

AGED MAN'S BODY FOUND IN CISTERNS

Coroner Works on Theory Death Was From Suicide.

Julie A. Victor, 51, 2230 North Capitol Avenue, a veteran of the Civil War, was drowned in a cistern in the rear of his home late last night.

He was a salaried man, according to Dr. Paul Robinson, coroner, while suffering from temporary mental disorder.

When a boy of 6, Victor was brought to the United States from his home in Alsace, France.

His name at that time was Altheimer, and he was bound out to a family by the authorities of an orphan's home at Cincinnati.

When the Civil War started he enlisted, but the man in whose charge he had been placed took him out of the army.

The spirited youth ran away and, changing his name from Altheimer to Victor, served the four years of the war and was re-enlisted for three more years of service in the army.

After the war he retained the name of Victor, under which he had served the country, and came to Indianapolis.

For many years Victor was the proprietor of a grocery store on what is now North Missouri street, retiring from active business life ten years ago.

The war veteran had accompanied his son, John A. Victor, his daughter-in-law, in an automobile ride last night.

When they returned he made an excuse that he would be back in a few minutes and left the house.

Becoming worried John Victor searched for his father and found his body in a cistern.

Mr. Victor is survived by a sister, Mrs. Flora Anderson, of this city; three sons, John A. Victor, William Victor and Harry R. Victor; three daughters, Mrs. Virginia Kelly, Mrs. Clementine Harrison and Mrs. Flora Hubert, all of this city, except Mrs. Harrison, whose home is at Martinsville.

Mrs. Fred Victor, daughter-in-law, also survives.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed, but the funeral probably will be Wednesday and burial will be in Crown Hill.

Phone President to Study Service Here

Again taking up the question of better telephone service in Indiana, Edgar S. Bloom of Chicago, president of the Indiana Bell Telephone Company held a conference with E. I. Lewis, chairman of the public service commission, and John W. McCord, vice chairman of the commission.

It is the intention of Mr. Bloom to return to Indianapolis within the next few days and devote considerable time to the study of the system in an effort to give better service.

When the petition of the Indiana Bell Telephone Company for increased rates in thirty-five exchanges in the state, recently before the commission, was withdrawn, the company made it plain that another petition for an increase would be presented within the next thirty days.

Mr. Lewis said the matter of rates was not touched on by the conference and that Mr. Bloom did not say whether or not another petition would be filed.

Tax Committee for Each County Favored

Resolutions favoring a bill that would call for the formation of a committee in each county, composed of the county auditor, county treasurer and assessor, to correct valuations of property assessed at more than its true value have been passed at a meeting of the County Auditors' association legislative committee.

The committee also endorsed the bill legalizing the horizontal tax increases.

Following is the resolution passed at the meeting:

"Resolved: That the legislative committee of the Indiana County Auditors' association endorse the proposed special act to legalize the present valuations on the 1919 tax duplicates. We also urge that provision be made for corrections of all valuations over the true value and that such corrections shall be approved in each county by a bill introduced by the county auditor, county treasurer and county assessor, of which two shall be a majority for the transaction of all business."

Baldness Conquered

A veteran business man, who was almost completely bald, had tried various remedies, shampoos, etc., in vain, came across an Indian elixir by which he grew a complete crop of healthy hair.

The hair is called "KOTALKO." Many others men and women, have reported remarkable aid to hair growth.

When Bald is from dandruff, cessation

In a vast number of cases, when hair falls out, the roots are not dead, but remain for some time, and then die, so that the hair falls out, leaving only fertility. The usual hair tonics, etc., are of no use.

The "KOTALKO" method is a pure root to nourish hair, and cause new growth.
