

MOORE SAYS PLAN TO RAISE MONEY SECRET

Vast System Within System Told About by Cox's Campaign Manager.

COMMITTEE TAKES ADJOURNMENT

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—The workings of a great "secret system" of campaign fund collection by the republican party will be laid before the senate "slush fund" investigators here next week, E. H. Moore, Gov. Cox's manager at the San Francisco convention, predicted yesterday shortly after his arrival to present new evidence supporting Cox's charges against G. O. P. leaders.

Moore was prevented from beginning his disclosures when the committee adjourned until next Tuesday.

Adjournment was taken because several members of the committee had important speaking engagements outside Chicago.

In the meantime a summons had gone to republican headquarters here for submission to the committee of the names of all "regional financial directors" and all records kept by Henry M. Blair, assistant to Treasurer Fred W. Upham.

It is upon the alleged activities of Blair and the "regional directors" that Moore's evidence rests.

"I will be given leads which, if followed, will disclose a vast system within a system—a secret plan of money raising designed to produce a great sum."

MOORE TELLS OF SECRET SYSTEM

"There was one system of ways and means committees throughout the states, which operated under Upham's direction, and which the public was not in on."

"But behind that was a secret system, under Blair's direction, made up of regional workers, who organized teams, had team captains and conducted a drive for funds."

"This secret organization made up quotas, not only for states but for cities. Upham and Hays denied at first that there were any quotas at all."

"Then they were forced to admit that there were state quotas, but they still deny there are city quotas, as charged by Gov. Cox at Pittsburgh."

"This committee, if it will, can find out all about those city quotas."

"They were fixed just as Gov. Cox read them at Pittsburgh."

Part of Moore's evidence consisted of "Form 101," which, he said, comprised instructions sent out by Blair to the money raisers in the alleged "secret organization."

"This form," said Moore, "is conclusive evidence of the plans that were made and followed."

AS TO SECRECY, HE SAYS.

"It contains a specific injunction to secrecy, cautioning workers not to leave anything lying around on tables at luncheons held for the purpose of comparing notes and making plans."

"It further provides for the 'cream list' of which Gov. Cox told."

"This list was to be made up of twenty or twenty-five good prospects in a community and as a special favor was to be given to team captains."

"Luncheons were to be held at which members were to be assigned lists of prospects they were to canvass for contributions."

Moore said if the republicans would "just come out and tell the truth about raising the money they would have nothing to fear."

They have committed no crimes by simply raising a large sum, he added.

"The wrong thing about it," said Moore, "will be in their concealment of it and their expenditure of such a great sum after they collect it."

The switch in plans forced the committee to postpone its projected hearing in Pittsburgh which had been tentatively set for next week.

It is uncertain whether William Barnes will be asked to appear here or will be questioned later in the east concerning his alleged plans to raise funds for republican propaganda.

"The senate investigating committee can either dig up the proof of Gov. Cox's charges or it can leave matters so that Truman Newberry will have a lot of distinguished company."

Moore made this statement while waiting for the committee to decide whether it would hear him or not.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

Moore said that if the senate committee does not produce and act on evidence of Cox's charges, the evidence will be laid before the department of justice.

JOHNSON TAX LAW THWARTS SALE OF BONDS

Market Shy of Proposed Issue, Park Board At-Torney Says.

FEARS 'JOKER' IS IN ACT

The supposed joker in the Johnson "home rule" amendment to the state tax bill, passed at the recent special session of the state legislature by which, as The Times originally pointed out several weeks ago, it is impossible for bonds to be issued legally by any county, city or township or school government until Jan. 1, is influencing local banks and bond houses to go slowly in buying such bonds.

This fact was brought out yesterday at the meeting of the board of park commissioners during a discussion of plans for issuing bonds to make the many improvements on park properties which have been under discussion for some time.

Clyde Hoffman, attorney for the board, discussing the plans from the legal angle, pointed out that the local municipal bond market has been made very cautious because of the possibility that the supposed joker may turn out to be real, despite a ruling by Attorney General E. E. Stanburg that no mistake has been made.

The supposed joker arises out of the fact that section four of the Johnson amendment repeals, in its entirety, section 203 of the state tax law passed in 1919.

Section 203 is that in which the state board of tax commissioners receives the power to pass on bond issues of local government units.

Since Section 4 of the Johnson amendment entirely repeals Section 203 and does not contain any language giving the power to pass on bond issues to any governmental body, except that it returns the power to the local unit after Jan. 1, 1921, several prominent local attorneys are of the opinion there is grave doubt whether any governmental unit has the power to issue bonds until the beginning of the year.

The board reached no definite decision on the matter of bond issues, deferring it for two or three weeks until James H. Lowry, superintendent of parks, has had time to make a thorough investigation of the market for the kind of bonds which the board must issue.

Further difficulty in selling the securities is expected because of the fact that the legislature gave authority to the board to issue bonds for five-year terms only at 6 per cent with all the necessary interest might be sold easily, it is said, but bond buyers are not eager to buy those for shorter terms.

The board adopted a resolution calling for the negotiation of a temporary loan of $35,000, with which to pay its bills from Oct. 1 until the November installment of tax money is received.

The attorney was instructed to prepare an ordinance authorizing the loan which will be presented to the city council.

The loan is made necessary through the fact that the board, because of the mistake in the assessed valuation of city

Bridegroom Gets All Dressed Up, Spends His Honeymoon in Jail

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 3.—Nathan Harris, held at a local police station on a grand larceny charge, preferred by the father of his bride of three weeks ago, was returned to Indianapolis yesterday, it was said at police headquarters.

Harris, 25, was married three weeks ago to the 18-year-old daughter of Louis Friedman, of Muncie, Ind., wealthy oil and pipe broker.

The young bride did not like her husband's "making up," so told him to go to a large Indianapolis clothing store, where her father had an account, and get a new outfit.

He did, but when the bill reached father-in-law he repudiated it.

The result was a grand larceny charge and Harris was arrested when he reached Detroit on his honeymoon.

According to Inspector of Detectives Fletcher, Harris was arrested on an affidavit of a local clothing store charging grand larceny.

According to information given the police, Harris was introduced to clothing dealers as Miss Friedman's brother with the request that purchases be made be charged to her father.

In this way, the police say, he purchased clothing valued at between $1,000 and $1,500.

property last fall, between the offices of the county auditor and county assessor, will receive only $237,000 in taxes, with which to meet a budget of $270,000.

Closing of the smaller playgrounds, street centers and other small park properties Sept. 14 was authorized.

Besides the street centers the following playgrounds and parks are affected:

THOSE PLACES AFFECTED.

McCarthy place, Indianapolis park, Morris square, Highland square, St. Clair park, Camp Sullivan and Noble place.

The larger playgrounds and recreational centers will be kept open as long as the weather is favorable.

Supt. Lowry was authorized to attend the annual convention of the National Park Superintendents' association at Louisville, Sept. 9 to 11, and of the State Park association at Evansville, Sept. 13 and 14.

Several other members of the park and recreation departments also will attend the sessions.

Edward A. Stuckmeyer, board member, reported that officials of the Catholic church have told him their plans to erect a church in the triangular street center plot at Forty-second street and Park avenue have gone too far to be recalled.

The board was interested in the fact because it had planned at some future date to convert it into a playground.

ADMIRAL HUSE AND BOAT LOST?

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The navy department yesterday began a search for Vice Admiral Huse and the cruiser Pittsburgh, Secretary Daniels announced.

Vice Admiral Huse is in command of the American naval vessels in the Baltic.

Last week he was ordered to proceed from Reval with the Pittsburgh to Danzig to afford protection for Americans there.

The navy department has had no report from Admiral Huse and does not know whether he received these orders.

The last report received from him was on his sailing from Southampton for Reval.

Poor communication is responsible for the situation, Secretary Daniels said.

James Lester, Plaza hotel, reported to the police yesterday that his room had been entered and clothing and money valued at $125 had been taken.

William Parrish, 35 West Morris street, reported the theft of clothing, a watch and money amounting to $120 from his home.

Four communication is responsible for the situation, Secretary Daniels said.

James Lester, Plaza hotel, reported to the police yesterday that his room had been entered and clothing and money valued at $125 had been taken.

William Parrish, 35 West Morris street, reported the theft of clothing, a watch and money amounting to $120 from his home.

Four communication is responsible for the situation, Secretary Daniels said.

James Lester, Plaza hotel, reported to the police yesterday that his room had been entered and clothing and money valued at $125 had been taken.

William Parrish, 35 West Morris street, reported the theft of clothing, a watch and money amounting to $120 from his home.

Four communication is responsible for the situation, Secretary Daniels said.

James Lester, Plaza hotel, reported to the police yesterday that his room had been entered and clothing and money valued at $125 had been taken.

William Parrish, 35 West Morris street, reported the theft of clothing, a watch and money amounting to $120 from his home.

Four communication is responsible for the situation, Secretary Daniels said.

James Lester, Plaza hotel, reported to the police yesterday that his room had been entered and clothing and money valued at $125 had been taken.

William Parrish, 35 West Morris street, reported the theft of clothing, a watch and money amounting to $120 from his home.

Four communication is responsible for the situation, Secretary Daniels said.

James Lester, Plaza hotel, reported to the police yesterday that his room had been entered and clothing and money valued at $125 had been taken.

William Parrish, 35 West Morris street, reported the theft of clothing, a watch and money amounting to $120 from his home.

Four communication is responsible for the situation, Secretary Daniels said.

James Lester, Plaza hotel, reported to the police yesterday that his room had been entered and clothing and money valued at $125 had been taken.

William Parrish, 35 West Morris street, reported the theft of clothing, a watch and money amounting to $120 from his home.

Four communication is responsible for the situation, Secretary Daniels said.

James Lester, Plaza hotel, reported to the police yesterday that his room had been entered and clothing and money valued at $125 had been taken.

William Parrish, 35 West Morris street, reported the theft of clothing, a watch and money amounting to $120 from his home.

Four communication is responsible for the situation, Secretary Daniels said.

James Lester, Plaza hotel, reported to the police yesterday that his room had been entered and clothing and money valued at $125 had been taken.

William Parrish, 35 West Morris street, reported the theft of clothing, a watch and money amounting to $120 from his home.

Four communication is responsible for the situation, Secretary Daniels said.

James Lester, Plaza hotel, reported to the police yesterday that his room had been entered and clothing and money valued at $125 had been taken.

William Parrish, 35 West Morris street, reported the theft of clothing, a watch and money amounting to $120 from his home.

Four communication is responsible for the situation, Secretary Daniels said.

James Lester, Plaza hotel, reported to the police yesterday that his room had been entered and clothing and money valued at $125 had been taken.

William Parrish, 35 West Morris street, reported the theft of clothing, a watch and money amounting to $120 from his home.

Four communication is responsible for the situation, Secretary Daniels said.

James Lester, Plaza hotel, reported to the police yesterday that his room had been entered and clothing and money valued at $125 had been taken.

William Parrish, 35 West Morris street, reported the theft of clothing, a watch and money amounting to $120 from his home.

Four communication is responsible for the situation, Secretary Daniels said.

James Lester, Plaza hotel, reported to the police yesterday that his room had been entered and clothing and money valued at $125 had been taken.

William Parrish, 35 West Morris street, reported the theft of clothing, a watch and money amounting to $120 from his home.

Four communication is responsible for the situation, Secretary Daniels said.

James Lester, Plaza hotel, reported to the police yesterday that his room had been entered and clothing and money valued at $125 had been taken.

William Parrish, 35 West Morris street, reported the theft of clothing, a watch and money amounting to $120 from his home.

Four communication is responsible for the situation, Secretary Daniels said.

James Lester, Plaza hotel, reported to the police yesterday that his room had been entered and clothing and money valued at $125 had been taken.

William Parrish, 35 West Morris street, reported the theft of clothing, a watch and money amounting to $120 from his home.

Four communication is responsible for the situation, Secretary Daniels said.

James Lester, Plaza hotel, reported to the police yesterday that his room had been entered and clothing and money valued at $125 had been taken.

William Parrish, 35 West Morris street, reported the theft of clothing, a watch and money amounting to $120 from his home.

Four communication is responsible for the situation, Secretary Daniels said.

James Lester, Plaza hotel, reported to the police yesterday that his room had been entered and clothing and money valued at $125 had been taken.

William Parrish, 35 West Morris street, reported the theft of clothing, a watch and money amounting to $120 from his home.

Four communication is responsible for the situation, Secretary Daniels said.

James Lester, Plaza hotel, reported to the police yesterday that his room had been entered and clothing and money valued at $125 had been taken.

William Parrish, 35 West Morris street, reported the theft of clothing, a watch and money amounting to $120 from his home.

Four communication is responsible for the situation, Secretary Daniels said.

James Lester, Plaza hotel, reported to the police yesterday that his room had been entered and clothing and money valued at $125 had been taken.

William Parrish, 35 West Morris street, reported the theft of clothing, a watch and money amounting to $120 from his home.

Four communication is responsible for the situation, Secretary Daniels said.

James Lester, Plaza hotel, reported to the police yesterday that his room had been entered and clothing and money valued at $125 had been taken.

William Parrish, 35 West Morris street, reported the theft of clothing, a watch and money amounting to $120 from his home.

Four communication is responsible for the situation, Secretary Daniels said.

James Lester, Plaza hotel, reported to the police yesterday that his room had been entered and clothing and money valued at $125 had been taken.

William Parrish, 35 West Morris street, reported the theft of clothing, a watch and money amounting to $120 from his home.

Four communication is responsible for the situation, Secretary Daniels said.

James Lester, Plaza hotel, reported to the police yesterday that his room had been entered and clothing and money valued at $125 had been taken.

William Parrish, 35 West Morris street, reported the theft of clothing, a watch and money amounting to $120 from his home.

Four communication is responsible for the situation, Secretary Daniels said.

James Lester, Plaza hotel, reported to the police yesterday that his room had been entered and clothing and money valued at $125 had been taken.

BOGUS OFFICER NAMES DOCTOR

Tells Where to Get Certificate Signed.

Warning that a new kind of bogus "health inspector" is abroad in the city was issued yesterday by Dr. Henry G. Morgan, secretary of the board of public health.

The latest impostor is helping one of two doctors, considered unethical by the more reputable members of the profession, to fatten off of the ignorance of the law in men and women who are required to pass physical examinations in order to handle food.

The bogus "inspectors" and the unethical doctors are planning a financial harvest during State Fair week and it is to block them that the warning is issued, Dr. Morgan said.

The warning is as follows:

"Upon several occasions the attention of this department has been called to parties who represent themselves to be health officers in order to induce food handlers to go to a certain physician for a health certificate."

"The state food laws require that all food handlers have a certificate showing that they are in good health, but this may be signed by any licensed physician of the state."

"The health department has absolutely no power to designate any particular physician to issue these certificates."

"Anyone representing himself to be an agent of the board of health and inducing in this practice is bogus and without any authority."