

CLUB OBSERVES PRESIDENT'S DAY

A "patriotic luncheon" was given today by the Independent Social Club, in the dining room of the Blackhawk apartment, in observation of President's day, with Mrs. J. F. Anderson, the retiring president, and Mrs. James Van Natta, the new chief executive, as honor guests. Baskets of garden flowers in red, white and blue tied with tulle in the same colors, and flags marking the "Xmas" made effective decoration for the tables.

Mrs. Allan T. Fleming, chairman of the committee on arrangements, acted as toastmistress, introducing the various speakers.

Mrs. Anderson gave a toast to "Our Club of Yesterday," which was responded to by Mrs. Everett Hunt, and Mrs. Van Natta toasted "Our Club of Tomorrow." Mrs. Hattie Ryder responded.

Mrs. Alex Goodwin's subject was "The Flag," which concluded the program of toasts.

Mrs. E. C. Rumpel made an address during the afternoon on the "Near East Relief," and Miss Hazel Fessler and Miss Chantill White gave patriotic readings, including "A Tribute to Our Flag" and "Old Glory."

Assistant hostesses were Mrs. Richard Coleman, Mrs. John Larison and Mrs. W. H. Spencer.

Mrs. Housewife, Do You Know?

1. What are the advantages and disadvantages of aluminum cooking utensils?

2. How to make good pudding out of left-over farina or other white cereal?

3. What are the advantages and disadvantages of iron cooking utensils?

(These questions will be answered tomorrow by the Housewife.)

ANSWERS TO YESTERDAY'S QUESTIONS.

1. The German settlers of Pennsylvania—or Pennsylvania Dutch—made the first scrapple, from cornmeal, to which are added scraps of pork.

2. To make oatmeal oysters, form left over oatmeal into balls the size and shape of oysters, dip in egg and crumbs and fry. Other sorts of left-over cereal may be used in this way.

3. The deposit of a furnace should be kept full for the best and most economical results. The coal should be even with the door in front and a little higher in back.—Copyright, 1920.

Plan Honor for Head of U. S. War Mothers

Mrs. Alice M. French, organizer and national head of the American War Mothers, is to be honored when a monument on the grounds for the National American Legion Home is erected in Indianapolis.

The War Mothers will place a statue of Mrs. French in the center of the monument, in recognition of her patriotic service.

The decision was made during the conference of the national executive board of War Mothers, which was held at the Seelbach Hotel in Louisville yesterday and today.

At the opening of the war Mrs. French saw the need for the alliance of the mothers of service men and began the work of organization.

She attended the initial national convention, where she was named as the first national presiding officer.
