NEW BUILDINGS NOT AFFECTED

School Construction Can Proceed Despite Muddle.

Although it may be impossible for the school city to open the schools this fall unless some relief is given from the loss of $500,000 which was sustained by the ruling of the supreme court on the horizontal assessment valuations of the tax board, the building plans formed by the school city will not be affected because they are backed by bond issues members of the board of school commissioners said today.

The financial status of the schools was shown in a report presented to the board by Frank L. Reissner, secretary of the board.

The report showed that the total debt of the school city covering the fiscal year ending July 1 amounts to $7,743,050, and that the treasury of the school city contains $4,362,760.91, leaving an actual indebtedness of $3,370,289.59.

GRAND TOTAL
HERE GIVEN.
The grand total of receipts for the year amounted to $5,020,624.19, according to the report, while the total expenditures for the year amounted to $3,657,859.18.

Although it is shown that approximately $4,000,000 is left on hand, this amount is largely derived from bond issues for school improvements, and can not be used for any other purpose.

The teachers' pay roll, which entails one of the largest expenditures of the school city, can not be met unless relief from some source is obtained, members of the board said.

During the last fiscal year the sale of special school building bonds totaled $3,020,041.55.

On July 1 the expenditures from these funds amounted to only $158,328.76, most of the projects being under process of construction or still under consideration by the board.

The sale of regular school building bonds during the last fiscal year amounted to $1,145,634.80, which, with additional funds from miscellaneous receipts and transfers from other funds, brought the total amount for the year up to $1,234,050.66.

SPECIAL FUND HAS BALANCE.
The special fund of the school city has a balance of $429,123.57, the receipts for the year totaling $1,068,938.38, as against $1,560,814.81 spent.

Receipts on taxes for the special fund amounted during the year to $1,316,949, which, with the balance of $429,123.57 from the previous year, brought the total of this special fund up to $1,544,072.57.

Expenditures from the Manual Training High school fund amounted during the fiscal year to $223,011.41, leaving a balance of $2,463,061.16, which turned again into the special fund.

The funds expended on the upkeep of the library during the year reached a grand total of $190,317.04, while the expenditures for the year reached a total of $189,063.52, the remainder reverting to the special fund.

The tuition fund for the schools, which

Dr. Gifford worked in the Asiatic countries for many years with Miss Gretalia Y. Holliday, sister of John H. Holliday of Indianapolis, who died last year.

His conclusions after three years of residence in North Indianapolis "was the topic of Rev. Benjamin Rist at the united evening services of the Home Presbyterian, Seventh Christian and St. Paul Methodist churches.

He emphasized the importance of children in the community, saying that every child should have physical, literary and spiritual education.

The Rev. George W. Allison, pastor of the Irvington Presbyterian church, preached on "Creed and Conduct" at the union services of the Irvington Protestant churches in the evening.

Special musical numbers were given by choir of the Duway Avenue Christian church and Mrs. Mayme Cook Peck, soloist.

Memorial services for Methodist ministers and their families were held at Crown Hill cemetery yesterday by the Epworth league.

The Rev. Charles M. Kraft, pastor of the Merritt Place M. E. church, delivered the memorial address.
