

SERIOUS HITTING SLUMP HOOSIERS IN BIG SERIES WITH ASSOCIATION LEADERS

TWO CONTESTS REMAIN WITH DEMON SAINTS

Indians Have Chance to Even Series if They Get Bats Working.

ONE HIT ONLY SUNDAY

Two more games, including the contest today, remain to be played between the Saints and Indians at Washington park, and if the Hoosiers can recover their batting form there is some chance of getting an even break out of the series, despite the Saturday and Sunday defeats handed the Hendricksmen.

In the series opener Saturday, the league leaders won, 4 to 1, defeating the Tribe's new hurler, and yesterday Mike Kelley's outfit put over another rubber, 6 to 0.

The largest crowd at Washington park for several seasons, estimated at 12,000, turned out for the Sabbath game and, though the fans were disappointed over the home club's defeat, there were not completely depressed because hardly any team could have solved Charlie Hall's slants.

Hall was in amazing form and was found for only one hit. In seven of the nine innings not a Hoosier reached first base.

Dick Gossett got the only Tribe hit, a single to left in the fifth inning. In the eighth Schreiber got on when Hargrave missed his third strike, but he was forced by Gossett later. Gossett reached second on the play when Berghammer threw wild trying for a double play.

In fact Gossett was the only Indian to see second during the entire game, so

TED GARLACH.

Although not being what one would call an old-timer in the cycle racing game, Ted Garlach, a member of the Independent Athletic club team, displayed a graduate's knowledge of pedal pushing when he obtained a big enough lead with a three-minute handicap to win first place in the Daily Times fifteen-mile handicap cycle derby held on the Riverside park course Sunday morning, over a field of twenty-two other contestants, some of whom have been riding races for the past five years. His time for the distance was 43:54.

and it is understood that he thought the same way the fans did about the pike Shannon's decision which deprived Pug Carvet of eight innings of shutout ball against the champions.

About 2,000 fans were unable to obtain grandstand seats and returned to town. They were the late comers and when told that standing room only was left they decided to wait for another game to see the teams perform.

It was the third straight game that Carvet acted in relief capacity.

The record attendance demonstrated that Indianapolis is strong for winning baseball. If the Indians can brace this week another big crowd can be expected on hand next Sunday.

Third Baseman Rapp played a flashy game for the Saints. Elmer Miller was again the star, riding with two doubles and a single.

An error, two walks, a double, two slams and a stolen base combined to give the Saints four runs and the game in the first inning.

GARLACH WINS TIMES TROPHY IN FAST RACE

Leads Field of Twenty-Three Stars—Wagner Makes Fastest Time.

HUNDREDS SEE EVENT

The largest crowd that has witnessed an amateur cycle race in Indianapolis for several years saw Ted Garlach, riding for the Independent Athletic club with a three-minute handicap, lead a field of twenty-three of the best riders in Indiana and Michigan home to win supreme honors in the Daily Times fifteen-mile handicap cycle derby on the Riverside park-course Sunday morning. The winner's time was 43:54.

Clarence Wagner of Terre Haute, a scratch rider, finished in second place, and Henry Price, another local boy, finished fourth and topped the third-time prize.

Art Casebeer of Indianapolis finished in third place and won second-time prize and Henry Price, another local boy, finished fourth and topped the third-time prize.

SCRATCH MEN STAGE THRILLER.

Wagner, Casebeer and Price finished in a near hot race, with Wagner leading a second behind Wagner and Price was only three-fifths of a second behind Casebeer. These three riders rode from scratch.

Officials of the race were Charles E. Wehr, superintendent of the city, and field representative of the National Cycle Trade Directorate of America, starter and referee, Oris Porter, timer, G. H. Westing, Robert Sturm, Floyd Hassler, Bob Ribble and W. Hoffman, judges.

The Cycle Trade Directorate sent Farwell here to assist Wehr and The Daily Times in putting the race over in big league style and the hundreds of speed fans who witnessed the event will admit that they fulfilled their duty to the work of Wehr, who has been active for the last three years in boosting the sport in Indianapolis.

Each of the contestants in the derby showed fine physical ability and, although many of them were new to the riding game, excellent riding judgment in the long grid resulted in a hard fight being staged among the leaders over every foot of the course.

WAGNER SPURTS AND CUTS TAPE.

The first three time prize winners stayed together from the time they accepted the signal from starter Farwell, and the judges had a task deciding which was first at the finish. They rounded the turn coming out on the home stretch neck-and-neck and held this position until they were within less than twenty yards of the finish line. Then Wagner pushed his front wheel out in front of Art Casebeer's mount and Casebeer slipped out a few inches in

Announcement of the complete list of entries for the national balloon race, to start at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Sept. 11, has been received from New York, where officials of the Aero Club of America have been busy the last few weeks in completing arrangements for the event.

The national race will serve as a preliminary event to the international match to start in this city Oct. 23 and therefore this city is sure to be the center of balloon activities for more than a month next fall.

Arrangements were made with Theodore Myers, general manager of the speedway, some time ago for the staging of the start of the big aerial races at the motor plant, and he has been informed that prominent sportsmen from all over the country are planning to come to Indianapolis in September and October to see the two races start.

In the international event to start Oct. 23, it is believed that at least five nations will be represented and the affair is sure to give Indianapolis world-wide publicity. The entries to the national race starting in September are announced from New York as follows:

Big League Stuff

With about half the crowd on its way home yesterday, the Giants staged a winning rally with two down in the ninth, winning over the Reds, 3 to 2.

Miller Huggins couldn't stand for a wild decision ruling him out after he had apparently hit a long one into the overflood crowd at Comiskey park and protested the game which the White Sox won, 3 to 0.

The Dodgers pulled a little bit ahead of the Reds by trouncing St. Louis again.

Cleveland's pennant flight was checked momentarily when the Nationals drove Jim Bagby out of the box.

The Browns almost buried the lowly Athletics under an avalanche of hits and runs.

Hoys' pitching allowed the Red Sox to nose out the Tigers.

Sale to the Washington American league club of Deby Foss and Robert Lamotte, infielders, was announced Sunday by the Tampa club of the Florida State league. The players will report to Washington as soon as they can be spared by Tampa.

Walter Johnson, veteran star pitcher of the Washington American league baseball team, left Cleveland last night for Rochester, N. Y., to consult a specialist. He has been troubled with a sore arm.

Babe Ruth hit his thirty-seventh home run of the season in St. Louis Saturday, crashing it out in the eighth inning.

Six arrests were made at the Polo grounds, New York Sunday, the prisoners being charged with betting on the game between New York and Cincinnati.

The purchase of first baseman Brower by the Washington American for $15,000 from the Reading club was announced Sunday. Brower is to report at the end of the international league season.

GREB BEATS GIBBONS.

TRISTATE NET TOURNAMENT OPENS

Hennessey and Bastian Get Even Dope Split.

FT. WAYNE, Ind., Aug. 2.—The annual tristate tennis championships opened here at the Ft. Wayne Country club this morning, with the classiest players of Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky in the fight and Indianapolis' "hope pennant" flying high in a bright prospect breeze.

Indianapolis, as usual, has sent all of her possible champions here, headed by Johnnie Hennessey and Fritz Bastian, a pair of the country's leading racquet swingers and a pair that is slated to clash in the final match next Saturday afternoon.

In the first round play today Hennessey was matched with Maurice Rahn and Bastian was to meet F. K. Ross. Hennessey is in the upper half of the draw and Bastian is in the lower half. As far as dope is concerned, Bastian is going to have the toughest going in the early rounds. Most of the favorites are grouped in the lower bracket and they are in line to make things interesting for the 1919 champ.

Several byes were passed out by the tournament committee for the first round so as to eliminate these little difficulties in the later rounds.

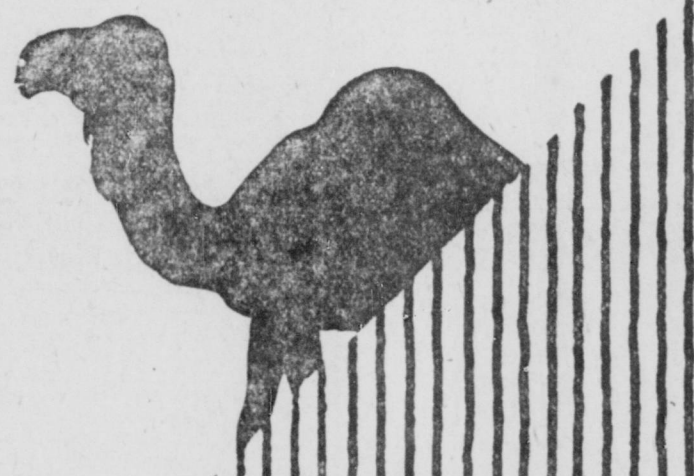

INDIANAPOLIS IN SECOND VICTORY

Johnny Hennessey and Fritz Bastian, two of the most bitter rivals in the tennis game, drew a sensible yesterday when the honor of the Indianapolis tennis world was at stake and teamed together to defeat Walter Westbrook and Keith Field, the Cleveland team, three straight matches in the intercity tennis tournament.

Hennessey and Bastian both showed that they were in great shape for play in the tri-state tournament, which was scheduled to open at Ft. Wayne today. In yesterday's play on the I. T. A. courts, (Continued on Page Ten.)

Golfers Gather at Kokomo for Annual State Title Event

New Faces Show in Place of Old Ones as Play Opens.

KOKOMO, Ind., Aug. 2.—Indiana's pride in the golfing world was gathered here today for the first eighteen qualifying holes in the Indiana state golf championship tournament. The second qualifying round will be played tomorrow and the thirty-two lowest scorers tomorrow night will be paired for play in the championship flight of what promises to be Hoosierdom's greatest golfing event.

Several of the youngest members of the golfing family, those who have been added during the last year or two, are here to try their luck in tournament play this time and upsets are due. In other words, there is lots of "dark horse" talent on deck.

Some of the players who have been going down on the books as big favorites to cop for the last five or six years are not in the field this year, being too hard pressed with business engagements or otherwise prevented from entering. Simpson, Wilbur, Lennox, Young, Sweeney, Diddel and Zimmer are among those conspicuous by their absence.

C. A. Young, J. J. Hoosier and J. C. Patton, forming the tournament committee, paired 103 contestants for the qualifying rounds shortly after the gates closed last night, but several other players were expected to report at the time this afternoon.
