

ORDER NEW TRIAL OF BRIDGE LEASE

Appellate Court Sends Suit Back to Hamilton County.

A new trial has been granted by the Appellate Court in the case of Edwin J. Roberts against Leo K. Fesler, auditor; Ed G. Sourbier, former treasurer; Louis W. George, Carl H. Shank and Joseph G. Hayes, commissioners of Marion County, and the American Construction Company, in which an injunction is asked to prevent the defendants from making payment for the construction of a bridge over Fall creek, on Senate avenue.

The Appellate Court sent the case back to the Hamilton County Circuit Court, from where it was appealed, for retrial, after the appellant had shown prima facie error in the failure of the appellees to file a brief in the case.

It was alleged by the plaintiff that the defendants in 1917, after advertising for bids for the construction of the bridge, failed to make any entry on the records of the awarding of the contract, after the county council had appropriated $125,000 for payment.

The defendant set forth that he had examined the records of acts of the commissioners, and that he failed to find any entry of awarding of the contract.

Judgment was rendered by the lower court in favor of the defendants.

The Appellate Court reversed the action of the lower court.

ARMENIAN RELIEF WORKERS MEET

New Plea for American Help Made at Claypool.

Pleas to succor Armenian orphans were made by the speakers at the Indiana Near East Relief State Conference, held in the Palm room of the Claypool Hotel today.

American money is now taking care of 16,000 orphans, while there are 200,000 more wandering over the deserts, it was said at the conference.

Charles V. Vickrey, general secretary of the national organization, declared there is no hope for "suffering Armenia" if she is deserted by American philanthropy.

It was that it will be necessary to feed and clothe them another year.

Dr. Isaac M. Yonan, a native of Assyria who was driven across the desert with a party of 50,000 refugees by the Turks, gave an account of the horrible experience of that journey, emphasizing an appeal for Armenian and Syrian relief.

Mrs. Edith V. Hoffman, American Red Cross nurse, who served with the organization in Armenia, gave an account of her experiences in relieving the great accomplishments among the children.

"Could all American mothers get one glimpse of some of my 'return' they would keep their hearts open to all future appeals from the Near East Relief," she said.

A program for the State work was laid out by Clarence D. Royce, State director, and Alton E. Wilson, former president of a permanent constituency consisting of churches, Sunday schools, women's organizations, business and fraternal organizations and labor organizations.

At the luncheon at the Riley room, John H. Holliday presided as chairman, the speakers being Dr. Yonan, Mr. Vickrey, Miss Elizabeth B. Kelly, national speaker, and Senator James E. Watson.

FARMER WOUNDS WOULD-BE BANDIT

John W. Deery, 518 West Maryland street, is in a serious condition at St. Vincent's Hospital today suffering bullet wounds, one of which penetrated the left lung and another the stomach, received in an attempt to hold-up a farmer, Elmer Russell, living near the Highland golf links last night.

Russell told the police that some one giving him a "Tom" called him from his bed at about 10 o'clock.

He dressed and went to the door with a lantern.

In one of his pockets he had about $200 and in the other he had a revolver.

The man asked him if he would see him some where he had in his yard and when told they were not for sale he asked the road to Noblesville.

Not waiting for an answer, Deery grasped Russell about the waist.

In the struggle Russell drew the gun and fired, the first bullet striking Deery in the left lung.

Deery ran, followed by two men, who appeared when the shot was fired, and as they ran Russell fired three more shots, one striking Deery in the back and one in the thumb.

Deery was later found in the rear of the home of W. W. Evans, on Forty-fourth street, about two miles from the hospital.

On Their Honeymoon

CAPT. EDWIN H. RANDLE AND MRS. RANDLE.

Two young people, formerly of this city, who are now on their way to Cuba for a honeymoon, are Capt. and Mrs. Edwin H. Randle, who were married in San Antonio, Texas, Friday night.

Mrs. Randle was formerly Miss Emily Agnes Karns, daughter of Mrs. Minnie Karns, 2332 Cornell avenue, and Capt. Randle was stationed in Ft. Harrison until a short time ago, when he was transferred to San Antonio.

Capt. and Mrs. Randle will be at home in San Antonio on their return.

WOMEN OBSERVE PRESIDENT'S DAY

President's day was observed by the Monday Club this afternoon in the Probynasium.

Bright-colored autumn leaves, scarlet berries and sprays of lilies were attractively arranged throughout the room.

Mrs. J. F. Edwards, the retiring president, opened the meeting, introducing the incoming president, Mrs. A. J. Clark.

It was also "fellowship day" for the club and the members sang "Auld Lang Syne" in nelson at the opening of the program.

A message was read by the secretary from Mrs. David Owen Thomas, founder of the club, who now is in Minneapolis.

Greetings from absent former presidents were read and informal talks were made by present presidents.

Among those who talked were: Mrs. E. J. Robinson, who told of the work of the club during her term, and also of the organization's activities under the late Dr. Rebecca Rogers George.

Mrs. William Hitz, including "Give Me a Friend" and "My Father Is Everywhere."

Mrs. Estelle Carson Jones gave a group of musical monologues, accompanied by Mrs. Herbert Adkinson, including "Give Me a Friend" and "My Father Is Everywhere."

SCORE PREMIER'S CARNARVON TALK

British Press Sees Naught to Help Irish Problem.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Many prominent British newspapers profess to see no aid toward a settlement of the Irish question in the sensational speech delivered by Premier Lloyd George at Carnarvon, Wales, on Saturday.

"The premier lost his opportunity," said the Times.

"The speech does nothing to help Irish peace," declared Lord Northcliffe's Daily Mail.

"The speech suggests nothing to redress the government's failure to govern Ireland," was the comment of the Daily Graphic.

"It was not so much the despairing importance as blind folly," said the Daily News.

"Lloyd George will have the backing of all sane citizens and the speech will create a good impression," declared Daily Express.

"Ireland has already voted for an independent status," declared Arthur Griffith, acting president of the Irish Republic, according to a Central News dispatch from Dublin, quoting the Sinn Fein leader.

"The reply of the British government was a cold, arrogant and imprudent armed assault, shooting and murders by the English."

Griffith was quoted further as saying that England could have a real peace with Ireland if she wanted it.

Premier Lloyd George made it plain that he intends to stand upon his Carnarvon speech and will not temper any of his harsh utterances.

When his attention was called to the attack of former Premier Asquith, by a reporter from the Standard, Mr. Lloyd George said:

"I notice that no mention is made by Mr. Asquith of the 'hellish policy of murder.' I do not propose to take any notice of Mr. Asquith's statement."

The former premier, in his attack upon the Lloyd George speech at Carnarvon, expressed the opinion that it showed the British Government was unable to solve the Irish problem.

CLAYPOOL WEDS MISS NICHOLSON

Ceremony at St. Paul's Church Takes Place Saturday.

One of the most beautiful weddings of the season was that of Miss Elizabeth Nicholson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Nicholson, and Benjamin F. Claypool, which took place Saturday night in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, the Rev. Lewis Brown officiating.

Myriads of lighted tapers gleamed through the feathery greenery and silver standards, marking each pew in the central aisle, which were entwined with smiling.

Hanging baskets of many-hued roses and lilies, bay trees, southern smilax and floor baskets of chrysanthemums and roses made a garden-like setting for the service.

A program of organ numbers was played by Clarence H. Carson, while the guests were being seated, including "Gloria Nuptial" (Moore), "La Chaconne" (Gabriel-Marie), "Humoresque" (Lemaitre), "Narcissus" (Nevin), "Dance Grotesque" (H. B. Ward), "Barcarolle" (Offenbach), "Gondoliers" (Nevin).

"Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson, 'All For You' just before the ceremony, and Mr. Carson used the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" for the processional, with Mendelssohn "Wedding March" for the recessional.

The bridal party included Frederick Holliday, Jack Gould, Dudley Pfaff, Charles B. Pearce and Meredith Nicholson.

She wore the gift of the bridegroom, a diamond brooch set in platinum, a family heirloom.

A reception in the Woodstock Club followed the service.

Masses of greenery, and pedestal baskets of lilies and dahlias were used.
