

POLITICAL MOVE, WOMAN CHARGES

Sifting of School 59's Affairs
May Be Postponed.

Intimation that an attempt is being made to postpone the investigation of expenditures at School No. 59 until after election was contained in statements made by Mrs. Julia B. Tutwiler, a member of the Board of School Commissioners at a meeting of the board last night. The statement resulted from that of B. S. Gadd that a report on the expenditures for repairs at the school is not ready.

The board decided at its previous meeting that a thorough investigation should be made following the report of the State Board of Accounts calling attention to expenditures of more than $17,000 with an authorization which is limited by the rules of the board to $2,500.

Mrs. Tutwiler made it plain that she meant it was the school board which is playing politics following a remark of Charles L. Barry which indicated he thought she referred to the State board of accounts.

Mr. Barry said he did not believe it fair to accuse the school board of playing politics, declaring that no member of the board is a candidate or is directly interested in the campaign.

The board voted to increase the salary of Ralph Douglas, assistant business manager, to $5,000.

Mr. Douglas handed in his resignation some time ago following a vote to increase his salary to $4,000.

Members of the board expressed the belief that he would resign as a result of the latest increase in salary.

His resignation was to have become effective Oct. 1.

GREEK PRINCE TO WED ROUMANIAN

Outwits Guards and Flees to Join Princess Sweetheart.

PARIS, Oct. 6.—Modern history's greatest battle between love and diplomacy, involving Prince George of Greece, eldest son of former King Constantine, and Princess Elizabeth of Roumania, has apparently ended in a victory for love.

Prince George arrived in Bucharest after a secret and circuitous journey from Switzerland to marry the Roumanian princess, the sweetheart of his boyhood.

Allied guards were on duty all around the Swiss border, under orders to prevent the Greek prince from leaving the country, for the diplomats of the allied countries were determined that the marriage should not take place.

Prince George circumvented the sleuths and the diplomats by traveling in disguise.

Opposition to the alliance arose from the alleged pro-Germanism of Prince George.

Ever since he was expelled because of this reported sympathy for the house of Hohenzollern.

Queen Marie of Roumania, mother of the princess, is in favor of the marriage and is said to have made the plan by which George was able to arrive in Bucharest incognito for the nuptials.

She is said to be in favor of an immediate marriage for fear that the diplomats may find some way to prevent it if there is a delay.

ELECT FLOYD TO HEAD ROTARIANS

'Front Porch' Burlesque Part of Annual 'Show.'

A parade by the Independents, entitled by "sparklers," transparencies and other devices of election parades; a "front porch" on which were seated the three candidates who had no opposition, and a number of other features of entertainment, including entertainers from "The Passing Show" at the Murat, and from B. F. Keith's, were features of the annual election and banquet of the Indianapolis Rotary Club last night at the Claypool hotel.

The following officers were elected: President, Frank E. Floyd; vice president and director, Almus G. Ruddle; secretary and director, Ralph H. Edgerton; treasurer, Roy Sahm; sergeant-at-arms, Fred L. Murr; directors, in addition to Mr. Ruddle and Mr. Edgerton, Carl N. Angst, Arch V. Grossman, Guy W. Walworth, Albert S. Pierson and Nelson G. Trowbridge.

For the remaining seat on the board, Arthur H. Heskell and Carl A. Taylor were tied and the vote will be decided at the meeting Tuesday noon.

Messrs. Floyd, Edgerton and Sahm, who were without opposition, were seated on the "front porch," which had been erected in the banquet hall, and were the recipients of various "telegrams," one of which, purporting to be from Senator Harding to Mr. Floyd, congratulating him on adopting "front porch" tactics.

Following the election Mr. Floyd made a short speech in which he said that he felt that his election to the presidency of the Rotary Club gave him the highest office in the city.

The retiring president of the club, Frederick E. Matson, received much praise for his administration.

Indianapolis Body Boosts Purdue Fund

Their pep aroused by yells and songs led by G. H. Hagstrom, university yell leader, and a number of other addresses, Purdue University alumni of Indianapolis pledged $20,000 toward the $100,000 fund for a student memorial building at the school at a meeting held at the Chamber of Commerce last night.

In addition to individual subscriptions of officers, contributions of $1,000 and $500 were announced by a number of local manufacturing firms who employ engineering graduates of the school.

Whatever You Do Don't Neglect Your Eyes, Says Dr. Lewis, Who

Tells How to Strengthen Eyesight 50% in One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weakness? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis, who is real hope for you. He says neglect of the eyes is one of the most common causes of eye trouble and poor sight, and that more eye trouble and poor sight than any other one thing. Many who have eyes were failing say they had their eyes treated through the principle of Dr. Lewis' wonderful free prescription. One man says after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after trying this prescription for fifteen days everything seemed clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands of eyes are being saved the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully bene-

LIONEL BARRYMORE in 'The Master Mind' at the CIRCLE

"The Master Mind," the new Lionel Barrymore contribution to the silver screen, reflects the ability of one of the best exponents of acting on the stage today.

In observing the Barrymore picture at the Circle this week, it was apparent that there was some poorly advised direction which is a handicap to the production.

When Barrymore is on the screen during the action of the drama, he is able to dominate every situation to such an extent that one centers his interest on watching Barrymore develop his character.

Barrymore has the capable support of Gypsy O'Brien, a pretty woman and an actress who realizes the importance of working in harmony with the star instead of thinking only of herself.

"The Master Mind" is heavy drama, in which the novel idea of creating a family and a home for a pretty girl in prison is well developed.

The acting of Barrymore as the Master Mind is powerful and convincing, and the ending of the story is exceptionally well developed.

"The Master Mind" is on view all week at the Circle.

OF CURRENT INTEREST.

"Maid to Love," a dainty musical comedy, is now on view at the Embassy; the big "Passing Show of 1919," a feature of the eye, is this week's offering at the Murat; Petrova has stepped from the screen to the vaudeville stage and may be seen at Keith's.

Popular vaudeville and movies may be seen at the Lyric, Broadway and Rialto. "The French Frolics," with Harry Fields, is on view all week at the Park. The movie menu today includes "The Wonderful Chance," at the Colonial; "Man and His Woman," at the Master Smith's; "Guilt of Love," at the Isis; "The Soul of Youth," at the Alhambra; "For the Soul of Israel," at the Ohio, and "The Untamed," at the Regent.

PUSS IN BOOTS JR.

By David Cory.

Well, as soon as Puss Junior on his little pony rode out of the little Mountain King's palace, as I mentioned in the last story, he followed a narrow path that wound about the foot of the great high mountain and by and by, not so very far, he came to a great acorn lying on the ground and Puss was just about to pass on when he heard that little Yellow Bird sing very softly:

"Open the acorn and you will find
A gift of wondrous worth;
Then bury the empty acorn shell
Deep in the kindly earth."

So Puss did as he was told and, taking off the little cap of the acorn, was delighted to find safely hidden inside the shell a tiny white purse which, as soon as he took it in his paw, grew larger, and when Puss opened it, he found it filled with gold coins. But he didn't know, of course, that it was a magic purse and would never be empty, and he said to himself: "I have found my fortune," laughed Puss, and then he galloped on, and after a while his pony stopped to rest under a great spreading elm tree. So Puss slid from the saddle and sat down on a bed of moss, and then, all of a sudden, a poor beggar man came by. He was very poorly clad and his long white hair hung down over his shoulders and his ragged coat was full of holes. And when he saw little Puss he put out his hand to beg. So Puss pulled out his purse and gave him a handful of gold coins, and then he placed the purse back in his pocket. But as he did so he noticed it was as heavy as before. So he looked inside, and, sure enough, it was just as full of coins as it was before he had given any to the poor beggar man.

And then he heard that same little Yellow Bird sing:

"Keep the secret of your purse
Free from prying ear,
Or you'll find the golden coins
Will quickly disappear."

"Thank you, little bird," said Puss, and he looked all around to find his little feathered friend, but all he saw was a yellow flash in the leaves overhead.

"What did that little bird say to you?" asked the poor beggar man, for he didn't understand the bird language, you know.

"He told me a secret," replied Puss, and "I may not tell it to any one." So the old man went upon his way, and pretty soon Puss mounted his pony and rode off, and by and by, he came across a large field. His eyes were red as rubies and his legs were green and yellow, and as soon as he saw Puss he ran away.

So Puss followed, and in less than 500 short seconds he overtook the strange-looking man, and Puss dismounted and went up to him, for the old man had set down under a large mushroom.

"Why do you run after me?" he asked. "Because you have such wonderful ruby eyes," said Puss, and what happened after that you must wait to hear it in the next story.—Copyright, 1920. (To Be Continued.)

Banish Catarrh

Breathe Hymel For Two Minutes and Stuffed Up Head Will Go

If you want to get safe relief from catarrh, cold in the head or from an irritating cough in the shortest time, breathe Hymel.

It will clean out your head in two minutes and allow you to breathe freely, awake or asleep, or money refunded.

Hymel should end a cold in one day, and relieve you of disgusting sniffles, hawking, spitting and offensive breath.

Hymel is made chiefly from eucalyptus, a soothing, healing, germ-killing antiseptic, that comes from the eucalyptus forests of inland Australia, where catarrh, asthma and other bronchial troubles are seldom and easy to breathe.

Just pour a few drops into the Hard Rubber Inhaler, use as directed and relief is almost certain.

A Complete Hymel Outfit, including Inhaler and one bottle of Hymel, costs but little at the Haag Drug Stores and druggists everywhere.

Water Well Now Produces Oil

Special to The Times.

KOKOMO, Ind., Oct. 6.—The water well on the O. L. Carr farm, Taylor township, which has supplied water for thirty years, has suddenly produced oil.

Examination has demonstrated that the oil is a good quality of crude petroleum.

The well was originally productive of gas and when that gave out was allowed to run to supply water for stock.

Red Cross public health nursing for Kentucky.

Dr. E. C. Helwig, director of the division of school hygiene, showed a number of films at the afternoon session.

Addresses were given at the sessions yesterday by Dr. J. N. Hurty, Amos W. Butler, L. N. Hines, Mrs. Helen LeMalle, Miss Marion Bell, Dr. Ada E. Schweitzer, Miss Isabel Carleton and O. C. Warneck.

Round table discussions were held under the leadership of Miss Mildred Williams, Miss McCaslin and Miss Joan Anderson.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

THURSDAY, OCT. 7.

Astrologers read this as a fortunate day. The Sun, Mars and Jupiter are all in benefic aspect. Uranus is strongly adverse.

All the stars that govern action are friendly today. It is a rule under which to use one's full energies, working with optimistic spirit and therefore with the confidence that always succeeds.

Officials and all who hope to hold public office should profit by today's aspects which make for public acclaim and the approval of the people.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the forecast of a busy year which will be exceedingly prosperous. Those who are employed probably will be promoted.

Children born on this day may be quick-tempered and sensitive, but industrious and successful.—Copyright, 1920.

M'CULLOCH ASKS EXPENSES BE CUT

Says State Overhead Costs
Should Be Reduced.

Special to The Times.

VINCENNES, Ind., Oct. 6.—In a speech here last night before a big crowd of men and women voters, Dr. Carlton B. McCulloch, Democratic candidate for Governor, emphasized the need for a survey of all departments of the State looking toward a reduction in boards and commissions and reducing overhead costs.

"Honor to whom honor is due," Dr. McCulloch said.

Governor Lowden of Illinois performed a great service for his State when he and a survey made of all the various activities of the Illinois government and concentrated the machinery thereof within a few boards.

"This plan should be followed in Indiana, and if I am elected it is my intention to recommend to the Legislature that such a method be adopted.

"We have too many boards, departments and commissions; they are duplicating each other's work; they are overlapping; they are throwing enormous tax burdens on the people already overburdened with taxes.

"It is time we get down to a sane economical basis.

"We can eliminate a large percentage of our salary lists.

"If a scientific survey is made—if we prune, pare and concentrate—we can save millions of dollars to our citizens.

"The Statehouse is now crowded with clerks and stenographers and other employees—a big proportion of whom could be dispensed with without impairing the efficiency of the administration in the least.

"Let us apply at home the same principles that made Thomas Taggart famous when he recommended them to the United States Senate."

KOKOMO MAN HANGS SELF.

KOKOMO, Ind., Oct. 6.—Claude Viney, 45, recently divorced and a few months ago an inmate of the County Hospital for the Insane, hanged himself to a guy wire along the line of the Union Traction Company, near Cassville.
