

TRUSTEES ASK BETTER SCHOOLS

Many Recommendations Made by Officials.

State legislation for better schools was advocated in the closed session of the township trustees' association Tuesday afternoon at the Claypool Hotel.

Officers elected for the coming year are: A. D. Swope, Lebanon, president; Scott Brandenburg, Palestine, vice president; Joseph Hillman, Indianapolis, secretary and treasurer.

The consolidation of rural schools was proposed by the legislative body, of which Lewis Lewis of Rush County is chairman.

Centralization plans were opposed on the grounds that a central government takes the schools out of the hands of the local authorities who are on the ground and know the needs and conditions of the schools.

Several cases where bad road conditions interfered with the proper progress of the schools were given.

RIGHT QUESTIONED.

The right of the county superintendent to appoint his corps of teachers was questioned by the township officials who state that politics and religion often entered into selecting teachers.

An eight-month term and a minimum salary of $500 was recommended for teachers who have had less than thirty-six weeks' normal school experience, and a minimum of $600 was recommended for teachers who have had thirty-six weeks of normal school work.

Issuance of bonds for the construction of school buildings and an adjustment of tax rates were urged.

The example given was that Indianapolis people do not care to pay State taxes on a school in Evansville, Gary or Ellettsville, as they are interested only in their home schools.

The limit of 4 per cent assessed valuation for schools of each township was urged by the legislative board.

SOUTHERN INDIANA STANDS GROWTH.

Counties of the southern part of the state were blamed by Mr. Lewis for regarding the growth and betterment of Indiana schools.

The association, according to Mr. Lewis, favors the enactment of laws for buildings and road purposes in twenty-five counties of the southern section of the state, which is said to have received but a total of $284,549 as state aid.

Vocational agriculture and cooperation with the farmers was suggested.

Transportation to schools for students and the furnishing of books by the State is also advocated by the association and the enactment of laws for the same are urged.

Among other reforms suggested by the association were compulsory physical education in all consolidated schools, teaching of art and music in rural schools, increase in salary of members of the advisory board which at present is $5 a year and a revision of the salary bill for county trustee officers.

Rich Negro Opposed to Social Equality

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 20.—Born a slave, and now reputed to be one of the wealthiest and most respected negroes in the south, David T. Howard, 71, today celebrated his golden wedding anniversary. He gave this advice to members of his race:

"I never wasted time; I never went in for wild oats; never saw a baseball game and never danced a step—but always attended to my business."

"So social equality for me; no sane thinking negro wants it."

"Too many silk shirts and too much good time are the causes of racial unrest."

Sans Dress, Parisian Women Use Fur Coat

PARIS, Oct. 20.—Fur coats are the latest fashions in evening gowns. The reason is that evening gowns are so undressed that even the most daring woman hesitates to appear in them in public.

The indispensable coat is preferably of ermine, which is becoming under brilliant lights and which is not too warm to wear during a performance at the opera or theater.

THE refining of petroleum
has been revolutionized
during the past ten years.
Otherwise the present use of automotive machinery would be impossible.

In 1910 the average yield of gasoline from crude was 11 percent, while in 1919 this average had risen to about 26 percent,
without in any way, impairing
the quality of the product.

This tremendous advance was the direct result of applying
the findings of scientific workers to the problems of industry, and in this work the Standard Oil Company
(Indiana) has taken a leading part.

The chemists and technical experts who have charge of the manufacturing activities of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) have been pioneers
in the scientific refining of crude oil.

Their success is attested by the fact that the Company has been able to produce an ever-increasing volume of gasoline from the petroleum available.

The gasoline problem is important, but it can and will be solved by individual initiative, stimulated by fair and reasonable competition.

In the solving of this problem, the interests of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), the manufacturer of automotive machinery, and the public are one—greatly increased production is essential.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana)
is straining every fibre of its highly specialized organization to increase the quantity of gasoline which may be taken from the crude—to maintain the high standard of quality it has always insisted on, and to do this without disturbing the output of other useful and necessary refined products
of petroleum which it must supply.
