Local Board Members Voice Protests at Luncheon.

Complaints against "curbstone real estate men" were voiced at the weekly luncheon of the Indianapolis Real Estate Board today.

Frank Carson, board president, said that seven complaints had been received regarding illegitimate acts of such dealers.

"The real estate business is the only line now represented in every deficit of taxes is placed on real estate," he said.

rate at the hands of the field in the vicinity of Brookside park Saturday morning.

The negro appeared at Sheldon and Sixteenth streets at 10 o'clock, halting Helen McCaffrey, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry McCaffrey, 1610 Roosevelt avenue.

He told Helen he was a janitor and had some clothes for her if she would accompany him.

She said she would have to tell her mother and the negro told her he would wait until she returned.

Mrs. McCaffrey decided to accompany Helen and when daughter and mother reached the corner where the child had met him he was gone.

It was only a few minutes later that the same negro met Myrtle Robertson, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robertson, 1602 Arsenal avenue.

He told her the same story. The child ran home and told her father she was going with him.

He was busy and paid little attention to her remarks, as he gave his consent. Mrs. Robertson heard of Myrtle's mission and became alarmed.

She started out in search of her daughter.

"I had a presentiment of evil," Mrs. Robertson said today.

She then told how she had seen Myrtle being led by the negro at Roosevelt and Seventeenth street.

She followed as far as I could to Valley avenue and the negro, evidently seeing me, walked faster and hurried Myrtle through a vacant patch and across the Big Four railroad tracks to Hazel street and Massachusetts avenue.

"I gained on them and Myrtle heard me call."

"She jerked loose from the man and ran back to me."

"He hurried away as I called out to him."

Mrs. Robertson said she met no one in her pursuit who could help her to catch the negro.

Descriptions given by both the McCaffrey and Robertson girls correspond with that of the man who killed Martha Huff.

The detectives also have reports that the same head attempted to lure several girls in the neighborhood of Blake and Gelsendorf streets last week.

The slayer is described as being about 22 to 25 years old, slender face, five feet seven inches tall and was wearing a dark cap, overalls and a blue jacket, faded almost white.

In the hollow on the west side of the new boulevard levee flood wall is the Huff home, a dingy-looking gray cottage, poorly furnished.

Big lumps of sorrow have choked the step-father, Hugh Smock, a laborer at King's, for he loved his step-daughter dearly.

The Cold That Hangs On

This is No. 5 of a series of advertisements, prepared by a competent physician, explaining how certain "cures" which attack the air passages—such as Pneumonia, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Measles or even a long continued Cold—often leave these organs in an inflamed, congested state, thus affording a favorable foothold for invading germs. And how Vick's VapoRub may be of value in this condition.

A cold is simply an inflammation of some part of the air passages—throat, larynx or bronchial tubes—just like a sore is an inflammation of the skin. A long continued cold means constant inflammation and this constant inflammation frequently weakens the air passages so that they become an easy point of attack for invading germs of more serious diseases. A "cold that hangs on," therefore, is simply nature's "red flag" indicating that there is "trouble below," and this warning should never be neglected.

Nightly applications of Vick's VapoRub will aid nature to clear up that inflammation. Because Vick's acts locally by stimulation thru the skin to draw out the inflammation, attract the blood away from the congested spots and relieve the cough. In addition, the medicinal ingredients of Vick's are vaporized by the body heat. These vapors are breathed in all night long, thus bringing the medication to bear directly upon the inflamed areas.

Vicks should be rubbed in over the throat and chest until the skin is red—then spread on thickly and covered with hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel so the vapors arising may be freely inhaled. If the cough is annoying, swallow a small bit of Vicks the size of a pea.

Samples to new users will be sent free on request to The Vick Chemical Company, 235 Broad Street, Greensboro, N. C.

Don't Be A Victim of "Spring Fever"

You Can Easily
Avoid the Depressing
Effects of the Changing Season

Why is it that so many people, as spring approaches, find themselves gradually losing the appetite, and are soon overcome by a lack of energy, and a listless, all run-down feeling seems to take possession of their whole body?

Spring is the great renovating season when nature throws off the accumulated impurities and prepares the system for the change which it must undergo before merging into the coming Summer.

Naturally this decided change must necessarily be felt by the human system. Of course, where every organ of the body is performing its functions perfectly, there is little or no interruption caused that is noticeable. But where impurities have accumulated, and have not been thrown off promptly, and where the waste and wear of the severe winter season have not been promptly restopped, nature's work is being combatted with very noticeable effects.

Your body has brought you safely through the severe winter season, and the voyage has taxed your strength. There has been considerable wear and tear which must be repaired. The energies relax, and an unspeakable languor pervades the entire system, giving that worn-out, good-for-nothing feeling, so commonly called "spring fever."

The important thing, therefore, is to put your system in tip-top condition so as to be able to resist the common ailments so prevalent in summer. You must build up the waste tissue, and repair the wear and tear that the system has undergone.

A thorough cleansing and toning up of the entire system is absolutely necessary just at this season when the strength is depleted and the vitality is naturally at a low ebb.

Mr. Coleman thought his time had come. But he's well now.

Finally I got so sore across the chest I could hardly breathe; had night sweats so bad everything would be wringing wet, and coughing continually until I thought it would kill me. Had no appetite, spent over $100 on doctors and medicines, and was worse off than when I started."

"The first bottle of Milk's Emulsion did me more good than all the $100 spent for other treatment. It soon gave me a good appetite, my cough left me, and I have regained the flesh and strength I had before I was sick."—Arthur Coleman, Box 801, Helena, Ark.
