

BROKER MISSING
'IN RAZOR PLAY'

Police Seek Man After Dispute Over Room Rent.

The police today are searching for Samuel S. Mergendoller, a local broker, who is said to have attacked Hubert McGinnis, 33, of 10 East Michigan street, with a razor in front of the latter's home.

According to the story told by McGinnis to the police Mergendoller, who is said to live at the Denison hotel, rented a room from him and occupied it two weeks, then going to the hotel.

He said that Mergendoller called for his possessions and he refused to give them to him until he paid his room rent. He said Mergendoller refused to pay the rent and in an altercation which ensued the broker attacked him.

McGinnis' back was severely cut.

INDIANA RESULT

today he would lead the field with a substantial plurality. At Wood's headquarters here no claims were being made.

The Johnson faction here is even more confident as to the result of the California primary.

Members predict an overwhelming majority over Hoover.

Hooverites merely smile knowingly at this.

Today's results are expected to have the most far-reaching consequences.

Should either Johnson or Hoover be in the "also ran" class in California it would be such a blow to the losers, Chicago predicts, that it is problematical if a recovery would be possible.

Something similar is true of the contest in Indiana, especially as it regards the candidacies of Senator Harding and Gov. Lowden, between whose states—Ohio and Illinois—the scene of battle is located.

California Choice, Johnson or Hoover

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 4.—California voters went to the polls today to choose between Senator Hiram Johnson and Herbert Hoover.

The polls opened at 6 a. m. and will close at 7 tonight. Johnson organs appeared today with banner headlines declaring the state is solid for Johnson and saying a vote for Hoover will be a vote against California.

Experienced observers with their eyes on Johnson's past performances in California could see nothing but a big Johnson majority as a result of today's balloting.

Johnson in his race for the United States senate carried the state by 226,000. He has always been a remarkable vote-getter in his own state.

On the other hand Hoover's strength is unknown.

He has never been in politics. This is his first real campaign.

While Johnson workers declare a victory for Johnson will eliminate Hoover, the supporters of the latter quickly deny this.

They say Hoover will carry the state, but that if he should only get a foothold in the state's delegation he would still be the dominating factor at Chicago.

Ralph P. Merritt, Hoover's campaign

100 Years Ago

John McCormick, regarded by many as the first settler of Indianapolis, with his family, two brothers and nine employees, arrived in "the land of remote promise"—Indianapolis—100 years ago.

It has long been a subject of controversy whether McCormick or George Pogue, a blacksmith, was the first settler here.

Many contend that McCormick preceded Pogue by a year, while others are of the opinion that Pogue was the first settler.

However, it was at McCormick's cabin at West Washington street and White river, that the site for Indianapolis as the future capital of the state was approved on June 7, 1820.

Indianapolis, next month, will celebrate the 100th anniversary of the city and the coming of the first settlers will be shown in the street parade to be staged Monday night, June 7 and in the pageant in the Coliseum at the state fair grounds, Tuesday night, June 8.

manager, came out today with a statement in which he laid down the issues as he saw them.

SAYS JOHNSON HURT BY ALLIANCES.

"Johnson's alliance with Hearst and his alliance with certain reactionaries of California whom he has fought for years, abused and vilified, and who now represent him as delegates on his ticket," the statement said, "and his alliance with the discredited and radical elements of the eastern states have hurt him in California."

The difference between Johnson and Hoover in this campaign is evidenced by their headquarters.

Johnson in the richly ornate Palace hotel at a rental of $1,000 a month; the Hoover headquarters in a one-story shack, paying no rent whatever.

The Johnson headquarters manned by state officers at the state's expense; the Hoover headquarters manned by volunteers.

Although Hoover and Johnson represent the opposing sides in the league of nations fight, the league has been a minor issue in the campaign.

Gas Used in Heating Cuts Down Pressure

Use of gas for heating in many homes yesterday caused a drain on the supply, which resulted in reduced pressure, J. D. Forrest, general manager of the Citizens' Gas Company, said today.

More than 10,000,000 cubic feet of gas was consumed, when 8,000,000 cubic feet would have sufficed for needs, gas company officials said.

The distribution department of the company was under orders today to maintain the best pressure possible until evidence of overconsumption was found, then to reduce the flow.

FINANCE BILL UP TO WILSON.
