

GRAFF NAMES 5 TO SCHOOL JOBS

Two more Superintendents to Be Selected Later.

Five new school jobs, those of district superintendents of the Indianapolis public schools, have been filled by E. U. Graff, city superintendent, and two other similar jobs have been created and will be filled later.

The new officials are: Anna Brochhausen, J. F. Thornton, Lydia R. Blach, Georgia Alexander and D. T. Weir.

The pay of district superintendents will be $5,000 a year.

The following additional list of supervising principals for 1919-20 has been approved: Josephine K. Bauer, E. R. Ray, Lizzie J. Stearns, Mary S. Ray, L. D. Owens, Alma Mann, Arthur T. Long, Mary K. Knowlton, G. L. Hayes, Lula C. Grove, Emma Donnan, Ida Geary and Dorothy Davis.

E. R. Ray, in addition to his duties as supervisor of school 57, will serve as assistant to Mr. Graff.

Salaries of school teachers in the city will be based on professional grading with the city superintendent having full power to fix such grading.

Three junior high schools have been named by the school board and will be established next year as follows: Calvin Fletcher, Virginia and Lexington avenue; Lowell school, Olney street and Roosevelt avenue; Booker T. Washington school for colored pupils, West and Eleventh streets. Plans will be made to concentrate special training in these schools for work in the upper high schools.

Honor System Doomed in Northwestern U

CHICAGO, May 22.—Abolition of the honor system among the students of Northwestern university is announced by the faculty.

Dean Roy C. Flickinger of the College of Liberal Arts stated recently that one of the reasons for the suspension of the system was that the students had failed to live up to the confidence placed in them, and that cheating during examinations had increased under the honor system.

Hereafter some member of the faculty will be present at examinations.

City News In Brief

To obtain photographs of conditions in the Holy Lands, Stephen A. Haboush, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Haboush, 801 North Gray street, of this city, has sailed from New York for London, and from there will leave for the Holy Lands.

A meeting of the Men's Community association No. 1 has been called for Tuesday night, June 1, at the headquarters of the association, in the gymnasium of the Sutherland Presbyterian church, Twenty-eighth and Bellefontaine streets. The association, which was recently organized, is a nonsectarian and nonpartisan organization, having for its object the promotion of the business, commercial and social interests of this city.

The South Side Women's club will meet at the Green street community house Wednesday night to make arrangements for a membership drive.

Park camp No. 6934, Modern Woodmen of America, will celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary in Red Men's hall, Twenty-ninth and Clinton streets, Monday night. W. D. Hendrick will be the principal speaker. A service containing twenty-eight stars will be furnished with appropriate ceremonies. The meeting will be open to the public.

Notice of the removal to Washington, D. C., of the federal vocational education department office of the east central region, established in Indianapolis three years ago, has been received by J. A. Linke, vocational agricultural agent.

While the family of E. I. Wagner, 2937 North Pennsylvania street, were away, a burglar entered their home and carried away clothing and jewelry valued at $300.

Commander Ira S. Culp, naval inspector of the central division, was in Indianapolis today to confer with officers of the local recruiting station in investigating an increase in pay asked by the naval men. The sailors are asking congress to consider pay boosts amounting to about 50 per cent and retroactive to Jan. 1.

The grave of Isaac Wilson, the only revolutionary soldier buried in Marion county, located in the yard of the old Wilson homestead, corner of Maxwell and North streets, will be decorated this year, according to Mrs. Madge Brady, who has charge of the Memorial decoration exercises of Mr. Jackson. The Daughters of the American Revolution or the Alvin P. Hovey Relief Corps will decorate the grave.

A pageant depicting incidents in the growth and development of Indianapolis was presented yesterday afternoon by more than 200 pupils of school No. 32, King avenue and Walnut streets. Elizabeth Foster was seen as Progress, Frances Reed as Miss Indianapolis, Ruby Wheeler as the Old-Time School Marm, and Lawrence Spiegelmaier as the First Mail Carrier. Miss Thelma Heslin composed the pageant and the teachers of the school assisted in staging the pageant.

500,000,000 Bushels Wheat Estimate

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Winter wheat crop of 500,000,000 bushels was forecast today by the United States Chamber of Commerce.

This estimate may vary 100,000,000 bushels either way, said the chamber's announcement.

Last winter's wheat crop was 721, 638,000 bushels, according to reports to the United States agricultural department.

The department's estimate of the 1920 crop is 484,647,000 bushels, based on reports May 1.

The short crop estimate for 1920 is due, the chamber stated, to a scarcity of farm labor and a natural disinclination of the farmer to commit his land too largely to a crop whose price he expects to decline when the government guarantee is removed.

Plane Used in Shore Guards Inspection

CURRITUCK, N. C., May 22.—A departure in the inspection of bays and lighted beacons along the rivers and sounds of eastern North Carolina is reported by W. J. Tate, keeper of lights on North Landing river and Currutuck sound, along the route of the inland waterways.

Mr. Tate recently made an inspection trip in an airplane and discovered for the first time that he could fly sufficiently low to observe whether or not the lights were burning and in good condition.

The federal bureau of lighthouses was advised of Mr. Tate's novel method of making his inspection and congratulations were sent to him by the federal commissioner of lighthouses.

State Concludes Weak Case Against Prevost

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., May 22.—The prosecution in the trial of Lloyd Prevost, charged with the murder of J. Stanley Brown, failed to establish a motive for the crime and the testimony of the principal witnesses, Mrs. Millie Johnson and Capt. William H. Proctor, defense expert, is thoroughly unreliable, Attorney John Weeks, for the defense, declared in his opening address to the jury here today.

The state rested its case today after examination of four minor witnesses.

Pocket Wireless Set, Costing $5, Invented

LONDON, May 22.—It will not be long before anybody can carry a wireless set in their pocket and by getting in touch with any station can receive messages while walking along the streets, according to the announcements made by Capt. H. de A. Donathorpe.

The outfit needed for this will be an umbrella or stick which is to be used as an aerial, and a pocketbook which will contain a miniature receiving set and a telephone receiver.

Even in bed this can be used, according to the inventor, the ordinary bedstead posts acting as a receiver.

The total cost of the pocketbook which is to assist in these wonders is about $5, and an exhibition of the apparatus has been made at the meeting held recently of the Wireless Society of London.

The wave length of the receiving set can be varied by turning the leaves of the book and it was claimed by the inventor that it is comparable in sensitiveness with the most expensive and elaborate tuner on the market.

'Anodine' Sold as Moonshine, Say Agent

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 22.—The deadliest concoction to be used as a substitute for whiskey was unearthed by revenue officers here.

Nearly a gallon of "anodine," composed of sixty-one parts alcohol and thirty-nine parts ether, was found.

Physicians declared a small amount would cause death.

Prohibition officers said that the process used by the owner was simply the application of enough water to weaken it considerably.

It was to be sold as moonshine whiskey, they said.

Texas Town Largest in U. S. Without Rails

BRECKENRIDGE, Tex., May 22.—Breckenridge is said to be the largest town in the United States without a railroad.

The town has a population of 7,000, grown in the last few months because of the discovery of oil in west Texas.

Its population before oil was discovered was less than 700.

Four railroads are now rushing the construction of lines to this point and a sharp contest has developed.

New Weather Telling Device

Prof. Charles F. Marvin, chief of the United States weather bureau, is the inventor of a new self-recording weather-instrument called a meteorograph.

The instrument automatically indicates various changes in weather conditions at any altitude. It is lifted into the air by a large box kite secured to earth by a piano wire string of great tensile strength.

The wire is fed from a steel drum containing eight or ten miles of wire. Frequently at the six-box kite ap-

SOUTHAMPTON TO HONOR PILGRIMS

Disputes Plymouth as Sailing Port of U. S. Fathers.

LONDON, May 22.—Southampton wants American history books rewritten.

Southampton will start the process of proving that they should be rewritten on July 24, when Southampton will endeavor to outdo Plymouth in celebration of the anniversary of the sailing of the Pilgrim Fathers.

For Southampton claims that it was from Southampton and not from Plymouth that the hardy band of fathers-of-a-nation set out for the new world.

Moreover, John Alden, whose immortality among the Pilgrim Fathers was aided by the chronicle of Longfellow, was born and grew up in that city and many others who set sail on the Mayflower were from Southampton or the Southampton district.

On July 24 a new John Alden, clad as was the first one, and a new Miles Standish and a new Priscilla, and 101 others, will embark from Southampton in a pageant representing the original sailing of the Mayflower.

The Mayflower was outfitted for the voyage westward in the Southampton basin.

There it lay for weeks while the voyagers made the preparations for a colonial venture.

It set sail from that beautiful basin, which is now the chief port for American first-class passenger traffic.

The mere fact that the Mayflower met bad weather and was forced to put in at Plymouth and remain there should not rob Southampton of its honors, say the present city fathers.

Blind Men Fight for Good Corner Stand

FT. WORTH, Tex., May 22.—Two blind beggars fighting desperately for the privilege of monopolizing the corner of Fifth and Houston streets, was the novel sight that attracted hundreds of pedestrians here recently.

It appears that one of the beggars had dominated the corner, a fruitful one, for some time, and that the second mendicant, appearing on the scene earlier, refused to vacate.

Hence the battle.

Finally, after repeated calls for help to police headquarters by several merchants, a policeman appeared.

No arrests were made.

BRITAIN TO HOLD PRIZE AIR TESTS

Contests Expected to Add Interest to Flying.

LONDON, May 22.—For the purpose of encouraging the manufacturers of airplanes and also to determine the best type of planes for commercial and war purposes the British government announces that competitions will be held in the late summer and that prizes will be distributed amounting to over $300,000.

The airplane competitions will be held in August, and the seaplane tests will take place in September. The prizes are open to British subjects, and the government agrees to purchase a machine of each type winning the first prize at a maximum price of $200,000 for small planes, $50,000 for large planes and $40,000 for seaplanes.

Although the planes must be of British construction and the engines must be designed and manufactured in the British empire, secondary equipment such as ignition system and the instruments may be of foreign design and construction, but marks will be deducted for the use of such appliances.

The manufacturers of aircraft have taken up the competitions with much enthusiasm and it is believed that a big impetus will result to the industry as a result of the contests.

URGES BRITAIN TO PUSH LEAGUE

been ready to accept the league's mediation in the Russo-Polish dispute.

"The real question is: Is the British government in earnest?"

"Will it put all the power of the empire behind the league covenant which it accepted both in spirit and letter?"

"If the government is in earnest in this respect we can lead the world."

"If the same energy and conviction were thrown into the supreme contest the league would soon be in a very different position from that occupied now."

RECOGNIZED AS STEP FORWARD.

"Let us not forget that the really formidable symptom of our time is the growing distrust between large sections of the community and the British government both here and abroad."

"The league has been welcomed with enthusiasm by the leaders of the working classes who did not get into the covenant everything that they wanted, but who recognized it was a step forward."

"They alone, of all the classes in England, have really thrown themselves into the cause of the league with vigor and belief."

"To them, to the churches, to women and to the ex-soldiers we must appeal."

"In their hands the success of the future rests."

"Millionaires may be hostile; bureaucrats may be skeptical and profiteers made have no use for idealism, but if the great mass of people are as much in earnest as I believe them to be they will sweep out these petty obstacles and insist upon the greatest political adventure ever embarked and it shall not be allowed to die of futile, inglorious inaction."

Tuberculosis Causes Most Meat Rejections

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The bureau of animal industry of the department of agriculture reports that tuberculosis in cattle was responsible for the condemnation of more cattle, slaughtered under federal meat inspection last year, than all other diseases combined.

Information from the bureau shows that 29,547 carcasses of cattle were condemned on post-mortem inspection and of this number 37,800 were the result of tuberculosis.

Rich, Returns Money Taken 12 Years Ago

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., May 22.—Michael W. Evans disappeared from Cripple Creek twelve years ago when alleged discrepancies to the extent of $2,500 were discovered in his accounts as manager of a local club.

Last week he sent a lawyer to this city to return the money taken when he fled.

Evans is said to have accumulated a fortune in the zinc mines near Joplin, Mo.

BEGINS WAR ON AUTO STEALING

Hoosier Motor Club Takes Up Problem With Police.

The Hoosier Motor club is out to make life hard for the automobile thief.

The board of directors of the club met with representatives of the police department last night and went over plans to minimize the number of automobile thefts.

A plan was agreed upon by which members of the club will fill out blanks giving detail descriptions of their cars to the police when stolen.

C. W. Sedwick, president of the club, said today he had a conference with Chief of Police Kenney, who promised to do all in his power to prevent theft of machines which he has been numerous in the last few months.

Denison Will House County Democrats

Democratic county headquarters will be opened next week at the Denison hotel, according to Reginald H. Sullivan, county chairman.

Following the national convention, separate rooms will be assigned to the state and county organizations at the Denison, but for the time being both headquarters will be together.

John L. Lewis, secretary of the county committee, will be in charge of the offices.
