

INJURIES FAIL TO STOP AMERICANS IN GRADUAL MARCH TOWARD HONORS AT ANTWERP

CANADIAN SETS NEW MARK IN HURDLE EVENT

Thompson Leaps Sticks in 14.45 Seconds at Olympic Games.

YANKEES STILL STRONG

Yanks Have 102 Points

ANTWERP, Aug. 18.—In vital spots by new injuries, the American Olympic team continued today to roll up an overwhelming record in the seventh Olympiad, with Finland second, and the end of the day the point score among the leaders was: United States, 102; Finland, 46; Sweden, 27; England, 24.

New additions to the casualty list today swept aside points that practically had been counted in the American column. Worst of these was an injury to Pat McDonald's hand. The big New York traffic cop was unable to do better than fourth in the shotput. William Plant of New York was forced to withdraw from the 10,000-meter walk when he strained a groin.

The injury to Sol Butler in his attempt to throw the shotput, which probably deprived America of first place in that event, which was taken by a Swede.

There was some good news for the athletes, however, when Jole Ray, the Chicago distance runner, qualified for the 1,000-meter run.

Twelve events have now been finished and Americans have landed in front in one-third of them.

ANTWERP, Belgium, Aug. 18.—Earl Thompson, Canada, set a new world's record here today for the 110-meter hurdles when he won the event in 14.45 seconds.

Patrick J. Ryan of the Loughlin Lyceum, New York, won the sixteen-pound hammer throw with a toss of 52.83 meters. B. B. Bennett of Chicago was second, and Matt McGrath, New York Athletic club, finished third. Ryan's hammer toss was considerably under the record.

YANK FAILS IN SHOTPUT

Pat McDonald of the New York Athletic club took a bad beating in the shotput. The event was won by Ville of Finland, with a toss of 30.12 meters.

Second, H. D. Livergood of the navy saved a few points for the American team when he finished third. Nicklander of Finland was fourth; Hammer of Sweden, fifth; Filson, Sweden, sixth, and McDonald, seventh.

Sweden won the broad jump, Peterson of that team making a toss of 13.07 meters. They were Mike Nevamey, New York; Patrick Flynn, New York; A. L. Hulsebeck, New York, and R. B. Watson, of the Kansas State Agricultural college.

Fridero, of Italy, won the 10,000 meter walk, with J. B. Pearson, New York, in second place. Dunn of England was third; McMaster, South Africa, fourth; Williams, England, fifth, and T. A. Maroney, New York, sixth.

GARY WRESTLER WINS IN TRIALS.

In the first heat of the wrestling, the Americans won two bouts. Willie of the navy defeated Struna of Czechoslovakia in 25 minutes; Fridman of Finland p. won down Gallery of the United States navy in 2 minutes, 20 seconds; Kalkonen, Finland, beat Vorne of Chicago in 7 minutes; Metropoulos, Gary, Ind., defeated Youvoukas of Greece in 25 minutes; Jansen of Belgium beat Knight of the United States navy in 1 minute, 38 seconds.

M. J. McGrath, New York, injured his knee in the hammer trials and may not be able to take part in the finals of that event or in the 56-pound weight contest in which he was entered.

WIGGINS VS. GREB.

Chuck Wiggins, local light heavyweight, will have a chance of demonstrating his speed Friday night at Kalamazoo, Mich., when he meets Harry Greb of Pittsburgh. The pair are scheduled to box ten rounds. The coming contest is the third meeting between Greb and Wiggins, Greb having the honor of shading Chuck on two occasions before. Wiggins made his trip to Australia, where he won numerous bouts and improved in all departments of the ring art.

Big League Stuff

A ninth-inning rally won one game for the Phillies, but a second rally fell short of victory in the other. The Giants took the first, 5 to 7, and the Phillies the second, 3 to 2, in Tuesday's twin bill.

Ferdie Schupp was a little comrade of the Pirates. They smacked him faithfully, piling up a lead the Cardinals could not overcome, and won, 10 to 6.

Had Eller may regret the loss of his shiner, but he has found something just as good, for he beat the Cubs, 3 to 2.

St. Louis whipped the Nationals, 7 to 2, but were not so good in the second game, which was lost in the eleventh, 6 to 10.

The Red Sox and Tigers divided a twin matinee, Boston winning the first, 4 to 3, and Detroit the second, 3 to 1.

The Detroit Americans have secured the services of Pitcher George Cunningham of the Chattanooga Southern association club. It was announced Tuesday, Cunningham probably will report at the close of the Southern season.

The New York club of the National league announced Tuesday the following list of players released to various minor league clubs and upon which the club has exercised the right to recall: James C. Garton, Reynolds C. Kelly, Fred Lee and W. Perritt, released to San Antonio club; Robert F. Kinsella, Virgil Barnes, J. J. Bowen and Albert J. White, released to Rochester club; H. W. Burfield, James B. McQuade and George Armstrong, released to Waterbury club; Sterling Stryker, W. D. Ryan and Bunney Hearn, released to Toronto club.

President McCaffery of the Toronto International baseball club, announced Tuesday that Pitcher Pat Shea had been sold to the New York club of the National league and would report at the end of the International league season.

Pitchers Joe Gleason and Gus Bono of the Shreveport team of the Texas league have been sold to the Washington Americans under an optional agreement, it was announced Tuesday.

John Evers, acting manager of the Giants, Tuesday was notified by President John A. Heydler of the National league that he had been suspended two days for an argument last Saturday at the Polo grounds with Umpire Klem. Evers Young was fined $50 by direction of the president for shaking an umpire who declined to talk with him over a decision.

Large Crowd Sees Clever Ring Show Staged at Speedway

Saylor and Abel in Fast Ten-Round Feature on Soldier Card.

As proof that Indianapolis wants boxing, approximately 5,000 persons made their way to the Speedway aviation depot last night via touring car, street car and army truck to witness the show staged for the benefit of the Enlisted Men's club.

The crowd was treated to one of the most attractive boxing shows ever staged in Indianapolis for some time, the card including a battle royal, several slugging bouts between soldiers given the benefit of a ten-round exhibition between Jake Abel, claimant of the welterweight championship of the south, and Arthur Saylor, local welter.

Abel, who has battled the best fighters of his weight in the country, opened the night with a knock-out victory over last night and out-classed Saylor in the majority of rounds, but the Indianapolis boxer was in there mixing things up all the way and won several hearty rounds of applause for his willingness to go.

Saylor demonstrated his famous "Kangaroo punch" at every opportunity and there were times when things became interesting enough to bring the ringersiders to their feet.

Tony Dalton of Indianapolis stopped Young Sweeney of Peoria, Ill., in the second round of their scheduled six-round bout. These boys traveled a fast clip until Sweeney "dropped" Dalton.

Private Johnson successfully defended his title as the camp wrestling champion when he threw Private Eberhart in two minutes.

Private Johnson successfully defended his title as the camp wrestling champion when he threw Private Eberhart in two minutes.

Private Johnson successfully defended his title as the camp wrestling champion when he threw Private Eberhart in two minutes.

Private Johnson successfully defended his title as the camp wrestling champion when he threw Private Eberhart in two minutes.

Private Johnson successfully defended his title as the camp wrestling champion when he threw Private Eberhart in two minutes.

Private Johnson successfully defended his title as the camp wrestling champion when he threw Private Eberhart in two minutes.

Private Johnson successfully defended his title as the camp wrestling champion when he threw Private Eberhart in two minutes.

Private Johnson successfully defended his title as the camp wrestling champion when he threw Private Eberhart in two minutes.

Private Johnson successfully defended his title as the camp wrestling champion when he threw Private Eberhart in two minutes.

Private Johnson successfully defended his title as the camp wrestling champion when he threw Private Eberhart in two minutes.

Private Johnson successfully defended his title as the camp wrestling champion when he threw Private Eberhart in two minutes.

Private Johnson successfully defended his title as the camp wrestling champion when he threw Private Eberhart in two minutes.

Private Johnson successfully defended his title as the camp wrestling champion when he threw Private Eberhart in two minutes.

Private Johnson successfully defended his title as the camp wrestling champion when he threw Private Eberhart in two minutes.

Private Johnson successfully defended his title as the camp wrestling champion when he threw Private Eberhart in two minutes.

Private Johnson successfully defended his title as the camp wrestling champion when he threw Private Eberhart in two minutes.

Private Johnson successfully defended his title as the camp wrestling champion when he threw Private Eberhart in two minutes.

Private Johnson successfully defended his title as the camp wrestling champion when he threw Private Eberhart in two minutes.

Private Johnson successfully defended his title as the camp wrestling champion when he threw Private Eberhart in two minutes.

Private Johnson successfully defended his title as the camp wrestling champion when he threw Private Eberhart in two minutes.

Private Johnson successfully defended his title as the camp wrestling champion when he threw Private Eberhart in two minutes.

Private Johnson successfully defended his title as the camp wrestling champion when he threw Private Eberhart in two minutes.

Private Johnson successfully defended his title as the camp wrestling champion when he threw Private Eberhart in two minutes.

Private Johnson successfully defended his title as the camp wrestling champion when he threw Private Eberhart in two minutes.

Private Johnson successfully defended his title as the camp wrestling champion when he threw Private Eberhart in two minutes.

Private Johnson successfully defended his title as the camp wrestling champion when he threw Private Eberhart in two minutes.

League Officials Act to Prevent Strike Move Over 'Bean Ball' Charge

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Officials of organized baseball today were planning to prevent carrying out of the reported threat of Boston and Detroit players to take action in reprisal against Carl Mays, Yankee pitcher, as a result of the death of Ray Chapman, whose skull was fractured by a ball pitched by Mays.

Members of the Washington and St. Louis teams of the American league were also reported to be considering a "strike" in protest against Mays' pitching. It was believed the four protesting teams might appeal to other American league clubs to join in the threatened "strike."

Mays was exonerated by local authorities when he told the district attorney's office details of the accident to Chapman, which resulted in the shortstop's death. Mays said he had pitched a fast straight ball aimed for the inside of the plate with no intention of hitting the player.

He said he looked at the ball after the accident and found that it was slightly roughened on one side. He showed the ball to the umpire, he said, and called the umpire's attention to the spot. He said the roughening probably caused Chapman's death, as it made the ball "swirl" or take a freakish jump which the batter was unable to follow.

Members of the Washington and St. Louis teams of the American league were also reported to be considering a "strike" in protest against Mays' pitching. It was believed the four protesting teams might appeal to other American league clubs to join in the threatened "strike."

Mays was exonerated by local authorities when he told the district attorney's office details of the accident to Chapman, which resulted in the shortstop's death. Mays said he had pitched a fast straight ball aimed for the inside of the plate with no intention of hitting the player.

He said he looked at the ball after the accident and found that it was slightly roughened on one side. He showed the ball to the umpire, he said, and called the umpire's attention to the spot. He said the roughening probably caused Chapman's death, as it made the ball "swirl" or take a freakish jump which the batter was unable to follow.

Members of the Washington and St. Louis teams of the American league were also reported to be considering a "strike" in protest against Mays' pitching. It was believed the four protesting teams might appeal to other American league clubs to join in the threatened "strike."

Mays was exonerated by local authorities when he told the district attorney's office details of the accident to Chapman, which resulted in the shortstop's death. Mays said he had pitched a fast straight ball aimed for the inside of the plate with no intention of hitting the player.

He said he looked at the ball after the accident and found that it was slightly roughened on one side. He showed the ball to the umpire, he said, and called the umpire's attention to the spot. He said the roughening probably caused Chapman's death, as it made the ball "swirl" or take a freakish jump which the batter was unable to follow.

Members of the Washington and St. Louis teams of the American league were also reported to be considering a "strike" in protest against Mays' pitching. It was believed the four protesting teams might appeal to other American league clubs to join in the threatened "strike."

Mays was exonerated by local authorities when he told the district attorney's office details of the accident to Chapman, which resulted in the shortstop's death. Mays said he had pitched a fast straight ball aimed for the inside of the plate with no intention of hitting the player.

He said he looked at the ball after the accident and found that it was slightly roughened on one side. He showed the ball to the umpire, he said, and called the umpire's attention to the spot. He said the roughening probably caused Chapman's death, as it made the ball "swirl" or take a freakish jump which the batter was unable to follow.

Members of the Washington and St. Louis teams of the American league were also reported to be considering a "strike" in protest against Mays' pitching. It was believed the four protesting teams might appeal to other American league clubs to join in the threatened "strike."

Mays was exonerated by local authorities when he told the district attorney's office details of the accident to Chapman, which resulted in the shortstop's death. Mays said he had pitched a fast straight ball aimed for the inside of the plate with no intention of hitting the player.

He said he looked at the ball after the accident and found that it was slightly roughened on one side. He showed the ball to the umpire, he said, and called the umpire's attention to the spot. He said the roughening probably caused Chapman's death, as it made the ball "swirl" or take a freakish jump which the batter was unable to follow.

Members of the Washington and St. Louis teams of the American league were also reported to be considering a "strike" in protest against Mays' pitching. It was believed the four protesting teams might appeal to other American league clubs to join in the threatened "strike."

Mays was exonerated by local authorities when he told the district attorney's office details of the accident to Chapman, which resulted in the shortstop's death. Mays said he had pitched a fast straight ball aimed for the inside of the plate with no intention of hitting the player.

He said he looked at the ball after the accident and found that it was slightly roughened on one side. He showed the ball to the umpire, he said, and called the umpire's attention to the spot. He said the roughening probably caused Chapman's death, as it made the ball "swirl" or take a freakish jump which the batter was unable to follow.

Members of the Washington and St. Louis teams of the American league were also reported to be considering a "strike" in protest against Mays' pitching. It was believed the four protesting teams might appeal to other American league clubs to join in the threatened "strike."

Mays was exonerated by local authorities when he told the district attorney's office details of the accident to Chapman, which resulted in the shortstop's death. Mays said he had pitched a fast straight ball aimed for the inside of the plate with no intention of hitting the player.

He said he looked at the ball after the accident and found that it was slightly roughened on one side. He showed the ball to the umpire, he said, and called the umpire's attention to the spot. He said the roughening probably caused Chapman's death, as it made the ball "swirl" or take a freakish jump which the batter was unable to follow.

Members of the Washington and St. Louis teams of the American league were also reported to be considering a "strike" in protest against Mays' pitching. It was believed the four protesting teams might appeal to other American league clubs to join in the threatened "strike."

Mays was exonerated by local authorities when he told the district attorney's office details of the accident to Chapman, which resulted in the shortstop's death. Mays said he had pitched a fast straight ball aimed for the inside of the plate with no intention of hitting the player.

He said he looked at the ball after the accident and found that it was slightly roughened on one side. He showed the ball to the umpire, he said, and called the umpire's attention to the spot. He said the roughening probably caused Chapman's death, as it made the ball "swirl" or take a freakish jump which the batter was unable to follow.

Members of the Washington and St. Louis teams of the American league were also reported to be considering a "strike" in protest against Mays' pitching. It was believed the four protesting teams might appeal to other American league clubs to join in the threatened "strike."

Mays was exonerated by local authorities when he told the district attorney's office details of the accident to Chapman, which resulted in the shortstop's death. Mays said he had pitched a fast straight ball aimed for the inside of the plate with no intention of hitting the player.

He said he looked at the ball after the accident and found that it was slightly roughened on one side. He showed the ball to the umpire, he said, and called the umpire's attention to the spot. He said the roughening probably caused Chapman's death, as it made the ball "swirl" or take a freakish jump which the batter was unable to follow.

Members of the Washington and St. Louis teams of the American league were also reported to be considering a "strike" in protest against Mays' pitching. It was believed the four protesting teams might appeal to other American league clubs to join in the threatened "strike."

Mays was exonerated by local authorities when he told the district attorney's office details of the accident to Chapman, which resulted in the shortstop's death. Mays said he had pitched a fast straight ball aimed for the inside of the plate with no intention of hitting the player.

He said he looked at the ball after the accident and found that it was slightly roughened on one side. He showed the ball to the umpire, he said, and called the umpire's attention to the spot. He said the roughening probably caused Chapman's death, as it made the ball "swirl" or take a freakish jump which the batter was unable to follow.

Members of the Washington and St. Louis teams of the American league were also reported to be considering a "strike" in protest against Mays' pitching. It was believed the four protesting teams might appeal to other American league clubs to join in the threatened "strike."

MAYS ASSERTS DEATH THROW ONLY ORDINARY

Did Not Aim at Chapman, He Says, and Desires to Convince Critics.

WILL REMAIN IN GAME

BY H. C. HAMILTON, International News Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Grief-stricken Carl Mays declared here today he will face accusations that he is a "bean ball" pitcher on the diamond.

The fact that shortstop Ray Chapman of Cleveland died from injuries he received when struck by a ball pitched by Mays will not keep the Yankee star out of the game, Mays, a college graduate, intelligent, made a calm analysis of his own case.

"Any man who believes a pitcher deliberately would throw a ball at another's head in a ball game is foolish," he said.

Even if such a thing were done it is difficult for me to see how that pitcher could believe he would hit the man at whom he was aiming.

"I know, and so does any one who gives the matter serious thought, that poor Chapman was killed because he did not get out of the way of the ball that was practically certain to hit him. He crowded the plate. By standing close he made me pitch in a narrow space. The ball that hit him was a fast one, not a curve. A slight move would have saved Chapman."

"My grief over the accident is great, but it is something that could not be helped. I intend to remain in baseball and show the fans that things which have been said about me are either unfounded or ill advised."

Whether a new baseball war will develop from the accident, probably will become known today, when players of the Detroit and Boston clubs discuss further their intention that they would ask Ban Johnson, president of the American league, to bar Mays from baseball.

It is known here that the New York club will go the limit to back Mays against any action that may be taken. Officials of the club are convinced that Mays has been unusually unfortunate and are not going to allow this incident to force him from the game if they can prevent.

Cleveland ball players, to a man, absolve Mays from blame. There are a few who have taken the occasion to recall that Mays has been charged in the past with being a "bean ball" pitcher, but they admit and praise the fact that he has done no pitching of that sort this season.

Before leaving for Cleveland with Mrs. Chapman and the body of the dead athlete, Trip Speaker, manager of the Cleveland Indians, said he would try to prevent any action in the Cleveland club against Mays. He was expected to issue a statement in Cleveland.

BAN AWAITS FULL REPORT

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Ban Johnson, president of the American league, last night said he could make no statement concerning the future status of Carl Mays until he had more complete reports, when informed of the reported intention of the Boston and Detroit teams to ask that the New York pitcher be banished because of the death of Ray Chapman.

President Johnson said he knew of no way by which Owen Bush, shortstop of the Detroit team, could be transferred to Cleveland, a procedure which Bush suggested in Boston last night.

"It is past the time when sales or trades can be made between clubs," said President Johnson, and a loan of a player to a pennant contender would never be sanctioned by the other clubs. The whole affair is a most unfortunate one, but I can see no way that any one club can help Cleveland in its emergency."

Horr Is Checker Champ

SANDUSKY, O., Aug. 18.—J. F. Horr of Buffalo won the American checker championship at Cedar Point Tuesday when he defeated J. F. Bradford of Cleveland, in the finals. Horr secured one draw and one win from Bradford.

Horr qualified for the finals only after fourteen hours' semi-finals play with Alfred Jordache of Los Angeles. Horr wins the championship gold medal and a cash prize of $200.

LEAGUE STANDINGS AND CALENDAR

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION. W. L. Pct. St. Paul, 30 36 .450 Milwaukee, 29 37 .438 Indianapolis, 28 38 .426 Louisville, 27 39 .410 Toledo, 26 40 .396 Columbus, 25 41 .380 Kansas City, 24 42 .364 Minneapolis, 23 43 .348

AMERICAN LEAGUE. W. L. Pct. St. Louis, 30 36 .450 Washington, 29 37 .438 Cleveland, 28 38 .426 Chicago, 27 39 .410 New York, 26 40 .396 Detroit, 25 41 .380 Philadelphia, 24 42 .364 St. Louis, 23 43 .348

NATIONAL LEAGUE. W. L. Pct. Cincinnati, 30 36 .450 Pittsburgh, 29 37 .438 Brooklyn, 28 38 .426 St. Louis, 27 39 .410 New York, 26 40 .396 Philadelphia, 25 41 .380 Chicago, 24 42 .364

THREE-I LEAGUE. W. L. Pct. Bloomington, 30 36 .450 Evansville, 29 37 .438 Terre Haute, 28 38 .426 Peoria, 27 39 .410 Rockford, 26 40 .396 Cedar Rapids, 25 41 .380

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION. W. L. Pct. St. Paul, 30 36 .450 Milwaukee, 29 37 .438 Indianapolis, 28 38 .426 Louisville, 27 39 .410 Toledo, 26 40 .396 Columbus, 25 41 .380 Kansas City, 24 42 .364 Minneapolis, 23 43 .348

AMERICAN LEAGUE. W. L. Pct. St. Louis, 30 36 .450 Washington, 29 37 .438 Cleveland, 28 38 .426 Chicago, 27 39 .410 New York, 26 40 .396 Detroit, 25 41 .380 Philadelphia, 24 42 .364 St. Louis, 23 43 .348

NATIONAL LEAGUE. W. L. Pct. Cincinnati, 30 36 .450 Pittsburgh, 29 37 .438 Brooklyn, 28 38 .426 St. Louis, 27 39 .410 New York, 26 40 .396 Philadelphia, 25 41 .380 Chicago, 24 42 .364

THREE-I LEAGUE. W. L. Pct. Bloomington, 30 36 .450 Evansville, 29 37 .438 Terre Haute, 28 38 .426 Peoria, 27 39 .410 Rockford, 26 40 .396 Cedar Rapids, 25 41 .380

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION. W. L. Pct. St. Paul, 30 36 .450 Milwaukee, 29 37 .438 Indianapolis, 28 38 .426 Louisville, 27 39 .410 Toledo, 26 40 .396 Columbus, 25 41 .380 Kansas City, 24 42 .364 Minneapolis, 23 43 .348

AMERICAN LEAGUE. W. L. Pct. St. Louis, 30 36 .450 Washington, 29 37 .438 Cleveland, 28 38 .426 Chicago, 27 39 .410 New York, 26 40 .396 Detroit, 25 41 .380 Philadelphia, 24 42 .364 St. Louis, 23 43 .348

NATIONAL LEAGUE. W. L. Pct. Cincinnati, 30 36 .450 Pittsburgh, 29 37 .438 Brooklyn, 28 38 .426 St. Louis, 27 39 .410 New York, 26 40 .396 Philadelphia, 25 41 .380 Chicago, 24 42 .364

THREE-I LEAGUE. W. L. Pct. Bloomington, 30 36 .450 Evansville, 29 37 .438 Terre Haute, 28 38 .426 Peoria, 27 39 .410 Rockford, 26 40 .396 Cedar Rapids, 25 41 .380

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION. W. L. Pct. St. Paul, 30 36 .450 Milwaukee, 29 37 .438 Indianapolis, 28 38 .426 Louisville, 27 39 .410 Toledo, 26 40 .396 Columbus, 25 41 .380 Kansas City, 24 42 .364 Minneapolis, 23 43 .348

AMERICAN LEAGUE. W. L. Pct. St. Louis, 30 36 .450 Washington, 29 37 .438 Cleveland, 28 38 .426 Chicago, 27 39 .410 New York, 26 40 .396 Detroit, 25 41 .380 Philadelphia, 24 42 .364 St. Louis, 23 43 .348

NATIONAL LEAGUE. W. L. Pct. Cincinnati, 30 36 .450 Pittsburgh, 29 37 .438 Brooklyn, 28 38 .426 St. Louis, 27 39 .410 New York, 26 40 .396 Philadelphia, 25 41 .380 Chicago, 24 42 .364

THREE-I LEAGUE. W. L. Pct. Bloomington, 30 36 .450 Evansville, 29 37 .438 Terre Haute, 28 38 .426 Peoria, 27 39 .410 Rockford, 26 40 .396 Cedar Rapids, 25 41 .380

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION. W. L. Pct. St. Paul, 30 36 .450 Milwaukee, 29 37 .438 Indianapolis, 28 38 .426 Louisville, 27 39 .410 Toledo, 26 40 .396 Columbus, 25 41 .380 Kansas City, 24 42 .364 Minneapolis, 23 43 .348

AMERICAN LEAGUE. W. L. Pct. St. Louis, 30 36 .450 Washington, 29 37 .438 Cleveland, 28 38 .426 Chicago, 27 39 .410 New York, 26 40 .396 Detroit, 25 41 .380 Philadelphia, 24 42 .364 St. Louis, 23 43 .348

NATIONAL LEAGUE. W. L. Pct. Cincinnati, 30 36 .450 Pittsburgh, 29 37 .438 Brooklyn, 28 38 .426 St. Louis, 27 39 .410 New York, 26 40 .396 Philadelphia, 25 41 .380 Chicago, 24 42 .364

THREE-I LEAGUE. W. L. Pct. Bloomington, 30 36 .450 Evansville, 29 37 .438 Terre Haute, 28 38 .426 Peoria, 27 39 .410 Rockford, 26 40 .396 Cedar Rapids, 25 41 .380