HUNS HOPE FOR PEACE IN MARCH

Say War Status With U. S. Will Be Changed Then.

BERLIN, July 27.—Germany expects that at least eight more months will elapse before the state of war between the United States and this country is formally and officially terminated.

Dr. Walter von Simons, the foreign secretary, revealed this in his speech at the opening of the national assembly when he declared:

"German-American official relations will not be changed before March, 1921." Discussing Germany's new position, brought about by the Russian drive into Poland, the foreign secretary said:

"Germany's situation is most critical. We must recognize the possibility of breaking her neutrality."

"France is fighting. Great Britain is not neutral and has intervened to save Poland."

"Entente compulsion for the passage of troops threatens Germany."

Dr. Von Simons sounded a warning against "the mistake of Versailles."

He continued: "Poland will be a trouble in the future if she attempts to serve as a barrier between Germany and Russia."

"It would be better for the future if Poland decided to serve as a bridge between this country and Russia."

"If the entente repeats the mistake of Versailles and proceeds without Germany the Russian peace will prove a house of cards."

"We can not deny that the soviet have accomplished enormous constructive industrial work."

Future Russo-German relations will play an important part in the proposed peace parley between Russia and the Russian border states, according to a dispatch from Vienna.

This dispatch quoted Dr. Bronski Wazowski, the bolshevik envoy to Austria, as saying: "The fundamental condition for peace is unlimited German and Russian commercial intercourse through Poland."

RING CROWN HELD BY SLIP OF GIRL

May Wirth Called First of Bareback Riders in Circus World.

Though still a slip of a girl, May Wirth was this last winter called the first of the greatest bareback riders of the generation.

Fresh from new triumphs achieved in Australia and the hippodromes of South America the famous equestrienne is now touring America as one of the super-features of the new Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey shows combined to exhibit here Monday, Aug. 2.

The list of Miss Wirth's accomplishments is a long one, but there are two things in which she excels.

She is the only rider among either women or men who can do "forward somersault" on a running steed, and she wears a smile that "won't come off."

It has been said of her that though she "comes off her horse" her smile never "comes off her."

May Wirth will be seen in solo riding numbers in which she will perform her most difficult feats.

She is but one of many remarkable equestrians.

Others include the famous Castello and Davenport families, the Clarkson troupe of English horsemen.

The street parade is the longest and most costly ever offered in America.

In addition to its remarkable array of acrobatic talent the main tent program includes a gigantic introductory pageant that is said to surpass anything of its kind ever seen before.

U. S. Marines in China Protect Missionaries

LONDON, July 27.—American marines have been sent to Tung Chow, China, to protect American missionaries, according to a Pekin dispatch to the Times today.

News had been received in Pekin that Chinese soldiers were surrounding Tung Chow and had begun to loot.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen, former provisional president of China, has sent a letter to the Japanese war office accusing the Japanese of secretly aiding Gen. Chang Tso-Lin in the civil war which has been raging in northeastern China, said a Tokio dispatch to the Times today.

Gen. Chang-Tso-Lin was one of the commanders of the Chi Li forces that engaged the Anfu or militarist faction under Gen. Tun Chi Jui.

BOTH PARTIES PLAN BIG LURE FOR LABOR VOTE

Managers Scent Danger in Offensive Begun on 'Enemies' of Working Man.

CLOSE ELECTION SEEN

By WILLIAM PHILLIP SIMMS, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—The smashing offensive begun by President Samuel Gompers and the American Federation of Labor, threatens to give the labor group the balance of power in the November elections.

Scouting danger, campaign managers of both democratic and republican parties are planning to go after the labor vote as they have never gone after any vote before.

A week from next Sunday the executive councils of the forty-eight state federations will hold special meetings for "getting together" with the national campaign committee of the American Federation of Labor sitting at Washington.

At these conferences the records of all senators and congressmen up for reelection this fall will be gone into thoroughly and passed on as favorable or unfavorable to the worker. Labor's national political campaign will then be coordinated through the committee here and from that time blossom into full force and vigor.

The November election will be close, the two big parties now agree.

LITTLE TALK. They deprecate all such talk as "a yellow dog on the republican ticket this year," and nowhere are responsible democrats claiming a walkover.

Leaders of both parties say the fight will be bitter and that the winner, when it is over, will know he has been in a man's scrap.

Labor's vote, all agree, will be extremely important this year. If not vital, it stands to be the biggest ever cast by organized workmen, and in an election which experts forecast as close.

Roughly, there are 40,000 local organizations throughout the United States, grouped about 800 central bodies and forty-eight state federations.

Labor officials estimate their membership at 4,000,000, with a voting strength of close on to 4,000,000.

President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor declares that this vote is non-partisan.

That is, it is neither republican nor democratic, but will be cast, he says, for those men who, in congress or back home in their respective states, have been most friendly toward labor.

ONLY SMALL PERCENTAGE OUT. A small percentage of the labor vote only was behind the Chicago labor convention held this month, according to officials of the American Federation here.

President Gompers himself is on record as opposing a labor party, as such, preferring a nonpartisan attitude, leaving labor free to cast its vote for its "friends," republicans here, democrats there, according to the legislative records of each particular candidate.

More than fifteen primary elections, according to members of the federation's campaign committee, have been won by labor by following these tactics.

Labor, they point out, by remaining nonpartisan and non-allegiant policy, but casting its vote in a block for its "friends," regardless of party, had thus proved the balance of power.

Twenty-three primaries remain to be held in the states.

Politicians are wondering whether it will keep up this voting thus far maintained, and the most burning question of all, what effect its vote will have on the presidential election next November.

DOG HILL PARAGRAPHS

Dick Hochs was a social outcast all day Sunday. Both girls heard of his duplicity and each told him to go on to see the other.
