

ARTICLE 10 NOT AN INSTRUMENT FOR WAR—SPAAN

Shows Assertion That League Council Has Declaratory Power Is Untrue.

JUST WHAT IT MEANS

Henry N. Spaan, Democratic candidate for Representative in Congress from the Seventh district, who is regarded as a local authority on the League of Nations, in a statement just issued, declares that article 10 has been consistently misinterpreted by the League members.

He takes issue with those who assert that it is an article for war and proves his contention in an unmistakable manner.

He said:

"Article 10 of the covenant of peace has been persistently misrepresented by those who oppose the league. It reads as follows:

"The members of the league undertake to respect and preserve against external aggression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all members of the league. In case of an such aggression as in case of a threat or danger of such aggression the council shall advise upon the means by which this obligation shall be fulfilled."

"It is claimed by the enemies of the league that this article gives the council the power to declare war.

"A careful reading of the article will disclose at once that the council has no power whatever to declare war; it has power only of advising what shall be done in case our nation invades the territory of another. The wording is absolutely plain.

CERTAIN ELEMENTS ONLY AGAINST IT.

"It all along has been conceded by such men as Taft, Wickerham, Root, Elliott, Hughes and Lenroot that this article does not take away from Congress the sole right to declare war. It is only such men as Johnson, Borah,

IT'S CHORUS GIRL SHORTAGE!

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The United States is facing one of the most serious famines in its history. Crops are fine, transportation is good, production is normal, but one of our greatest national institutions is threatened—the chorus girls.

Flo Ziegfeld, the great maestro, today wore a what-to-do air as he reflected on the hardships of life of picking good lookers, and told all about it.

The trouble centers about one thing, according to Ziegfeld: it seems the singing demands of a chorus girl are something other than figure, figure no voice, but "personality."

"We can't figure out whether American girls are losing their personality, their ambition to succeed on the stage; are making more money at other pursuits, or just what is the matter," Ziegfeld said. "If we knew we might find some way to overcome the present shortage."

"Many of the present-day stars came up from the chorus as a result of performance,"

BRITISH MAY ASK U. S. FOR BARRETT

Captain Wanted in $125,000 Theft Is Detained.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—British officials were undecided today whether they would ask extradition from the United States of Capt. William N. Barrett, formerly of the American Army, for whom a warrant has been issued, charging him with appropriating jewels belonging to Mrs. John D. Spreckles Jr. of California.

Barrett disappeared before the warrant was issued.

Word had been received here of his temporary detention in Los Angeles.

He was not arrested.

Mrs. Spreckles, daughter-in-law of Claus Spreckles, American sugar magnate, said she gave a diamond and pearl necklace valued at $125,000 to Barrett to be cleaned and insured.

The warrant charged that Barrett, who is the husband of Alice Gordon Drexel of Philadelphia, sold the necklace and kept the money.

Following the application for a warrant for Barrett his creditors instituted bankruptcy proceedings here. His liabilities were reported to be $13,265 and his assets nothing.

The warrant charged that Barrett, who is the husband of Alice Gordon Drexel of Philadelphia, sold the necklace and kept the money.

The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"Our representative on the council will vote as he is directed to vote and if he votes against the advice for war there will be no such advice.

"It is said that if the council decides to advise war, that we cannot get away from that advice, and that we will be morally bound to go to war. But as there can be no advice by the council to go to war without our consent, there will be no moral obligation whatever unless we fully agree to follow the advice, and in that case, Congress will have to be consulted.

"Under article 10 we can not be drawn into any war without our full consent, and the finding of the council on the question whether we shall be advised by it, must be unanimous and as we will be under the terms of the covenant a permanent member of the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"He Republican party in its platform, and Senator Harding in his letter of acceptance, denounced the league; Senator Watson and Senator New both are against it; Coolidge, who was one for it, is now against it; and all this because of party necessity; why should the women of the land and the independent voters take the word of the enemies of the covenant for what it means?"

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this advice before it can become a part of the finding of the council.

"The truth of the matter is that this senatorial cabal propaganda is insisted on to impress upon the American people that the council must consent to this