

AIR TROOPSHIPS PROVE SUCCESS

British Ministry Will Not Describe Superplane.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The British government's experiments with "air troopers" at an airfield near London have proved a success, it was learned today.

They were conducted with great secrecy under the direction of Secretary of War, Sir Thomas Chaytor. The air troopers are appliances of compressed air, built by the Vickers, Limited, the company which constructed the Vickers Vimy, the airplane in which the late Capt. Sir John Alcock and Sir John Whittlebury crossed the Atlantic ocean.

The air ministry refused to permit any indication to be given of the description of the super-airplane with which the experiments were made, nor the number of men it carried.

According to reports the air ministry planned airplanes big enough to carry light artillery as well as troops.

In the past the most difficult feature which confronted the problem of the super-airplane was the problem of getting it into the air, the weight of machine being so great as to necessitate an extraordinary long run on the ground before it gained sufficient flying speed to carry it from the ground.

A giant plane recently ran for half a mile on an airfield near London and then crashed into a fence as it did not have sufficient speed to clear the obstruction.

The pilot, Capt. Dunn, was killed.

Poles Push Forward on Front of 100 Miles

WARSAW, Sept. 3.—The scope of the Polish defeat in the Lemberg region continues to grow, according to the official Polish communiqué issued today.

Crushing of Gen. Budenny north of Lemberg has opened the way for a general Polish advance, and the Poles have gone forward from fifteen to forty miles on a front of more than 100 miles.

Cars Must Carry Mail on Space Basis, Is Held

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The interstate commerce commission held reasonable the space basis of fixing rates for mail transportation on electric railroads.

Carriers had asked that the rates be based on a weight basis.

The amount paid out for transportation of mails by electric railroads last year was approximately $50,000.

FORTY MINES IDLE.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 3.—Forty

Illinois coal mines were idle today, according to reports here. Miners were on "vacations" grieving over a recent award to day men, which increased the scale to $7.50 per day, but eliminated bonuses.
