BAVARIANS WILL NOT DISARM AS ALLIES DEMAND

Government Announces It Will Disregard Action of German Delegates.

STAND 'UNCHANGABLE'

BERLIN, July 10.—The Bavarian government has officially announced that it will not disarm its troops, notwithstanding the action of the German delegates in signing the allies' disarmament protocol at Spa, according to information from Munich today.

Bavarian ministers were quoted as saying that "their recent decision not to disarm the chawlenwehr and the seicherheitswehr is unchangeable."

The acceptance of the allies' disarmament terms by the Germans at Spa has been under consideration at a series of conferences of ministers and national assembly leaders since noon yesterday.

"The allies are playing a dangerous game," said the Tageblatt in commenting upon the results of the Spa conference.

"If disarmament is successfully carried out the allies will have obligated themselves before the whole world to give strong industrial assistance to Germany."

"If a catastrophe comes to Germany the allies will be forever blighted in their roles as judges and directors of European affairs."

GERMAN PAPERS SAY
POLICE ARE NECESSARY

BERLIN, July 10.—Newspapers here today deplored failure of the German delegation at Spa to plead for retention of the security police.

The socialist newspaper Vorwaerts said the other allied demands were reasonable and that the entire representatives had made considerable concessions.

The Morgen Post asked how workers could be disarmed with the security police disbanded and the reichswehr reduced.

ALLIES BLAMED FOR NOT BRINGING CHARGES

SPA, Belgium, July 10.—Blame for the delay in bringing German war criminals to trial was put upon the allies by Dr. Heinke, German minister of justice, in an interview with the International News Service today.

Admits Slaying Wife and
'Fool Hired to Be Killed'

CHICAGO, July 10.—In one of the most remarkable and cold-blooded crime confessions ever given the Chicago police, Carl Wanderer, former army lieutenant and a bridegroom of less than a year, admitted late last night that he murdered his wife, together with "a poor fool he hired to be killed," on the night of June 21.

The true story of the double slaying—the first version of which was that Mrs. Wanderer had been murdered by a robber, who in turn was killed by Mrs. Wanderer—was given by the defendant in a mass of lies, finally lost his nerve and described his crime in detail.

He gave as his reason for the slaying that he did not want to be rid of his wife so he could go back to the army.

She was shortly to become a mother, he said, and he "hated the idea of having a child and other family responsibilities."

Wanderer was held to the grand jury on the charge of wife murder.

The action was taken following a brief, formal inquest over the body of Mrs. Wanderer.

Mrs. Wanderer's brother, Paul Johnson, was the only relative of any of the principals to attend the inquest.

COAL DELIVERIES TO BE ARBITRATED

SPA, Belgium, July 10.—Decision to arbitrate the question of German coal deliveries was reached by the conference of allied and German representatives here today, thereby avoiding the threatened crisis arising from Germany's refusal to meet the allied demands for fuel.

The question was referred to a commission of German and allied experts to decide on an equitable and fair basis in which the conference will agree.

This disposition of the coal problem brought the question of German coal deliveries to the last of the matters to be considered.

Today's conference was enlivened by Foreign Minister Kohn, who announced in a defiant tone that it was impossible for Germany to comply with the allied coal demands.

He asked for a committee of investigation, to look into coal conditions in Germany and report to the allied supreme council.

Hugo Simons, German industrial leader, arose in behalf of German business and demanded a hearing. He was sharply rebuffed by M. Delacour, president.

Simons declared the allies had no right to ask half of the German laborers to work longer than the miners in Great Britain, France and the other allied nations.

After Simons' speech, the conference decided to place the coal questions in the hands of a joint committee of experts and the meeting adjourned.

THREE KILLED ON GRADE CROSSINGPennsy Train Strikes Truck at County Line.

Three persons were killed in a grade crossing accident on the Marion-Johnson county line between Greenwood and Southport last night.

They were Mr. and Mrs. William Williams of Greenwood and their son, Clifford Broadus, 11.

The family was riding in a small truck when it was struck by a Pennsylvania Railroad train.

The boy died immediately and the parents were taken to Greenwood where they died a short time after the accident.

The impact of the collision detailed the train.

The question of an investigation of the accident has taken a peculiar form because of the fact that it occurred on the county line.

Coroner Robinson went to Greenwood to investigate the Marion county phase of the accident and was told that the Johnson county coroner refused to investigate because he believed the accident occurred entirely in Marion county.

Coroner Robinson takes the attitude that the investigation is out of his jurisdiction because the deaths occurred in Johnson county.

The jurisdiction may be settled by determining on which side of the line the bodies were thrown in the accident.

It is understood that the body of the boy was thrown into Johnson county and that of his parents into Marion county.

Two Boys Held on Auto Theft Charge

Francis Noblet, 17, 420 East Sixteenth street, and Charles Elise, 15, 3115 Northwestern avenue, were arrested today at St. Clair and Meridian streets by Patrolmen Gether and Watts on charges of vehicle taking and auto theft.

The boys at the time of the arrest were riding in an electric automobile, which they admitted taking from the Wilbur Johnson garage.

The police say the boys also took some newspapers from the corner at Sixteenth street and Central avenue.

Elise was taken to the detention house and Noblet was taken to the city jail.

The Real Harding 'Front Porch'

Harding's campaign headquarters.

The much-talked-of front porch of the Harding residence at Marion, O., will not figure so prominently in the G. O. P. campaign after all, as the George R. Christian home, which also has a front porch and stands next door to the Harding residence in Marion, has been furnished throughout with a complete set of brand new oak office furniture—tables, chairs, typewriter desks, etc.

It is here that the business end of the campaign, in so far as it is waged from Marion, will be carried out.

Senator Harding's office is in one of the rear rooms and the remainder of the building is occupied by his secretarial staff.

The small building at the bottom is a bungalow in the rear of the Christian residence built purposely for the press representatives.

Carl Wanderer Coolly Tells Chicago Police of Staging 'Hold-up' That Unhindered He Might Return to Army.

CHICAGO, July 10.—In one of the most remarkable and cold-blooded crime confessions ever given the Chicago police, Carl Wanderer, former army lieutenant and a bridegroom of less than a year, admitted late last night that he murdered his wife, together with "a poor fool he hired to be killed," on the night of June 21.

Political Melting Pot Sizzles
as Forty-Eighters Assemble in Chicago.

HOVEL MORRISON, CHICAGO, July 10.—The national convention of the committee of forty-eighters was called to order at 11:45 a. m. today by National Chairman J. A. Hopkins of Morrisstown, N. J.

Rev. Noble S. Elderkin of the Park Ridge community church, Chicago, delivered the invocation.

The name of Senator LaFollette probably was the greatest in evidence with that of Henry Ford a close second.

Frank P. Walsh was a third contender.

The first demonstration from the assembled delegates came fifteen minutes after they had gathered in the hall, when cheers were given for National Chairman J. A. H. Hopkins, as he stepped to the speaker's platform.

National Chairman Hopkins delivered a brief address in which he declared that the convention was "here today to strike the shackles of economic and industrial slavery apart" and declared that if the new party did not now seize the opportunity offered it, the chance would not arise again.

Allen McCurdy, temporary chairman, made the "keynote" speech.

Leaders in various lines of liberal thought, ex-bullmoosers, ex-populists, single-taxers, farmers' alliance men, army and navy aviators, women suffragists, government ownership league, non-partisan leaders and representatives of the new labor party were among the gathering—either as delegates or sympathetic spectators—at the Hotel Morrison.

But notwithstanding the diversity of these elements, there was every indication when the convention of the committee of (Continued on Page Seven.)

Divorced Wife of Slayer to Remarry

After obtaining a divorce from George Kessler, who is serving sentence for the murder of Minnie Mae Williams, whose body was found in a cistern May 31, 1919, Roxie D. McBride, 34, a waitress, 428 Kauffman place, today was granted a marriage license to become the wife of James Runyon, 40, hardwood finisher, of 321 1/2 Virginia avenue.

The cases were delayed yesterday because a number of prescriptions were necessary as evidence were not in the possession of the prosecuting attorney.

Some of these prescriptions were used by James Haag, who was sentenced to eighteen months at Atlanta, Ga., for conspiracy and violating the Reed amendment.

Judge Collins announced the court has been informed that the prescriptions are now in the hands of the prosecuting attorney.

The cases against the doctors and the dentists are the result of a grand jury investigation of the Haag prescriptions.

The ten defendants are charged with operating "blind tigers."

WILSON TO CALL
LEAGUE SESSION

Official Notice of Meeting Is Expected Late Today.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Official announcement of President Wilson's call for a meeting for the league of nations will probably be made late this afternoon, according to a statement made by Acting Secretary of State Norman H. Davis, following a conference with the president this morning.

Mr. Davis said he had discussed the question of calling the league of nations to meet with the president, with President Wilson.

In reply to questions he said: "Gaveva might possibly be the place designated for the meeting."

COX TO REQUEST
WILSON SUPPORT

Wants Backing in Proposed League Reservations.

DAYTON, O., July 10.—James M. Cox, democratic nominee, in his forthcoming visit to the Whitehouse, will urge President Wilson to back him in two proposed reservations to the league of nations covenant. It was learned today from unquestionable sources close to the Ohio governor.

The first provides that the United States enter the league of nations with the distinct understanding of all other members that the American congress alone shall say when this country shall enter a war.

The second is definite stipulation that all members of the league agree that its main and virtually sole purpose shall be the prevention of wars.

Any reservations to the league of nations covenant which are purely interpretative will be acceptable to the president, it was announced at the Whitehouse today.

"From all information now at hand," one official known to be close to President Wilson stated today, "the reservations favored by Gov. Cox come within this classification."

Requests have come to Cox for campaign visits from all sections, but he has declined today he desires to start out "where the west begins."

Recommendations have been made by his chiefs at San Francisco that the opening drive be in the great agricultural sections of the country, which were responsible for the election of Woodrow Wilson in 1916.

Preliminary plans for the campaign in Ohio will be outlined at Columbus next week in conferences with various state leaders.

Gov. Cox and Franklin D. Roosevelt will meet at Columbus shortly after noon Monday.

Gov. Cox today received a telegram from Roosevelt stating that he was leaving St. Louis tomorrow morning and the meeting will be held in the governor's room at the Delmonico hotel.

Cox expects to go to Columbus late Sunday or early Monday.

Vegetation Is Being Gassed, Citizens Say

Citizens living in the 100 and 1200 blocks on Deloss street complained to Mayor Jewett today that gas from the round house of the New York Central railroad is destroying vegetation in that neighborhood.

New Office of Valpo
School Head in Hat

VALPARAISO, Ind., July 10.—Because of the alleged unsanitary condition of the schoolhouse, the county commissioner of schools has refused to occupy his office in the building.

Hereafter he will carry his office in his hat, he states.

The purpose of this meeting, as well as a similar one held by women county chairmen, was to outline and perfect campaign plans.

Three questions are acting as a thorn in the flesh of the state organization at the present time.

They are:

The tax burden.

The special session.

The oral J. Davies case.

While it is thought by the leaders of the party in the state that they will be able to perfect legislation to get around the first two problems, the Davies matter persists in remaining before them as a spectre.

PARTY HARMONY
PRECEDES ACTION.

At a conference held Thursday, the matter is said to have been discussed, but for the sake of "harmony" in the party, no action was taken.

At the meeting held Friday, the matter bubbled up again to worry the party dictators.

It is said by Ninth district followers of the Howard county man, that he will not resign from the ticket, while others claim that eventually Davies will withdraw.

Still others take the position and it is claimed that among them are fellow candidates on the state ticket, that Davies will be blocked in attempts to enter certain districts of the state for the purpose of campaigning.

The statement was made frequently around state headquarters, however, during and following the conference that Davies would eventually withdraw from the ticket.

Was She Red Headed?

In these days of woman suffrage and equal rights, when men are refusing to give up their seats in a street car to the "dreadful sex," there has been found one man in the city who has not lost the chivalry of pre-feminist days.

He is a traffic cop stationed not far from the Union station.

Traffic was moving north and south, and a line of machines driven by men was being held by the copper, waiting for the signal for east and west traffic.

A fair driver wheeled his car to the left, expecting to be halted for the signal, but the man who had let her drive on, while the men were held for the signal.

Farmers and Others
Ask Jury Release

Many farmers and business men, who are under summons to appear Monday in criminal court as prospective jurors in the case of Francis Marion White, charged with the murder of Perry Aughran, aged grocer, today asked Judge James A. Collins to be relieved of jury service because of the press of work.

A special venire of fifty men has been summoned, but it is thought that there will be much difficulty in obtaining a jury.

Judge Collins states that the case will go to trial as scheduled.

G. O. P. LEADERS
ALARMED OVER
TAX SITUATION

Politicians Fear Muddle May Be Forerunner of Defeat in November.

EYES ON GOV. GOODRICH

Republican leaders looked with alarm today upon the manner in which they must get out of the position into which they have been placed by the Goodrich machine, which has fostered the tax muddle upon their shoulders.

They consider the situation as being perilous to republican victory at the polls next November, and realize that only in a proper solution of the problem will they be able to go before the voters of the state asking for a return of the party to control of state affairs for the next four years.

All eyes of the state organization were turned today toward the conference which was held between Gov. James P. Goodrich, representatives of the state ticket, and others, at which a possible solution of the muddle into which they have been led, would be arrived at.

The idea of the conference, was connected at a meeting of the governor, the republican state committee, state candidates and others, held Friday at the headquarters in the Hotel Severn.

At that time Ed Jackson, secretary of state and candidate for re-election, and U. S. Leach, candidate for attorney-general, were named as a committee to represent the state ticket at the conference in relation to the tax problem.

MUST PREVENT TAX SHIRKING.

It was agreed unanimously by those attending the conference that the special session of the assembly should legislate to prevent a shrinkage of revenue for the current fiscal year.

The special session of the legislature was discussed in detail at the conference.

Gov. Goodrich announced that the decision of the candidates regarding the session had been handed off, and that they recommended that the legislature confine the session to emergency matters only.

"Emergency matters," he declared, "include only those measures which have to do with the public welfare, and would not include any bill that could be held over until the regular 1921 session."

The following state candidates were present at the conference: Warren T. McGray, nominee for governor; Emmet F. Branch, nominee for lieutenant governor; Ed Jackson; W. G. Oliver, nominee for auditor of state; O. J. Davies, nominee for treasurer of state; Mr. Leach; Will H. Adams, nominee for reporter of the supreme court; Ira C. Bateman and E. A. Dausman, nominees for judges of the appellate court.

While the conference between the candidates, governor and state chairman was on, a meeting of the republican county chairmen of the state was being held.

The purpose of this meeting, as well as a similar one held by women county chairmen, was to outline and perfect campaign plans.

Three questions are acting as a thorn in the flesh of the state organization at the present time.

GOODRICH WILL ASK
ASSEMBLY TO MAKE INCREASES LEGAL

Governor Looks to Future and Will Request
Provisions for Other Mistakes Which May Come of His Law.

PUBLIC UTILITIES NOT AFFECTED

Legislation legalizing the action of the state tax board in fixing horizontal increases, which were set aside by the supreme court, will be asked of the general assembly by Gov. Goodrich when the assembly meets in special session next week.

The governor will go further and include in the bill to go before the legislature a request that it correct and legalize any mistake which the administration might make in the future in regard to the Goodrich tax law.

This was learned today following a conference between the governor, representatives of the republican state ticket, the city attorney, and others, held in the executive office.

The bill will be presented to the assembly on the theory that if the legislature had the right originally to grant the state tax board the power to make horizontal tax increases, it now has the power to legalize such action, after the increases had been made by the board in overstepping its authority.

BILL CONTAINS SEVERAL SECTIONS.

The bill, it was learned, will contain several sections.

One section will provide that in every taxing unit those taxpayers whose property has been assessed at more than cash value may, upon application to the board of county commissioners in the county in which they reside, have their assessment reduced.

Another provision is that, in any taxing unit where increases made in the future may be set aside by the court, local taxing officials may be authorized to levy increases to make up the deficit caused by such ruling.

In each taxing unit, it is understood the bill will provide, where revenues are decreased sufficiently to cover a deficit in the funds of that unit for the current fiscal year, that that unit shall be authorized to borrow money to cover such deficit.

Such loan shall be limited by the bill to cover a period of not more than one year, it is understood.

Should the bill pass the legislature, no change would be effected in the assessment of the federal court for a decrease of banks, public utilities and like corporations, a high state official said.

The assessments of these utilities were made before the horizontal increases were made on personal property, and consequently they were not affected.

Litigation now pending in the courts to set aside the valuations reduced to be proportional to the assessments of personal property, would automatically be dismissed by the passage of the legalizing measure.

PROVISIONS MADE FOR TAXPAYER'S APPEAL.

That section of the bill providing for an appeal by taxpayers to the board of county commissioners is included as a means of giving every property owner a square deal, an official said.

"Under this section," the official stated, "every property owner has the right to appeal a decreased valuation in order that no injustice may be done."

"If this section were not in the bill every tax duplicate in the state would have to be re-written and the entire system of giving every property owner a square deal would be thrown into confusion and chaos."

The official cited the case of the Erie railroad, which, before the horizontal increases were made by the tax board, applied in the federal court for a decrease to make its taxes proportionate to the assessment upon personal property.

When, however, the horizontal increases were made, the property was made, the petition was withdrawn, and again renewed at the ruling of the supreme court.

Should the proposed bill be approved and put into effect by the legislature, this action would again become unnecessary, and the assessments would be proportionate between utilities and personal property holders.

SCHOOL CITY IN BAD CONDITION

Board Meets Today to Discuss
Raising Funds.

With a view of remedying the condition into which the school city has been thrown by the reverse ruling of the supreme court on the horizontal assessment valuation of property, a special meeting of the board of school commissioners was called for this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

George W. Hitt, business director of the board, announced that efforts would be made to carry out the plan to devise some plan by which the school city will be able to raise the necessary funds to meet immediate financial obligations.

Mr. Hitt declined to say whether or not the school city will be able to raise the necessary funds to meet immediate financial obligations.

He said that to him the outlook was that there could be no schools unless some means of providing revenue by fall is found.

More than $500,000 in revenue to the school city has been cut off by the action of the supreme court on the horizontal property valuation, he said.

Mr. Hitt declined to state whether or not he thought there was any possible hope of the special session of the legislature called for next week to legalize the action of the tax board, saying that he was not a lawyer or legislator and that the present entanglement should be left for them to unravel.

But he did say that the only means of escape for the school city and the city, if the legislature does not legalize the action of the board, is the levy and collection of taxes for this fall.

HARD FOR SCHOOL
CITY TO GET BY.

He said that the tightening down in the financial matters probably would make it difficult for the school city to get loans, in view of the already heavy bond issue and temporary loan of $375,000, but he declared that some relief must be had in the near future or there would be no functioning by the school city.

Bids on the plumbing and electric wiring of six city schools, which were received at the last special meeting of the board, and which were referred to the advisory board for investment, were to be taken into further consideration, Mr. Hitt said, unless too much time has to be taken in the discussion of the financial problem facing school officials and the board.

The discharge of George W. Ricks, superintendent of the city school buildings and grounds, and Albert Baker, foreman of the maintenance and laborers of the city schools, which was announced yesterday, will be effective Aug. 1, Mr. Hitt said.
