

MCRAY SEEKS TO COVER HAND IN WHEAT PIT

Keeps Hidden His Connection
With Grain Futures
Deals.

W. T. McCray, Republican candidate for Governor, is trying hard to suppress the facts of his connection with the Chicago Board of Trade and the Sowers Grain Company of Chicago, which deals in grain futures.

In listing his business assets in his campaign speeches he has carefully refrained from mentioning his relations with the board, which Senator Capper of Kansas recently referred to as a "gambling hell."

From all indications word has gone out to the subordinates in the Sowers Grain Company, of which Mr. McCray is vice-president, to allow no information concerning his relation with the company to get into the public.

PHOTOGRAPH

A request was recently made of A. S. Swanson, manager of the Indianapolis branch of the company, located on the fifth floor of the Board of Trade building, to furnish a photograph of the doorsteps of his office. He was informed that the pictures together with the letterheads of the firm were to be used to acquaint the people of Indiana with Mr. McCray's official connection with the company so that they might judge whether they should send a letter of protest to Governor.

Mr. Swanson not only indignantly declined permission, but in the course of a rather explosive argument took the occasion to deny that he was running a "bucket shop." Incidentally no reference had been made that the Sowers Grain Company was running a "bucket shop" in Indianapolis and Mr. Swanson's voluntary statement is regarded as rather illuminating to people who are acquainted with the inside affairs of Mr. McCray's concern.

FIRM DEALS
IN FUTURES.

On each side of the door leading to the office that bears a very intimate relation to the price Indiana farmers receive for their grain appears the following wording:

Members
Chicago
Board of Trade.
Indianapolis
Board of Trade.
Sowers Grain Company.
Cash Futures.
A. S. Swanson.

According to reports of men acquainted with the local Board of Trade, Mr. McCray's was an unusual protest of the concern was on the door until just prior to his entry into the gubernatorial contest.

It still, however, appears on the stationery of the firm and he is listed as being a member of the Chicago Board of Trade.

After refusing permission for the photograph, Mr. Swanson continued:

"I'll stand for anything like that; it's direct politics."

"Well, if this is a reputable firm there is nothing sinister in Mr. McCray's connection with it, is there?" he was asked.

"I'll give you to understand that this place is not known as a bucket shop," was Mr. Swanson's indignant rejoinder, and the interview closed.

Mrs. Housewife, Do You Know?

1. What is aetate bread?
2. How to make fig sandwiches?
3. What is the value of steelwool in the household?

(These questions will be answered tomorrow by the Housewife.)

ANSWERS TO YESTERDAY'S QUESTIONS.

1. Haricot bean (properly pronounced "hah-ee-l-koh") is the kidney bean. Haricot is old French word applied to a mutton stew in which this kind of bean is used. Hence the name.

2. To make pulled bread, remove the crust from a loaf of bread and pull the bread into pieces. Place in a slow oven and bake until thoroughly dry and a light brown color.

MRS. T. M. McCARTY,
330 Broadway, Indianapolis.

(The Times will be glad to print YOUR husband's favorite recipe. Address Recipe Editor, Daily Times.)

—Copyright, 1920.

From all indications word has gone out to the subordinates in the Sowers Grain Company, of which Mr. McCray is vice-president, to allow no information concerning his relation with the company to get into the public.

PHOTOGRAPH

A request was recently made of A. S. Swanson, manager of the Indianapolis branch of the company, located on the fifth floor of the Board of Trade building, to furnish a photograph of the doorsteps of his office. He was informed that the pictures together with the letterheads of the firm were to be used to acquaint the people of Indiana with Mr. McCray's official connection with the company so that they might judge whether they should send a letter of protest to Governor.

Mr. Swanson not only indignantly declined permission, but in the course of a rather explosive argument took the occasion to deny that he was running a "bucket shop." Incidentally no reference had been made that the Sowers Grain Company was running a "bucket shop" in Indianapolis and Mr. Swanson's voluntary statement is regarded as rather illuminating to people who are acquainted with the inside affairs of Mr. McCray's concern.

FIRM DEALS
IN FUTURES.

On each side of the door leading to the office that bears a very intimate relation to the price Indiana farmers receive for their grain appears the following wording:

Members
Chicago
Board of Trade.
Indianapolis
Board of Trade.
Sowers Grain Company.
Cash Futures.
A. S. Swanson.

According to reports of men acquainted with the local Board of Trade, Mr. McCray's was an unusual protest of the concern was on the door until just prior to his entry into the gubernatorial contest.

It still, however, appears on the stationery of the firm and he is listed as being a member of the Chicago Board of Trade.

After refusing permission for the photograph, Mr. Swanson continued:

"I'll stand for anything like that; it's direct politics."

"Well, if this is a reputable firm there is nothing sinister in Mr. McCray's connection with it, is there?" he was asked.

"I'll give you to understand that this place is not known as a bucket shop," was Mr. Swanson's indignant rejoinder, and the interview closed.

FREEZONE

lift Off Corns! No Pain!

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly!

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of Freezone for a few cents, sufficient to treat every bad corn on the market without soreness or irritation. Adhesive.

Don't throw a brick
There's a reason

Don't throw a brick<br