

INDIANA SEEN AS TOURIST STATE

Conservation Head Calls Hoosier Miniature of U. S.

Special to The Times.
MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., June 17.—Because Indiana has a greater variety of scenery, and scenery is a potential wealth that becomes actual through handling of the tourist business, Richard Lieber, director of the department of conservation, speaking before the Michigan City Rotary club today, predicted a wonderful future for this commonwealth as a tourist state.

This prophecy is feasible, declared Mr. Lieber, "because Indiana has a much greater variety of scenery than any other nearby state."

"It has better roads now and more are to be improved in the near future, which will make all parts of the state easily accessible."

"It has an excellent electric railway system; it has a type of beauty which is easily captured by the camera."

"In its physical make-up this population, it is an interesting state. Let me point to a peculiar fact: Indiana in many respects is a miniature of the United States."

"You will find industry in the north, agriculture in the south. The coal and oil fields are similarly situated."

"There are lakes in the north, plains in the middle west and a remnant of forests in the south."

"It has a north and south population with a division of north and south speech."

Cosmopolitan as the population is, with the New England type predominating, the state has been one of great mental alertness."

"Still, we are not thoroughly acquainted with each other."

"It would pay us to get better acquainted and for our own benefit and that of others, make a survey of the state and see what we have to offer in the way of scenery, historical monuments and landmarks and other interesting features."

"Our slogan should be 'See Indiana First and Know'."

Mr. Lieber pointed out that Indiana contains approximately twenty-three million acres of land and water.

State reservations so far consist of the state forests of 2,200 acres, Clark county, 288 acres in Turkey Run state park and 363 acres in McCormick's Creek Canyon state park.

As leased property, Indiana has the same experiment station of about 500 acres near Waveland.

"It is a pity and the state should control not less than half a million acres of forest lands, for it has demonstrated beyond a doubt that private ownership of timberlands is impossible on account of the long time a timber crop takes to mature," he declared.

"Besides this forest reserve," he said, "the state ought to have for recreation purposes, absolute control and preferably direct ownership of the sand dunes and a number of beautiful lakes."

Heat-Nagged Persons Flock to Turkey Run

TURKEY RUN state park, situated in northern Parke county, sixty-three miles from Indianapolis, and readily accessible by steam road and motor car travel, is proving a mecca to persons desiring to escape the excessive heat of the cities and who find rest and comfort in its cool retreats.

R. V. Lank, superintendent, wrote Richard Lieber, director of conservation in Indiana, that 1,400 persons were guests at the state park last Sunday.

While the park reopened in April, weather conditions up until a few days ago discouraged many from visiting this truly wonderful scenic spot, but with the first settled warm period visitors from all parts of Indiana and many from adjoining states are gathering there.

More than 35,000 persons visited Turkey Run last season and Mr. Lank looks forward to an average of 2,000 weekly visitors.

Indiana Youth Given Life Term for Murder

ANDERSON, Ind., June 17.—George Schwander, 29, of Washington was sentenced to life imprisonment today by Judge Pence of the circuit court.

Schwander pleaded guilty to the murder of Joe Kendall, 30, for robbery at Elwood March 31.

Judge Pence said the crime was one of the most brutal in the history of the state, and in face of the confession, would deserve the extreme penalty of death.

He stated that he had mitigated the sentence to imprisonment since he believed that some unidentified person had been involved with Schwander in the crime.

He said life imprisonment would give the boy a chance to change his story later.

Britain's Naval Eye Keenly Scans World

LONDON, June 17.—Allied naval officials today discussed possibility of the league of nations preventing building of super-dreadnaughts by the United States and Great Britain to retain supremacy of the seas, following revelations in the commonwealth regarding British plans to meet American naval expansion project.

Walter Hume Lutz, speaking for the government, said the British admiralty was keeping a close watch on the world naval situation, adding that parliament would be asked to permit building of many large battleships if it was thought the British empire was falling below the proper naval standard.

The boys' department of the Young Men's Christian Association has decided to issue a special short term membership which will extend from now until school begins next September.

Vacation memberships will entitle the holder to all water privileges and will admit him to the use of the gymnasium each afternoon.

The membership also will entitle boys to the use of the gymnasium and to weekly outings, trips to shops and factories and overnight camps.

The cost of these memberships is small.

Girl's Headless Body Discovered in Lake

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., June 17.—Mystery today continued to cloud the identity of a young woman whose headless body was found in Lake Contrary, near here.

The body, entirely nude and weighted with scrap iron, the police believe, was originally intended for the Missouri river, but was cast in the lake only 200 yards away by mistake.

One Hundred Bucks Is Just That—Riza Wins Against Bank

DETROIT, June 17.—Twelve jurors decided that $100 is $100, war or no war, in a suit against a local bank brought by Mufid Zada Ali Riza, a Turk, who objected to the bank's return of $5 for the $100 he had given the bank before the war to send abroad.

Testimony in the case showed that Riza had ordered the bank to send $100 to his brother in Turkey just before the United States entered the war, and that the bank had bought 500 marks at the then prevailing rate of exchange and had wiredlessed it to the proper destinations.

The brother had left for Palestine, however, and the money was sent back unclaimed.

When Riza went to the bank to receive his money he was given $5 as the present equivalent of the 500 marks which had been wired abroad.

He brought suit and a verdict was rendered in Judge Scott's court requiring the bank to return the full $100.

PART OF CAPITOL AVE. 'BOULEVARD'

From 16th to Fall Creek, Is Attorney's Ruling.

Capitol avenue, from Sixteenth street to Fall creek, was held to have the status of a boulevard by J. Clyde Hoffman, attorney for the board of park commissioners, today.

He said there is no doubt that Capitol avenue, from Fall creek to Maple road, is a boulevard as well as the section of the avenue from Sixteenth street to Fall creek, and that the entire length of the avenue comes under the jurisdiction of the board of park commissioners.

No definite action was taken by the board on the matter, but a delegation of property owners from Capitol avenue, which was present, was told that the board would discuss the matter at the next board meeting.

In the meantime the board will investigate plans for the establishment of a boulevard system on the avenue and try to obtain an estimate on the cost of the work.

Property owners on Capitol avenue brought up the question of the establishment of boulevard improvements on the avenue just before the outbreak of the war, but the matter received no definite action of the board which said that such improvement did not come under its jurisdiction as the avenue was not a boulevard.

The question was again brought up about a month ago by a number of property owners who composed the Capitol Avenue Protective association and they were again confronted with the theory that the work did not come under the jurisdiction of the board.

At the last meeting of the board it was decided that an attorney should be allowed to settle the matter.

The improvement of the street will mean the moving back of the sidewalks beyond the property line and the placing of boulevard lighting stands within six inches of the curb.

The delegation of property owners said they were perfectly willing to pay for the improvement and that it would mean as much to the good of the city as it would to the property owners themselves.

GETTING CONTROL OF PROPERTIES.

Authority was given James H. Lowry, superintendent of the department of public parks, by the board to investigate the possibility of getting control of properties at Thirty-fourth and Rural streets, Golden Hill, at College avenue and Thirtieth street, and the Claypool property, at Marquette avenue and Twenty-fifth street.

All these properties, if the board obtains control, will at least temporarily be made into park places.

The property at Thirty-fourth and Rural streets occupies 120 acres, the Claypool property forty acres and the Golden Hill property thirty acres.

The Golden Hill property is owned by the school board and was bought for a north side school site but so far has not been used for that purpose.

It faces Fall creek and is an ideal place for a park, Mr. Lowry said.

J. Walter Jarvis, director of recreation for the school, city and park playgrounds, was given authority to rent the property at Fall creek and to arrange for the use of the children for certain days during the summer months.

He was also given the authority to buy material and the necessary equipment and arrange for the music for the playground pageant to be given in August by the children of the city.

How Shall I Sell My Product?

CONSIDER this question seriously. The day of over-demand and easy markets is passing rapidly. Hereafter goods must be sold—and the manufacturer with the soundest, most forceful selling methods will outdistance his competitors.

Now is the time to get ALL the facts—to investigate and compare every method and means of selling. Before you hire a single salesman, or attempt any sort of sales stimulation, call in a good advertising agency and present your case to them. Then check their recommendation against other plans.

You will not obligate yourself by asking a principal of this agency to call and talk with you. Several manufacturers who have done so have profited both in money saved and increased markets. Following his workout as a movie hero, the senator moved to his office, where he was soon immersed in correspondence.

TAX ERROR MADE, SAYS MINE FIRM

Arguments Testing Power of Commissions Heard.

Oral arguments in a suit testing the powers of the Indiana state board of tax commissioners in fixing tax assessments of domestic corporations were presented today before Judge Vincent Clifford in superior court.

The state of Indiana in relation to the Vigo Mining Company asked the court to mandate the state board of tax commissioners to certify corporate excess taxes, amounting to $206,980 to the auditors of Greene, Sullivan and Vigo counties, in ratio of tangible property in each county to the total tangible property in all of the counties in which the company mines are situated.

The mining company holds that the tax commissioners erred in construction of the law when that board certified to the auditor of Vigo county the entire taxable property of the company.

U. S. Lesh, assistant attorney general, today argued that such action on the part of the state board would damage the company in increased taxes $1,920.36.

The mining company asks distribution as follows: Vigo county, 13.23 per cent; Greene county, 8.28 per cent, and Sullivan county 78.44 per cent.

Many other corporations of the state are interested in the forthcoming decision by Judge Clifford, who indicated he would rule early next week.

The mining company has refused to pay the taxes demanded by the treasurer of Vigo county.

The total assessment fixed by the state board of the mining company's property is $475,000, of which $206,980 is capital stock.

ITALY DISPLEASED WITH WAR SPOILS

U. S. Expects Firmer Stand From New Premier.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Italy is dissatisfied with her share of the spoils of the war and Premier Giolitti and his government will take a firmer stand in demanding from their allies what is regarded as Italy's just rewards, it was believed by diplomats here today.

The formation of a new Italian cabinet to succeed the fallen government of Premier Nitti also will mark a firmer and more conservative international policy in Italy, it was said.

The two most important questions upon which the change in Italian policy probably will reflect are the Adriatic imbroglio and Italy's proportion of the German indemnity.

Premier Giolitti, in response to public opinion in Italy, may revert to Italy's original stand and insist upon execution of the famous pact of London.

In general Italian troops are now occupying the territory which Italy was given under the pact of London.

The direct negotiations which the Nitti government was carrying on with the Yugoslavs for a settlement of the Adriatic controversy have been suspended.
