LARGER PURSE LIKELY

Drivers in the 1921 500-mile automobile sweepstakes at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway probably will contest for prizes exceeding $150,000. The speed dispensers who clashed in the eighth annual classic Monday and approximately 500 Indianapolis merchants and race enthusiasts gathered at the citizens' lap prize banquet in the Riley room of the Claypool hotel last night to run Monday's race over again and plan for the future.

HIGHER PRIZES

The entire building rang with the applause of the large crowd when it was suggested by A. H. Adams, field manager of the lap prize fund for the last race, and James A. Allison, treasurer and one of the promoters of the speedway, that the total prize money next year be boosted over the $150,000 mark.

Mr. Adams' plan was to increase the lap prize fund next year from $20,000 to $30,000.

Following this suggestion came word that Mr. Allison, who the speedway directors are considering increasing their purse next year.

He did not state anything definite about this increase, but it is believed that an addition of at least $25,000 will be backed up by the directors of the speedway.

Mr. Adams stated that the Indianapolis speedway has brought the name of Indianapolis and Indiana's business concerns to all four corners of the globe and, realizing this, the business men of the city were so eager to help put the lap prize fund for the last race over the mark, that they oversubscribed the special fund.

Shamrock Is Speedy, Experts Declare as Sloop Takes Spin

Lipton's Cup Entry Makes Impression on First Yankee Trial.

By JACK VETOR.

International News Editor. NEW YORK, June 2.—The Shamrock IV is a speedy sloop. This was the verdict today of yachting experts who watched Sir Thomas Lipton's emerald green challenger cut the waters of Long Island sound in her first trial spin under flying canvas.

The Lipton entry in the international cup race carried only one sail, jib and stay sail and the spin was taken merely to stretch sails and rigging, but the Shamrock's speed was surprising, considering the light breeze.

Before she was put into the water she made a rather awkward appearance in her cradle with her downy sails, bowsprit, rounded stem and squared off stern.

Under canvas, however, she presented a trim appearance, and when she spreads her 10,000 feet of sail in a fresh breeze it is predicted that she will look and act even better.

The American sloop, Vanitie and Resolute, will commence their races to determine the defender of Newport, R. I., tomorrow.

Vanitie was towed to Newport Tuesday by her tender. Resolute was scheduled to head for the scene of the races today under her own sails from Bristol, R. I.

Major Leagues Decide to Bar Jumpers Unless They Show Quick Return

NEW YORK, June 2.—Major league players who have jumped their contracts to play with teams in independent leagues were warned Tuesday that if they do not return to their teams within five days they will be permanently barred from the two big leagues.

Players who have jumped reserve clauses were told that if they do not return to their clubs within the end of the five-day period of grace, it will be three years before they are permitted to re-enter the major leagues.

Decision to take this drastic action was reached at a conference here Tuesday between John Heydler, president of the National League, and Ban Johnson, president of the American League.

The league heads met again today to confer regarding the cases of several players, among them Kline of the Athletics and Shotton of the Browns.

The chairmanship of the national commission also was to be discussed, but no definite action was to be agreed upon, it was stated.

President Johnson announced that pitcher Bob Shawkey of the Yankees will be reinstated tomorrow. Shawkey was suspended indefinitely for his part in the Umpire Hildebrand in Boston recently.

TRIBESMEN AND SAINTS TANGLE IN BIG SERIES

Outcome Important to Indians, As Visitors Are Topping the League.

Mike Kelley's fighting Saints were in town today for the first time this season and local fans were anxious to get a glimpse of the gang that has been leading the A. A. amateur unhampered.

The series opening today is important to the Tribe Indians as the outcome probably will indicate whether or not they have a chance to become contenders this season.

In the past meeting between the two clubs, at St. Paul, the Hoosiers won two out of four games, an achievement which made a big hit in Indianapolis, and now the local fans are ready to forgive past defeats if the Indians can only step out in the series opening today and knock the Saints for about three out of four.

HERE'S HOPING

It was the saints who put the rollers under the Indians' chances last year, and it may be that the Tribesmen will be the club to pull the Kelleyites down this season, so everything points to the St. Paul visit, now being well worth seeing.

The Indians were feeling cocky today over their great comeback Monday, when they grabbed a double bill from the Colombians, and they were confident of taking the first Saint skunk.

Outfield Shimmers will be out of the lineup a few days because of a bruised thumb. Red Russell has been taken on again to help out in the emergency and fans are expecting to see him.

Today's contest was to be called at 3:30. With the exception of Saturday all week-day games will be called at that time hereafter.

WOLF DUE

Louie Wolf was due back at Washington park today ready to help out in any position Manager Hendricks cares to use him.

Reb Russell has been holding down third base since the desertion of O'Mara, but if he cracks Wolf will be on the job to take his place.

Scout Bill Friel of the St. Louis Browns is in the city to watch the Saints and Indians perform, and also to deal for Ollie O'Mara, it is said.

The Boston Braves also want O'Mara, but the Indians club that goes him will have to deliver two or three players of known ability to Indianapolis.

The Tribe directors refused to sell or trade O'Mara because of his value to the team, but since he has deserted because of their stand in the matter, there is nothing left to do but endeavor to make a deal.

REDS DEAL FOR EVANS.

CHICAGO, June 2.—Manager Moran today closed a deal for Pitcher Bill Evans of the Kansas City club, who jumped his contract a couple of weeks ago and is now pitching for the outlaws club at Oil City.

Evans formerly was with Pittsburgh, but was sent to Kansas City this year. He was disinterested at being held in a minor league and jumped to the outlaws circuit. Both St. Louis and Chicago have tried to get him, but he has refused to join either club.

Manager Moran has not come to terms with him as yet, but hopes to be able to induce him to join the champions.

International Trap Shoot

ST. THOMAS, Ontario, June 2.—Mile E. Snyder of Hamilton, Ontario, member of the Canadian Olympic trapshooting team sent to England in 1905, was high gun at the opening of the thirty-ninth grand international tournament Tuesday with 98 out of a possible 100 targets.

H. Kennett of Evanston, Ill., was high gun in the professional class with 97.
