

GO EASY WITH SUGAR! RATION
RULE ON AGAINConsumer Gets Only a Pound
After Today, Is Order of Wyckoff.

BAN ON WHOLESALE

Indianapolis went on a sugar ration today.

Wholesale dealers, on orders of Stanley Wyckoff, fair price commissioner, were to limit grocers to purchases of fifty pounds, and retailers were to limit consumers to one pound.

In addition, wholesalers were ordered to sell wholesale to any individual, this order being issued to prevent hoarding.

One of several cars of sugar, which were due to reach the city today, broke down twenty miles from the city.

Trucks were to be sent out to get the sugar.

Beginning Monday the wholesale price of sugar will be 22.05 cents a pound and the retail price will be 23.45 cents a pound.

PRICE TO HOLD

UNTIL NEXT FRIDAY.

This price will not be changed before next Friday, unless something unforeseen happens, according to Mr. Wyckoff.

Local jobbers declare that the price of sugar has been boosted in Cuba by heavy buying of British interests, and that speculators apparently have cornered a large part of the Cuban supply.

Ice cream manufacturers, meeting yesterday afternoon, decided to send a representative east to try and get enough sugar for them.

The railroad tieup in the east has helped up many shipments, and is said to be one reason for the rapid increase in the price of sugar in the middle west.

Some cities report sugar is being sold for 27 and 28 cents a pound.

POTATO PRICES MAY STAY UP TILL JUNE.

There will be no relief in potato prices until late in June, according to present indications, Wyckoff said.

Local jobbers have contracted with Virginia potatoes for delivery at that time for $9 for a 175-pound barrel.

Potatoes bought and tied up in Chicago by the switchmen's strike are quoted to local jobbers at $10.50 for a bag of 100 pounds, according to Wyckoff.

Restaurant owners, in a meeting last night, declared that the cost price of coffee is now 6.5 a cup.

The price to be charged was left to the individual restaurant owner.

Mr. Wyckoff told the restaurant men that 7 cents a cup is a fair price.

GIRL TO BARE
SLAYING STORYMrs. Gossett Ready to Take Stand in Own Defense.

Mrs. Anna Mary Gossett, 20-year-old girl, charged with the murder of her husband, Omer J. Gossett, wants the opportunity to tell her story to the jury.

She was ready today to take the stand, if her lawyer permitted, as soon as the state had finished the introduction of testimony.

The case was halted at noon, however, and she will not have a chance to tell her story until Monday.

A circumstantial description of the scene in the Gossett apartment on the fatal morning was given by Mrs. E. R. Parker, who lives in apartment 68 at the Chalfant.

Mrs. Parker was introduced by the state as its chief witness to fasten the crime of first degree murder on Mrs. Gossett for the stabbing of her husband.

Mrs. Parker, who occupies an apartment near the rooms formerly occupied by the Gossetts, told of hearing Gossett enter his room early on the morning of Dec. 26.

She testified that she was ill and experiencing a sleepless night.

"After he entered the room I heard a woman crying," testified Mrs. Parker.

"After a period of muffled sounds I heard a woman say, 'I will show you how you can spend my $500.'"

Mrs. Parker then heard the sobs of a woman again, she said.

Then came a silence, which was broken, according to Mrs. Parker, by a woman saying, "Give me my gun."

"A man's voice gently said, 'I will give you anything, Mabel,'" testified Mrs. Parker.

Mrs. Parker explained that she became frightened and closed the door to her apartment, which previously had been partly opened.

Preceding the remark about the revolver, Mrs. Parker testified that she heard a woman say, "I will have you arrested for white slavery."

The witness then told of sounds of two people scuffling in the Gossett apartment.

CALLS BOY HELD
SLAYER INSANESanity Board Reports Francis
White Mentally Unsound.

Francis Marion White, 17, charged with the murder of John Aughinbaugh, aged grocer, is mentioned by the county commission report to Judge Collins in criminal court today.

Members of the commission were Dr. E. E. Hodgins and Dr. E. C. Rinker.

"We believe him to be an imbecile," said the doctors in their report.

The boy's mental condition is "intermittent and unstable" and his veracity is bad, they added.

They found that relatives of both his mother and father had been confined for insanity.

The boy has been in jail since Jan. 31, 1920.

He admitted to detectives, they say, that he killed the old man in his grocery, 1102 Sheffield avenue, with an iron bar.

He struck the old man over the head with the grocer denied him credit, detectives say he had been drinking.

The confession later was repudiated. James E. Deery, the boy's attorney, said the report of the commission bears no relation to the case, the boy's first confession should carry no weight.

He said he had circumstantial evidence which pointed to another as the murderer and would give the information to the authorities.

DENY REDS HAD A HAND

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The unauthorized railroad strike which has had its nation in its grip for more than a week is said in a fair way of settlement today, according to reports reaching the department of justice.

Reports indicate that throughout the east the majority of the strikers are preparing to return to work.

The efforts of the department to check the work of agitators will not cease, it was stated, but steps will be taken to prevent any further outbreaks caused by those who desire an industrial foment.

According to a report of the entire strike situation received by Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, the agitators came into the strike only after it was well started.

Morrison declared he had evidence to show that the Reds are not the moving factor in the strike situation.

The railroad labor board meets again today to take up its work of adjusting railroad wages, and it is expected the board will be able to take steps shortly that will slay the unrest among railroad workers.

Requests that union men who joined in the "outlaw" railroad strikes be given full reinstatement have been made to the railroad labor board by D. H. Fitzgerald of the Brotherhood of Railroad and Steamship Clerks, and Capt. J. H. Pruitt of the American Railway Union.

The board's decision is expected to be made by the end of the week.

OPTIMISTIC AS TO OUTLOOK HERE

Opinion prevailed among railroad men here today that the nation-wide strike of yardmen is nearing an end and that the threatened paralysis of local industry would be averted.

No large factories have had to close and a resumption of freight movement early next week would permit continued uninterrupted operation.

The expedition with which the railroad labor board assembled when called by President Wilson and the prospect of early action on the switchmen's demands made a strong impression on many of the strikers, according to brotherhood officials.

From a confidential source it was learned that striking employees of some lines met secretly to discuss the advisability of returning to work if the railroad boards would restore their seniority rights.

Frank J. Peters, president of the Indianapolis Yardmen's association, declared the men were all out solidly and would not be able to fulfill their demands.

The strikers were actually granted.

"We are encouraged by reports of the labor board's activity and are very hopeful of an early settlement," said the strikers' chief, "but we have no thought of laying down just as things seem to be coming our way."

Telegrams from headquarters of the new switchmen's organization in Chicago, urged the Indianapolis men to hold firm, assuring them the railroads would meet with the Indianapolis men having a majority, notwithstanding the contracts between the railroads and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

The C. & I. W. railroad announced the opening of the freight gateway at Springfield, but otherwise the embargo (Continued on Page Two.)

Joseph Schulte, manager of the same company.

Employees of the packing firm of Swift & Co. and Armour & Co. were arrested yesterday on a similar charge.

Joseph was charged with raising the price of meat 3 cents in one day.

It was alleged that Sullivan, who is known as the "potato king," bought 45,000 pounds of Maine potatoes and resold them at a profit of 62 per cent.

Fleming & Schulte are charged with making a profit of from 50 to 57 per cent on potato deals.

CHICAGO, April 17.—Thirty big food dealers in Chicago may be indicted on Monday on charges of profiteering in connection with the railroad strike here, it was announced at the Federal building today.

CIVIL WAR SEEN
IN MEXICO BREAKSonora Revolt Held Political Move of Oregon.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Civil war throughout Mexico, between the forces of President Carranza and Gen. Alvaro Obregon, candidate for the Mexican presidency, may break out if the federal government proceeds to suppress with military force the secessionist movement in Sonora, officials here feared today.

The Sonora movement is primarily an Obregon demonstration against the Carranza government, military intelligence officials believe.

The Mexican embassy made public a list of state governors who have given assurance of allegiance to Carranza. Only a small number of the states were represented as follows: Coahuila, Nuevo Leon, Colima, Aguascalientes, lower California.

There is little likelihood that the United States will accede to pressure from the Mexican government to permit the transportation of Carranza soldiers through United States territory in order to suppress the uprising in Sonora, it was learned at the state department.

Nearly a year ago a request to the same effect was made by the Mexican government, but it was rejected.

of Fifty of Their Men at
G. O. P. Primary.

HENDRICKSON IS SILENT

Control of the Marion county republican organization by a majority of at least fifty of the precinct committeemen to be elected in the coming primary is predicted by the anti-Jewett faction of the party.

According to Emsley W. Johnson, one of the leaders of that faction, a thorough canvass of the situation shows that forty-seven of the precincts where there are no contests the candidates are anti-Jewett men and that the anti-organization faction is certain of a majority of fifty.

Such a result would mean the Jewett faction would lose control of the party and that the county chairman would be a man selected by the anti-Jewett organization.

HENDRICKSON HAS NOTHING TO SAY.

Harry C. Hendrickson, the present county chairman, refused to discuss the situation and the anti-Jewett faction.

Mr. Hendrickson said he does not like to think of anyone being anti-organization or pro-organization, but that he preferred to believe they are all simply republicans.

He said no canvass of the candidates for precinct committeemen had been made with a view of learning whether they were for or against the organization.

Mr. Hendrickson said he is not seeking re-election as county chairman, but that if the committeemen ask him to take it he probably will not refuse.

The anti-Jewett faction is considering seriously the question of the selection of a candidate for county chairman.

A meeting will be held within the next three or four days at which a candidate will be chosen.

As a result of the action of Theodore Lemaire, the public prosecutor, in denouncing the death penalty, Caillaux now stands liable to deportation from France if the high court finds a verdict of guilty.

If he is not exiled he may be sent to prison for a period of from five to twenty years.

He is exiled probably will be sent to the French island of New Caledonia, in the south Pacific, where there is a big penal settlement.

If sentenced to jail he will likely be confined to the Cayenne prison.

The general opinion today is that if a verdict of guilty is returned Caillaux will be exiled.

Gasoline Filling Station.

The Standard Oil Company will not build a gasoline filling station at Sixteenth and Delaware streets, as planned, according to W. C. Cheesbro, Indianapolis, manager of the company.

A protest against the building of the station was made last Sunday by members of the Progressive party of the First Presbyterian and the First Congregational churches, which are located at the corner.

A committee appointed to represent the churches conferred with Mr. Cheesbro regarding the matter and was informed today that the company will not exercise the option it has on a brick house at the corner.

Church members felt that a station at the corner would interfere with services.

Mr. Cheesbro sent a letter to the main office of the company regarding the matter and received an answer today that the wishes of the church members would be respected.

Say McNulty Must Be Wrong.

Gov. Goodrich and Amos W. Butler, secretary of the state board of charities, both expressed incredulity today over the charge that Charles O. McNulty, former saloon keeper recently incarcerated at the state farm on a liquor charge, that food served at the farm is insufficient and that prisoners are mistreated.

The governor declared that he has visited the state farm frequently, and that the food he observed always seemed wholesome and sufficient for prisoners' needs.

Mr. Butler said the report would be investigated in the same manner that all reports of such conditions in state institutions are investigated by the state board, but he added that he didn't place much credence in McNulty's charges.
