

LLOYD GEORGE ASKS MINERS TO MEET CABINET

Peace Formula Move Assures Postponement of Railroad Strike.

LABOR STRIFE LIGHTENS

LONDON, Oct. 23.—Premier Lloyd George moved today to prevent a spread of the general strike from the coal fields to the railway and dock employees.

The executives of the Federation of Coal Miners were invited to confer with the cabinet to consider a peace formula which involved an increase in wages to the miners if the production were increased.

This action practically assured a postponement of the railroad strike. The National Union of Railway Men had promised to call off the threatened general strike of railway employees if the government took steps before Sunday night to end the coal walkout.

Although the railway workers, dominated by the radical element, voted to go out in a sympathetic strike, they were said to be facing serious dissension within their ranks because of the refusal of J. H. Thomas, their secretary, to lead such a demonstration.

MAY INDUCE MINERS TO REOPEN CASE.

This situation has led certain officials and the press to predict the railway men will find means today to induce the miners to reopen their case.

Thomas' refusal to sign the strike notice sent out was understood to have been based on belief that calling a sympathetic strike would virtually wreck the union.

The belief was expressed in official circles that the transport workers, the third division of the triple alliance, would refuse officially to call a sympathetic strike, although 8,000 were out in Yorkshire as the result of a local dispute.

PARLIAMENT TO PASS EMERGENCY MEASURES.

Parliament will reconvene Monday in a session of emergency legislation.

It was learned authoritatively at the Board of Trade that the government would make no advances before tomorrow, expecting the railway workers to rescind their strike notices.

All branches of the electrical workers' unions will meet Monday to decide upon a sympathetic strike.

A dangerous situation admittedly was developing among the dock workers.

Employers were discharging thousands as a result of the coal strike and sailors were active.

The House of Commons was not in session today.

The last action prior to adjournment last night was the introduction of an emergency powers bill reviving certain clauses of the defense of the realm act to meet the dangers of a nation-wide strike.

The government has already made plans for the guarding of railways, docks and mines with troops.

Armies and detachments will be utilized for the transportation of food and mail if the rail men go out.

The membership of the trade union congress to which may be given the tremendously important task of directing the destinies of British labor in conjunction with the new council of action, including:

Eight hundred and seventy thousand coal miners (not counting helpers and agents).

Eighty thousand dock workers (not counting helpers).

One hundred thousand agricultural laborers.

Six hundred thousand railway workers.

Twenty thousand vehicle workers.

One million two hundred and fifty thousand members of the National Federation of general workers.

Three hundred thousand textile workers.

One hundred thousand street railway workers.

Two hundred thousand shop assistants and clerks.

Two hundred and fifty thousand building trades workers.

FEAR RIOT AT MAYOR'S DEATH

British Officials Preparing to Handle Emergency.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—More than 100 policemen were massed about Brixton jail this afternoon to prevent rioting in the event of the death of Lord Mayor Teague MacSwiney of Cork.

The precautionary activities of the government indicated officials expected MacSwiney's death in a few hours.

Scotland Yard sent word to the chief inspector of Brixton jail that reinforcements of mounted police would be sent later in the afternoon.

Mrs. MacSwiney, wife of the hunger striker, left the prison at 2:30 o'clock. She said her husband was unconscious.

After arriving all members of the family during the morning, the prison officials related this afternoon and permitted Mrs. MacSwiney to see her husband.

Factors that MacSwiney's death became so persistent the chief inspector of Brixton jail issued a formal denial at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

MacSwiney is not dead but is in extreme, said the official.

RESOLUTION ASKS

A resolution was adopted by the convention recommending legislation be passed authorizing the employment of school nurses and dentists in addition to school teachers.

The following resolution endorsing the work of the Near East Relief Association of Indiana was adopted:

"We are impressed not only by the humanitarian elements of the appeal in behalf of the people, but also by the outstanding fact that their sufferings are the result of persecutions by the barbarians of the world."

"We are also impressed by the fact that the people of the world are being called upon to renounce their Christian faith and adopt Mohammedanism and greatly intensified by the fact that Armenia is being overrun by the forces of the world."

Donald D. Smith, of Columbus, was elected president of the organization at its meeting yesterday afternoon and Miss Cornelia Blaney, Wabash, was made recording secretary.

BEFORE TEACHERS

Albert J. Beveridge, in an address to the association last night at Tomlinson hall on the subject "The Development of the Individual Under John Marshall," said that today the nation is in need of another man with the vision and sagacity that was shown by the great chief justice, when he wrote for us the interpretation of the basic facts of the American Constitution.

Mr. Beveridge advocated the cultivation in the heart of every young man and woman a fundamental recognition of a past and a future, and a sense of citizenship, fashioned after the character of John Marshall, who holds a place in American history closely parallel to that of Lincoln.

In an address before the association at Tomlinson hall Friday afternoon Judge Kenesaw M. Landis of the United States Federal Court at Chicago said while he was not a member of the original total abstinence, announced his regrets that neither of the big political parties had taken a definite stand in their platforms on the wet and dry question.

"PERSONAL PRIVILEGE."

Wiping the perspiration from his brow at intervals while he sweated in the heat of the October afternoon, he remarked that if a "vote one" were presented to him just at that time, he doubted if he could have the heart to refuse its acceptance, and added that he was in favor of prohibition against his own personal pleasures and privileges, he believed that it would benefit the nation.

Judge Landis severely criticized both parties, but poured his heaviest broadside into the organizations and people who are loyal to the government in times of stress and said that he intended to spend the remainder of his life fighting those who are traitors to the United States Constitution and its underlying principles.

TEACHERS' DUTIES DEFINED BY SPEAKER.

In his talk on "Socializing the Teachers," which Mary Weeks of Jules College, Kansas City, at Friday afternoon's session at the Masonic temple, said the teacher did not make a great social success, being comparatively isolated, and his duties occupying nearly all of his time.

She said teachers are seldom good conversationalists, as they are too used to laying down the law.

The teacher should be a man of the world, she said, and should take an interest and part in civic activities in order to best carry on his work.

Touching the salaries for teachers, she said she had sometimes wondered if a slack attitude shown by the pupils was due to his belief that the teacher was rather a cheap article.

Edward A. Steiner of the University at Iowa said that what the world needs most is a restoration of faith, a mutual affection among all people.

MORRISON HITS BANKERS' VIEW

Labor Secretary Says Financiers Fool No One, but Themselves.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Secretary Frank Morrison of the American Federation of Labor today replied to the American Bankers Association which yesterday in convention adopted a resolution calling on labor to "abandon the economic fallacy that it can attain greater prosperity through a reduction of output."

"The bankers," said Morrison, "repeat photographic utterances about labor, capital and brains and the need for labor to produce more."

"It is now time for men who discuss economic questions to abandon the old theory that labor has no brains?"

CALLS BANKERS' HUMORISTS.

"These bankers are delightful humorists," said Morrison, "and yet we find them lecturing labor about producing more."

"Let them tell their story to the automobile workers in the Middle West who are laid off by thousands."

"Let them preach to textile workers in the East where mills are shut down by one of the Nation's most powerful and richest trusts!"

"Let them tell building craftsmen their story."

"Let them tell coal miners to work more when the records show that for the last twelve months those miners have produced more than 50,000,000 tons of coal than in the previous twelve months."

"Every bituminous mine field in the United States but Alabama and Mingo County, West Virginia, is in full operation."

"In these two exceptions the miners are striking for a living wage."

MINE PRODUCTION SMASHES RECORDS.

"The miners elsewhere are smashing all production records and yet we find the price of coal prohibitive and bankers lecturing on the need for greater production."

"The Government's record of exports of manufactured goods does not sustain the bankers' position."

"Let the bankers insist that the law of supply and demand, for which they profess such high regard, be permitted to operate."

"Let them call on the trusts and companies to stop fixing prices and to stop closing mills and shops to maintain these present high prices."

"Our banker friends may fool themselves, but they are fooling no one else."

REGISTRATION FRAUD CHARGED

not signed by persons purporting to be applicants, and which purported applicants were able to obtain and could use their names, but the same were signed by another party; that in many instances said applications were fraudulent.

Blankets for necessary information required by law were unfilled; that in many other instances said applications were fraudulent and that said applications, and there are numerous duplicate registrations, all of which were offered to substantiate proof.

And relator further avers that said false registrations and lists were used as a guide in said precinct by the election officers, and said false registrations will vote at said election; that relator has no remedy in this action other than to challenge said individual voters on election day, which remedy is not adequate for the reason that the number of fraudulent registrations in one precinct is impracticable and would cause confusion, controversy and delay in the voting process.

Relator further avers that the voters in said precinct who are lawfully registered and otherwise qualified to vote.

Judge Thornton has not announced the date of hearing on this emergency matter, but it is understood it will be considered the first of next week.

The complaint, exposing the registered voters, the challenged registration certificates are fraudulent, forgeries or irregular.

According to the first paragraph of the complaint, more than 600 void registrations in the First precinct of the Fifth ward are now on file in the office of County Auditor Leo K. Feiler.

The complaint divides these challenged registrations in the First precinct of the Fifth ward into four classes, as follows:

1. Where the signature of the applicant is in the identical handwriting of one of the two persons signing as witnesses.

2. Those applications that bear September registration numbers and are listed on the September registration books, but are sworn to before a return on dates from one to three weeks after the first registration on Sept. 4.

3. Where the certificates, which under law must be signed by two witnesses, are signed only by one witness, and the one witness is not the person making out the application, their precinct and ward numbers and addresses, but have the names of two witnesses.

4. Where the signatures of the registration applicant is made only by mark, but not attested by the witness identifying the mark of the applicant.

LONG REPORT MADE ON THE CASE.

Expert investigators who were employed by the plaintiff have made an exhaustive report as to the reported irregularities in the First precinct of the Fifth ward, and it is on these reports the action to purge the records of approximately 600 irregular, fraudulent or forged registrations, is based.

It is charged in the complaint that many of the registration applications in the First precinct of the Fifth ward have been made out and signed by Cora Warwick of 831 Paca street.

The complaint claims proof can be presented to show at least 200 void registration applications in the First precinct of the Fifth ward have been made out apparently in the same hand writing of one of the two witnesses.

The expert in making the report of their investigation say some of the applications falling in the above class are not only in the same handwriting of one of the two witnesses, but the name of the supposed applicant is incorrectly spelled; that some bear the signatures of no witnesses and that some are signed by mark but unattested.

THE HENRICKSON STATEMENT IN PROOF.

The plaintiff offers to prove that the Republican county chairman has stated in public print as well as in court that he has no objection to the void registrations in the First precinct of the Fifth ward, and that many of the registrations are on file and are registered on the books.

In this class the plaintiff asks an opportunity of the court to prove that some of the names of the applicants are incorrectly spelled; that some do not contain the age or birthday of the applicant; that some do not contain the first name of the purported applicant at the place where the applicant should sign, and the name of the applicant is written in the apparent handwriting of one of the witnesses.

It is said that a number of the registrations for the September registration in the First precinct of the Fifth ward bear numbers of the September registration, although they are dated and sworn to after the date of the first registration.

The report of the experts on which the suit is based alleges that some applications in the First precinct of the Fifth ward are duplicates in that it appears the names of some of the applicants are the same on two applications bearing different numbers.

PROSECUTOR FAILS TO INVESTIGATE.

Efforts to "weed out" the alleged illegal and false registrations by litigation in the courts was necessary, he said.

Prosecutor Charles Adams and his deputy, William Evans, Republican candidate for county prosecutor, failed to conduct a grand jury investigation following the election, before Superior Judge T. J. Moll, Room 5, that there were numerous false registrations filed with County Auditor Leo K. Feiler.

Prior to the last registration, Registrar Sullivan, Democratic county chairman, was compelled to obtain a writ of mandate to compel Auditor Feiler to allow Sullivan and his assistants to examine the registration records for the purpose of detecting fraud and irregularities.

In his petition for a mandate, Chairman Sullivan charged that he was "definitely informed and fully believes and charges the fact that in the past several months there have been thousands of fraudulent registrations existing in the Sixth precinct of the First ward; Thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth of the Fourth ward; the First, Second, Third and Fifth of the Fifth ward; the seventh, eighth and ninth of the Third ward, and in the Second, Third and Fourth of the Sixth ward."

Referring Democracy Miss Elliott said it is "a free cooperation of free people."

"That the American Bar Association has indicted the League of Nations without reservations, after having studied it, was pointed out by Miss Elliott as evidence of its legality."

"The adoption of the Constitution met with a great if not greater opposition than the league adoption," said Miss Elliott, "therefore we should feel that it is a great document rather than be discouraged by the opposition."

In commending the Democratic administration for keeping out of war with Mexico, she said that a war was being urged only by such interests as the Standard Oil Company on account of mercenary objects.

Miss Elliott's reference to President Wilson brought forth applause when she declared that the Republicans who are trying to disgrace him "cannot take away his great ideal expressed in his war message to Congress."

The legitimacy of the Republican party has been criticized and constant knocking," said Miss Elliott.

PUTS THAT ON HIS FEET AGAIN

AND MAKES HIM ABLE TO WALK WITH FORMER SPRIGHTLY STEP

Indianapolis Resident Declares Truona Not Only Cures Severe Pains in Head, Neck and Back, But Also Is Productive of Greater Ease in Breathing.

Declaring that Truona put him on his feet again and helped him more than any other medicine he had ever taken, Daniel Monroe, a well-known Indianapolis machinist, who lives at 429 West Henry street, recently told the Truona representative, a convincing story regarding the merits of the Truona medicine.

"After I had the 'flu' my head pained me so at times that I thought I'd die," Mr. Monroe said. "When I'd walk my head would ache severely. My appetite was very poor and my throat was sore and raw and swollen so badly that I could hardly swallow."

"When I had used Truona only four days, I certainly felt very much improved. My head doesn't throb any more and I can breathe with greater ease now. Nor is my throat raw and sore, as before, and the swelling has vanished. I can recommend Truona to my friends and everyone, in fact, because it has done more for me than any other medicine I've ever taken."

Have YOU tried this Perfect Tonic, that has won the unstinted praise of thousands of Indianapolis? If YOU haven't, now is the time to do it. Why not let Truona put spring in YOUR step, sparkle in YOUR eyes and color in YOUR cheeks? Don't YOU think it wise to have YOUR system in condition to withstand the onslaughts of disease that are sure to come with the approaching winter? A good, healthy body is YOUR greatest asset, and almost invariably the best defense against disease. So why not take Truona for YOUR health's sake?

Truona is sold in Indianapolis at the Hook Chain of Dependable Drug Stores, and also at O. W. Brooks' Drug Store, Pennsylvania and Ohio streets. And by all Good Druggists Everywhere.—Advertisement.
