

EFFORT TO STIR UP CHURCH WAR IS DENOUNCED

Spurious Anti-Catholic Editorial in Distribution Called False.

FAKE PAPER IS QUOTED

Special to The Times.
NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—George White, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, issued the following statement last night:

"Accumulating evidence that the Republican campaign has followed a plan to array class against class and creed against creed justifies Governor Cox's recent picture of alignment of ulterior forces against him.

"Such prejudices have been stirred up in the name of strategy that the passing of a generation will not remove. "These tactics were brought definitely into play as the progress of Governor Cox's campaign bestirred the conscience of America, and they came directly from a Middle Western State following the elevation of a State politician there to a national position.

"Every selfish class has had its promises, regardless of the conflict of these promises.

"But one of the most despicable methods recently brought to light is the reported quotation from the reputed 'National Catholic Register'.

"This paper does not exist, so its name and the extract are forgeries.

"Their purpose is to arouse non-Catholics against the Democratic party, with an implication that religious factors have entered into the administration and the Democratic campaign.

"This fake extract from a non-existing journal has been mailed to members of all Masonic lodges and distributed surreptitiously at the close of services in Protestant churches.

PURPOSE TO START RELIGIOUS WAR.

"The purpose of such tactics is to start religious war between friends of peace who belong to all creeds.

"It is on a par with the blasphemous cartoon in Harvey's Weekly, circulated by the intimates of both the Republican nominee and the national chairman, by the man who claims to have nominated Senator Harding.

"These ruthless appeals to religious feeling, these sneers at faith and these mischievous attempts at religious schism concern me not so much because of their possible bearing on the campaign as because of their tendency to create religious differences among our people.

"Governor Cox cannot be injured by them nor can his campaign be arrested by them.

"The people know his sincere espousal of a sacred cause.

"They know him as the member of a Protestant sect who has been able to obtain the endorsement of Catholic, Protestant and Jewish leaders for the cause of peace, for which he is fighting.

"When the time of reckoning comes, let those who have tried to stir up this feeling between the sects come to judgment."

The following clipping from the Louisville Times of Oct. 25, was issued by the Democratic National committee to supplement Chairman White's statement on the Republican attempt to stir up religious prejudices.

"See Article Is Nailed as Fake" by church paper. Western Recorder says there is no National Catholic Register.

"Discovering there is no such publication as the National Catholic Register and that the propaganda which it represented was, false and untrue, the Western Recorder, published here by the Baptist State Board of Missions, in a recent issue disavowed the article which it had printed under the heading, 'Rome in Our Government'."

"The fake editorial has been discovered to be contained in pamphlets handed out by Republican organization workers here in a vain effort to arouse religious antagonism."

"The editorial follows: "Some months before the Western Recorder was sold to its present management there appeared in our columns an article entitled 'Rome in Our Government'."

"This article was copied. "The genuine 'Rome in Our Government' article having been called into question we proceeded to establish its truth or falsity.

"We ascertained that it was written in Cincinnati for a paper published in the office of the Western Publishing Company.

"At the close of the article, written in an illegible hand, were the words 'From the National Catholic Register'."

"After diligent search we have failed to find any such publication with any such name, with any such article.

"With these facts before us, without suggestion or request from any one we

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Washing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the only time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not smart, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant. Advertisers' merit.

Awful Sick With Gas

Eaton's Brings Relief

"I have been awful sick with gas," writes Mrs. W. H. Person, "and Eaton's is all I can get to give me relief."

Acidity and gas on the stomach quickly taken up and carried out by Eaton's, then appetite and strength come back. And many other bodily miseries disappear when the stomach is right. Don't let sourness, belching, bloating, indigestion and other stomach ills go on. Take Eaton's tablets after you eat—see how much better you feel. Big box costs only a trifle with your druggist's guarantee.

Look at This, Men! Haircuts Going to $1

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Haircut and shave, $1.35. This is the "happy new year" greeting. 2,700 Chicago barbers plan to hand customers Jan. 1. They voted yesterday to raise the price of a haircut to $1.00, and a shave to 35 cents.

take the liberty to use the columns of the press to disown all responsibility for the truth of the article in question.

"We are always anxious and willing to correct any mis-statement concerning this or any other denomination.

"For some months past the 'Sunday Visitor' a Catholic weekly paper published in Huntington, Ind., has had a standing offer in its columns of $5,000 reward to any one who can establish the identity of the 'National Catholic Register' prove there is any such paper or where it is printed.

"The fake editorial which purported to tell how the temporal kingdom and power of the Pope would be advanced through voting for the League of Nations is generally accepted as a piece of despicable political propaganda."

WRANGLE QUITS ALEXANDROVSK

Surmise Is Superior Soviet Force Has Been Met.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—General Wrangel's forces have evacuated Alexandrovsk, according to advices here today.

General Wrangel opposing Bolshevik troops in southern Russia, has been gathering strength to meet a strong soviet attack by troops released from the Polish front.

Apparently Wrangel's troops have met superior forces and been forced to yield much of the gains they made while the Polish-Russian fighting was at its height.

At one time Wrangel had penetrated to Ekaterinoslav, fifty miles north of Alexandrovsk, which is 100 miles north of Wrangel's base on the Sea of Azov.

FRENCH TROOPS ARE REINFORCED

BERLIN, Oct. 28.—French forces in Upper Silesia are being reinforced, according to a Beuthen dispatch to Tagesschau Rundschau today.

The French have sent ten additional armored cars to Oppeln, six to Katowice and fifteen to Beuthen.

Reinforcements of French white troops from Algeria have arrived at Oppeln.

William Forsyth to Speak on Art Subject

"The Painter's Art in Architecture" will be the subject of a talk by William Forsyth at the monthly meeting of the Architectural League of Indianapolis, Tuesday evening, Nov. 9, at the Herron Art Institute, and there will be a small exhibition to illustrate the lecture.

Beaux-arts students in architecture are to meet at Anton Schermer's office, 415 Indiana Trust building, tomorrow evening, at 5:15 o'clock, and all interested in a course in interior decoration are invited to meet at the office of W. E. Russ, 200 Meridian Life building, Monday evening of next week, when Brandt Steele will act as critic of the work.

Announcement is made of a competition for a design for a seal for the Architectural League of Indianapolis, the competition to be limited to members of the league and students of the Herron Art School.

"Discovering there is no such publication as the National Catholic Register and that the propaganda which it represented was, false and untrue, the Western Recorder, published here by the Baptist State Board of Missions, in a recent issue disavowed the article which it had printed under the heading, 'Rome in Our Government'."

"The fake editorial has been discovered to be contained in pamphlets handed out by Republican organization workers here in a vain effort to arouse religious antagonism."

"The editorial follows: "Some months before the Western Recorder was sold to its present management there appeared in our columns an article entitled 'Rome in Our Government'."

"This article was copied. "The genuine 'Rome in Our Government' article having been called into question we proceeded to establish its truth or falsity.

"We ascertained that it was written in Cincinnati for a paper published in the office of the Western Publishing Company.

"At the close of the article, written in an illegible hand, were the words 'From the National Catholic Register'."

"After diligent search we have failed to find any such publication with any such name, with any such article.

"With these facts before us, without suggestion or request from any one we

"The people know his sincere espousal of a sacred cause.

"They know him as the member of a Protestant sect who has been able to obtain the endorsement of Catholic, Protestant and Jewish leaders for the cause of peace, for which he is fighting.

"When the time of reckoning comes, let those who have tried to stir up this feeling between the sects come to judgment."

The following clipping from the Louisville Times of Oct. 25, was issued by the Democratic National committee to supplement Chairman White's statement on the Republican attempt to stir up religious prejudices.

"See Article Is Nailed as Fake" by church paper. Western Recorder says there is no National Catholic Register.

"Discovering there is no such publication as the National Catholic Register and that the propaganda which it represented was, false and untrue, the Western Recorder, published here by the Baptist State Board of Missions, in a recent issue disavowed the article which it had printed under the heading, 'Rome in Our Government'."

"The fake editorial has been discovered to be contained in pamphlets handed out by Republican organization workers here in a vain effort to arouse religious antagonism."

"The editorial follows: "Some months before the Western Recorder was sold to its present management there appeared in our columns an article entitled 'Rome in Our Government'."

"This article was copied. "The genuine 'Rome in Our Government' article having been called into question we proceeded to establish its truth or falsity.

"We ascertained that it was written in Cincinnati for a paper published in the office of the Western Publishing Company.

"At the close of the article, written in an illegible hand, were the words 'From the National Catholic Register'."

"After diligent search we have failed to find any such publication with any such name, with any such article.

"With these facts before us, without suggestion or request from any one we

"The people know his sincere espousal of a sacred cause.

"They know him as the member of a Protestant sect who has been able to obtain the endorsement of Catholic, Protestant and Jewish leaders for the cause of peace, for which he is fighting.

"When the time of reckoning comes, let those who have tried to stir up this feeling between the sects come to judgment."

The following clipping from the Louisville Times of Oct. 25, was issued by the Democratic National committee to supplement Chairman White's statement on the Republican attempt to stir up religious prejudices.

"See Article Is Nailed as Fake" by church paper. Western Recorder says there is no National Catholic Register.

MISSING RECORD SHOWS M'CRAV DUPED PARTNERS

(Continued From Page One.)

sworn to before Judson H. Perkins, clerk of the Jasper Circuit Court, June 7, 1915.

It not only discloses that Warren T. McCray double-crossed Taylor and Kent, partners, and sold out to the very people he claimed to be pressing for a settlement of the partnership claim, but it also contradicts, explicitly the testimony given by McCray under oath in the hearing of the original case in the court house in Rensselaer.

There McCray testified that he had done everything he could to collect from the New York Central Railroad Company, the claim of the Chicago, Terre Haute & Southern Railroad, in which he, Taylor and Bayard, were jointly interested.

There he testified that there was no merit in this claim; that nothing could be collected on it.

There he asserted under oath that he was pressing the claim principally on behalf of Taylor and that he did not personally believe anything of value could be collected.

AND INTERLEADER IS DIRECT CONTRADICTION. And in direct contradiction of his testimony appears the interpleader, sworn to by Jesse E. Wilson, in which the New York Central sets up:

Your petitioner further shows that the said Warren T. McCray assigned and released all right, title and interest in and to the property and rights of the Chicago, Terre Haute & Southern Railroad Company to the Chicago, Indiana & Southern Railroad Company, and that the last-named company's rights and interests therein have been turned over and are now the property, rights and interest of this petitioner, and that this petitioner has a right to be subrogated to whatever interest and claim the court may find that said Warren T. McCray may have had in said corporation, the Chicago, Terre Haute & Southern Railroad Company, its property, rights and to whatever rights the said Warren T. McCray may have had in the said property or may have, had he not assigned the same, in the judgment herein mentioned and your petitioner asks that said Warren T. McCray be notified to appear and answer to such interest, claim and assignment as herein set forth.

WHAT M'CRAV RECEIVED. The missing interpleader does not set up the consideration that McCray received for betraying his partners, on whose behalf he claimed to be negotiating a settlement with the New York Central railroad, but there can be no doubt that there was a consideration, for without it the assignment would not have been valid, and the New York Central regarded it as valid enough to plead it in defense of a judgment given against it in the courts of Indiana.

At the time the Fessler agents were investigating this exposition of the character of Warren T. McCray they were informed that the consideration received by McCray for this assignment was $6,800.

Bayard Taylor was reported to them to have notified McCray and Kent that he had seen the voucher for $6,800 from the New York Central railroad, which was said to have been paid to McCray for his assignment of his interests in the claim. This action on the part of Taylor was reported to have taken place on July 25, 1915, and to have been accompanied by a threat from Taylor to bring a suit in the United States courts against McCray and Kent for the Taylor share of the settlement.

No suit of this kind was ever brought and C. C. Kent denied that he ever received any money from the New York Central railroad or ever paid anything to Taylor.

GIVES TESTIMONY AN ADDED INTEREST. The testimony of Warren T. McCray, given at the hearing of the Jasper Circuit Court, is more than interesting when read in connection with the averments of the New York Central's interpleader.

Mr. McCray testified that he went to New York with a letter from a New York Central official named Hotchkiss in which was an agreement that McCray, Kent and Taylor were to get $10,000 of the first money paid by Newton County citizens as a subsidy for the railroad.

He said, under oath, as disclosed by page 1,025 of the transcript of cause No. 22,440:

"I could not talk strong on the case for the reason I had absolutely nothing. The maps of the old company were valueless, the surveys were without value and there was nothing at all that was worth that (witness snaps fingers).

Q. Why did you go to him?
A. I hoped I could possibly do something on the letter.

Q. Why would you ask a business man to do something for you when you hadn't done him any benefit?
A. It was on account of Mr. Taylor more than anybody else. Mr. Taylor was insisting on something being done and I spent my money on going down there for Mr. Taylor more than anything else.

Q. Were you under contract with Taylor?
A. No sir, we were under contract to divide with Mr. Taylor on anything we got out of the proposition."

So I come home and reported to Mr. Taylor and Mr. Kent. I also notified them, so far as I was concerned, I was through chasing a rainbow and would not bring any suit. I didn't think it was worth while so we let the matter drop.

INTERLEADER TELLS WHAT HE DID NOT REPORT. But what Mr. McCray, who now asks the people of Indiana to make him Governor in order that he may "apply the same methods to the State government that he has successfully applied to his private business," did not report to his partners, Mr. Kent and Mr. Taylor, was what was set up in the interpleader:

That the said Warren T. McCray assigned and released all right, title and interest in and to the property and rights of the Chicago, Terre Haute & Southern Railroad Company to the Chicago, Indiana & Southern Railroad Company, and that the last-named company's rights and interests therein have been turned over and are now the property, rights and interest of this petitioner, and that this petitioner has a right to be subrogated to whatever interest and claim the court may find that said Warren T. McCray may have had in said corporation, the Chicago, Terre Haute & Southern Railroad Company, its property, rights and to whatever rights the said Warren T. McCray may have had in the said property or may have, had he not assigned the same, in the judgment herein mentioned and your petitioner asks that said Warren T. McCray be notified to appear and answer to such interest, claim and assignment as herein set forth.

WHAT M'CRAV RECEIVED. The missing interpleader does not set up the consideration that McCray received for betraying his partners, on whose behalf he claimed to be negotiating a settlement with the New York Central railroad, but there can be no doubt that there was a consideration, for without it the assignment would not have been valid, and the New York Central regarded it as valid enough to plead it in defense of a judgment given against it in the courts of Indiana.

At the time the Fessler agents were investigating this exposition of the character of Warren T. McCray they were informed that the consideration received by McCray for this assignment was $6,800.

Bayard Taylor was reported to them to have notified McCray and Kent that he had seen the voucher for $6,800 from the New York Central railroad, which was said to have been paid to McCray for his assignment of his interests in the claim. This action on the part of Taylor was reported to have taken place on July 25, 1915, and to have been accompanied by a threat from Taylor to bring a suit in the United States courts against McCray and Kent for the Taylor share of the settlement.

No suit of this kind was ever brought and C. C. Kent denied that he ever received any money from the New York Central railroad or ever paid anything to Taylor.

GIVES TESTIMONY AN ADDED INTEREST. The testimony of Warren T. McCray, given at the hearing of the Jasper Circuit Court, is more than interesting when read in connection with the averments of the New York Central's interpleader.

Mr. McCray testified that he went to New York with a letter from a New York Central official named Hotchkiss in which was an agreement that McCray, Kent and Taylor were to get $10,000 of the first money paid by Newton County citizens as a subsidy for the railroad.

He said, under oath, as disclosed by page 1,025 of the transcript of cause No. 22,440:

"I could not talk strong on the case for the reason I had absolutely nothing. The maps of the old company were valueless, the surveys were without value and there was nothing at all that was worth that (witness snaps fingers).

Q. Why did you go to him?
A. I hoped I could possibly do something on the letter.

Q. Why would you ask a business man to do something for you when you hadn't done him any benefit?
A. It was on account of Mr. Taylor more than anybody else. Mr. Taylor was insisting on something being done and I spent my money on going down there for Mr. Taylor more than anything else.

Q. Were you under contract with Taylor?
A. No sir, we were under contract to divide with Mr. Taylor on anything we got out of the proposition."

So I come home and reported to Mr. Taylor and Mr. Kent. I also notified them, so far as I was concerned, I was through chasing a rainbow and would not bring any suit. I didn't think it was worth while so we let the matter drop.

INTERLEADER TELLS WHAT HE DID NOT REPORT. But what Mr. McCray, who now asks the people of Indiana to make him Governor in order that he may "apply the same methods to the State government that he has successfully applied to his private business," did not report to his partners, Mr. Kent and Mr. Taylor, was what was set up in the interpleader:

That the said Warren T. McCray assigned and released all right, title and interest in and to the property and rights of the Chicago, Terre Haute & Southern Railroad Company to the Chicago, Indiana & Southern Railroad Company, and that the last-named company's rights and interests therein have been turned over and are now the property, rights and interest of this petitioner, and that this petitioner has a right to be subrogated to whatever interest and claim the court may find that said Warren T. McCray may have had in said corporation, the Chicago, Terre Haute & Southern Railroad Company, its property, rights and to whatever rights the said Warren T. McCray may have had in the said property or may have, had he not assigned the same, in the judgment herein mentioned and your petitioner asks that said Warren T. McCray be notified to appear and answer to such interest, claim and assignment as herein set forth.

WHAT M'CRAV RECEIVED. The missing interpleader does not set up the consideration that McCray received for betraying his partners, on whose behalf he claimed to be negotiating a settlement with the New York Central railroad, but there can be no doubt that there was a consideration, for without it the assignment would not have been valid, and the New York Central regarded it as valid enough to plead it in defense of a judgment given against it in the courts of Indiana.

At the time the Fessler agents were investigating this exposition of the character of Warren T. McCray they were informed that the consideration received by McCray for this assignment was $6,800.

Bayard Taylor was reported to them to have notified McCray and Kent that he had seen the voucher for $6,800 from the New York Central railroad, which was said to have been paid to McCray for his assignment of his interests in the claim. This action on the part of Taylor was reported to have taken place on July 25, 1915, and to have been accompanied by a threat from Taylor to bring a suit in the United States courts against McCray and Kent for the Taylor share of the settlement.

No suit of this kind was ever brought and C. C. Kent denied that he ever received any money from the New York Central railroad or ever paid anything to Taylor.

GIVES TESTIMONY AN ADDED INTEREST. The testimony of Warren T. McCray, given at the hearing of the Jasper Circuit Court, is more than interesting when read in connection with the averments of the New York Central's interpleader.

Mr. McCray testified that he went to New York with a letter from a New York Central official named Hotchkiss in which was an agreement that McCray, Kent and Taylor were to get $10,000 of the first money paid by Newton County citizens as a subsidy for the railroad.

He said, under oath, as disclosed by page 1,025 of the transcript of cause No. 22,440:

"I could not talk strong on the case for the reason I had absolutely nothing. The maps of the old company were valueless, the surveys were without value and there was nothing at all that was worth that (witness snaps fingers).

Q. Why did you go to him?
A. I hoped I could possibly do something on the letter.

Q. Why would you ask a business man to do something for you when you hadn't done him any benefit?
A. It was on account of Mr. Taylor more than anybody else. Mr. Taylor was insisting on something being done and I spent my money on going down there for Mr. Taylor more than anything else.

Q. Were you under contract with Taylor?
A. No sir, we were under contract to divide with Mr. Taylor on anything we got out of the proposition."

So I come home and reported to Mr. Taylor and Mr. Kent. I also notified them, so far as I was concerned, I was through chasing a rainbow and would not bring any suit. I didn't think it was worth while so we let the matter drop.

INTERLEADER TELLS WHAT HE DID NOT REPORT. But what Mr. McCray, who now asks the people of Indiana to make him Governor in order that he may "apply the same methods to the State government that he has successfully applied to his private business," did not report to his partners, Mr. Kent and Mr. Taylor, was what was set up in the interpleader:

That the said Warren T. McCray assigned and released all right, title and interest in and to the property and rights of the Chicago, Terre Haute & Southern Railroad Company to the Chicago, Indiana & Southern Railroad Company, and that the last-named company's rights and interests therein have been turned over and are now the property, rights and interest of this petitioner, and that this petitioner has a right to be subrogated to whatever interest and claim the court may find that said Warren T. McCray may have had in said corporation, the Chicago, Terre Haute & Southern Railroad Company, its property, rights and to whatever rights the said Warren T. McCray may have had in the said property or may have, had he not assigned the same, in the judgment herein mentioned and your petitioner asks that said Warren T. McCray be notified to appear and answer to such interest, claim and assignment as herein set forth.

WHAT M'CRAV RECEIVED. The missing interpleader does not set up the consideration that McCray received for betraying his partners, on whose behalf he claimed to be negotiating a settlement with the New York Central railroad, but there can be no doubt that there was a consideration, for without it the assignment would not have been valid, and the New York Central regarded it as valid enough to plead it in defense of a judgment given against it in the courts of Indiana.

At the time the Fessler agents were investigating this exposition of the character of Warren T. McCray they were informed that the consideration received by McCray for this assignment was $6,800.

Bayard Taylor was reported to them to have notified McCray and Kent that he had seen the voucher for $6,800 from the New York Central railroad, which was said to have been paid to McCray for his assignment of his interests in the claim. This action on the part of Taylor was reported to have taken place on July 25, 1915, and to have been accompanied by a threat from Taylor to bring a suit in the United States courts against McCray and Kent for the Taylor share of the settlement.

No suit of this kind was ever brought and C. C. Kent denied that he ever received any money from the New York Central railroad or ever paid anything to Taylor.

GIVES TESTIMONY AN ADDED INTEREST. The testimony of Warren T. McCray, given at the hearing of the Jasper Circuit Court, is more than interesting when read in connection with the averments of the New York Central's interpleader.

Mr. McCray testified that he went to New York with a letter from a New York Central official named Hotchkiss in which was an agreement that McCray, Kent and Taylor were to get $10,000 of the first money paid by Newton County citizens as a subsidy for the railroad.

He said, under oath, as disclosed by page 1,025 of the transcript of cause No. 22,440:

"I could not talk strong on the case for the reason I had absolutely nothing. The maps of the old company were valueless, the surveys were without value and there was nothing at all that was worth that (witness snaps fingers).

Q. Why did you go to him?
A. I hoped I could possibly do something on the letter.

Q. Why would you ask a business man to do something for you when you hadn't done him any benefit?
A. It was on account of Mr. Taylor more than anybody else. Mr. Taylor was insisting on something being done and I spent my money on going down there for Mr. Taylor more than anything else.

Q. Were you under contract with Taylor?
A. No sir, we were under contract to divide with Mr. Taylor on anything we got out of the proposition."

So I come home and reported to Mr. Taylor and Mr. Kent. I also notified them, so far as I was concerned, I was through chasing a rainbow and would not bring any suit. I didn't think it was worth while so we let the matter drop.

INTERLEADER TELLS WHAT HE DID NOT REPORT. But what Mr. McCray, who now asks the people of Indiana to make him Governor in order that he may "apply the same methods to the State government that he has successfully applied to his private business," did not report to his partners, Mr. Kent and Mr. Taylor, was what was set up in the interpleader:

That the said Warren T. McCray assigned and released all right, title and interest in and to the property and rights of the Chicago, Terre Haute & Southern Railroad Company to the Chicago, Indiana & Southern Railroad Company, and that the last-named company's rights and interests therein have been turned over and are now the property, rights and interest of this petitioner, and that this petitioner has a right to be subrogated to whatever interest and claim the court may find that said Warren T. McCray may have had in said corporation, the Chicago, Terre Haute & Southern Railroad Company, its property, rights and to whatever rights the said Warren T. McCray may have had in the said property or may have, had he not assigned the same, in the judgment herein mentioned and your petitioner asks that said Warren T. McCray be notified to