

HARDING STICKS
TO FRONT PORCH*'All Reports to Contrary Are Silly,' Says He.

MARION, O., Aug. 18.—Senator Warren G. Harding, republican nominee for to attend today the annual picnic of the lumbermen of the Marion district at Lincoln park here.

The senator said he probably would deliver a short informal address to the lumbermen, among whom were numbered lifelong friends.

His "keynote" address of the week, however, was to be delivered tomorrow, when present and former members of the Ohio state assembly are to gather at the front porch.

"I trust it will be now generally understood that my front porch campaign is to go on," the senator said.

"All reports to the contrary are, of course, silly."

It was said at the candidate's headquarters that yesterday's conference between him and Republican National Chairman Will H. Hays, Senator Harry S. New of Indiana, chairman of the republican speakers' bureau, and other republican leaders, had resulted in a speaking campaign for the senator being mapped out, which would fit in with his front porch campaign.

Senator Harding's campaign will be conducted in accord with the dignity of one who aspires to the high office of the United States," Senator New said.

"Of course he will deliver a number of important addresses at important centers of population."

"That has been his plan since he was nominated."

"I am only speaking for myself when I say we care not for the antics of Gov. Cox, nor do we believe the American people care for the antics of a whirling dervish."

"We do not think they want 'Jimmie' in the whitehouse."

May Impress Homes
as Public Utility

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 18.—Homes may be impressed as a public utility if landlords do not act of their own accord to prevent rent profiteering, according to Gov. F. O. Lowden, Illinois.

The governor's warning was issued to a committee of real estate men to argue against calling a special session of the state legislature to frame a law to prevent such profiteering.

Tenants' organizations from Chicago urged appointment of a commission similar to the public utilities commission to determine rates.

FRENCH SOLDIERS
KILL 9 GERMANS*26 Wounded When Hun Strikers Attack Guards.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Nine Germans, including two officers of the security police and a French trooper, were killed in a clash between strikers and French soldiers at Kattowitz, in upper Silesia, said a Reuter dispatch from Berlin today.

The fighting started when German workers who had gone on strike against the handling of Polish munitions attacked the French, killing a French soldier.

The French turned machine guns against the Germans and used grenades. In addition to the dead twenty-six men were wounded.

Dr. Milowak, a lawyer and leader of the Poles at Kattowitz, threw a grenade from the window of his home.

He was dragged out and killed in the street.

The Kattowitz police threw down their arms and made no effort to restore order, it was said.

After a period of sharp fighting French officers conferred with the leaders of the strikers and the French troops were withdrawn.

'PONZIED'

UNDER ARREST*Man Who Made Big Profits Charged With Larceny.

BOSTON, Aug. 18.—The second important arrest in the Ponzi mystery was made today when Henry T. H. Nelson of Cambridge, one of Ponzi's chief agents, surrendered to the police.

A warrant charging him with the larceny of $500 was immediately served.

Nelson's arrest was considered next in importance to that of Ponzi himself.

It was reported that Nelson made huge profits by "investing" with Ponzi and by acting as Ponzi's agent, for which, it was said, he received substantial commissions.

Judge James Norton of the United States district court was expected today to appoint a receiver for Charles Ponzi, "the bushel basket millionaire."

According to a number of rumors today James M. Swift of Fall River, former attorney general of Massachusetts, will be named as the receiver.

Ponzi was still in the East Cambridge jail.

CORK VOLUNTEERS
WITHOUT LEADER*South Ireland Blockade Slows Down Industry.

DUBLIN, Aug. 18.—Twenty thousand well-armed and restless Sinn Féin volunteers in County Cork have been left without a commander with the arrest of Lord Mayor McSwiney and ten Sinn Féin associates in the city of Cork.

The fact that the Cork volunteers—mostly young men—have been deprived of cool-headed leadership and the increasing blockade of south Ireland against Ulster were regarded today as two of the most critical factors in the Irish situation.

Many of the hot-headed young Cork volunteers are said to be clamoring for a campaign in the field against the British soldiers and a movement to disarm them may be started by the British military authorities to prevent serious trouble.

The Belfast press is belittling the blockade of south Ireland, but the effect is being seen.

The biggest soap making factory in Belfast works only three days a week.

The biggest bakery in the city has reduced its working force nearly one-third.

Wholesale dry goods firms at Belfast admit a falling off in orders.

Sinn Féin leaders say they are forcing England out of Ireland without actual civil war and they can force Ulster into a united Ireland by similar methods.
