

PLAN HOSPITAL OPEN ALL YEAR FOR CHILDREN

Will Tear Down Old Unsightly
Buildings and Erect
New Ones.

A KID'S PARADISE

Sick, tired children from the insular tenement districts will have a year-round hospital where they can become strong again, according to tentative plans.

Situated on the banks of the canal in the very heart of the woods, the Summer Mission was built thirty years ago in one of nature's most beautiful spots.

Across the canal is the panorama of a number of lovely country homes.

Here it is planned to tear away the old unsightly buildings which mar the grounds and erect new ones.

A landscape gardener will lay out the grounds so as to display their beauty to the full extent and excursions will be constructed to harmonize with the scheme.

The hospital building equipped with every device and reinforced by a staff of trained nurses will be the big feature in the new Summer Mission.

AMUSEMENTS FOR WINTER AND SUMMER.

Children will be delighted with every imaginable apparatus for the summer months and inside amusements for the winter.

Although there is a children's ward in the City hospital this is the first children's hospital in Indianapolis, and is the first institution of its kind in the United States.

Since 1880, when Oscar McCullough founded the first cottage which bears his name, every year during June, July and August, hundreds of children and mothers were out with the family.

The mortality rate has been reduced from 80 to 10 per cent during August within twenty-five years, through the work of the organization.

The education of mothers to take better care of the babies is one of the outstanding features.

Trained nurses explain to the mothers how to care for their babies and how to feed them.

Older children from 5 to 12 years are usually given outings of ten days, but where their condition necessitates it may be allowed to remain longer.

Each child making an application is given a physical examination which eliminates contagion at the mission, and furnishes a record for use by his parents.

PARENTS HELPED TO PROVIDE TREATMENT.

The parents are assisted in procuring surgical services if the child is in need of them.

Invariably the children show the benefits of plenty of play, nights of refreshing sleep and an abundance of wholesome food and milk.

Only sixty children can be accommodated at one time, and twenty-five or thirty babies in the hospital, and every year a number of children who need the fresh air can not be cared for.

Since June 21 the Summer Mission has cared for 217 children and their mothers.

The outings to the Summer Mission linger in the minds of many children as the one happy period of a scorching season.

"Don't want to go home," is the universal decree of kiddies when the time comes for them to leave.

"I never saw so many green stuff before," one little boy told the playground instructor.

A wee tot of four said the grass was a different kind of "sawdust" from the coal he had at home, which was "awful hot."

Acquaintance with swings, marbles and sand piles is made for the first time by lots of the kiddies.

BOTH HOUSES FACE QUESTION OF SUFFRAGE

the resolution was introduced until 10 a. m. Wednesday.

The caption of the resolution of Speaker Todd is:

"A joint resolution ratifying a proposed amendment to the constitution of the United States, providing that the right of citizens to vote shall not be denied, or abridged, by the United States, or by any state on account of sex, and providing further that congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation."

ANTI-SUFFRAGISTS DO NOT SWAY COX

DAYTON, O., Aug. 10.—A group of anti-suffragists who tried to sway Gov. James M. Cox away from suffrage ratification today realized they failed.

Gov. Cox told them he was going to stand pat.

He talked to the anti-suffrage group at length and said he was going to do everything he could to get the Tennessee legislature to ratify.

Just before he started on a horseback ride early today through his estate, the governor said he would stand firmly with the women who were endeavoring to get suffrage across in Tennessee and that he was confident that congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

Then he jumped into the saddle, gave a spur to his big mount, The Governor, a fine stallion, and started chasing a rabbit across the fields.

He had a hard two hours' ride before breakfast and said he was getting himself in physical trim for the campaign ahead of him, without thinking of political issues.

The governor said he would leave here Wednesday night and there would be no letup from that moment.

Gov. Cox went this morning to a little booth at Carmont, near Traill's End, where he cast his vote in the primary fight.

He supported W. A. Julian of Cincinnati, candidate for the special session of the United States senate.

Cox also marked his ballot in support of Victor Donahue, the present auditor of the state of Ohio, who is running this year for governor.

After voting, he went to his office and answered much of the correspondence accumulated there.

He will go to Columbus Wednesday night and motor from there to Camp Perry.

Friday night, according to present plans, he will start by automobile for Wheeling, W. Va. where he is scheduled to deliver two speeches on Saturday.

N. C. GOVERNOR DOES NOT MENTION SUFFRAGE

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 10.—Gov. Rick-ett's message to the special session of the North Carolina legislature today dealt exclusively with state matters and made no reference to the suffrage amendment. A message which was sent on the suffrage amendment Thursday, it was announced.

Directs Campaign

SCOTT BREWER.

The campaign for 50,000 rooms to private homes for the G. A. R. national encampment here, Sept. 19-25, is being carried out under the direction of Scott Brewer, chairman of the housing committee.

Headquarters of the committee have been established in room 701, Chamber of Commerce building.

More than 100,000 persons are expected to come to Indianapolis for the encampment, many of them veterans of the civil war.

In order to accommodate such a number of persons, it is essential that rooms in private homes be obtained.

Mr. Brewer has announced the 22-point plan of eleven additional members of his committee, as follows: Elyse Q. Hendricks, Richard Habbie, Joe R. Beck, Albert Stump, Remstar A. Blingham, Lloyd C. Combe, Joseph A. Minner, Thomas G. Gardin, Sidney Miller, Theodore L. Locke and George L. Clark.

The committee met at noon today at the Chamber of Commerce to make further plans for the campaign to obtain rooms.

According to tentative plans, every club, fraternal order and business organization in the city will be appealed to to co-operate in the work.

VILLA QUILTS BANDIT LIFE; TO BE FARMER

several swallows—without a chase—he passed the flock and it went from hand to hand and from lip to lip around the circle and eventually back to Villa again.

TURN AT BOTTLE.

After Pancho had enjoyed his second turn at the bottle, he sent it on its journey again and said, with a characteristic smile:

"I'm ready now to embrace my worst enemies."

The gulp was appreciated by the federal officers, who were quick to laugh loudly and manifest the utmost friendliness for the "scourge of Chihuahua," the man who made his name a terror to government for years.

Then turning to the United Press correspondent, Villa said, in a very confident manner:

"I don't want any more enemies—only friends."

Later he made a more formal statement, which followed:

"Mexico and the Mexicans, including myself, are tired fighting. It is best now to settle down and go to work."

"I'm eager to show that I can work as well as fight. I'm a soldier and I am ready to obey orders."

The last sentence he emphasized with a low bow and a sweeping gesture to Gen. Martinez, who responded with another bow.

Gen. Martinez later in the week will have charge of the demobilization of the Villista troops.

Each man is to be given a small ranch.

Villa will be given a large ranch and a personal body guard of fifty of his men, whom he will select and who will be on the government pay roll.

Villa today expressed himself as anxious to have the ceremonies over, so he can settle down to the simple life of a gentleman rancher and take things easy for the rest of his days.

BANDIT GETS BIG OVATION.

Villa received one of the greatest ovations of his career when he rode back to Mexico City.

The news of the arrival had spread and a crowd estimated at 3,000 people came rushing into the plaza where they welcomed the former bandit with a chorus of lusty "vivas."

Forcing his way through the throng, Villa was nearly overcome by his emotions.

He finally was moved to make a very eloquent speech, which was wildly cheered.

The main theme of Villa's speech was that the people ought to forget politics and go back to work. He said that he had set them a good example.

Villa was attired in riding breeches, leather leggings reaching above the knees, a cotton jacket and a huge sombrero.

Shortly after his arrival he discarded the straw for a handsome felt hat of American make which was presented to him by his admirers.

Despite the fact he now is 45 years old and he and his men had ridden on the last leg of their journey for twenty-four hours across the desert without water, Villa appeared to be in the best of condition.

To Get Strong and Put on Flesh

People who have tried it say that one of the quickest and surest ways in which those who are weak, thin, nervous and run down can grow strong and put on pounds of solid stay-the-flesh is to take a 3-grain tablet of Blood-Iron Phosphate with each meal. This is doubtless due to the well known fact that Blood-Iron Phosphate quickly builds up depleted strength and gets back the vitality and strength necessary to make rich, old time vigor, endurance and optimism go to Hags, Hook, Hinder or any other good druggist and get enough Blood-Iron Phosphate to last three weeks and take as directed. If at the end of three weeks you don't feel one hundred per cent better and strong in every way satisfied you can have your money back for the asking. For, isn't it? Better try it today.

Woman Found in River.

One of the roomers was a friend of Mrs. Caille's son-in-law, and is thought to be W. J. O'Donnell of Buffalo.

A post-mortem examination revealed slight traces of alcohol in Mrs. Caille's stomach and the heart showed slight apoplexy.

Police are working on the theory that the woman was murdered by poison and her body thrown into the river several hours before it was discovered.

Physicians believe the woman took her own life.

HIGHER POWER RATES DENIED

Commission Finds Against Kokomo Utility.

Declaring that the company now is earning income in excess of what is allowable on depreciation and cost of operation of its plant, in the furnishing of power, the public service commission has denied the petition of the Indiana Railways and Light Company of Kokomo for increase in power rates.

The company furnishes power to Kokomo and a number of smaller towns in Howard and other counties adjacent, and in addition operates an interurban railway connecting Marion and Frankfort, a street railway system in Kokomo, and a steam heating plant in the city of Kokomo.

The company was recently granted an increase in passenger fares on its interurban line, making the rate 3 cents per mile.

An increase was also granted recently in the steam heating rates of the company.

In the petition for an increase in the rates of its power, the company was asking for a sliding scale, making the rates adjustable to the increase and decrease in the price of coal.

The hearing was conducted in Kokomo July 29, before Fred Bates Johnson, a member of the public service commission.

Commenting on the denial for the increase in power rates the order of the commission states:

"The commission is not inclined to authorize any increase in power rates, and finds from the evidence in the present record, that the present rates for power are adequate and that the petition should be denied."

The order shows that the company now is getting an net income in excess of the proper amount for depreciation and return on the value of the property.

The report of Commissioner Johnson was concurred in by Commissioners Lewis and McCord.

Commissioners Haynes and VanAuker were absent and filed no opinion.

The senator is going right ahead with his campaign here, in accordance with his own personal plans and no change in those plans need be anticipated by republican leaders who have been urging the senator to leave his front porch to speak elsewhere during the coming month.

The senator is well satisfied not only with the progress his front porch campaign is making, but with reports he is receiving daily from all parts of the country as to the political situation in different states and sections, it was explained.

He is now at work on a series of speeches he will deliver in the near future, and his associates here say will have "plenty of punch" to them.
