POLICE NAB PAIR AS GUNS FLASH

nitroglycerine, enough to blow up the state capitol.

Removing the burglar tools and explosive, the detectives filled the bag with newspapers and bricks, and replaced it.

From noon yesterday until 9 o'clock last night the detectives watched for the return of the suspected owner of the traveling bag.

Detectives Houlhan, Roche, Hanks and Fossett, hidden in automobiles and armed with riot guns, waited outside, guarding the doors of the hotel.

About 9 o'clock Welling called for the traveling bag.

Detectives boarded the elevator with him and as the car stopped at the ninth floor and Welling stepped out, detectives covered him with revolvers.

They took his key and led him to his room, No. 934, and waited for the second man.

Within an hour a light rap sounded and Detective Duncan opened the door. POINTS REVOLVER.

AS DOOR OPENS.

His revolver was aimed straight at Stevens and the alleged "yegg" found no nothing but surrender.

Additional burglar's tools were found in the hotel room and $500 cash also was taken from the men.

Other detectives watched an automobile which they believed the alleged "yeggs" were using.

The license number on the car was issued to Albert E. Welling, 200 North Illinois street.

In the car were auto licenses of other states and a big roll of blankets and clothing, such as is used to deaden sound when safes are blown.

The burglar's tools captured include special braces, bits, electrical appliances and soap, which is much used by "yeggs."

False mustaches, a special police badge, said to be for the man who watches when a safe is blown, an automatic pistol, two large revolvers and gloves to be used to avoid making finger prints, were also found.

STEVENS ONCE HELD AS SLAYER.

Stevens admitted to Inspector of Detectives Chauncey Manning and Captain of Detectives Fred Simon that he had been arrested in Chicago on the charge of murdering a watchman, but he maintained he was cleared of that charge.

Welling's clothes had been purchased in San Francisco, and the picture of a woman and a child was found in his suitcase.

Both men wore fine clothing, and possessed many fine linen and toilet articles.

Detectives say that the wire and dynamite caps found in possession of alleged "yeggs" are the same as those left in the West Oil Building station and point to this as important evidence to connect the men with this robbery.

The sentence in Indiana for unlawful possession of dynamite is two to five years in prison.

Just where and how is the money to be spent?

A businesslike Answer to a businesslike Question

THIRTY denominations cooperating in the Interchurch World Movement have budgeted their needs. No business could have done it more scientifically.

They have united to prevent the possibility of duplication or waste. At least a million dollars will be saved by the fact that thirty individual campaigns are joined in one united effort.

Each denomination has arranged its needs under six main heads as shown at the left.

Each denomination has its own detailed budget, and will administer its own funds. Your pastor has copies of the budget; examine them for yourself. In the week of April 25th-May 2nd you will be given your opportunity to help. You can do it with the full satisfaction of knowing that every dollar of your gift has its post of service assigned to it in advance.

Every dollar for a better America and a better world. When your church calls on you, give—and give from your heart as well as from your pocket-book.
