

ANOTHER FOREIGN SPEED TEAM FILES ENTRY FOR INDIANAPOLIS MOTOR CLASSIC MAY 31

PORPORATO TO LEAD GREGOIRE RACING SQUAD

Former Sunbeam Star Named as Latest 500-Mile Speed-way Entry.

TO BRING OTHER PILOTS

It was announced at the Motor Speed-way office today that a cable had been received from Paris telling of the entry of the Grecoire racing team in the 500-mile race here May 31.

Jean Porporato, former Sunbeam racing star, will lead the Grecoire delegation, the other members of the team remaining unannounced, though it is reported that Porporato isicker with certain members of the Italian Fiat racing team, and will pull out his hand.

HAS RACED HERE BEFORE.

Porporato is not a newcomer to America, having competed on this side of the water in 1915 and 1916, under the cross of the Fiat and Sunbeam.

His best performance was in the inaugural event on the Chicago speedway, now dismantled, in which he finished second.

Porporato plans to sail for America at once, in order to go through a period of training at the Indianapolis track prior to the race.

His mounts are said to be of entirely novel construction, different from anything ever seen on the Indianapolis track, and he is looked upon as a favorite by the European dopesters who have been following his progress.

CARS STAND EIGHT TEST.

In the preliminary tests, the engines of Porporato's speed creations attained better than 100 horse power.

With Porporato and his associates to indicate the solution of the problem of picking a winner in the next Hoosier international, assumes a distinctly opaque aspect.

Some 150 drawings of the new fliers that will be used in this year's event, due to the fact that they were all built to the speedway's new racing rules and none of them had been seen on the tracks of the celebrated track to date, that the dope artists are groping entirely in the dark and waiting for the training period that is soon to be manufactured to provide them with some enlightenment.

Purdue tallied in the sixth. Wagner walked, stole second and came in on Fawcett's single. The Boilermakers boy and a football player as well as a diamond star.

TITULAR RACES CLOSE CARNIVAL

Track Fans Have Big Day at Penn Relays.

PHILADELPHIA, May 1.—Fourteen titular events and a host of other meets were open on the schedule in the Penn relay carnival here today.

Clear weather prevailed and, although Franklin field was still soggy, the sun and the drivers' driving and early indications pointed toward a fast track this afternoon.

The performances of the first day of the carnival, which resulted in the crowning of a number of new champions and the breaking of several records, led to the prediction that more marks would be set before sundown tonight.

WATCH EFFORTS OF ENGLISHMEN.

The efforts of the Camden-Oxford candidates in today's events was to be watched with special interest.

The feature events on today's program were the one, two and four-mile college relay championships, the Penn South Atlantic intercollegiate one-mile relay, the middle Atlantic intercollegiate relay, the one-mile freshman college relay and several class programs of the high school relay. In addition to the pole vault, javelin throw, high jump, discus, shotput and broad jump, in the list of field events.

TRACK TEAMS IN TWO-MILE EVENT.

The national two-mile college relay championship was expected to provide a real contest, with the best field of teams in recent memory.

The 100-yard event was another race that promised the hottest kind of competition.

The new pentathlon champion, Everett L. Johnson, of Yale university, was the object of interesting discussions among athletic devotees today.

It was a curious fact that Braden, who apparently lacks the breadth of an average football player, was called to capture a first place in any of the pentathlon events.

He won second in the broad jump, javelin and 200-meters run; third in the discus and fourth in the 1,500-meter race.

The failure of Bartels of Pennsylvania and Yount of Redlands to do better than they did in the similar event was surprising to many spectators.

Watt of Cornell won almost as he willed yesterday in the 440-yard low hurdles, when he captured the event in 54.13 seconds, a new world record. The former record was 54.33 seconds.

Gaffney Says He's Not in Deal for the Braves

NEW YORK, May 1.—"There is nothing in the report that I am trying to buy the Boston Braves," said James E. Gaffney today.

"I spent a couple of hours in Boston on private business, and went to see Gaffney there by accident, and some of the reporters wrote stories that we were after the club."

"A yes and I could have taken back the offer for practically nothing, before they were sold to George Grant. But I did not care to return to baseball, and they should keep the fans interested throughout the season."

Harry South, president of the Municipal circuit, has worked hard to round up his clubs and believes the loop will be the fastest in the city.

The gatherer can be a good fellow after all when he so desires. He threw the "fair and warmer" signal to the amateurs today and left the fields clear for battle between the clubs registered in the six-hour afternoon circuits of the A. B. A.

Following what was expected by the largest parade ever seen in Indiana to this year, the spectators were to his selves bitter and thither to their respective diamonds and square on for forty "opening day" battles.

Games were scheduled on everything in the city, that even looked like a ball diamond.

The Columbia A. G.'s will take on the Evansville Tigers at Evansville tomorrow, Connor, who held the Martinsville Grays to four binges last Sunday, will twin for the locals, while Evansville will profit by use Lee on the mound.

Manager Henn expects his Marion Rangers to stack the Danville Ill. Reserve on the short side of the count when they clash at Danville tomorrow afternoon.
