GHETTO LIFE SEEN IN 'HUMORESQUE'

Which Opens a Local Engagement Soon

Some years ago the big picture was "The Birth of a Nation," and this year the movie of the hour is "Humoresque."

Fannie Hurst, who has successfully followed a breakfast a week relation with her husband for five years without the world knowing of the marriage, wrote "Humoresque" for a magazine.

This story of the joys and sorrows of the life of the people in the ghetto of New York City struck a sympathetic keynote over the entire country until today the movie version of "Humoresque" is breaking all records at the Criterion theater, New York.

Many of the scenes of the movie are placed in New York's Jewish quarter on the east side.

According to the many reports on the picture two women have made themselves famous for their character work.

One is the featured player, Alma Rubens, and the other is Vera Gordon as the Jewish mother, most of the praise probably being awarded to Miss Gordon.

"Humoresque" opens Sunday at the Ohio for a week's engagement.

HARRY BROKE A NOSE BUT HE KEPT ON ACTING.

Despite the fact that he received a broken nose in the very first picture in which he appeared Harry Northrup has played the villain in 222 photographs since that time, and is still going strong.

He is one of the featured members of the cast appearing in Maurice Tourneur's special production, "The White Circle," which is being shown at the Alhambra for the last half of the week.

The story, adapted from R. L. Stevenson's "The Pavilion on the Links," is one of love and adventure with the lonely north Scottish coast as the background.

Spottiswoode Aitken, Jack Gilbert and Janice Wilson are also in the cast.

A universal comedy, the Fox news weekly and the singing trio, Dorsey, Feltner and Schwartz, complete the program.

A REAL FIGHT STAGED IN MOVIE.

In "God's Country and the Woman," the picture made from Curwood's story of the same name, and shown at the Isis today, Friday and Saturday, William ALMA RUBENS.

The admiral was given a hearty greeting by the people of the city, the telegram further states.

The Polish legation also was advised in a delayed dispatch that the Polish delegates to the Bolshevik peace conference would leave for Riga yesterday or today and that the foreign office there hoped the negotiations would not extend over a long period of time.

It is believed the Lithuanian government will ask to participate in the conference that differences between that country and Poland may be adjusted.
