

THE WEATHER

Generally fair tonight. Saturday, probable showers. Somewhat cooler.

VOL. XXXIII.

Published at Indianapolis. Entered as Second Class Matter, July 25, 1914, at Postoffice, Indianapolis, Ind., under act March 3, 1879.

POLITICS BOBS UP IN TEACHERS' STATE MEETING

Hines Candidacy to Head Organization Revived at Today's Session.

SIX EDUCATORS IN RACE

BULLETIN. Donald DuShane of Columbus will be nominated for the presidency of the Indiana State Teachers' Association at the general meeting of the association at Tomlinson Hall late this afternoon by unanimous vote of the nominating committee.

Cornelia Blaney of Wabash was nominated for recording secretary.

Indications that politics had entered into the affairs of the State Teachers' Association were frequent today as the election of a president for next year, which was to take place late this afternoon, drew near.

L. N. Hines, State superintendent of public instruction, and candidate on the Republican ticket to succeed himself, is still in the running, despite strong opposition from one faction of the association.

It is reported that arrangements were made long before the convention to bring about the nomination of Mr. Hines.

If his election is recommended by the committee his opponents will fight it on the floor of the convention.

Others who have been mentioned as possible candidates are Donald DuShane, Columbus; Edgar Hawkins, Vincennes; R. W. Benselick, Ft. Wayne; Emma Colbert, Indianapolis, and T. A. Mett, Seymour.

Cooperation and organized efforts for legislation for the betterment of teachers was urged by L. N. Hines, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, in a speech at a general session of the State Teachers' Association at Tomlinson Hall today.

J. J. Pfeiffer, head of the Indiana University extension division, gave an address on "A New Constitution for the State Teachers' Association."

HINES REFERS TO ACCUSATION.

Mr. Hines, in his address on "Why Indiana is Seventeenth in Education," said that the Indiana teachers had been accused of not knowing what they want.

He said that in the last twenty years Indiana has been little behind in the educational line, the state being so small that it can hardly be realized.

The speaker censured the short terms of the country schools, advocating at least an eight months' school year.

Among the improvements needed in Indiana schools he cited better school attendance in grammar and high schools, more school expenditures for teachers' salaries, improvements in housing facilities and a program of physical general health and vocational education.

Mr. Hines recommended a definite plan for a legislative campaign, including that teachers be given a definite result in insufficiently educated men and women who are restless, discontented citizens with low vitality.

In discussing the higher salaries of teachers Mr. Hines said that a teacher must be paid enough to guarantee a comfortable living.

He also recommended a law giving teachers' positions as long as their work is satisfactory and efficient, thus eliminating the present constant changing of instructors, especially, in the rural schools.

DISCUSSES HIGHER EDUCATION SUPPORT.

In discussing the appropriation of the State for the institutions of higher education Mr. Hines said that it is "a shame and a disgrace" that Indiana ranks fourth in the country in supporting its higher education.

Mr. Pfeiffer, in an address, pointed out the advantages and disadvantages of representative assemblies and general assemblies for State teachers' organizations.

Dr. Frederick E. Shannon, pastor of the Central Church of Chicago, spoke on "Alice Freeman Palmer and Her Three Laws of Happiness" at this morning's session at the Masonic Temple, in place of Charles E. Stetke, who was on the program.

In addition to the address by Dr. Shannon there was a musical program, prepared by Dean McCutcheon, De Pauw University School of Music.

Ruth Mary Weeks of Missouri gave an address on "Education's Great Hour" before a thousand teachers of the State association in the Claypool Hotel assembly hall.

The meeting was presided over by Vice President Elsa Hinehner.

The Schelschmidt Trio, with violin, harp and cello, of Franklin College opened the meeting.

Miss Weeks talked on social, labor and economic problems of moral welfare work which she said must be developed in the school lives of American students, if this country is to make progress in education.

STEINER DISCUSSES ALLEN QUESTION.

Edward A. Steiner talked on "Americanization" at the Meridian Street M. E. Church.

He gave his views from the standpoint of a foreign-born citizen of the United States. Dr. Steiner having been born in Hungary.

Dr. Steiner expressed himself as advocating the foreigner to learn the English language, but said the foreigner naturally absorbs the language from personal contact.

He advocated teaching them the poetry and songs of the country before teaching them the Constitution.

He deplored the bill in Congress that every foreigner who has not learned the English language in five years be deported.

"Why ships enough will not be available if that becomes a law," he said.

"People cannot be assimilated by force; such methods will alienate many Americans."

In the matter of the constitution the question of whether State conventions are

(Continued on Page Nineteen.)

Will Aid Foreigner

Seventh Day Adventists, in general conference here, will inaugurate a campaign among the foreign-speaking people in the United States, in furtherance of their Americanization.

The evangelistic forces now operating among the foreign-born residents in a number of large centers are to be increased.

WEATHER

Forecast for Indianapolis and vicinity for the twenty-four hours ending 7 p. m., Saturday, Oct. 23: Generally fair tonight; Saturday, probably showers and some-

HOURLY TEMPERATURE.

6 a. m. 64
8 a. m. 63
10 a. m. 66
12 a. m. 73
1 p. m. 72
2 p. m. 70
3 p. m. 69
4 p. m. 68
5 p. m. 67
6 p. m. 66

Faiths, Lives

Forecast for Indianapolis and vicinity for the twenty-four hours ending 7 p. m., Saturday, Oct. 23: Generally fair tonight; Saturday, probably showers and some-weather.

Mrs. Mason bought two ounces of carbolic acid and was about to take it while walking in the street when she fainted. Domestic trouble is said to have prompted her attempt to commit suicide.

Man Scalped to Death

Portland, Ore., Oct. 22—Oscar Bara, engineer, was scalped to death in a freight train wreck on the Southern Pacific south of Portland today. The engine left the rails and turned over when she faced death.

Mrs. Mason bought two ounces of carbolic acid and was about to take it while walking in the street when she fainted. Domestic trouble is said to have prompted her attempt to commit suicide.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 22—Oscar Bara, engineer, was scalped to death in a freight train wreck on the Southern Pacific south of Portland today. The engine left the rails and turned over when she faced death.

Mrs. Mason bought two ounces of carbolic acid and was about to take it while walking in the street when she fainted. Domestic trouble is said to have prompted her attempt to commit suicide.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 22—The Utica Knitting Company, one of the largest manufacturers of knit underwear in the world, announced today that two more of its mills will be closed Saturday for an indefinite period, making five idle.

Indiana Daily Times

INDIANAPOLIS, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1920.

Subscription Rates: By Carrier, Week, Indianapolis, 10c; Elsewhere, 12c. By Mail, 50c Per Month; $5.00 Per Year.

NO. 141.

Suffrage Leader Says Only Hope For Peace Is Through Cox's Election

Carrie Chapman Catt Will Give Support to Democrats.

MRS. CARRIE CHAPMAN CATT.

Paul Davis Tells Where He Stands

If I am elected prosecuting attorney I will see to it that none of the taxpayers' money is unlawfully appropriated and that the county prosecutor who spends the county's money without legal authority, regardless of whether he is on my side of the political fence or

I believe that an aggressive investigation by the prosecutor of the manner in which the public money is spent will result in a more economical administration of our public affairs and to the end that we may have lower taxes in this country. I will do my best to investigate the manner in which money is paid out of the public treasury.

This year the tax rate for Center Township is $169 upon each $100 worth of property. Next year we will be required to pay $242 upon each $100 worth of property.

The tax levy has not only been increased more than 50 per cent in a single year, but the valuation of property in this county has increased more than 50 per cent.

I think that one of the greatest benefits that a prosecutor can bring to the county is zealously to watch the money that is spent and the indebtedness that is incurred upon behalf of the public.

If the State board of accounts or any individual brings to my attention the claim that the public money is being spent in violation of law, I will consider it the most important business of the grand jury immediately to investigate all such claims and I will zealously prosecute to the best of my ability any and all who violate the confidence of the public by unlawfully spending the public's money or incurring indebtedness against the county without right.

(Continued on Page Ten.)

SAYS ELECTION BOARD PLAYS POOR POLITICS

Discrimination Charge Made in Distribution of Voting Machines.

EARLY VOTE IS WISHED

The playing of "peanut politics" by County Auditor Leo K. Fealer, County Clerk Richard Sipe and Jackson Carter, refusing to provide Woodbury Masson, the Democratic member of the Marion County election board, with a complete list of all voting machines now distributed to various political demonstration purposes, today resulted in a public protest by Mr. Masson.

Mr. Masson charges that only a few of the machines, which were requested to be placed in certain Democratic centers, have been placed, although they have been ordered by the board of county commissioners.

Following the failure of Mr. Masson to obtain a complete list of the location of the voting machines by an authorized interview with Colonel Boneal, the editor of the Baltimore Sun, declined to discuss political conditions, but talked freely about his earnest desire for world peace.

Church bodies and Christian statesmen generally have put themselves behind the League of Nations as a tremendous moral issue.

What especially among other nations calls for such an association of nations is the need, generally recognized, of making every effort to abolish or to reduce the enormous burden of the military expenditures, which States now bear in order to prevent world war.

Churches and Christian statesmen

Cardinal Gibbons, 15,390 Others Indorse League

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—To the 15,390 American clergymen who have taken a firm stand for the League of Nations, is now added the name of his friend James Cardinal Gibbons, who based his support chiefly upon the encyclical of Pope Benedict, declaring that all states "should unite in one league."

The distinguished prelate, in an authorized interview with Colonel Boneal, the editor of the Baltimore Sun, declined to discuss political conditions, but talked freely about his earnest desire for world peace.

Church bodies and Christian statesmen generally have put themselves behind the League of Nations as a tremendous moral issue.

What especially among other nations calls for such an association of nations is the need, generally recognized, of making every effort to abolish or to reduce the enormous burden of the military expenditures, which States now bear in order to prevent world war.

Churches and Christian statesmen

with the spirit of righteousness when he proclaimed them to be the overruling city and to the world that is in such grave danger. I subscribe to them absolutely, and without reservations as an American citizen and as a son of the church as well, night the oldest son of the church."

Colonel Boneal notes that his endorsement inspired him to speak of his age and time.

"Yes, I am in favor of very different world arrangements than checks and balances, to use the words of our political

(Continued on Page Eighteen.)

SEES ELEVENTH HOUR PANIC IN ROOT'S EFFORTS

Cox Plans Counter Moves Against Frantic Raid on Gains.

INVADES NEW JERSEY

EN ROUTE WITH GOVERNOR COX. PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22—Governor James M. Cox, beginning his first invasion of New Jersey today, was considering counter-moves against what he believes is an eleventh-hour attempt of Root, the bold boy Senator Harding, to stem the tide he says has swept to world.

After reading Root's reply to his telegram demanding that the Republican leader retract his statement that "Mr. Cox wants the league just as Mr. Wilson negotiates it," the Governor said the apparent objective of this movement is to misrepresent his attitude on reservations for the League of Nations.

Eight hundred and sixteen clergymen declined to sign the petition because they opposed the League.

Upon the basis of the ministers of the country are eighteen to one for the League.

At the interview with Colonel Boneal, Cardinal Gibbons asked him to read aloud to him two paragraphs of the Pope's encyclical as follows:

"The holy father was indeed inspired with the spirit of righteousness when he proclaimed them to be the overruling city and to the world that is in such grave danger. I subscribe to them absolutely, and without reservations as an American citizen and as a son of the church as well, night the oldest son of the church."

Colonel Boneal notes that his endorsement inspired him to speak of his age and time.

"Yes, I am in favor of very different world arrangements than checks and balances, to use the words of our political

(Continued on Page Eighteen.)

PAPER' RAILWAY FUND SHIFTING DEAL PUT OVER UNDER MCRAE ON AT CITY HALL

Unused Money Here Is Taken to Plug Hole That Has Developed There.

ANGLED FOR INFLUENCE

WENDELL T. MCRAE, the "dirt farmer" Republican candidate for Governor, not only hired a promoter to make a pretense of establishing a railroad to influence the Newton County seat election, but he also proved himself a poor sport when he lost, according to the record of cause 22,440 in the Supreme Court of Indiana.

In this case it is after Kentland lost the county seat election McRae induced the county to find a man in the north end of the county to bring a suit contesting the election for him.

They refused to direct Mr. McRae to bring a copy of his list or permit him to have a copy made, giving as their reason that they had been my party, and that I was not wanted.

I pointed out to them that as a member of the board I was entitled to this information and that the public was entitled to know where the machines were located.

I also stated to them that if certain parts of the city or products had been placed in the county, it was a violation of the law.

I pointed out to them that as a member of this lodge it was a matter that ought to be made public.

They refused to direct Mr. McRae to bring a copy of his list or permit him to have a copy made, giving as their reason that they had been my party, and that I was not wanted.

I pointed out to them that as a member of the board I was entitled to this information and that the public was entitled to know where the machines were located.

I also stated to them that if certain parts of the city or products had been placed in the county, it was a violation of the law.

I pointed out to them that as a member of this lodge it was a matter that ought to be made public.

They refused to direct Mr. McRae to bring a copy of his list or permit him to have a copy made, giving as their reason that they had been my party, and that I was not wanted.

I pointed out to them that as a member of the board I was entitled to this information and that the public was entitled to know where the machines were located.

I also stated to them that if certain parts of the city or products had been placed in the county, it was a violation of the law.

I pointed out to them that as a member of this lodge it was a matter that ought to be made public.