp.

Mr. McCray declared he favored women standing side by side with men in politics.

Mr. Toner also praised woman suffrage, asserting its granting was but a measure of good government.

Mr. Isenbarger praised President Wilson and the achievements of the national democratic administration, and Mr. Niblack praised the president and William G. McAdoo for constructive legislation enacted under their guidance.

RAPS FEE SYSTEM FOR PROSECUTOR

Paul G. Davis, candidate for the democratic nomination for prosecuting attorney, spoke before the Irvington Jeffersonian club last night and outlined the platform on which he is seeking nomination.

He went on record squarely against the present fee system under which the prosecutor's office is conducted.

He declared that the fee system is "the direct cause of many unwarranted prosecutions, notably in the remote justice of the peace courts, as a result of which this office has been enriched at the expense of the public."

Mr. Davis says he will "favor the enactment of a law by the next legislature abolishing this antiquated practice and placing the prosecutor on a fair salary."

CITES MINERS AS PROFITEER FOES

Ellis Searies, editor of the United Mine Workers Journal, asserted today that recent statements by officials of the union, intended to make it clear that the miners were not responsible for increased coal prices, had worked a marked change in the attitude of the public toward the miners.

Comment in newspapers throughout the country indicates that the people are finding the responsibility rests elsewhere than on the workers, Mr. Searies declared.

"There is also marked indication that the price of coal to the consumer will not go as high since the miners gave the facts to the public as it would have if these facts had not been made known," the editor said.

"An increase of 27 per cent in wages means only 40 or 50 cents more a ton in production cost and does not justify any big boost in the price of coal."

"The majority of operators are opposed to any unreasonable or unwarranted increase in the price of coal, and they feel keenly the embarrassment brought upon the coal industry by the unscrupulous crowd."

"Like a Mighty Army Moves The Church of God"

Thirty divisions of that army—thirty denominations—are moving forward in a nationwide cooperative campaign.

THE army that stands still is really retreating. The Master's command was a forward command, "Go ye into all the World."

Out of the war the churches emerged with a new sense of the urgency of that command.

"We must move forward all along the line," they said, and each denomination planned its own "Forward Movement" to deepen the spiritual life of its members and equip itself with money and power.

Then came the greater thought, "It is not enough for us to go forward. We must be sure that there is no duplication of effort; that cooperation prevails; that every man and dollar does its utmost in service."

"We must go forward together."

So the Interchurch World Movement was formed—a clearing house through which thirty denominations without sacrificing their identity in any way—can cooperate in the service of Jesus Christ.

FOR MORE than a year trained experts have been at work making a scientific survey of the whole world, and of America county by county.

The churches, for the first time in their history, have the full facts.

They know where America is overchurched and where underchurched.

They know exactly how they can cooperate in the foreign mission fields to produce the largest results in international education, international health and international good-will.

No business man can study that survey without being impressed by the accuracy and courage with which the task has been approached.

ON THE basis of the survey, the cooperating denominations will unite in a simultaneous financial campaign in the week of April 25th. The amounts asked for are large in the aggregate; they are small when divided among the church members of the nation—smaller still when you count the whole number of men and women who love America.

The average contribution to the church today is less than three cents per member per day. Think of it. Yet if each person who loves and believes in America will increase his contribution by only a few dollars, the whole amount will be easily subscribed.

Will you do your share for a better America and a better world? Your chance to help is coming in the week of April 25th.
