

WOMEN TO CARRY FIGHT TO CHICAGO

WASHINGTON, May 20.—If Delaware again fails to ratify the suffrage amendment a great protest army of women will sweep upon the republican convention in Chicago, "to demand the reason why," suffragists announced today. Thousands of women throughout the country, "outraged and ready for action," are waiting for the rallying call, "On to Chicago," said Mrs. Benigna Green Kalb, of Houston, Texas, secretary of the Part Women's National congress, one of the leaders in the movement.

At the headquarters of the National Women's party it was announced that the recent heckling of Will Hays, chairman of the republican national committee, was intended as a warning that "militant methods" would be revived if the republican party can be aroused to action in no other way.

"The women have waited long and patiently," said Alice Paul, leader of the militants.

"If necessary we shall resort to more aggressive methods as the way opens."

"The republican party has the power to enfranchise the women of the country."

Mothers' Sorority in State Session Here

Women of the Tri Psi sorority, an organization composed of mothers of the Delta Delta Delta girls, held their state convention here today at the Hotel Lincoln.

The session opened at 10 o'clock, and a luncheon was the social feature of the day, which was served in the private dining room of the hotel.

A large French basket filled with purple and white iris and small baskets of flowers decorated the long table.

Mrs. W. M. Hudson, national president of the Tri Psi sorority, made a short talk during the luncheon.

Delegations from the three Indiana chapters attended from Franklin, Greencastle and Indianapolis.

Mrs. A. C. Franke is president of the local chapter. Mrs. George L. Davis, state chairman, presided at the convention.

Mrs. William Tichenor and Mrs. James W. Graham were in charge of arrangements for the luncheon.

Hamilton to Address American Librarians

William J. Hamilton, secretary of the public library commission, will be one of the speakers at the American Library association meeting in Colorado Springs, Colo., which opens June 1.

His topic will be "Indiana Library Law."

Miss Margaret Wade of the Anderson (Ind.) library also will make an address.

Society

The wedding of Miss Helen Mary Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Clark, to Arnold M. Talbot of New York, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Talbot of this city, was held in the First Presbyterian church, Dr. M. L. Haines officiating. Pink azaleas in tall floor vases and palms and high candlebras, holding lighted tapers, were used effectively in the decorating scheme. Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Frank Edenharter, organist, played a group of bridal airs. Mrs. Milton Ewing Brown of Lexington was matron of honor, and Mr. Brown acted as best man. Martha Ellen Clark and Master George H. Clark, flower children, carried French baskets of pink sweet peas. The bride wore white satin with pearl and silver trimmings and a tulle veil held in place with pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Out-of-town guests included Dr. and Mrs. George B. Clark, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Mountain and Mrs. Garland Stewart of Connersville, Mrs. M. A. Talbot and Morris A. Talbot of New York, Mrs. J. B. Clark and J. B. Clark of Chicago, Mrs. A. W. Tucker of Logansport and Miss Helen and Mary Russ of South Bend. Mr. and Mrs. Talbot will be at home in Brooklyn, N. Y., after June 1.

Miss Florence Miller of Frankfort is the guest of Miss Mary Laycock of this city.

Miss Marie Johnston and Mrs. Ralph Decker will entertain tonight with a "bridge" for Miss Eunice Chamberlain, bride-elect.

A mock democratic state convention will be the feature of the Third ward meeting of the League of Women Voters, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Wilmer Christian, 1624 North Delaware street.

Miss Genevieve King, who has been spending the winter in Dallas, has returned to her home.

Pupils of Mrs. Dart and Mrs. Cawley will give a recital tonight at Mrs. Dart's school of music, 439 North Pennsylvania street. Those taking part are Irving Russell, F. R. Betz, Miss Nora Mulachy, Earl Swain, Opal Taylor, Galen Taylor.

THIS WILL ASTONISH INDIANAPOLIS PEOPLE

The quick action of simple witch-hazel, hydrastis, camphor, etc., as mixed in Laxative eye wash, will surprise Indianapolis people. One girl with weak, strained eyes was helped by a single application. Her mother could hardly sew or read because of eye pains. In one week she too was benefited. We guarantee a small bottle of Laxative to help ANY CASE weak, strained or inflamed eyes. Aluminum eye cup FREE. Henry J. Huder, Druggist.—Advertisement.

Courtesy Pays!

Courtesy begets courtesy. Every day the courteous person gives others pleasure and it is reflected back to him. If he is truly courteous he isn't that way because it pays him in money awards; but, just the same, courtesy is the greatest dividend paying stock, year in and year out, that a man or woman could own.—Prepared for The Times by board in charge of arrangements, for the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, here June 6-10.

Oxford Alumni to Fete Anniversary

Oxford College Alumni association will celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary Saturday with a luncheon and reception at the Claypool hotel.

Mrs. E. Perkins, president of the Department club, and Dr. Eleanor Adams of Oxford college will be the speakers for the afternoon.

Mrs. Ethel Townsend Albright of Anderson and Miss Georgella Herr of Brazil will give the musical program.

The reception committee includes Mrs. C. J. Martz, Mrs. Bitha Cassatt, Mrs. Warren Oakes, Mrs. Frank Feuvre, Mrs. Charles D. Houghton, Mrs. Mary C. Donnell of Greensburg, Mrs. R. D. Hayes, Mrs. S. J. Hatfield and Mrs. S. E. Perkins.

Odd Fellow Lodges Report Gain in Ranks

There are 87,517 Odd Fellows in the state.

This represents a gain of 902 members, according to figures given out by the lodges of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows at the eighty-fourth semi-annual convocation of the order which ended today at Tomlinson hall.

Members of the lodges and Rebekah assembly went to Greensburg yesterday, where they visited the lodge home.

WHEN A GIRL MARRIES

A New Serial of Young Married Life By ANN LISLE.

CHAPTER XL.

My husband and I stared at each other across the candle-lit space of Tom Mason's studio apartment. Silence lay between us like an angry river without bridge or ferry.

Then suddenly Jim plunged into the depths of that silence and I started back as if the quick splash of his words were muddy, black water.

"And? What does this mean—this nonsense?"

Those were Jim's first words. He had been away from me for two days—our marriage was not a fortnight old—but it was an angry judge, not a loving bridegroom that I faced.

"What does this mean?" he demanded again.

"I couldn't stay at the Walgrave!"

"You couldn't stay—at the hotel your husband had chosen for you! And why not, pray?"

Jim's words were cutting—like a razor edge of steel. Back of them I knew there was the iron bludgeon of anger.

"You must be tired, dear—those hours on the train. I'll talk when you are rested," I said.

"We'll talk now!"

"But I've had nothing to eat since noon, Jim. It must be half-past 5. Let's have some coffee first and then we can talk. Coffee will brace us both up. This is a surprise. I didn't expect you so soon."

"I can see that!" sneered Jim, his face twitching—his eyes ablaze.

He limped toward me, and I found myself leaning back against the refectory table in sudden terror. This was my man—the man I loved. I had adored him and I was his to do with as he wished. What would he choose to do? My heart thudded. Jim didn't touch me—he stood staring at me in cold rage, and then after a moment he spoke:

"I didn't think you were the sort of woman to make a laughing-stock of me! What do you imagine they're saying at the Walgrave? Your husband goes away for two days—and when he comes back you've moved! Anne, I warn you—I won't be humiliated like this!"
