

TH DISTRICT CALLED STRONG AGAINST WOOD

Harding and Johnson Both Expected to Exceed His Primary Vote.

By a Staff Correspondent.
SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 16.—Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio and Senator Hiram Johnson of California each probably will receive more votes in the Thirtieth district than Gen. Leonard Wood in the presidential preference primary.

A man who is devoting most of his time to working for Gen. Wood's organization, made this admission when he was questioned concerning the sentiment of the district.

This worker said that, while he is doing his best, he believes he is engaged in a hopeless undertaking.

He would not venture to say whether he believed Johnson or Harding to be the stronger.

Senator Harding appears to have more strength in this district than in other parts of the state, especially the section farther west, where he is talked of very little.

Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois does not appear to have any considerable strength here.

SIZES UP DISTRICT VIEWS ON GEN. WOOD.

One republican who is well acquainted with affairs here outlined the situation in this way:

"The progressives don't like Wood because his friends are apparently trying to buy the nomination for him and the stand-patters don't like him because the organization is not with him."

"Consequently the progressives are going to vote for Johnson and the regulars are going to vote for Harding."

"It is simply a question of whether there are more progressives or more stand-patters in the district."

The Wood organization has retained one of the highest-priced advertising agencies in South Bend.

This agency is flooding the district with literature and other publicity material, in addition to similar material being sent directly from the state headquarters.

It is simply another example of the enormous expenditures of the Wood organization in its effort to obtain the nomination for its candidate at any cost.

COMPARE EXPENSES FOR WOOD AND JOHNSON.

The enormous expenditures of Wood's friends are having exactly the opposite of the intended effect.

Every more made by the organization now is looked upon by the voters from the standpoint of its cost and every expenditure is being noted.

This accounts in a large extent for the popularity of Senator Johnson, who apparently is not spending a cent here.

As Wood loses in popularity in proportion to his campaign expenditures, Johnson is gaining because of the smallness of his expenditures.

Friends of Gen. Wood here say that since the revelation of the enormous amount of money being spent the word has gone out to cut expenditures to the bone.

Nevertheless, headquarters is being maintained in the largest hotel here.

Those in charge, however, are careful to explain to the visitor that the headquarters is donated by the proprietor of the hotel, who is an ardent Wood man.

In fact, it might almost be said that the Wood people are going to some expense to create an impression of poverty.

In the race for the republican nomination for governor, Edward C. Toner appears to have more strength here than in some other districts.

Considerable Toner money is being spent for publicity and other means of boosting his candidacy, and it is having its effect.

There seems to be considerable uncertainty among republicans as to which candidate for governor is likely to obtain a plurality in the primary.

Here, as elsewhere, there seems to be no thought of any candidate obtaining the necessary majority to obtain the nomination.

Toner and McCray seem to have the greatest number of friends, with a weakness on the part of James W. Fessler that is surprising in view of his strength in some other parts of the state.

POLICE DROP IN ON JAZZ PARTY

Five Arrested, and Bottles Are Held as the Evidence.

Jazz music from a phonograph floated on the early air and a large touring car, parked in front of 142 West Vermont street at 3:30 o'clock this morning hinted at a party within.

Lieut. Fletcher, Sergt. Jones and Patrolman Baker were touring the city in a police "diver" and heard the music.

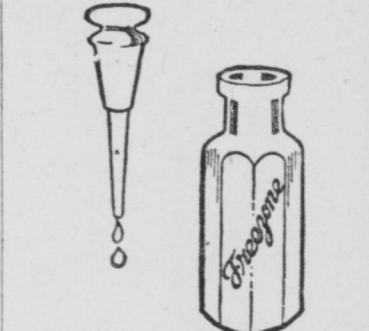

They parked and slipped into the yard to investigate.

There were gay voices and bright lights, but suddenly the door opened and the light revealed Lieut. Fletcher in full uniform standing on the doorstep.

"Oh, oh, good morning," exclaimed

Doesn't hurt a bit and costs only few cents

Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic!

A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Freezone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

a surprised colored woman who had opened the door.

"Good morning," replied the officer, stepping in. "Who's here?"

Flossie Dunn, 28, who had opened the door, was arrested, charged with operating a blind tiger.

Four other persons in the room were white.

Roll Gunions, 33, of 345 North Jefferson avenue, was arrested on the charges of drunkenness and vagrancy.

Clarence Cassell, 24, of 310 East North street, Marie Koppel, 23, and Ethel Heldwin, 21, both giving their address as the Oxford hotel, were arrested on the charge of vagrancy.

The women said they had just arrived in Indianapolis yesterday from Toledo.

Both were fashionably dressed.

A quart and a half pint bottle of whisky, a half pint of what the police call "white male" whisky and numerous empty bottles were brought to police headquarters as evidence.

It seemed like old times in the turnkey's office to see the professional bondsmen arrive soon after the prisoners reached police headquarters, in spite of the early hour in the morning.

William P. Hatt, better known as "Kinney" Hatt, an east end republican political worker, signed the bonds for the two white women and two white men.

Lorenz Leppert, former saloon keeper, who has been arrested a number of times on the charge of operating a blind tiger, signed the bond of Flossie Dunn.
