

IRISH PLUNDER, RAID AND BURN

Belligerents Seize Property of English Nobleman.

LONDON, June 1.—A band of men, masked and armed, raided the fog signal station at Mizenhead on the Atlantic coast in County Cork, Ireland, and removed the signaling apparatus, said a Dublin dispatch to Daily Express today. A warning has been issued to mariners not to rely upon fog signals on the southwestern coast of Ireland, according to the paper.

Two hundred raiders surrounded Mulvat, in Kilkenny county, with the intention of cutting telephone wires and attacking the barracks, but were scattered by a patrol of British troops.

Two hundred Irish workers at Westport seized fifty-six acres of Lord Sligo's estate and drove off the cattle, installing their own stock, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Cork.

Sinn Féiners at Clones burned the Union Jack in the public square, the dispatch added.

The flag was taken from a memorial tablet.

The courthouse, workhouse and old castle at Newmarket were burned.

Parliament is expected to give much of its attention to the Irish question when it reconvenes this afternoon. Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, was expected to take an active part in the discussion.

Identify Body of Man Found Dead

Acute gastritis and heart trouble were the causes of the death of John Harrington, 719 South Missouri street, according to Coroner Robinson's verdict today.

Harrington's body was found in a room in the basement of the Oneida hotel, 216 South Illinois street, yesterday morning, but was not identified until last night.

He was a foreman of the city street repair department.

Harrington is survived by a brother, Thomas Harrington, of Mattoon, Ill., and two sisters, Mrs. M. Griffith and Mrs. M. Sweeney of Indianapolis.

Hold Driver in Crash Which Hurts Woman

Mrs. Susan Fisher, living at the Vera data, Illinois and Fifteenth streets, is recovering from injuries received when an automobile in which she was riding was sideswiped by a car driven by a man giving his name as Clarence Belt, 29, of 2135 Broadway, at Twenty-fourth street and Capitol avenue at 9:30 o'clock last night.

Mrs. Fisher, who was riding in an automobile driven by her son-in-law, Frank Callahan, accompanied by Mrs. Callahan, Mrs. Arman and her daughter, 723 Sanders street, was the only person injured.

Belt was arrested charged with drunk-ness and operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

The police report of the accident refers to driver as "Dr. Belt," driver of a Franklin car, license 13785, but the records of the secretary of state's office show that license was issued to C. J. Bernard, 1837 Ashland avenue, for use on a Buick automobile.

On the "state" in the turnkey's office the name appears as Clarence Belt, garage owner.

He was released on bond.

Charity Organization to Make Its Report

A six months' report of the work of the Charity Organization society will be read at a dinner of the society at the Lincoln hotel tonight by Eugene C. Foster, general secretary.

Father Francis H. Gavisk will address the meeting on "Social Service," and Evans Woolen will present to the organization in behalf of the board of directors a picture of John H. Holliday, who served the organization as president for twenty-five years.

First Table Manners

Good table manners are certainly not inherited.

It is not inductive with any children to conform to the requirements established by adults regarding the correct way to behave at meal times.

Solid Sore From Head to Foot With Eczema

Once a solid sore — now completely well. That's what Mr. John H. Beck of Norris City, Illinois, says about his boy. He writes:

"The boy that we have been doctoring with D.D.D. is completely well. He was a solid sore all over his head and body and now you cannot tell he ever had anything wrong with him."

Why not try D.D.D. today and be convinced? Relief at once from itching and burning. Your money back if the first bottle does not bring relief. 45c, 60c and $1.00. Try D.D.D. Soap, too.

They are all little primitives and give us some idea of the probable table manners of our savage ancestors thousands of years ago.

But there is every good reason why we should teach small children early how they should eat. It is important from the point of view of health as well as of behavior.

The first day a child eats solid food is none too soon to teach him that he should not swallow food whole, that he should take small mouthfuls and that he should pause between morsels.

If, when a child is fed by adults, he is allowed to let food drip on his bib and to remain on his lips he will become accustomed to this.

If, however, his mouth and lips are kept spotless then this becomes habitual and the seeds of good manners are sowed.

A famous child specialist says that one of the most important things a nurse or parent can do for a child is to teach him early good habits of eating.

It is absurd to let a child in the nursery eat any way it seems to care for—dropping crumbs all about it, making a loud clatter with spoons and dishes and in general behaving like a nice little human pig, and then to expect when that child is older and comes to the dining room that it will be a docile pupil in acquiring good manners.

H. C. Gilbert Funeral Is Held From Home

The funeral of Harry C. Gilbert, who died at his home, 1300 North Pennsylvania street, Sunday, was held at 10:30 this morning from the late home.

Mr. Gilbert was president of the Harry C. Gilbert Company, merchandise broker of this city, and was prominently identified for years with several of the leading clubs and organizations of the city.

SENATE CONFIRMS NOMINATION.
WASHINGTON, June 1.—The senate today confirmed the nomination of William L. Frierson of Chattanooga, Tenn., to be solicitor-general.

Food—the Problem of the Hour

THE need for food has the world in its grip. To produce more food we must depend upon gasoline power on the farm to multiply the efficiency of the man-power available.

The following interesting comparison of man-power, vs. machine-power, required 'per acre is illuminating:

Crop (1 acre)	Man—Hours By Hand	Man—Hours By Machine
Barley	64	4.25
Corn	89	7.70
Cotton	168	79
Hay	21	8.45
Oats	66	4.25
Potatoes	109	38
Rice	62	17
Rye	63	4.25
Wheat	61	4.25

The United States has changed from an agricultural into a semi-industrial nation. Never again will it see the day when 97 percent of its population dwells on farms. Yet the fact remains that the United States must feed itself, and the only way this can be done is through intensive soil cultivation, made possible by automotive machinery.

On the farms of the Middle West the gasoline tractor, truck, and automobile are multiplying the productiveness of man-power, and are doing their part in furnishing an adequate supply of food-stuffs.

Throughout this great section the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has developed a system of distribution which insures the farmer an adequate supply of gasoline and lubricating oils. This system is based upon huge storage depots, fed from three large modern refineries.

Anticipation of possible difficulties is but one of the many burdens the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) assumes in order that consumers of the Middle West may have their wants supplied.
