

CITY EXPENSES TO SOAR HIGH

Estimated $3,700,000 Will Be Asked Next Year.

Robert H. Bryson, city controller, said today that there would be no increase in the budget necessary for the operation of the city offices over the budget of last year, and that he thought there might be a small increase due to a slight diminishing in the interest on bond issues.

According to Mr. Bryson, the budget for the operation and maintenance of the city offices last year amounted to $225,883.10, of which $154,013.30 was used for the payment of interest on bonds and the salaries of the immediate city officers, including the mayor, the city judge, police, police clerk, treasurer, the controller and his office force.

The salary items amounted to approximately $55,000.

The sum of $6,914.50, which is set by statute, was given to the Indianapolis Art association, and the remainder of the budget was used for the payment of small and incidental bills.

Mr. Bryson said the different boards, such as the board of public safety and the board of public works, have not yet handed in reports as to the amounts they will need for operation during the coming year, but city officials are of the opinion that there will be an increase of from 10 to 20 per cent over that of last year.

The final report, which goes through the hands of the city controller and is checked before it is submitted to the common council for final action on a general appropriation, will not be handed in for at least two weeks, and does not have to be submitted until Sept. 1.

According to the estimates, it will take approximately $3,700,000 for operations for the coming year, considerably more than that of last year.

George W. Williams, executive secretary of the board of public safety, said that that board has asked about $1,000 for operation for the coming year, as against the appropriation of $1,887,562.70 for last year.

No total estimate has been compiled by officials of the board of public safety, but it is known, officials say, that there will be a considerably increased budget asked.

PRIMARY LAW TO HOLD STAGE

Some Representatives Are for Its Abolishment.

Abolition of the primary election law in Indiana is still to be decided on by the house of representatives today.

A motion to suspend constitutional rules was defeated by a vote of 29 to 61 in the house when the bill was given a second reading yesterday.

After passing to engrossment it will be again submitted to the members for third reading and passage today.

Representative Maillott pointed out yesterday that many of the members were in favor of a primary election law for the counties, but wished to abolish the state primary law.

Some of the representatives are for complete abolishment.

Representative Laughlin declared that the people of the state are now tired of the law and are confident that it is a complete failure.

"Money has been spent uselessly, and every voter is sick and tired of the law," he declared.

Representative Newman is one of the members who are seeking to abolish the present statute.

"The law is inconvenient. We ought to kill it now," he said.

Bill on Assessors' Salaries Again Up

House bill No. 671, introduced by Representative Covatt, correcting the law covering salaries of certain township assessors, which on two occasions has been made a special order of business, was expected to be again presented to the members of the lower house this afternoon.

Following the second reading of the bill yesterday, a motion by Representative Covatt, seconded by Representative Reader, to suspend constitutional rules, was defeated by a vote of 35 to 43.

Engrossed as bill No. 322, by Senator Humphreys, providing for the construction and maintenance of bridges across a stream forming the state boundary line, was brought before the lower house on second reading yesterday, and a motion by Representative Curry to suspend constitutional rules was defeated 30 to 44.

Curry had amended the phraseology of the bill.

FELT TIRED, DULL, WORN OUT UNTIL HE TOOK NEW REMEDY

Indianapolis man suffered from chronic constipation, stomach trouble, catarrh of the head and was unable to enjoy what he ate.

Draco overcame all these troubles for him and he is now feeling so fine he wants everybody whose complaints are similar to his to give Draco a trial.

Mr. Ralph D. Waters lives at 3023 Maryland Ave., Indianapolis, Ind., and is employed by the Monon R. R. as a car inspector. "I had to take some kind of medicine all the time, in order to get my bowels to move," said Mr. Waters.

"Everything I ate turned to gas, bloated me up and caused much uneasiness in my stomach. Got to where I would deny myself many things I craved because of the suffering I then would follow. I felt tired and dull and had no energy to go about my work and when I'd get down I hated to get up again."

"Catarrh of the head annoyed me very much, making my breathing difficult and often gave me headaches and roaring noises in my head."

"One bottle of Draco has worked wonders for me. My bowels are now active and regular; I no longer have that tired feeling, but instead I go about my work with a vim. The catarrh is much better. I breathe freely, never have a headache and the head noises are growing less. I surely can recommend Draco as a fine tonic."

Draco is the pure liquid extract of many roots, herbs, barks and leaves, which act on the vital organs of the human body. After taking Draco it is noticed that the stomach is soothed and the gassy condition eliminated; the liver becomes active, relieving headaches, that dull, tired-out feeling; nerves are quieted, which induces sound sleep; the kidneys are strengthened; appetite increased; bowels act with ease and regularity, and the whole system takes on renewed energy, vigor and vitality. Draco is harmless, pleasant to take and the effects are quickly felt.

All good druggists sell Draco, and it is being especially introduced in Indianapolis by Clark & Cade's Clappold hotel drug store.—Advertisement.

Ban Is Put on Rough Stuff at Ravenswood by Authorities

Upper—Kozy Korner Cottage, Ravenswood, the scene of the "wild night" fight Sunday night. Lower left insert—Frank Smeltz, marshal of Ravenswood. Lower right insert—Robert Magill, deputy marshal.

Roughness must be supplanted by law and order in Ravenswood.

This is the edict that has gone out in Marion county's youngest town, issued by the authorities, backed up by the business men and residents of the summer resort on White river, following the "wild night" fight Sunday night when more than 200 men, women and children saw the Ravallotti organs, the justice of the peace, Charles Hanlin, engage in a melee with almost a score of visitors at the Kozy Korner Cottage.

Marshal Smeltz has decreed that no more violence will be tolerated, and he has ordered his deputy, Robert Magill, to stop promptly any violations of the town ordinances governing peace and quietude.

"I am determined that the law will be enforced and we are going to be more strict than ever in keeping things right here," declared Marshal Smeltz.

The trouble began when Deputy Marshal Magill went to a cotillion where Everett ("Shiner") Middaugh, 22, 716 North Capitol avenue and about sixteen men and women were having a party.

The guests in the cottage were said to have been drinking and disturbing the community with loud laughter and shouts. Magill reports, and he warned them that the noise must cease.

Later another call was made at the cottage and this time Magill arrested

'PROHIS' SEEK TO DRAFT BRYAN

Friends of Commoner Say He Will Not Accept.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 20.—Friends of William Jennings Bryan assert that he will not accept the prohibition nomination for president, though he may be drafted for the place by the national prohibition convention, which meets in Lincoln Wednesday morning.

Headquarters of the convention have been opened in the Lindell hotel, and it is expected that most of the delegates will arrive by this evening.

A conference of the executive committee was held this morning to discuss the availability of the various candidates for president and vice president.

It is the opinion of delegates that Bryan is the best man for the place, since the dry party hopes to secure a large proportion of the votes of women and it is felt that Bryan is a favorite with female voters.

This afternoon the whole committee of ninety-six members will meet for conference.

Quick Work Prevents Serious Fire Loss

Quick work by the Brightwood fire department prevented serious loss at the home of Mrs. Thomas C. Gales, 222 North Olney street, today.

Sparks falling on the roof started a blaze, but the fire was put out after causing only $25 damage.

To Reinter Body of Columbus Soldier

COLUMBUS, Ind., July 20.—The body of Leo Plunkett, son of Mrs. Mary Thomas Plunkett of this city, who died of influenza at Brest, France, October, 1919, will be buried here today.

The body is the first of a Bartholomew county soldier of the world war to arrive from overseas for burial.

Wasn't a Plain Hawg

HARTFORD CITY, Ind., July 20.—Fred Stinson, owner of the Renner stock farm, paid the top price at a Wells county horse sale, when he picked down $5,000 for a Poland China sow.

AT FREIGHT HOUSE EVERY DAY NOW; RAILROADER TAKES NEW HOLD ON JOB

C. I. & W. Employee Very Enthusiastic as Result of Taking Pepgen.

After being troubled with lumbago and rheumatism for the last fifteen years, John Galeana, 208 North Liberty street, Indianapolis, is now practicing a new man as the result of taking Pepgen.

That is the statement made by his wife, who feels very grateful and wishes to have other sufferers benefit by her husband's experience. Mr. Galeana is employed in the C. I. & W. freight house.

"Rheumatism was in his muscles and joints," said Mrs. Galeana to a representative. "And when spells came on he could hardly move about. He had to go to bed at times. He would get a 'stitch' in his back, which would make it impossible for him to straighten up. He couldn't sleep soundly at night. His husband also suffered with chronic constipation and would get violent headaches."

"A friend of ours, who lives on Washington street, recommended Pepgen so highly that he decided to try it. Now Mr. Galeana's rheumatism does not bother him at all and his lumbago never comes on. His liver has been regulated and he is not constipated. He has not been troubled with a headache for quite a while."

His husband recommends Pepgen very highly, as it has done for him what other medicines failed to do in the last fifteen years.

Pepgen is a pure remedy that restores and restores the normal and healthy functioning of the liver and kidneys. It has an invigorating effect upon the entire system.

Pepgen contains nothing injurious. Its wonderful results are due entirely to the skill of the Pepgen process of compounding natural remedial extracts that have been used singly for years and years.

Pepgen may be obtained at Henry J. Hader's drug stores, Washington and Pennsylvania streets, Illinois and Michigan streets, or from any other first-class drug store anywhere.—Adv.
