CONTROL PUT ON PARK VICINITIES

Bill Governing Building Now Up to Governor.

Indianapolis park department officials will have the power when the governor signs the measure to establish a building line, to determine what buildings may be built fronting the parks, and to regulate the character of business or amusement located therein.

The house, by unanimous vote yesterday passed engrossed senate bill No. 339, by Senator Masters, which provides for the amending of the present park law to give the department additional authority.

Briefly, the provisions are: The board of park commissioners may by resolution establish a building line determining the distance at which structures erected on any premises fronting any park, parkway or boulevard, shall be erected.

The right to acquire all property or land between the park and the building line also is granted the commission.

When it is deemed necessary to establish a building line, the board of commissioners shall proceed as in condemnation proceedings to make assessments and award damages.

No benefits shall be assessed against any property other than that abutting on the park, parkway or boulevard along which the proposed building line shall be established.

Such benefits assessed shall not exceed the total cost of the establishment of such a building line.

The park board reserves the right by general order or resolution to restrict, modify or regulate a location of trades, industries and commercial enterprises which might be injurious to public health, safety, morals or general welfare.

Says He Won't Work; Court Says He Will

Special to The Times.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., July 24.—"I just won't work, judge, and if you send me to the penitentiary I'll commit suicide before I'll let them force me to work," Charlie Wilson, a vagabond, told the court when arraigned on a charge of vagrancy.

But it was the general opinion of the court that the carrying out of Wilson's threat would require too much exertion and he was given a sentence of sixty days at the farm.

When being brought to court this morning Wilson said to have complained of being made to walk in the sun.

"If you don't mind," the prisoner said, "let's cross over to the shady side of the street for I'm not used to walking in the sun."

Says Wife Too Gay With Choir Leader

Special to The Times.

ELWOOD, Ind., July 24.—In the superior court at Anderson, Friday, Rufus J. Cook and his wife were refused a divorce.

Mrs. Cook filed a complaint for divorce, alleging cruel and inhuman treatment, and the husband filed a cross-complaint charging his wife with undue association with the choir leader at the village church at New Lancaster.

The entire population of New Lancaster and a number of people from Elwood appeared as witnesses in the case.

Decendant of Daniel Boone Is Found Dead

Special to The Times.

HAMMOND, Ind., July 24.—David E. Boone, aged 55, a descendant of Daniel Boone, the Kentucky pioneer, was found dead in bed here Friday, the extreme heat being the cause of his death, it is thought.

Mr. Boone had not fully recovered from the effects of an accident recently, when an auto in which he was riding hit a machine occupied by alleged "whisky runners."

He was formerly prosecutor of Lake county and was widely known as a criminal lawyer and actor.

Gets Reprieve to Take Care of Crops

Special to The Times.

COLUMBUS, Ind., July 24.—Louis Rommes, a Brown county farmer, who has served part of a thirty-day term in the Bartholomew county jail for the theft of a pair of trousers from the store of John Vorwald in this city, has received from Gov. Goodrich a reprieve of thirty days in which to take care of crops on his farm.

The reprieve stipulates that at the end of thirty days Rommes shall return and complete his sentence.

Johnson Gives O. K. to Harding's Speech

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—Senator Hiram Johnson of California was out today with warm commendation of Senator Harding's speech accepting the republican presidential nomination.

"Mr. Harding's position has made republican success certain and his election assured," Johnson said in a formal statement.

Johnson particularly commended Harding's stand on the league of nations.

Each or Strike, Say City Firemen

GREENFIELD, Ind., July 24.—Members of the local fire department have threatened to resign unless they are permitted to play cards at the headquarters, and Fred Stilton, the newly appointed truck driver, who is in charge at the headquarters, says he will not permit card playing.

For several months it has been the custom for the firemen to play cards at the station every evening.

Overseas Lieutenant Dies in Hospital Here

Alfred W. Markham, 37, of Princeton, N. J., died at the Methodist hospital at 7 o'clock last night, following an operation for appendicitis.

During the war he served overseas as a second lieutenant in the Ninety-fourth Aero squadron.

He was connected in business with the Mals Motor Company.

Mr. Markham spent part of his time in Indianapolis and a part of it in Princeton, where he was a member of both the University and Country clubs, making his home at the latter.

Mrs. Donald Harrington of Princeton, a sister, is the only surviving relative of the deceased.

She was expected to arrive in Indianapolis some time today.

STOMACH TROUBLE

I suffered with stomach trouble for several years. Almost everything I ate caused distress. I had what is commonly called heartburn after each meal.

Medical doctors told me that my liver and kidneys were in bad condition.

A friend induced me to take chiropractic adjustments from Wm. Channing Ellery, D. C., 904 Odd Fellows Bldg., and I have received such fine results that I can now eat anything that anybody can and I want to say a good word for chiropractic, which did so much for me in such a short time. Her 'Barrel Campaign' Nets 5,000 Nickels

Officials of the Salvation Army home office fund today doctored their hats to Miss Emily Traugott, who, by her own exertion, collected nearly 5,000 nickels for the fund.

Miss Traugott, employed in the store of Jack Rohr in the Hotel Severin building, carried on a "barrel campaign" for six days.

Her entire collection amounted to $245.55. She asked no one for more than a nickel.

"It all goes to show what could be done if the Salvation Army drive only had the willing workers," said Mr. E. May, Marion county director of the campaign.

In speaking of the drive Miss Traugott said she could nearly always pick the man who had been overworked, because he was a cheerful fellow and usually had something complimentary to say about the Salvation army.

Miss Traugott is a pretty girl of 15 who resides at 932 Broadway.

Lawrenceburg Man on National Committee

SAYS HAULING IS BIG PROBLEM NOW

Hoover Recommends Concentration on Transportation.

DETROIT, July 24.—No problem which faces the country "requires so definitely a constructive program" as the transportation problem, Herbert Hoover, former United States food administrator, declared in a message read before the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater congress here today.

"Today both railroads and waterways are far behind the productivity of our country on every hand," Hoover's message said.

"Agricultural and general industry are embarrassed by the lack of transportation; the margins between the producer and the consumer are extravagantly widened by failure to secure proper distribution."

"As an incident to a development program I know of nothing more important than the consolidation of the many construction and engineering departments of the government into one great public works department."

Hoover suggested such a department could probably replace the present department of the interior.

The congress closed today.

WOMAN 'CHARGES' INTO WASH TUB

Child Watches Gleefully as They Fight Over Him.

Special to The Times.

LAPORTE, Ind., July 24.—Another neighborhood row has terminated in Justice Kerr's court.

Neither of the women was fined but both were given lectures.

It appears Mrs. Emma Miller was separated from her husband in January of this year, and the husband took the baby and moved to the home of his mother, Mrs. Withelm Miller.

The grandmother took good care of the baby and the child learned to love her like a mother.

But Mrs. Emma Miller, the mother, was filled with a longing to see her child and went to the home of the grandmother.

And immediately there began a battle royal.

The grandmother squared herself for the fray and, according to the story, was rushed by the mother.

The wash tub which was standing nearby received the point of attack, which resulted in a mark somewhat, with the result that both women fell into the tub of water.

In the resultant turmoil it is alleged that Mrs. Emma Miller received a hard blow from Mrs. Withelm Miller and so lost the baby.

Mrs. Emma Miller filed a charge of assault and battery against the elder woman.

The child, it is said, witnessed the battle in great glee.

Lightning Stays Murderer's Death

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 24.—John Maxwell, a Charleston county negro, is alive today, as the result of a stroke of lightning disabling the apparatus of the state penitentiary.

Execution Friday was postponed for three weeks because enough voltage could not be inflicted to cause instant death.

Maxwell killed an aged farmer, chopping his body to pieces.

Farmers' Federation Officials in Chicago

Lewis Taylor, general secretary of the Indiana Federation of Farmers' Associations, and John G. Brown of Monon, president of the association, are in Chicago attending the annual grain conference called by the American farm bureau federation.

From the Chicago conference the two will go to Lansing, Mich., where a meeting of the presidents and secretaries of farmers' associations of the midwest will be held next week.

BEGIN PLANS OF G. A. R. CAMP

75,000 Must Be Housed in Private Homes.

Edward A. Kahn, chairman of the executive committee in charge of general arrangements for the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, Sept. 19-25, announced today that the committee will begin within several days the active work of finding rooms in private homes for the housing of 75,000 persons.

Although it is believed that it will not be necessary to house more than 75,000 persons in private homes, the committee will prepare to house 100,000 to be used in the event they are needed.

More than 100,000 persons are expected to come to Indianapolis for the week.

Headquarters of the committee have been established in the offices of the Merchants' association of Indianapolis.
