

MANNIX LANDED OFF CORNWALL BY DESTROYER

Thousands of Sinn Feiners
Wait at Liverpool Docks, but Government Intervenes.

TRANSFERRED SECRETLY

LONDON, Aug. 9.—While thousands of Irishmen waited to greet him at Liverpool, Archibald Mannix of Australia was landed from a British destroyer today at Penzance, a watering place in Cornwall, according to official announcement by the government press association.

Mannix had been transferred from the Baltic, on which he sailed from New York, to the destroyer, which speeded with him to Penzance, while the liner resumed her voyage to Liverpool.

The destroyer steamed into Mounts Bay, on which Penzance is situated, at 6:15 p. m., according to the announcement.

No statement was made of the prelate's further movements, but it was unofficially understood that he started for London. Mystery surrounded the circumstances of the archbishop's transfer from the Baltic to the destroyer.

A Dublin dispatch to the Evening Telegram said the transfer was accomplished by force.

Ever since the Baltic entered British waters the Irish have been on the "give," anxious to give him a rousing welcome because of his Sinn Fein sympathies and his statements made recently in America in open advocacy of an Irish republic.

Thousands assembled at Liverpool to cheer him, and fences were built around the docks as if the government feared a riot.

There was a rumor that Mannix would be taken off at Fish Guard, but the Baltic passed that point without stopping.

The government at first did not reveal where the archbishop was taken off the Baltic.

For an hour last night, however, the liner was anchored off Queenstown, surrounded by destroyers, and it is thought the transfer may have been made then within sight of Irish soil.

HARDING SCORES ADDRESS OF COX

Calls Acceptance Speech
'Serious Mixture of Errors.'

MARION, O., Aug. 9.—Senator Harding plans a quiet week, despite the fact that acceptance formalities are set for the day for both of the candidates and the bid is set officially for the remainder of the presidential campaign.

Political conferences, work on future speeches and a motor trip or two will compose the week's routine.

Friday the State Editorial association will visit the front porch and Harding may take the opportunity to make a partial reply to Gov. Cox's acceptance speech at that time.

Will H. Hays, national chairman, is to be here tomorrow to confer with the candidate left campaign plan.

Harding still is refraining from official comment on the Cox acceptance speech, but his headquarters today heard an authoritative statement scoring the situation "as a serious mixture of errors and misstatements."

Cox, it is charged, had "distorted" facts when he charged the republican congress with having failed to make a single effort toward reducing taxation burdens.

The statement quoted figures showing the republican congress from March 4, 1919, to date, has effected an aggregate saving of nearly two and one-half billion dollars by cutting down appropriations asked for by the democratic administration.

VETERAN ACTOR WOUNDED BADLY

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—John C. McGraw, manager and vice president of the New York National League baseball club, makes his home.

Detectors later found McGraw with a swollen nose and blackened eye, received, according to friends and McGraw himself, in an altercation at the Lamba club with an unknown man.

Slavin was taken to the hospital by Winfield Liggett, a resident of the Lamba club, and a taxi cab chauffeur.

They declared Slavin's injuries a mystery to them.

BOARD MEMBERS DO NOTHING ON SOUTH MARKET

The establishment of municipal yards thereon.

He insisted that members of the city council who stated they had never had opportunity to see the plans for the municipal yards or had never been consulted as to whether they would push such a project were in error because he had called a number of conferences for that purpose and the only "faithful" (four) republican members responded.

MAJOR SAYS
HELL ACT SOON.

The mayor intimated he intends to prepare an ordinance to get the municipal yard project under way very soon.

Persons who remember circumstances existing last summer, when the mayor was getting columns of publicity on his municipal yard project in the newspaper for which he has been acting in the capacity of messenger boy recently, recall that at that particular time the school city of Indianapolis was striving to get money with which to build badly needed schoolhouses and that there finally developed the question:

"Shall we build barns for mules or school buildings for children?"

Members of the city council who have steadfastly refused to be led willy nilly by the mayor took the side of the schools in this instance, and it is thought the prospect of their determined opposition prevented the mayor from pressing his project.

DENVER CARS WILL RESUME

Tramway Company Refuses to Recognize Union.

DENVER, Aug. 9.—Normal street car service with regular employees back on the job was predicted early today by tramway officials and council for the strikers.

Tramway officials announced they would not recognize the union and would not take back the strikers in a body.

Strikers earlier declared they would not return to work under such terms.

However, an agreement apparently has been reached and today's developments promised to show which side will give in.

Cars operated by strike breakers and guarded by federal troops were running today, but there were few passengers.

Public sentiment seems to be favoring the strikers, who employ thousands walked or rode to work in jitneys rather than ride the street cars.

Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, who was expected to arrive today, will look over the local situation and his disposition of the troops of his department, it was stated.

WEST FRANKFORT
NEARLY NORMAL

Twenty Men Under Arrest and More Expected.

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill., Aug. 9.—State troops continued to patrol the street of West Frankfort today, although no evidence of a continuation of the rioting which resulted in the death of one man and the injury of sixty last week was apparent.

More than twenty men are under arrest in connection with the rioting and it is said by military authorities more arrests would follow.

The city is expected to return to normal today.

Thirty-five hundred striking miners have voted to return to work and the telephone strike which has tied up the city for the past two months, was called off.

Every effort is being made to locate the persons responsible for the murder of Amel Calcuttara and Tony Hemphill, whose mutilated bodies were found buried in shallow graves by squirrel hunters.

This double murder precipitated the riots of last week.

Authorities are also investigating the alleged existence of a black hand society which is said to have operated over a widespread area.

As yet there has been no effort to remove the soldiers from West Frankfort. They will probably remain several days.
