

TEACHERS ASK ABOUT BONUSES

Take Question of Special Pay Up With State.

The question of a bonus or additional pay for Indianapolis school teachers was to be taken up today by the finance committee of the school board with the state board of accounts to establish the legal phase of the proposed plan for extra pay.

The conference was ordered at a meeting of the board yesterday afternoon, which was attended by a committee representing the Indianapolis Teachers' federation.

Miss Elsa Huebner, president of the federation, extended to the school commissioners the gratitude of the teachers for the increased wage schedule but insisted that a bonus be paid.

Miss Huebner said that there are about 1,000 underpaid teachers in the city who have insufficient funds with which to defray the expenses of the coming summer vacation, and appealed to the school commissioners to take some steps to relieve them.

The teachers presented a demand for a $300 bonus several weeks ago, but it was held to be illegal by Robert Baker, attorney for the school board.

The board will meet again tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock when a report of the finance committee will be made and action on the bonus question will be taken.

PUT FARM HANDS ON MERIT BASIS

Agriculturists Say Pay Should Be for Work They Do.

Compensation for labor should be for service rendered and not for the number of hours of work, in the opinion of farmers as expressed at a meeting of secretaries of farm bureaus in the state, the meeting being the closing session at the headquarters of the Indiana Federation of Farmers yesterday.

A recommendation was also made to the national organization of farmers to discourage the statement to the effect that greater production on the part of the farmer will reduce the high cost of living and that increased production will reduce the farmer's income.

The forming of a permanent organization in the middle west was postponed until the proposition has been submitted to all organizations affiliated with the American Farm Bureau federation and it was decided to hold another meeting following the annual convention of the national federation.
