

RAIN AGAIN HALTS INDIANS AND SENATORS; BOSTON MORNING GAME CAPTURED BY RED SOX

WEATHER JINX
THREATENS TO STICK AROUND

Indians Haven't Had a Really Brilliant Day Yet, but May Is Coming.

CLYMERS HERE RESTING

By EDDIE ASH. Indianapolis fans are hoping that the weather man will "have a heart" shortly and "play off" this storm stuff.

Perhaps he doesn't know the Mud Hens have left the city, but even if he doesn't, he is getting too rough and his antics have ceased to be a joke.

Robbed of their Sunday baseball entertainment local diamond followers piled out of the hay this morning to see another punk day, but it wasn't long until the "No Game, Rain," sign was hanging out again at Washington park.

April showers bring May flowers, but according to the underwriters there is not expected any more funerals than usual in May and it has rained enough now to start new cemeteries.

HAS ANY ONE HERE SEEN SPRING? If it keeps up some one will have to swear out a search warrant and start a posse out to hunt for spring.

Indians fans are supposed to be the greatest inland city in the world, but it is rapidly taking on the appearance of a sea coast town.

At any rate, it is time for some sunshine to show because the Indians haven't had a really good day this season, and, as they are shortly scheduled to go on the road for a long tour, they would appreciate it very much if smiling skies would come out for at least one act before they leave.

Bill Clymers and his Columbus Senators are loafing around hotel lobbies awaiting action and the fans would like to see Bill's gang perform because his outfit isn't stocked any too well with pitchers and that's the kind of opposition the Tribe needs now—opposition with a paucity of twirlers.

The Tribe will spring a slightly changed lineup Tuesday if the third scheduled game with the Senators is played. Jimmy Smith is slated to play second base in place of Wolf and the batting order is to be shifted some.

Cal Crum is ready again and also Pugs Carey, who has just about due to swing into action.

Adams is in line for a start. The Murray youngster, is hoping to get another chance at an early date.

TO START ANEW. Murray made his league debut Saturday, but he prefers to forget it and start anew.

The little southpaw was unnerred and Toledo Hens gave him a terrific battle and before he was removed in favor of Karl Adams, the visitors had chased over ten runs.

Adams stopped the Hens slugging, but the Breanahans had too big a lead and the game wound up 19 to 0.

The Tribe staged a ninth-inning rally, scoring three runs, which goes to show that Hendricks has a gang of fighters under his wing who refuse to give up at any time.

As a result of the Toledo victory Saturday the Hens left here with two out of three games dangling to their backs.

While the Indians are in the second division for the time being.

Ralph Stinner is batting 1.000 as a leaguer. He went to the plate as an A. A. player for the first time Saturday when he batted for Adams in the ninth and he socked one down the left field foul line for a clean single.

Weekland's one-hand stab of Covington's bid for an extra-base hit was the fielding feature Saturday.

Emertch is a classy fielder and will lead somebody out of a job if he picks up in hitting.

Louie Wolf is so anxious to make good that he is over-anxious and his playing has suffered. He will be benched for awhile and Jimmy Smith used at second.

Murray's disastrous start as a leaguer Saturday can not be accounted for other than he became unnerved before the catching Hens.

The fans will find that the team looks different when it is given good pitching. The five runs it made Saturday would win any ordinary game.

Members of both teams were sadly disappointed when the second game of the series was called off. The athletes don't like to stay idle any length of time in the early spring because they are too easily thrown off form by it.

"Smiling Joe" Willis, former Indian southpaw, is with the Senators attempting a comeback.

Josh Devore was around looking up Sherwood Nottingham Magee last night. Josh and Sherry played together with the Phillies.

Devore is feeling active again and would not turn down a player-manager job if the inducements were strong enough. Josh can still crack 'em.

If Reb Russell can get the kink in his arm ironed out he will try pitching again.

The Saints are traveling like a speed king and are securing the same position they finished in last season—first place.

Europe's Champ Runner. BRUSSELS, April 18.—Marcel Guillemin, the French cross-country runner, won the eight-mile Belgian cross-country championship Sunday, making the distance in 43:45.

Guillemin is entered as a middle distance runner for the Olympic games at Antwerp.

He is now the cross-country champion of France, England and Belgium.

RAIN, RAIN, GO AWAY. The Manual-Schoolers' triangular track meet scheduled for today at Willard park was again called on account of inclement weather conditions.

The meet was originally called for last Friday afternoon but postponed until today on account of rain.

Local coaches stated today that another date would not be set until the weather cleared.
