

TARIANS TELL OF CONVENTION

Delegates Leave Atlantic City Before Election of President.

Members of the Indianapolis delegation to the annual convention of the International Association of Rotary Clubs at Atlantic City made short talks at the weekly meeting of the Indianapolis Rotary club at the Claypool hotel.

Frederick E. Matson, president of the club, said that the defeat of John N. Dyer of Vincennes as international president was due to the fact that the president was elected after several delegations had left for their trains.

Mr. Dyer received more than 330 votes on the first ballot, while the president was elected on only 274 votes on the third ballot.

Arch V. Grosman, secretary of the club; Wilbur T. Gruber, assistant secretary; Andrew Brown, Stuart Dean, John F. Gregoire, W. E. Henkel, Edward Harris, Charles Kavanagh, R. E. Met Frank P. Manly, Frank R. Shepard and Frank VanHorn gave short speeches.

The two organizations will receive the proceeds from the baseball game tomorrow of the Kiwanis-Rotary.

The following new members were voted upon: Harold Haven Brown, director of the John Herron Art Institute; Harry W. Hobbs, of C. M. Hobbs' Sons, nurseryman; Albert G. Sinder, president of the Hide, Leather and Belting Company, and J. Lee Sweeney, president of the Office Equipment Company.

The Right Thing at the Right Time

By MARY MARSHALL S. DUFFEE.

Gossip, of course, is despicable. We are brought up to know that, but just the same, we all gossip.

Those of us who are well bred, or live up to our breeding, don't gossip. Those of us who gossip maliciously act in an ill-bred manner, whether or not we are ill bred.

So if most of us are bound to gossip—that is, to pass along interesting bits of news about our friends and neighbors—let us be careful where we gossip.

Really, the news in the newspapers, and the contents of books of memoirs and biography, are nothing more nor less than gossip.

So long as our gossip is not malicious it need not be entirely condemned, for there is a deep-seated desire in man to gather and pass on news of all kinds.

One place not to gossip is over the telephone.

Don't ever talk about your neighbors by phone, because the chance that somebody else might be listening—even if what you are saying is entirely pleasant.

Don't ever gossip in a train or trolley car. It is necessary to raise the voice to make it heard in a train or car, and others might overhear what you said.

Again, though that might be entirely pleasant, you would not want to be quoted by some one who overheard you.

Don't gossip on a postal card.

Don't gossip with servants.

Don't gossip with children.

Don't gossip across the back fence.

Indeed, the whole thing comes down to this:

If you must gossip—and most of us do—gossip in the place and time conventionally given over to conversation.

Copyright, 1920.

Tells Fat People Perverted Craving

For Wrong Foods Must Be Overcome.

Says Arbolone Tablets Does This and Reduces Weight, Too.

The person who is too fat is told to eat the very things that a perverted appetite craves are the ones he must not eat. Obesity is unnatural. It is like an endless chain.

Wrong foods in the wrong way produces a perverted appetite. Then appetite demands and craves the wrong foods and converts them into flesh, embarrassing fat. Tablets alone stop the perverted craving.

The wrong food, gives a normal appetite, eliminates the fat-forming elements through kidneys and bowels, solves the fatty surplus and sends back through eliminative channels, giving improved health and strength.

One or two tubes will convince any person that Arbolone is what they need to reduce safely and successfully.

Sold by thirty thousand druggists sealed tubes with full directions.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

PUSS IN BOOTS JR.

By DAVID CORY.

Well, after Puss Junior left the pond over which the white duck had so kindly carried him, our little traveler came to a forest, where sat a Golden Goose upon a log.

"Pray, excuse me if I don't shake hands with you," said the beautiful bird, rising and flapping her golden wings, "but the truth is whoever touches me can never withdraw his hand."

"What?" exclaimed Puss Junior, surprised.

"Most certainly," answered the Golden Goose. "Did you never read the fairy story of the little boy who cut down the tree and found me at the roots?"

"Oh, I remember now," said Puss Junior, "though it is a long time since I read the story." (And if any little boy or girl doesn't know this story he'll write me a letter I'll tell him where he can find it.)

"But where are you going?" inquired the beautiful Golden Goose, as she preened her feathers with her smooth yellow bill.

"Oh, I'm just in search of adventure," replied our little hero. "I'm a traveler."

And just then a little, old, gray-haired man appeared, and he so startled the Golden Goose that she nearly lost her balance and fell off the log.

"Fear me not," said the little old man, "for was it not I who told the little gray man, 'He had the finest whiskers I ever saw on a cat, and yours are just like his,' and of course this pleased Puss Junior immensely."

"But, come," continued the little gray man, "night will soon be here. I can offer you a night's lodging and a good supper, for he who travels hard by day must eat and sleep by night," and with these words the little old man arose and led our two small friends into the forest, and by and by they came to a small hut.

"He is a good man and will not harm you," whispered the Golden Goose, and then the three entered the doorway.

"You are like your father," said the

little gray man, "He had the finest whiskers I ever saw on a cat, and yours are just like his," and of course this pleased Puss Junior immensely."

"But, come," continued the little gray man, "night will soon be here. I can offer you a night's lodging and a good supper, for he who travels hard by day must eat and sleep by night," and with these words the little old man arose and led our two small friends into the forest, and by and by they came to a small hut.

"He is a good man and will not harm you," whispered the Golden Goose, and then the three entered the doorway.

"You are like your father," said the

little gray man, "He had the finest whiskers I ever saw on a cat, and yours are just like his," and of course this pleased Puss Junior immensely."

"But, come," continued the little gray man, "night will soon be here. I can offer you a night's lodging and a good supper, for he who travels hard by day must eat and sleep by night," and with these words the little old man arose and led our two small friends into the forest, and by and by they came to a small hut.

"He is a good man and will not harm you," whispered the Golden Goose, and then the three entered the doorway.

"You are like your father," said the

little gray man, "He had the finest whiskers I ever saw on a cat, and yours are just like his," and of course this pleased Puss Junior immensely."

"But, come," continued the little gray man, "night will soon be here. I can offer you a night's lodging and a good supper, for he who travels hard by day must eat and sleep by night," and with these words the little old man arose and led our two small friends into the forest, and by and by they came to a small hut.

"He is a good man and will not harm you," whispered the Golden Goose, and then the three entered the doorway.

"You are like your father," said the

little gray man, "He had the finest whiskers I ever saw on a cat, and yours are just like his," and of course this pleased Puss Junior immensely."

"But, come," continued the little gray man, "night will soon be here. I can offer you a night's lodging and a good supper, for he who travels hard by day must eat and sleep by night," and with these words the little old man arose and led our two small friends into the forest, and by and by they came to a small hut.

"He is a good man and will not harm you," whispered the Golden Goose, and then the three entered the doorway.

"You are like your father," said the

little gray man, "He had the finest whiskers I ever saw on a cat, and yours are just like his," and of course this pleased Puss Junior immensely."

"But, come," continued the little gray man, "night will soon be here. I can offer you a night's lodging and a good supper, for he who travels hard by day must eat and sleep by night," and with these words the little old man arose and led our two small friends into the forest, and by and by they came to a small hut.

"He is a good man and will not harm you," whispered the Golden Goose, and then the three entered the doorway.

"You are like your father," said the

little gray man, "He had the finest whiskers I ever saw on a cat, and yours are just like his," and of course this pleased Puss Junior immensely."

"But, come," continued the little gray man, "night will soon be here. I can offer you a night's lodging and a good supper, for he who travels hard by day must eat and sleep by night," and with these words the little old man arose and led our two small friends into the forest, and by and by they came to a small hut.

"He is a good man and will not harm you," whispered the Golden Goose, and then the three entered the doorway.

"You are like your father," said the

little gray man, "He had the finest whiskers I ever saw on a cat, and yours are just like his," and of course this pleased Puss Junior immensely."

"But, come," continued the little gray man, "night will soon be here. I can offer you a night's lodging and a good supper, for he who travels hard by day must eat and sleep by night," and with these words the little old man arose and led our two small friends into the forest, and by and by they came to a small hut.

"He is a good man and will not harm you," whispered the Golden Goose, and then the three entered the doorway.

"You are like your father," said the

little gray man, "He had the finest whiskers I ever saw on a cat, and yours are just like his," and of course this pleased Puss Junior immensely."

"But, come," continued the little gray man, "night will soon be here. I can offer you a night's lodging and a good supper, for he who travels hard by day must eat and sleep by night," and with these words the little old man arose and led our two small friends into the forest, and by and by they came to a small hut.

"He is a good man and will not harm you," whispered the Golden Goose, and then the three entered the doorway.

"You are like your father," said the

little gray man, "He had the finest whiskers I ever saw on a cat, and yours are just like his," and of course this pleased Puss Junior immensely."

"But, come," continued the little gray man, "night will soon be here. I can offer you a night's lodging and a good supper, for he who travels hard by day must eat and sleep by night," and with these words the little old man arose and led our two small friends into the forest, and by and by they came to a small hut.

"He is a good man and will not harm you," whispered the Golden Goose, and then the three entered the doorway.

"You are like your father," said the

little gray man, "He had the finest whiskers I ever saw on a cat, and yours are just like his," and of course this pleased Puss Junior immensely."

"But, come," continued the little gray man, "night will soon be here. I can offer you a night's lodging and a good supper, for he who travels hard by day must eat and sleep by night," and with these words the little old man arose and led our two small friends into the forest, and by and by they came to a small hut.

"He is a good man and will not harm you," whispered the Golden Goose, and then the three entered the doorway.

"You are like your father," said the

little gray man, "He had the finest whiskers I ever saw on a cat, and yours are just like his," and of course this pleased Puss Junior immensely."

"But, come," continued the little gray man, "night will soon be here. I can offer you a night's lodging and a good supper, for he who travels hard by day must eat and sleep by night," and with these words the little old man arose and led our two small friends into the forest, and by and by they came to a small hut.

"He is a good man and will not harm you," whispered the Golden Goose, and then the three entered the doorway.

"You are like your father," said the

little gray man, "He had the finest whiskers I ever saw on a cat, and yours are just like his," and of course this pleased Puss Junior immensely."

"But, come," continued the little gray man, "night will soon be here. I can offer you a night's lodging and a good supper, for he who travels hard by day must eat and sleep by night," and with these words the little old man arose and led our two small friends into the forest, and by and by they came to a small hut.

"He is a good man and will not harm you," whispered the Golden Goose, and then the three entered the doorway.

"You are like your father," said the

little gray man, "He had the finest whiskers I ever saw on a cat, and yours are just like his," and of course this pleased Puss Junior immensely."

"But, come," continued the little gray man, "night will soon be here. I can offer you a night's lodging and a good supper, for he who travels hard by day must eat and sleep by night," and with these words the little old man arose and led our two small friends into the forest, and by and by they came to a small hut.

"He is a good man and will not harm you," whispered the Golden Goose, and then the three entered the doorway.

"You are like your father," said the

little gray man, "He had the finest whiskers I ever saw on a cat, and yours are just like his," and of course this pleased Puss Junior immensely."

"But, come," continued the little gray man, "night will soon be here. I can offer you a night's lodging and a good supper, for he who travels hard by day must eat and sleep by night," and with these words the little old man arose and led our two small friends into the forest, and by and by they came to a small hut.

"He is a good man and will not harm you," whispered the Golden Goose, and then the three entered the doorway.

"You are like your father," said the

little gray man, "He had the finest whiskers I ever saw on a cat, and yours are just like his," and of course this pleased Puss Junior immensely."

"But, come," continued the little gray man, "night will soon be here. I can offer you a night's lodging and a good supper, for he who travels hard by day must eat and sleep by night," and with these words the little old man arose and led our two small friends into the forest, and by and by they came to a small hut.

"He is a good man and will not harm you," whispered the Golden Goose, and then the three entered the doorway.

"You are like your father," said the

little gray man, "He had the finest whiskers I ever saw on a cat, and yours are just like his," and of course this pleased Puss Junior immensely."

"But, come," continued the little gray man, "night will soon be here. I can offer you a night's lodging and a good supper, for he who travels hard by day must eat and sleep by night," and with these words the little old man arose and led our two small friends into the forest, and by and by they came to a small hut.

"He is a good man and will not harm you," whispered the Golden Goose, and then the three entered the doorway.

"You are like your father," said the

little gray man, "He had the finest whiskers I ever saw on a cat, and yours are just like his," and of course this pleased Puss Junior immensely."

"But, come," continued the little gray man, "night will soon be here. I can offer you a night's lodging and a good supper, for he who travels hard by day must eat and sleep by night," and with these words the little old man arose and led our two small friends into the forest, and by and by they came to a small hut.

"He is a good man and will not harm you," whispered the Golden Goose, and then the three entered the doorway.

"You are like your father," said the

little gray man, "He had the finest whiskers I ever saw on a cat, and yours are just like his," and of course this pleased Puss Junior immensely."

"But, come," continued the little gray man, "night will soon be here. I can offer you a night's lodging and a good supper, for he who travels hard by day must eat and sleep by night," and with these words the little old man arose and led our two small friends into the forest, and by and by they came to a small hut.

"He is a good man and will not harm you," whispered the Golden Goose, and then the three entered the doorway.

"You are like your father," said the

little gray man, "He had the finest whiskers I ever saw on a cat, and yours are just like his," and of course this pleased Puss Junior immensely."

"But, come," continued the little gray man, "night will soon be here. I can offer you a night's lodging and a good supper, for he who travels hard by day must eat and sleep by night," and with these words the little old man arose and led our two small friends into the forest, and by and by they came to a small hut.

"He is a good man and will not harm you," whispered the Golden Goose, and then the three entered the doorway.

"You are like your father," said the

20% off on Ladies' Silk Hand Bags

Leather Traveling Bags
For men or women, $5.95, $7.48, $9.95 and up to $35.
Trunks, $10 to $100

Wardrobe Trunks, $35 up

The Luggage Shop

20 NORTH PENNSYLVANIA ST.
TRUNKS, LEATHER GOODS, UMBRELLAS

$5.00 SILK HAND BAGS, $4.00

UMBRELLAS, $2 to $20

A complete line in colored silks. We repair and recover umbrellas

BAND CONCERTS IN CITY PARKS

The park board recently stated that the high price of music made city park concerts impossible. In justice to the public and our association, we submit the following statement. Band concerts have been played for $3.00 since 1909. In 1919 the price was raised to $4.00. Owing to the fact that a contract had been made previous to our increase to $4.00, we recognized the contract and subjected our members to play the season of 1919 for the sum of $3.00 a concert. In 1920 this price was increased to $5.00. This is the contract price submitted to the park board and rejected on the grounds that the price was too high. We feel that the park board is not objecting because the price is too high, but because of the fact that no funds are available for band concerts. This is due to neglect, not intentionally, but because of lack of interest in the form of recreation that reaches the vast majority of the people. To enlighten the public we submit the following prices and appropriations for 1920 that exist in other cities regarding band concerts in the city parks, provided for the people by the city.

Appropriation
Detroit	$20,500	13 concerts	per week per man, $65.00 per week
Kansas City	6,000	7 concerts	per week per man, $30.00 per week
Dallas, Tex.	5,750	5 concerts	per week per man, $32.00 per week
Nashville	6,000	6 concerts	per week per man, $30.00 per week
St. Louis (2 bands)	16,000	8 concerts	per week per man, $45.00 per week
Denver (2 bands)	18,000	8 concerts	per week per man, $40.00 per week
Minneapolis (2 bands)	14,600	7 concerts	per week per man, $36.00 per week
Cleveland	6,000	3 concerts	per week per man, $5.00 a concert
Omaha	1,495	13 concerts	in season per man, $5.00 a concert

This is merely a few comparisons of the many cities that are giving band concerts. We kindly ask you to compare the above prices and appropriations with our price.

Respectfully submitted,

The Indianapolis Musicians Protective Assn.

—Advertisement.

Two Cups of SUGAR FREE

HOW often do you use sugar when you eat ripe fruit? Very seldom.

Then, if you could combine sufficient fruits with ordinary cereals, the food would need very little sweetening.

This would save you, perhaps, a cup of sugar for every package of cereal eaten.

That is the reason Fruited Wheat and Fruited Oats are so economical. Practically all the natural fruit sugar of luscious fruits are retained under scientific manufacture.

Have you noticed how Fruited Cereals often hang together? This is the fruit sugar. It proves their superior quality. Besides, it is proof of nutritious food values. Natural sugars enter the circulation quicker than in any other form.

You cannot afford to overlook these wonderful, economical health foods—a combination of DATES, FIGS, RAISINS and other choice fruits with whole grains.

Don't forget, too, we supply most of the sugar—FREE.

TRY BOTH—Less than a penny a dish

United Cereal Mills Ltd.

Quincy, Illinois

Oysters Ring Bell? Maybe So, Maybe No

ATLANTIC CITY, June 30.—Electric bells were rung by oysters when they were under scientific study by Dr. Thurlow C. Nelson, assistant professor of zoology at New Brunswick, N. J.