

PASTORS HOME FROM VACATION READY TO WORK

Sermons of Deeper Nature Anticipated With Opening of Fall Season.

THEMES OF PULPITS

With the return of many Indianapolis pastors from their vacations and the beginning of fall weather the church season for the winter is being opened by sermons of a deeper nature.

At the Tabernacle Presbyterian church Rev. J. Ambrose Dunkel, pastor, will preach on "Sound Principles for Modern Living" in the morning and "Irreparable Past and Available Present and Future" in the evening at the Tabernacle church.

Rev. George E. Harves of Harrisburg, Pa., will preach on "A Safe, Wise Commitment" at the morning service of the First Presbyterian church and the Fourth Presbyterian church held at the former.

"Jesus and the Worker; a Labor Day Message," will be the theme of Rev. T. R. White at the morning service of the Meridian Heights church.

In the evening he will preach on "The Field of the Blood."

At the Central Avenue M. E. church Dr. O. W. Pifer, pastor, will preach on "Schemish Modern" at the morning service.

Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, will speak at the evening services.

At the First Baptist church, Prof. W. O. Carver of Louisville, Ky., will preach on "Jesus' Lesson in Prayer" in the morning.

"Health and Holiness" will be the theme of the Rev. Owen Davies Odell at the Second Presbyterian church in the morning.

"What If We Believe in God?" will be the theme of Dr. Philip L. Frick at the morning services of the Meridian Street M. E. church.

At the First Congregational church the Rev. George Savary, pastor, will preach on "God's Answer to Labor's Call" at the morning service.

ROBERTS PARK CHURCH TO OBSERVE COMMUNION.

The Holy Communion will be held at the Roberts Park M. E. church in the morning and in the evening Dr. C. W. Shumway of Evansville college will preach.

The church quartet will sing at both services.

"The Healing God" will be the theme of Rev. Allan B. Philpott at the Central Christian church in the morning.

Rev. Frank S. C. Wicks will preach at the morning and evening services of the All Souls Unitarian church tomorrow.

The morning services of the Brookside Park U. B. church will be in charge of representatives of the Faith home.

Rev. J. B. Parsons will preach at the evening services.

At the St. Paul Episcopal church Rev. Lewis Brown, pastor, will preach on "A Church Message From Canada" in the morning.

Rev. Benjamin Rist, pastor of the St. Paul M. E. church, will preach on "Who Is It?" and "What the Young People May Do to Help" at the morning and evening services, respectively.

The Epworth league choir will give five special numbers at the evening service.

At the North Park Christian church the Rev. J. D. Garrison will preach on "Is Gratitude a Failing Virtue?" in the morning.

Mrs. C. L. Campbell will give special vocal selections at the service.

"An Exhibit of a Painting of Heaven" and "Religion by Proxy" will be the subjects of the morning and evening sermons of the Rev. C. A. Robertson at the Broad Ripple M. E. church.

The Rev. Clarence R. Redenbach will preach on "The Babel of Industry" at the morning services of the Downey Avenue Christian church, and in the evening a Labor day service will be held.

NEW PASTOR AT FIRST UNIVERSALIST

The Rev. Edwin Cunningham will preach his first sermon as pastor of the First Universalist church in the morning when his topic will be "The Call of the Altar."

"The Dignity of Labor" will be the subject of the Rev. W. E. Cissna at the morning services of the West Washington M. E. church.

In the evening the Rev. J. Raymond Schmidt will preach on "Prohibition and World Progress."

Special music by the choir and orchestra will be given at both services.

At the Hall Place M. E. church the Rev. D. W. Nichols, will preach on "Poverty and Riches," a Labor day sermon, and on "Turning to God" in the evening.

The Rev. Charles H. Quastus will preach at the Speedway Christian church on "Angels, or Angel Visitors from the Spirit World," and "The Significance of the Cross" at the morning and evening services, respectively.

"Authority" and "The Laborer Is Worthy of His Hire" will be the subjects of the morning and evening sermons of the Rev. W. Harris, pastor of the Garden Baptist church.

Sattler "Bob" Clark will speak at the Methodist settlement on "Going to Sunday School on an Elephant's Back."

The Rev. C. N. Willson, pastor of the Trinity M. E. church, will preach on "The Faith Which Was Condemned" and "Christ's Classification of Men" at the morning and evening services respectively.

McCulloch Makes Plea to Decatur Farmers

Special to The Times.

GREENSBURG, Ind., Sept. 4.—The first appearance of the democratic gubernatorial candidate in Decatur county was at Westport, near this city, Friday afternoon when Dr. Carleton B. McCulloch addressed a large crowd at Ketchum hall.

Brief talks were made by Mrs. Grace Julian Clark of Indianapolis and Mrs. Minnie Porter, county chairman for women.

Westport gave the party a royal welcome, and delegations were present from the surrounding townships.

Women demonstrated their enthusiasm and dispelled much of the adverse comment as to their interest in the campaign.

Dr. McCulloch pledged himself to bring about measures, if elected, that will make farm life more attractive and to give the farmer a voice in the settlement of affairs that concern him.

He urged that the farmers have representation on both state and county tax boards and promised to "recognize the rights of small communities properly to spend their own money for their own roads."

He Gets Stranger He Leaves Train

Master of Muncie reported to him he was held up at the old Gray and Washington street crossing.

He said he had been told that the man who had been stopped to catch a train had been seen at the crossing.

He went to the crossing and saw the man who had been stopped to catch a train.

He went to the crossing and saw the man who had been stopped to catch a train.

He went to the crossing and saw the man who had been stopped to catch a train.

50,000 Rooms for 'Boys' of '61
Thousands of rooms in private homes will be needed for the G. A. R. national encampment, here Sept. 18-25.
An average of one room for every home must be obtained.
If you will house a veteran of the Civil war and his wife, fill out the accompanying blank and mail it to Scott Brewer, 701 Chamber of Commerce building.
Street.....
Owner.....
Phones..... No. of rooms..... With bath.....
Nearest car line..... Without bath.....
Remarks.....

DANIELS WILL TOUR INDIANA To Speak at Tomlinson Hall Labor Day.

Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, will enter Indianapolis next Monday for one week's tour of the state in behalf of the democratic presidential nominee, James M. Cox.

Secretary Daniels' itinerary has been considerably changed since it was first announced, and a number of additions have been made.

Besides his political speeches, Secretary Daniels will address a mass meeting to be held Monday morning in Tomlinson hall in connection with the Labor day celebration.

Secretary Daniels will open his tour with an address at Connersville Monday night.

He will speak at the following places during the tour: Tuesday, Bloomington; Wednesday, Vincennes; Thursday, Terre Haute, and Friday at Richmond.

Edward T. Meredith, secretary of agriculture, will also speak in Indiana next week in behalf of the democratic national ticket.

He will speak Monday afternoon at Danville and at Crawfordsville at a night meeting on Tuesday.

The democratic state speaker's bureau has also completed dates for the appearance in Indiana of William H. King, United States senator from Utah, who will make eight speeches next week.

His schedule is as follows: Monday night, Plymouth; Tuesday night, Knox; Wednesday night, Peru; Thursday afternoon, Kokomo, night, Elwood; Friday night, Franklin; Saturday afternoon, Nashville and Columbus at night.

Other speaking dates for next week are as follows:

Dr. Carleton B. McCulloch, Candidate for Governor—Monday, Portland afternoon; Bluffton night; Tuesday, Hartford City night; Wednesday, Huntington afternoon; Peru night; Thursday, Kokomo afternoon; Elwood night; Friday, Kokomo afternoon; Rockville night; Saturday, Lebanon night.

Charles J. Orblison—Monday afternoon, Sullivan; Thursday night, Princeton; Friday night, Cannelton.

L. L. Roberts of Evansville speaks Tuesday night at New Albany.

Albert Stump—Monday night, Crawfordsville; Tuesday night, Anderson; Wednesday night, Jeffersonville; Thursday night, Corydon; Friday night, Rockport; Saturday night, Petersburg.

Ben M. Schifers—Thursday night, Kokomo; Saturday night, Lebanon.

At the North Park Christian church the Rev. J. D. Garrison will preach on "Is Gratitude a Failing Virtue?" in the morning.

Mrs. C. L. Campbell will give special vocal selections at the service.

"An Exhibit of a Painting of Heaven" and "Religion by Proxy" will be the subjects of the morning and evening sermons of the Rev. C. A. Robertson at the Broad Ripple M. E. church.

The Rev. Clarence R. Redenbach will preach on "The Babel of Industry" at the morning services of the Downey Avenue Christian church, and in the evening a Labor day service will be held.

NEW PASTOR AT FIRST UNIVERSALIST

The Rev. Edwin Cunningham will preach his first sermon as pastor of the First Universalist church in the morning when his topic will be "The Call of the Altar."

"The Dignity of Labor" will be the subject of the Rev. W. E. Cissna at the morning services of the West Washington M. E. church.

In the evening the Rev. J. Raymond Schmidt will preach on "Prohibition and World Progress."

Special music by the choir and orchestra will be given at both services.

At the Hall Place M. E. church the Rev. D. W. Nichols, will preach on "Poverty and Riches," a Labor day sermon, and on "Turning to God" in the evening.

The Rev. Charles H. Quastus will preach at the Speedway Christian church on "Angels, or Angel Visitors from the Spirit World," and "The Significance of the Cross" at the morning and evening services, respectively.

"Authority" and "The Laborer Is Worthy of His Hire" will be the subjects of the morning and evening sermons of the Rev. W. Harris, pastor of the Garden Baptist church.

Sattler "Bob" Clark will speak at the Methodist settlement on "Going to Sunday School on an Elephant's Back."

The Rev. C. N. Willson, pastor of the Trinity M. E. church, will preach on "The Faith Which Was Condemned" and "Christ's Classification of Men" at the morning and evening services respectively.

McCulloch Makes Plea to Decatur Farmers

Special to The Times.

GREENSBURG, Ind., Sept. 4.—The first appearance of the democratic gubernatorial candidate in Decatur county was at Westport, near this city, Friday afternoon when Dr. Carleton B. McCulloch addressed a large crowd at Ketchum hall.

Brief talks were made by Mrs. Grace Julian Clark of Indianapolis and Mrs. Minnie Porter, county chairman for women.

Westport gave the party a royal welcome, and delegations were present from the surrounding townships.

Women demonstrated their enthusiasm and dispelled much of the adverse comment as to their interest in the campaign.

Dr. McCulloch pledged himself to bring about measures, if elected, that will make farm life more attractive and to give the farmer a voice in the settlement of affairs that concern him.

He urged that the farmers have representation on both state and county tax boards and promised to "recognize the rights of small communities properly to spend their own money for their own roads."

He Gets Stranger He Leaves Train

Master of Muncie reported to him he was held up at the old Gray and Washington street crossing.

He said he had been told that the man who had been stopped to catch a train had been seen at the crossing.

He went to the crossing and saw the man who had been stopped to catch a train.

He went to the crossing and saw the man who had been stopped to catch a train.

He went to the crossing and saw the man who had been stopped to catch a train.

He went to the crossing and saw the man who had been stopped to catch a train.

He went to the crossing and saw the man who had been stopped to catch a train.

He went to the crossing and saw the man who had been stopped to catch a train.

He went to the crossing and saw the man who had been stopped to catch a train.

He went to the crossing and saw the man who had been stopped to catch a train.

450 APPLY FOR K. OF C. SCHOOL Opening Will Be Not Later Than Oct. 1.

By the close of the first week over 450 applications were received for enrollment in the Knights of Columbus night school for ex-service men at 147 North Pennsylvania street.

This is an unusually large number, and Simon P. Roache, principal, says the classes may be closed sooner than expected, as the opening of the school will be not later than Oct. 1.

The school will be absolutely free to all ex-service men.

Others may enroll upon payment of a small fee for tuition.

The school will be non-denominational in character and is open to all regardless of race, creed or sex.

A class in any particular subject will be organized upon the receipt of ten or more applications.

Among the ex-service men there seems to be a desire to promote their own occupational efficiency, judging from the applications already received.

These show a preference for vocational classes, such as auto mechanics, salesmanship and drafting.

Joseph Shine of Chicago, a Knights of Columbus educational supervisor, was in the city this week conferring with Principal Roache.

The site of the various buildings to be occupied were visited and details arranged.

The matter of selecting the school equipment and the teachers is now in progress.

Prof. Claude Michelson of the Paris School of French will have charge of the French classes.

Prof. Arthur Berliant of the Metropolitan School of Music will teach public speaking.

The class in salesmanship, which will be very large, will be taught by Jesse Hart, president of the Advertisers' club.

Other members of the teaching staff will be announced later.

At the North Park Christian church the Rev. J. D. Garrison will preach on "Is Gratitude a Failing Virtue?" in the morning.

Mrs. C. L. Campbell will give special vocal selections at the service.

"An Exhibit of a Painting of Heaven" and "Religion by Proxy" will be the subjects of the morning and evening sermons of the Rev. C. A. Robertson at the Broad Ripple M. E. church.

The Rev. Clarence R. Redenbach will preach on "The Babel of Industry" at the morning services of the Downey Avenue Christian church, and in the evening a Labor day service will be held.

NEW PASTOR AT FIRST UNIVERSALIST

The Rev. Edwin Cunningham will preach his first sermon as pastor of the First Universalist church in the morning when his topic will be "The Call of the Altar."

"The Dignity of Labor" will be the subject of the Rev. W. E. Cissna at the morning services of the West Washington M. E. church.

In the evening the Rev. J. Raymond Schmidt will preach on "Prohibition and World Progress."

Special music by the choir and orchestra will be given at both services.

At the Hall Place M. E. church the Rev. D. W. Nichols, will preach on "Poverty and Riches," a Labor day sermon, and on "Turning to God" in the evening.

The Rev. Charles H. Quastus will preach at the Speedway Christian church on "Angels, or Angel Visitors from the Spirit World," and "The Significance of the Cross" at the morning and evening services, respectively.

"Authority" and "The Laborer Is Worthy of His Hire" will be the subjects of the morning and evening sermons of the Rev. W. Harris, pastor of the Garden Baptist church.

Sattler "Bob" Clark will speak at the Methodist settlement on "Going to Sunday School on an Elephant's Back."

The Rev. C. N. Willson, pastor of the Trinity M. E. church, will preach on "The Faith Which Was Condemned" and "Christ's Classification of Men" at the morning and evening services respectively.

McCulloch Makes Plea to Decatur Farmers

Special to The Times.

GREENSBURG, Ind., Sept. 4.—The first appearance of the democratic gubernatorial candidate in Decatur county was at Westport, near this city, Friday afternoon when Dr. Carleton B. McCulloch addressed a large crowd at Ketchum hall.

Brief talks were made by Mrs. Grace Julian Clark of Indianapolis and Mrs. Minnie Porter, county chairman for women.

Westport gave the party a royal welcome, and delegations were present from the surrounding townships.

Women demonstrated their enthusiasm and dispelled much of the adverse comment as to their interest in the campaign.

Dr. McCulloch pledged himself to bring about measures, if elected, that will make farm life more attractive and to give the farmer a voice in the settlement of affairs that concern him.

He urged that the farmers have representation on both state and county tax boards and promised to "recognize the rights of small communities properly to spend their own money for their own roads."

He Gets Stranger He Leaves Train

Master of Muncie reported to him he was held up at the old Gray and Washington street crossing.

He said he had been told that the man who had been stopped to catch a train had been seen at the crossing.

He went to the crossing and saw the man who had been stopped to catch a train.

He went to the crossing and saw the man who had been stopped to catch a train.

He went to the crossing and saw the man who had been stopped to catch a train.

He went to the crossing and saw the man who had been stopped to catch a train.

He went to the crossing and saw the man who had been stopped to catch a train.

He went to the crossing and saw the man who had been stopped to catch a train.

He went to the crossing and saw the man who had been stopped to catch a train.

He went to the crossing and saw the man who had been stopped to catch a train.

SPAAN SPEAKS AT GREENSBURG Democratic Candidate for Congress Discusses League.

GREENSBURG, Ind., Sept. 4.—Henry N. Spaan, candidate for congress from the Seventh district, spoke here tonight before a large audience on the league of nations.

In explaining the difference between the assembly and the council of the league he said: "The covenant provides for two bodies, the assembly and the council."

"The assembly is composed of all the members of the league and each member may have as many as three representatives, but these must vote as a unit, because each member, no matter how great or small, has one vote."

"England has one vote, so has Canada, South Africa, India, New Zealand and Australia. The United States has one vote, so has France, Italy, Haiti, Santo Domingo, Panama, Honduras, Guatemala, Costa Rica and each one of the other South American republics, and each of the rest of the members of the league, now forty-one in all."

"The council of the assembly are very limited and it can not vote at all on the vital questions of arbitration, the boycott of war; these are matters for the council only."

"The opponents of the league have, either through ignorance or with the purpose to mislead, stated over and over again that England has six votes to our one, without explaining that it is only in the assembly; that it is on the assumption that her colonies will always vote her way."

"It is safe to say that if any matter coming up in the assembly we could influence as many votes as England can."

COULD INFLUENCE JUST AS MANY.

"We could influence Cuba, Haiti, Costa Rica, Santo Domingo, Panama, Guatemala, and no doubt most of the South American republics, so there is absolutely nothing in the false alarm over England having six votes to our one."

If France, Italy, Belgium, Spain and the other nations that are members of the assembly can take care of themselves as against England, surely America can with all of the friends in the western hemisphere to back her up."

"This whole argument against the league is made to catch the German and the Irish voters, because of their assumed hostility to England."

"The council is composed of nine nations. The British Empire, the United States, France, Italy and Japan are the permanent members."

"The four others are Brazil, Greece, Belgium and Spain."

"In this council England and her colonies have one vote, each of the others have one vote, making nine votes in all."

"This body is in constant session and is the executive body of the league."

"It passes on all important questions but the vote must be unanimous before any action can be taken on any matter."

NOTHING TOO RIDICULOUS FOR LEAGUE ENEMIES

"It has been wonderfully represented that England has six votes in this body instead of one; as the whole body has only nine votes this statement is preposterous, but nothing seems to be too preposterous for the opponents of the league.

"Again, it is stated by persons who ought to know better that a combination of foreign nations can make our soldiers go anywhere they please and mix them up in all kinds of quarrels."

"This is so absurd that it seems like a waste of time to contradict it."

"Congress controls the question of war and no other power can dictate to us under the terms of this league."

"This story is told in order to frighten women into opposing the league, but the women have more sense."

"They are reading the covenant for themselves."

"The whole scheme of the league of nations is to minimize the chances of war; surely every right thinking person should be for it."

preposterous for the opponents of the league.

"Again, it is stated by persons who ought to know better that a combination of foreign nations can make our soldiers go anywhere they please and mix them up in all kinds of quarrels."

"This is so absurd that it seems like a waste of time to contradict it."

"Congress controls the question of war and no other power can dictate to us under the terms of this league."

"This story is told in order to frighten women into opposing the league, but the women have more sense."

"They are reading the covenant for themselves."

"The whole scheme of the league of nations is to minimize the chances of war; surely every right thinking person should be for it."

preposterous for the opponents of the league.

"Again, it is stated by persons who ought to know better that a combination of foreign nations can make our soldiers go anywhere they please and mix them up in all kinds of quarrels."

"This is so absurd that it seems like a waste of time to contradict it."

"Congress controls the question of war and no other power can dictate to us under the terms of this league."

"This story is told in order to frighten women into opposing the league, but the women have more sense."

"They are reading the covenant for themselves."

"The whole scheme of the league of nations is to minimize the chances of war; surely every right thinking person should be for it."

preposterous for the opponents of the league.

"Again, it is stated by persons who ought to know better that a combination of foreign nations can make our soldiers go anywhere they please and mix them up in all kinds of quarrels."

"This is so absurd that it seems like a waste of time to contradict it."

"Congress controls the question of war and no other power can dictate to us under the terms of this league."

"This story is told in order to frighten women into opposing the league, but the women have more sense."

"They are reading the covenant for themselves."

"The whole scheme of the league of nations is to minimize the chances of war; surely every right thinking person should be for it."

preposterous for the opponents of the league.