

M'ADOO AGAIN LEADING FIELD OF DEMOCRATS

Stock Jumps When Glass Admits He's 'Most Likely Candidate.'

UTAH TO VOTE FOR HIM

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—William G. McAdoo again stood out today as one of the leading candidates for the democratic nomination when it was learned that Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, personal representative of the president, will support him.

Senator Glass, after refusing to make a formal statement that he favors McAdoo for the nomination, admitted he believed McAdoo the most likely candidate and also stated that he had been informed that McAdoo, although not desirous of the nomination, will not refuse to serve if "drafted" by the convention.

Mr. McAdoo has not said he would not accept the nomination, said Senator Glass.

The McAdoo movement gained added support with the arrival of Samuel A. King of Salt Lake City, who announced the Utah delegation will cast its solid vote for McAdoo for president and for Gov. Cox for vice president.

"The Utah delegation wants McAdoo and we expect to work for him and to get him," said King.

"We feel that we must have McAdoo to win and I believe that impression is very general among the western delegates."

With McAdoo as the head of our ticket, we can sweep the state of Utah and furthermore we believe that with McAdoo at the head of our ticket we can defeat Senator Smoot for re-election."

INDIANAPOLITANS NAMED OFFICERS

Lafayette Gets 1921 Sunday School Meeting.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., June 24.—Lafayette defeated Indianapolis for the 1921 Sunday school meeting in the closing session of its annual meeting here today.

The convention has surpassed all previous attendance records for the Indiana body and also has broken all records for State Sunday school conventions in the United States.

Up to noon today the attendance here had exceeded 2,500, the previous record of 2,480 being held by Minnesota.

Three Indianapolis men were named officers: J. N. Frost, president; A. B. Cornelius, vice president, and J. F. Wild, treasurer.

The directors for the ensuing year are: John Andrew E. Evans, A. T. E. Evans, J. H. Huntington, Isaac E. Woodward of Indianapolis and E. H. Hasemeier of Richmond.

CHARGES OF WIFE UNTRUE, HE SAYS

McGathay Suing Her Parents on Alienation Ground.

Daniel McGathay, 821 Prospect street, today denied the charges made by his wife, Charlotte McGathay, 56 LeGrande avenue in a divorce complaint filed in superior court.

Mrs. McGathay charged that her husband attended a carnival while their two-day-old baby lay dead, that he broke dishes, that he forced her to walk to work by refusal to give her carfare, that he failed to provide proper food, that he beat her when she greeted him with a kiss, that he was guilty of unsanitary conduct in the house, all of which McGathay says is untrue.

McGathay filed suit in superior court, room 1, June 12, asking $5,000 damages from Samuel Wilson and Sophia Wilson his wife's parents, and charging that they enticed his wife away from him against his consent.

3-Cent Fare Sought by Traction Company

In a petition filed today with the public service commission, the Indianapolis Traction Company, known as the Marion-Frankfort line, demand authority to increase the fares of passenger transportation from 2 1/2 cents to 3 cents a ride.

The present rates have been in effect since Oct. 3, 1919.

Commutation books will remain at $4, and the minimum fare, except within corporation limits will continue at 30 cents.

Patrons of Frankfort and Kokomo and of Clinton, Howard, Marion and Grant counties will be affected if the order is granted.

The company operate cars over fifty-three miles of railway.

To "insure an excellent service" the Frankfort Heating Company today petitioned the public service commission for authority to increase the rates of its utility in that city.

Signatures of sixty citizens are on the petition of protest filed this morning with the public service commission against the Southern Indiana Telephone Company, which is seeking to increase its rates.

Better service is demanded along with the protest.

Car Accident Brings $10,000 Damage Suit

Damages of $10,000 are asked by William T. Scudder against the Indianapolis Street Railway Company and the Indianapolis Traction Company in a suit filed today in superior court, room 2, for alleged injuries sustained on July 3, 1918, when struck by a car on East Washington street.

Mother, Ill, Calling for Her Missing Girl

An effort is being made by the police of this city today to find Mrs. William Reynolds, formerly of Albany, Ind. In a letter to the police, Mrs. Pauline Harris, 1145 Bieler street, New Albany, sister of Mrs. Reynolds, tells of the serious illness of her mother, who, she says, constantly pleads to see her daughter, who has been missing for two years.

May Bring Motor Club Quarters Here

The two organizations probably will be amalgamated at the Chicago meeting and Mr. Snyder will endeavor to bring the headquarters of the new association to Indianapolis.

CONVENTIONALITIES

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—Cox boomers had a nervous hour when Judge James G. Johnson, who is to nominate Gov. Cox, was "lost" en route to San Francisco. Judge Johnson stepped off his train at Benicia, Cal., and the train steamed away while he blissfully brought picture postcards.

Senator Carter Glass met a number of his family en route to San Francisco. "Captain" Glass was the conductor on the train which brought the senator to San Francisco and the conductor said the senator had a real time establishing family connections.

Hiram Johnson came to San Francisco on board the Overland Limited, which was crowded with democratic admirers, but the senator had an enjoyable time with his political enemies. He took great pleasure in good-naturedly "kidding" Senator Glass. The senator had the platform with him, wrapped up in that brilliant necktie, Senator Johnson told newspaper men.

The King brothers constitute one-fourth of the Utah delegation. Senator William King and his brother Samuel King are both delegates from Utah.

For many years democracy has been bragging about J. H. Han. Lewis' win. The joyous party men have claimed that they can get like them exist in the world. And now comes to the convention Henry W. Dooley of Porto Rico with a similar set. Only Dooley claims his are better looking, though perhaps not so pink.

always been met by the statement on the part of officials that they could not obtain the cooperation of the police department and that their hands were tied.

A murder which occurred several weeks ago in a notorious resort tended to bring conditions here to a head.

The woman who committed the murder was said to be in such a drunken condition that she could not make a statement for more than twenty-four hours.

The resort in which the murder was committed is said to be only one of many in which booze is being sold openly to the public.

'ABSENT HEALER' REFUSES TO QUIT

serve a jail sentence and move on to the next town and begin new operations.

But the absent healer, serving thirty-seven months of the four years' term at Ft. Leavenworth had tried in every way to lead an honest life and that during the time he has been working on a device to protect bank safes from robbery.

Evidence pointed to the fact that the safe protection is also another defrauding scheme.

COURT TAKES HAND IN THE QUESTIONING.

"What did you do for a living while you were living as an honest man?" the court asked Braun.

He replied he had been a traveling salesman, photographer and shoe salesman before he began the study of absent healing more than twenty years ago.

It was following a question by the court of how she came to take up the art of healing that Mrs. Braun told of her spiritual visions and conversations with her dead father.

She said she was 7 when he died and that while walking home from milking one evening on a farm home in Illinois she shortly after her father's death, her father appeared in a vision and spoke to her.

She would not tell the court the nature of the conversation at that time.

"Some years later," she said, "after I had been firmly convinced of my healing power, my father again appeared to me and told me I was doing a great work and for me to continue it."

"Did you tell him that the practice was against the law and that it was a fraud?" asked the court.

"No, sir," Mrs. Braun replied.

SHE BELIEVES IN IT FIRMLY.

"It is my sincere belief," she added.

"Whom did you ever cure?" asked Judge Anderson.

"From what people tell me, I believe I have healed thousands," Mrs. Braun replied.

She then gave the court the names of several persons, but did not say positively she had healed them.

Mrs. Braun told the court she was now 45 and the mother of eleven children.

The court ordered the woman to be examined by a physician.

So far Mrs. Braun has never been caught by the dragnet of the federal law, although she was a defendant with her husband when he was sentenced to prison for four years, and would have been sentenced, too, had it not been for her physical state.

In an explanation of the process of healing without treatment, Braun told the court the "psychological basis of the theory" lay in thought force.

When asked to explain the meaning of that "psychological" term, he said it would be as difficult to do as to explain electricity.

"Thought force is something that we know exists, but that nobody can explain," he told the court.

"We know it is here and that is all," STUDIED THOUGHT.

FORCE 20 YEARS.

Braun said he had no medical education, but that he had studied the theory of thought force for twenty years.

No explanation could be given by either of the defendants as to the principles involved in the healing method of the laying on of hands.

Miss Braun said she did not believe in the theory deeply, but that she had healed paralysis by "laying her hand on the solar plexus," which she defined as the "nervous center."

Floyd Matlock, assistant district attorney, told the court that that was the portion of the anatomy where Bob Fitzsimmons gave Corbett the "laying on of the hand treatment."

"And," the court opined, "he effected a cure."

All three of the defendants changed their pleas from "not guilty" to "guilty."

When Braun made an appeal to the court in the behalf of his wife, after she refused to promise to discontinue her "practicing," The court told Braun they were frauds.

"You are a family of frauds," the judge said.

"Don't you think you are a fraud?" the judge asked Braun.

"No," answered Braun. "I do not."

"I will think it for you, then," said the court.

Johnson Co. Farmers Face Labor Quagmire

FRANKLIN, Ind., June 24.—Because of lack of farm help, Johnson county farmers have in a quagmire over the question of handling their harvest crops.

Owners of threshing outfits are having the same problem to solve. Good wages paid by factories in the cities and offers of from $5 to $10 a day for harvest hands in the great wheat growing states of the west have brought about the local difficulty.

SEAT ON FLOOR FOR EVERY FULL VOTE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—After several days of wrestling with the problem, the subcommittee of the democratic national committee on seating the delegates today agreed that the seats on the floor would be assigned only to those delegates who have a full vote.

"It was a big saw puzzle," said Treasurer Marshall, head of the subcommittee. "There are just 1,002 seats on the floor, or one to each vote in the convention."

"Some of the delegates have half a vote, and some have only a third of a vote."

"Those having a full vote will be seated and issued delegates badges."

The delegates that have split votes will have to decide themselves as to which one of the fractions shall sit on the floor, and the others will be seated with the alternates or among the guests.

"We have agreed that this is the only manner in which the situation can be met."

The seating of the delegates as to no other set like them exist in the world. And now comes to the convention Henry W. Dooley of Porto Rico with a similar set. Only Dooley claims his are better looking, though perhaps not so pink.

DELAWARE BACKS WILSON PACT

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—The Delaware delegation to the democratic national convention was the first complete delegation on the ground.

Ben A. Hazel, chairman, announced that the delegation will support the Wilson-Pollock resolutions on the platform.

Senator Wolcott is strongly in favor of President Wilson's stand on the league of nations.

Former Senator Willard Saulsbury, a member of the delegation, stated there is no unanimous choice for a presidential candidate and that several of the candidates are being considered.

On the league of nations plank Delaware delegation will support the president.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—Campaign headquarters for Edwin T. Meredith, secretary of agriculture, were formally opened in the St. Francis Hotel today.

A telegram from Mr. Meredith, who will arrive Friday evening with the Iowa delegation, was received by L. W. Madison, publisher of the Leavenworth, Kan., newspaper, who is serving as the headquarters for the Iowa delegation.

Mr. Meredith's campaign for the democratic presidential nomination.

PERMANENT CHAIRMAN STILL UNDECIDED

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—The permanent chairmanship of the democratic national convention is still undecided and probably will remain so until the committee on permanent organization acts, according to the statement made by Homer Cummings, chairman of the national committee, today.

San Francisco, June 24.—The permanent chairmanship of the democratic national convention is still undecided and probably will remain so until the committee on permanent organization acts, according to the statement made by Homer Cummings, chairman of the national committee, today.

Particular stress was laid on the necessity of reaching the women of the rural communities, whom the speakers asserted were more interested in political affairs and generally better acquainted with politics than those in the cities.

The special train remained in Salt Lake City all day yesterday.

Miss Landers left the train to proceed directly to San Francisco to attend a meeting of the national committee.

The other two injured were Louis Asmus and his wife, Minnie Asmus, of Emmerichville.

Lemcke was driving a car north on Senate avenue and in an attempt to keep from colliding with another automobile crashed into a wagon in which Mr. and Mrs. Asmus were riding.

None of the injuries were serious.

HARDING MIXES IN TOGA FIGHTS

Will Aid Candidates After Congressional Scalps.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Although deeply immersed in plans to bring about his election as president, Senator Harding also is giving attention to the congressional contests.

The presidential and the congressional campaigns will not be linked together in detail, but they are united and the national committee will have general supervision of both.

Besides the entire membership of the house of representatives to be elected, there are thirty-two senatorial seats to be filled by the elections in November.

Fifteen of these seats are now held by republicans.

Senator Harding conferred today with Senator Frelinghuysen of New Jersey on steps to be taken by the senate republican campaign committee to hold all these seats for the republicans, and to gain new ones from the democrats.

Senator Miles Pollock of Washington is chairman of the senate committee.

Senator Frelinghuysen announced that plans had been completed by which he and Senator Calder of New York would be stationed at republican headquarters in New York to direct the senate campaign in the east.

His conference with Senator Frelinghuysen today was to get an understanding of the senatorial fights, and ascertain wherein he might help.

A republican house and senate is the aim of Senator Harding and the republicans. To support the expected republican administration in the promised reforms they are to inaugurate.

In a narrower way Senator Harding, being a popular member of the senate republican organization, is desirous of the return to the senate of all his friends now there.

His conference with Senator Frelinghuysen today was to get an understanding of the senatorial fights, and ascertain wherein he might help.

THOSE WHOSE TERMS EXPIRE.

The republican senators whose terms will expire March 3 next, the day before the president is inaugurated, are: Brandegee, Connecticut; Cummins, Iowa; Curtis, Kansas; Dillingham, Vermont; Droun, North Dakota; Jones, Washington; Leagrot, Wisconsin; Moses, New Hampshire; Penrose, Pennsylvania; Sherman, Illinois; Smoot, Utah; Spencer, Missouri; Wadsworth, New York; Watson, Indiana.

Senator Harding's term as senator from Ohio also will expire March 3 next. He had filed for re-nomination before he was selected as the republican candidate for the presidency.

His withdrawal has led to a three-cornered republican fight in Ohio for the nomination.

There is much republican interest in the senate fights in New Hampshire and New York in the east, in North Dakota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri in the middle west and in Utah and Washington in the west.

Senators Penrose, Curtis and Dillingham are said to be certain of re-election from Pennsylvania, Kansas and Vermont, respectively.

THREE TRACTION LINES GRANTED RATE INCREASE

Portland, Winchester, Union City and other points along the road.

It is estimated by officials of the Union Traction Company that the expense of operating the road throughout its 402 miles will be $150,000 more in 1920 than were the expenses in 1919.

The estimated cost of operating the T. H. I. & E. line will be $200,000 greater this year than was the cost last year it was said.

Notwithstanding the increase in fare to 3 cents a mile, it is estimated that the T. H. I. & E. Traction Company will lose $25,000 in 1920.

Five-eighths the regular passenger rate charged a mile is set by the commission as the rate to be charged by the T. H. I. & E. Traction Company for forty-trip books, with a minimum rate of $3.25 for a book.

W. H. Latta, who represented the T. H. I. & E. Traction Company in the hearing, said: "Most of the protesters live in small towns having lower living costs and ride to the cities, where they get the benefit of increased wages. That is one reason why increased transportation cost is a proper charge."

MANY COUNTIES ARE AFFECTED.

The T. H. I. & E. Traction Company operates interurban trains along 402 miles of track in Marion, Hancock, Henry, Wayne, Morgan, Hendricks, Clay, Vigo, Sullivan, Boone, Parke and Vermillion counties and in Illinois.

According to Charles L. Henry, president of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company, the petition of that company contemplates the continued use of penny coupon books.

The forty-trip commutation book charges will not be changed on that system.

The commuters' rates on the I. & C. road are twenty-five times the charge of a single one-way passage for forty trips, where neither of the points named is in Indianapolis, with a minimum charge of $2.50 for a book.

An additional charge of 75 cents is made where Indianapolis is one of the points named.

NO DISCOUNT FOR ROUND TRIP.

The T. H. I. & E. Traction Company will discontinue the sale of round trip tickets with the usual 5 per cent deduction, as well as local and interdivisional passenger tariff.

Special car tickets will continue to be sold, based on the new rate.

In the hearing of the T. H. I. & E. Traction Company's three cent fare case, the city of Greensfield insisted that there was a discrimination against interurban passengers traveling in and out of Indianapolis created by a five cent fare in the city limits.

The commission held that a separate petition must be presented.

Leads Women

MRS. GEORGE BASS, chairman of the democratic national bureau, in San Francisco directing the activities of the women there for the convention.

OPEN SOUTH SIDE MART ON JULY 3

Women Obtain Use of Arizona Street Property.

A south side market will be opened on Arizona street Saturday, July 3, under the auspices of the South Side Women's club.

Use of vacant property on Arizona street has been granted the club through the Indianapolis real estate business men. It is the plan of the women to have the producers sell their products from their wagons.

Mrs. M. L. Reiffel, a member of the club, said special attention will be given to see that no unsanitary conditions are connected with the sale of the perishables.

The idea of a submarket on the south side was originated by the women's club some time ago with a view of relieving the congested condition at the central market.

It was also thought that the producers living on the south side would be willing to sell their goods near home.

A big cut in the cost of fruits and vegetables is anticipated by the club members.

A number of letters from producers signifying their approval of the step have been sent to the club.

Permission for traction company to market was asked from the city council some time ago, but was referred to the board of public safety, where it was sent back to the council.

Responsibility for the cost of living has not been accepted by either body.

CANDIDATES TIP HANDS AT 'FRISCO

Lines of Battle Take Form as Convention Nears.

By HAROLD D. JACOBS. SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—The anti-convention campaign had progressed today to the stage where for the first time methods by which the candidates' organizations hope to win the democratic presidential nomination for their respective chiefs could be determined.

It is possible to classify the principal candidacies as follows:

WILLIAM G. M'ADOO. Relegated by his refusal to enter the race as the position of an unwilling "compromise candidate." Previously conceded first place initial strength. One of his greatest assets his popularity with labor.

VICE PRESIDENT THOMAS R. MARSHALL. His friends emphasize his ability as a "peace maker" and regard him as the one candidate upon whom all factions may unite.

SENATOR CARTER G. GLASS. Looked upon by his backers as the most typical representative of the present administration, especially as regards foreign policies.

SECRETARY OF STATE BAILEY BRIDGE COLBY. Practically the same as Glass with the added belief of his friends that he is the logical heir and successor of McAdoo's delegates.

ATTORNEY GENERAL A. MITCHELL PALMER. Will employ the same "football" tactics that Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood attempted at Chicago.

GOV. JAMES COX. Counts on the solid support of the middle west and several important states in the west and east. Regards ability to carry Ohio over the republican nominee, Senator Harding, as one of his principal assets.

GOV. EDWARD I. EDWARDS. Will make entire fight on personal liberty and state's rights platform.

AMBASSADOR JOHN W. DAVIES. His friends are conducting purely a "dark horse" campaign. They are careful to preserve friendly relations with all over aspirants and are working solely to line up second choice delegates.

SENATOR ROBERT L. OWEN. Expects to draw his strength from the "progressive" element rather than from any geographical consideration. Counts on support of William J. Bryan because of his avowed dry tendencies.

Others whose candidacies have not yet developed any particular individuality are:

Secretary of Agriculture E. T. Meredith. Gov. Alfred E. Smith, Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock, Homer S. Cummings, James W. Gerard, Senator Simmons and W. J. Bryan.

5 Persons Injured in New Haven Wreck

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 24.—Train No. 7, New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, New York to Boston express, via Springfield, was derailed early today after colliding with a freight car in the Broad street railroad yards at Hartford.

The locomotive, mail and baggage cars were derailed, the locomotive being overturned.

Engineer Gray was seriously burned and Fireman Daniel Bailey suffered a fractured leg.

Three passengers were slightly injured.

Tumulty Nips Talk of 'Special Wires'

WASHINGTON, June 24.—All talk of special wires by which the president may talk or listen to the San Francisco convention is nothing but convention gossip, Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to the president, announced today to correspondents at the white-house.
